The Palettes Of Thanksgiving

The Palettes of Whitchurch will hold their annual Art Show and Sale at Lemonville Community Centre on the three day Thanksgiving holiday weekend, Oct 9th, 10th and 11th from 10 a.m. - 5p.m. Fifteen artists will exhibit over 100 works of art in a variety of sizes and media. This year they are also holding a raffle on a 60" X 20" painting by senior artist John Smith called Oranges and Lemons Said the Bells of St. Clemons valued at $2,500.

The palettes have been holding their show locally for the past 14 years and welcome browsers and buyers alike to spend a little time with them. Many people don't attend an art show because they feel it obligates them to buy. "Not at all", said local artist Josie Schwarzli. "Just as an author wants his/her work read, so too, does the artist want his/her work viewed."

And the award goes to...

The Whitchurch-Stouffville Chamber of Commerce Business Recognition Awards Sept. 23 at Stouffville Creek attracted a large and enthusiastic crowd of local business representatives.

Following a lively reception and an Oscar-style awards' ceremony, guests enjoyed a delicious sit down dinner.

The winners were as follows: Lifetime Achievement - David Barthau of Barthau Jewellers; Hall of Fame - Non-Profit organization - WhiStle Radio; Corporate Citizen of the Year- Boston Pizza; Business Entrepreneur of the Year - Stouffville Florist; Business of the Year - Southwire Canada Company.

Janet Barthau of Barthau Jewellers (left) and Suze Joyce of The Hearty Artichoke share a laugh at the Sept. 23 Whitchurch-Stouffville Chamber of Commerce Awards at Stouffville Creek Retirement Residence. Janet's husband, David, won the Chamber's Lifetime Achievement Award and Suze was nominated for the Business Entrepreneur of the Year Award.
