Unionville Festival June 10

By Stan Neal

UNIONVILLE - HURRA-HURRA...for what?

Why, there's just a little while left to haul out your spats and suspenders, bonnets and petticoats, scrub the kids and get yourself over in time for the third annual Unionville Village Festival 'cause you ain't seen nuthin like it anywhere. Why, we've got one of the rarest steam contraptions - a calliope, in fact - coming all the way up from Stratford; we've got 40 of the prettiest old automobiles (some are even covered right in), lots of jazz and civilized music.

Our womenfolk have done some painting over the winter so we'll have a terrific art show and the last couple of weeks they've been doing some cooking so there'll be lots of food. You can take part in a home-made kite flying contest, a nail hammering contest or a log-sawing contest

Phil Kinton, a Grade 12 student of Stouffville Dist. Secondary School, has been named 'Athlete of the Year', the second successive time he has won the award. He was presented with the Patrick Motors Limited Trophy at an assembly, June 1. —Jim Thomas.

Thieves ransack Legion Hall

By Rene Rennie

CLAREMONT - Claremont's Legion Hall, the target of thieves on other occasions, was entered again, June 1. Stolen again was the organization's new color television set, along with a quantity of cigarettes, chocolate bars, pies, bingo chips, playing cards, liquor and money. There were some signs of vandalism. The loss is keenly felt by members who have worked long and hard to furnish their building.

Bride-to-be, Miss Glenda Taylor was the recipient of many lovely gifts at a shower, held at the home of Mrs. Donna Wideman.

The Legion Ladies Auxiliary will meet Thursday (tonight), at 8 p.m. Officers for 1972-73 will be held at this time.

The final euchre of the season was held at the Bowling Green clubhouse. Prize-winners were Eva Towner, Mary Borland, Annie Johnston, Norton Symes, Walt Hardy and Ray Carruthers. Most lone hands were held by Marj Norton, George Stewart, Kathy Avery, Eileen Ball, Aldine Evans and Earle Cook. The travelling prize went to Ernie Baker. Lucky draw winners were Verna Draper, Margaret Gall, Bob Hammond, Evelyn Carruthers, Owen Gray, George Middleton, Dale Devitt and Laura Reynolds. Lawn bowling is now in progress at the local greens and an open invitation is extended to residents.
