Abortion protest

The York South Right to Life Association stands opposed to the abortion policy practiced by the Board of York Central Hospital, Richmond Hill.

A Pro-Life Silent Walk will be held on location, Sunday, June 9 from 2 to 3 p.m.

York Central Hospital is located at Major MacKenzie Drive and Trench Street.

"Our hospital does not have to participate in the elimination of human life by aborting unborn babies," the announcement reads, "the Board of Directors can choose to eliminate abortions. The latest public statistics indicate that more than 27 babies are killed for every 100 given life at York Central Hospital. This is simply not acceptable. The York South Right to Life has, therefore, organized a march to encourage the Board to change its abortion policy. Let's show the Board that our hospital is for life, not death."

To Kitchener

The many friends of Norm and Helen Farr and daughter Melody, will be sorry to learn they will be taking up residence in Kitchener following the sale of their home at R.R. 4, Stouffville.

William (Bill) Kingsley, a teacher 29 years, including 16 years at Stouffville High, will retire at the conclusion of the June term. Mr Kingsley was honored at a reception, Thursday evening, held in the Stouffville Legion Hall.

Teacher honored

STOUFFVILLE — Retiring Stouffville Dist. Secondary School teacher Bill Kingsley says he'll miss the contact with students and staff colleagues.

"To be a teacher, you have to enjoy working with young people, and you're bound to miss them," Mr Kingsley said in an interview, Friday. "I've taught hundreds and hundreds of wonderful young people."

He'll also miss his many friends on what he describes as "an excellent staff."

Mr Kingsley's 29-year teaching career will come to an end with the completion of the school year at S.D.S.S. He's been a Geography teacher for the past 16 years.

He first joined the public school system with the North York Board of Education in 1956, then moved to Stouffville.

He was the guest of honor at a dinner held Thursday.

Mr Kingsley is a veteran of World War II. He served as an observer with 4055 Squadron of the Allied Bomber Command. He was a prisoner of war from June of 1943 until April of 1945.

Although he doesn't like to dwell on the subject, the retiring teacher feels students generally aren't as interested in classroom activities as once was the case.

"There are more apathetic students today than ever before," according to Mr Kingsley, who has also conducted some English courses in the past three years.

He has no immediate retirement plans but says he's looking forward to doing a bit of travelling with wife, Betty.

He'll also spend some of his leisure time working on a long-time hobby, mechano.

"I have plans for things I haven't built that I'd like to try" including a clock, he said.
