SYNOD WORK

A Racy Report From The Gathering

ARE NOW UNITED

ANGLICAN UNITY THROUGHOUT DOMINION.

Important Decision of General Synod in Session at Montreal—Enthusiasm Shown by the Delegates in Attendance.

The Anglican General Synod, in session at Montreal, is completing the work of unification began at the organizing session at Toronto, 1893, and in the second session at Winnipeg, 1895. Up to this time the church has been divided into three bodies:

1. The Provincial Synod of Canada, composed of dioceses east of St. Clair river and Lake Superior.

2. The Provincial Synod of Rupert's Land, composed of dioceses in Manitoba and the North West.

3. Independent diocese of British Columbia.

The divisions were not unworkable, indeed were sweetly harmonious, each in its own sphere, but there was lacking the force which a great solid body presents and exercises, besides the vantage for aggressive work and missionary zeal which closer communion, mutual council and warmer sympathies afford. There was also a call for a high church court, of final appeal, and for uniformity of polity on church questions througnout the Dominion. Action was also desired on the questions of divorce, inter-diocesan relations, hymnals, books of service and Sunday school lessons, a church paper, religious instruction in schools, changes in prayer book and optional use of revised version of the bible. Instead of acting as units, lurching in varying directions, the churches under a complete union are to pull together on purposes dictated by combined wisdom and a sense of national duty and exalted ideals.

The Provincial Synod of Canada, with its popular representation of twenty-four from each diocese surrendered at discretion the most important of its functions for the common good, but owing to the delay in reaching a generally acceptable scheme for a mission board to represent the diverse interests of the giving dioceses in the east and the helped diocese in the west, it has carried on domestic and foreign mission work under its board of management. At this session this board wound up its business, made its final grant and the General mission board was launched with enthusiasm. The Provincial Synods are dead, as a fact; it is questionable if they will meet again, except to formally hand their lessened functions on to their overshadowing successor.

At this general synod are fifteen bishops, Archbishop Bond, Bishops Baldwin, Courtney, Kingdom, Hamilton, Hunter-Dunn, Dumoulin, Thornloe, Mills, Carmichael; besides the western bishops of Columbia, Qu'Appelle, Calgary, Athabaska, Caledonia, and Keewatin, besides one hundred clergy and laity, dioceses sending from two to eight delegates each, according to strength. It is the habit to talk of deans and archdeacons as "Has Beens," but the presence of so many in this body, elected by the diocesan synods through a ballot vote, establishes their popularity and standing. The absence of the primate, Archbishop of Rupert's Land, owing to severe and almost hopeless illness in London, was sincerely regretted, but the venerable Archbishop of Montreal filled the chair of the whole synod and of the house of bishops with general acceptability.

The territorial balance of honors was preserved by the selection of Dean Matheson, of Winnipeg, as prolocutor, or president of the lower house of clergy and laity, with Dean Langtry, of Toronto, as deputy.

The opening service at Christ church cathedral, with its procession of robed bishops and clergy, to and from synod hall, made a formidable presentment of the church's strength, its beauty of ritual and charteness of musical liturgy. It may be an inconvenient hour for Montrealers, but the small attendance at such an exceptional and distinguished service was a strange reflection upon its churchmanship,—unless it is another evidence of that calm spirit of the Church of England which rarely gives way to enthusiasm unless it is to antagonize the rector at vestry meetings on some trifling point of ritual or parish procedure. The sermon of the archbishop metropolitan—the church is great on titles for so young a body—was a truly forcible presentment on unity.

The first afternoon was devoted to the reading of an interesting and fatherly message from the sick primate, to the election of officers, in which the dark horse won, of course, and to what in less dignified circles would be called "sparring for wind," so eager were ambitious talkers to get a hearing and the inside track with their little motion. On the second day the prolocutor brought order out of chaos, with a firm hand on the gavel, and the great church council proceeded in dignified order. The achievement of the day was the passing of the new missionary canon, after warm but loyal debate, with unreserved concurrence of the house of bishops. The bridge of transition from provincial to general synod was crossed; the members rose spontaneously and sang the doxology. Henceforth the whole dominion of Anglicanism acts as a unit for Canadian and foreign missions. The movement for a new provincial synod for the ferritorial province of Ontario met later sudden decease.

The visit of the delegation from the United States is usually a bright feature of these large church gatherings. The applause was hearty, when the bishops having joined the lower house, Bishop Dudley, of Kentucky, Bishop Hall, of Vermont, Rev. Dr. Hutchins, secretary general convention, Messrs. Wildner and Miller, were presented. The addresses of the two prelates were eloquent and stirring, the plaudits unstinted. The other speakers were well received also, and it was a great exchange of international friendliness and church unity and sympathy. Rev. Dr. Parks, of New York, being detained by a steamboat accident on the river, a brisk flow of well-known eloquence was lost.

The most conspicuous feelings of the laymen of the convention, outside of mission legislation, are for a Canadian prayer-book, with several additions and optional use of the revised version of the bible and the Athanasian creed; and of the clergy for a revision of the colonial clergy act of England, so that Canadian ministers may receive fair and courteous recognition.

On Friday afternoon a deputation from the Presbyterian church of Canada, headed by Rev. G. A. Macdonald, of Toronto, conveyed cordial greetings. The reception was hearty and the reply by Hon. S. Blake, breathed the fraternal spirit. It was a happy occasion; dissipating clouds of distrust on question of religious amenities. In this connection, it is a satisfaction to add that the bishops have adopted anew a resolution to re-open proposals for church union.

On Friday, the missionary convention of the session was held with great heartiness. The Archbishop Metropolitan presided; Rev. D. Williams, London, and Edw. J. B. Pense, Kingston, were elected secretaries. The first address was by the newly consecrated bishop of Keewatin, the hard working missionary up north, so well known till now as Archdeacon Lofthouse. He pointed out the need of help so forcibly that at the conclusion of his address, Hon. S. Blake promised $1,000. He followed this up with an eloquent appeal for personal work for and generous support of missions, with a fervid love of the Great Missionary. Dr. L. H. Davidson followed up with another effective appeal.

The report of the retiring mission board of management showed that in the four years just closed, $283,626, had been contributed for Algoma, North-West, British Columbia and Japan missions. Fourteen dioceses have been the recipients of these funds, all raised in Eastern Canada. This in addition to large grants from the great English missionary societies. It retires without leaving an obligation unmet, and the trust it hands over is untrammelled, and at its highest point of beneficient attainment.

The large audience knelt in silent prayer for divine guidance to a fitting general missionary secretary and organizer, and to greater help in Keewatin.

A LAMENTABLE ACCIDENT.

Daughter of Rev. Mr. Elliott Dies Of Burns.

A despatch to the Whig this forenoon conveys the painful intelligence of the death from burns of the youngest daughter of Rev. James Elliott, B.A., formerly pastor of Queen Street Methodist church. The message read:

"Little Marion Elliott, daughter of the Rev. James Elliott, Pine Avenue, died this morning, at the Royal Victoria Hospital, as a result of burns while playing with other children near a bon-fire, on Fletcher's field, near her home."

The news came with a great shock to the many friends of Mr. Elliott, especially as the clergyman was in Winnipeg, attending the Methodist general conference. The little girl, about eight years of age, was greatly beloved by the family and, since the sudden death of her mother in the parsonage, on Colborne street, had grown close to the father's heart, as he often expressed it when on a recent visit to this city. He has, undoubtedly been called home and in his grief he will have the deepest sympathy of Kingston friends.

PEACE TERMS

Are Not Likely To Be Disturbed

ISSUE A BOOK

ABOUT MEETING OF CHAMBERLAIN AND GENERALS.

The Conference Lasted for Two Hours as the Boers Spoke in Dutch and Translation Was Necessary—Finished the History.

London, Sept. 6.—The conference between Mr. Chamberlain and the Boer generals, yesterday afternoon, was strictly private. The colonial secretary promises to issue a blue book giving a report of the proceedings, but it is not likely that the peace terms agreed to at Vereniging will be amended in any essential point. The government may, in the long run, find it good policy to supplement the grant of three million pounds assigned as compensation for Boer losses sustained in the war and it is quite possible that the method of distribution and of the satisfaction of claims may be susceptible to improvement.

The Boer generals refused last night to make any statement, but it is tolerably certain that they pleaded for official recognition of the Taal. They spoke in Dutch, and as their speeches had to be translated sentence for sentence, it is not surprising that the conference lasted two hours. So far as can be gathered the proceedings were characterized by very good feeling on both sides although Mr. Chamberlain refused to allow Mr. Fischer to take part in the conference.

The crowds waited patiently throughout and cheered the generals when they left the colonial office.

Dewet has practically finished his history of the war.

Clan-Na-Gael Will Act.

New York, Sept. 6.—A conference of Boer sympathizers representing German and Irish societies in New York, Philadelphia, Boston, and other cities was held here, yesterday, for the purpose of considering the relief of the foreign soldiers of the Boer army, prisoners of war in the hands of the British and will not be liberated until they have the means of procuring their passage to whatever country they wish to go. George H. Schrenier, who acted as secretary of the conference, said that all the European soldiers mainly Germans, Hollanders and Frenchmen had been taken home by their own people, and that the only foreigners who remained in the prison camps, were the United Statesers and the Irish. John L. Gannon of Providence, announced that all Irishmen who had fought for the Boers, and who are now prisoners of war would be attended to by the Clan-Na-Gael. Former Judge Van Hosen, who presided at the conference, in the name of other societies thanked the Clan-Na-Gael for its prompt and effective work and after appointing a committee to attend further details the conference adjourned.

Buluwayo, Sept. 5.—Owing to an outbreak of rabies in Rhodesia, the native commissioner met the Induas, or native chiefs, and explained the disease to them. They promised to destroy all dogs except favorites. This means the destruction of from 60,000 to 80,000 dogs. The government will destroy the hyenas.

Washington, D.C., Sept. 6.—After a long and distinguished military record, covering a period of more than forty years, Surgeon-General William H. Forwood, of the army will be placed on the retired list to-morrow by operation of the age limit. General Forwood succeeded to the head of the medical department of the army three months ago on the retirement of Brigadier-General Sternberg. He is a native of Delaware and a graduate of the medical department of the University of Pennsylvania. In 1861 he was appointed a surgeon in the regular army.

International Fishery Exhibit.

Vienna, Sept. 6.—The International Fishery Exhibition, which opened to-day in connection with the eighth Austrian Fishery Congress, is one of the largest and most comprehensive exhibitions of the kind ever held in Europe. The various displays include fresh and salt water fish and water animals, breeding apparatus and pearl fishery, natural and artificial foods, literature and history, manufactures from fish materials and illustrations of the various methods of cooking and preparing fish food for the table. The exhibition will continue three weeks.

Minneapolis Mayor Out.

Minneapolis, Minn., Sept. 6.—A. A. Ames is no longer mayor of Minneapolis, his resignation recently tendered and accepted having become effective to-day. This is the climax of the police corruption scandals which have agitated the city and occupied the grand jury and the courts for two months. The ex-mayor is in failing health, and it is doubtful if he ever returns to Minneapolis unless forced to do so by the courts.

Emperor Franz Josef Decides to Visit Italy.

EMPEROR FRANZ JOSEF.

Vienna, Sept. 6.—The Montaga Revue, a semi-official organ, declares that Emperor Franz Josef will go to Rome to visit the king of Italy in defiance of the vatican. Franz Josef, the paper says, will write to the pope, personally, avoiding diplomats on both sides, and explaining that his visit to the Quirinal is necessary to Austria's interests. The emperor, according to The Revue, wishes to visit both the Quirinal and the Vatican, but will go to the Quirinal alone if the pope is hostile.

AT POINT OF DEATH.

As a Result of a Fall Down Stairs.

Toronto, Sept. 6.—Nellie Mulqueen, known also as Nellie Doyle, is at the General hospital, at the point of death, as the result of injuries received in a fall down stairs at the home of her daughter, Nellie Mulqueen, Jr., on Richmond street west. Her back is broken. It is suspected that the woman, who is fifty years old, was thrown down stairs, and a warrant has been issued for the arrest of a person at present unknown.

The new Metropolitan bank, the charter for which was obtained at last session of parliament, is to be started at once with an authorized capital of two million dollars, through a public offering of A. E. Ames & Co. of this city. The incorporators are A. E. Ames, R. H. Warden, D.D., S. J. Moore and T. Bradshaw. It is intended to issue $1,000,000 capital at 200, which will provide for the bank starting business with a capital of $1,000,000, and a reserve fund of the same amount. It is generally understood that A. E. Ames will be president of the new bank.

ACTRESS SHOOTS TO KILL.

Ends Life of Estranged Lover on the Stage.

London, Sept. 6.—A despatch to the Chronicle from Vienna gives details of the tragic deaths, on Wednesday last, of an Austrian actor and actress at Samos-Ujvar, Transylvania, Hungary, as follows:

"Julia Pakey and Julius Bardos had been engaged, but the latter had broken off the engagement. The two were acting the part of lovers in a performance, during which Julia was supposed to fire at Bardos. She charged her pistol with bullets and shot him dead. The curtain was lowered immediately, but the first persons who arrived on the stage found that Julia had committed suicide by opening her veins."

Order's Silver Jubilee.

New York, Sept. 6.—In every part of the country where there is a branch of the Knights and Ladies of Honor there will be a celebration to-day and to-morrow of the silver jubilee of the order. In this city the 12,000 members of the order are holding a jubilation at Ulmer Park, and in Chicago, Boston, St. Louis and other cities similar celebrations are in progress.

Sent To Mercer Home.

Barrie, Ont., Sept. 6.—Eliza Logan, Collingwood, was tried before Justice Street, charged with infanticide. The jury after being out fifteen minutes brought in a verdict of "Not guilty" of murder. The girl, seventeen years old, was found guilty, however, of concealment of birth and was sentenced to two years in the Mercer reformatory.

Defending A Woman.
