MARKET OVERSTOCKED.

South Africa Has Too Many Laborers.

Cape Town, Sept. 30.—The Trades and Labor Council Gazette, of Cape Colony, has issued a manifesto to trades councils of the large English cities, in regard to the labor market in the Cape which, it says, is greatly overstocked. The same conditions apply to Orange River Colony and the Transvaal. The manifesto says that thousands of discharged volunteers are now in the country, who have a first claim to employment. These, together with a large influx from all parts of the world, have quickly flooded all the channels of employment.

ONLY TWO LEFT.

Of Dominion Election Protests, York And Addington.

Toronto, Sept. 30.—The dismissal of the West Hastings and West Durham election protestss, leaves only two of the original fourteen dominion election protests standing for trial. These are the tories' petition against Archibald Campbell in West York, and the liberals' petition against Melzar Avery in Addington. "Saw-off prospects" are however, not even hinted yet. A "fight" was long ago promised in West York. Both petitions were fyled some time ago.

The Natal parliament will meet on October 16th.

WAS A BEAUTY

A Secret Wedding That Saved $2,000,000

A CLEVER ACT

YOUNG MAN DODGED THREATENED DISINHERITANCE.

Jermyn's Bride Was a Beauty — Young Couple Kept Their Secret Well for Three Years — Got Wife and Money.

Oswego, N.Y., Sept. 30.—It was one thing to give up his pretty sweetheart of humble parentage and another to see $2,000,000 taken from him by his father unless he did, and between the two Walter M. Jermyn thought it a nice kettle of fish.

The way he solved the problem has just been made known, when his marriage to Lena Kehoe more than three years ago was announced and steps were taken to secure for him the $2,000,000 which was left to him by his father, John Jermyn, the millionaire coal operator, who died in Scranton a few months ago.

It was a $2,000,000 secret which the young couple have kept for three years. Young Jermyn fell madly in love with Miss Kehoe, when he first came to Oswego four years ago, and established large boiler works.

She was one of the sweetest girls in town, the daughter of an honest meat dealer, and Jermyn became a frequent caller at her home. They were often observed driving in the gorgeous turnouts which Jermyn was able to command. Then Jermyn, Sr., head of a family of great wealth and social prominence, learned how matters were going. He said Walter must give up his suit or disinheritance would be his lot.

So the carriage drives ceased, and it was believed among the townspeople that the $2,000,000 had outweighed young Jermyn's love for the fair daughter of the meat dealer.

But the young couple did meet, although none was the wiser, and at least one carriage drive was taken after the paternal edict had gone forth. This occasion was behind a fast team drawing a closed carriage, which stopped at the residence of Rev. George Ward, at Vermillion, a few miles east of Oswego. Jermyn and Miss Kehoe were married there on June 2nd, 1899.

Then began the keeping of the secret, which was successful. John Jermyn left $10,000,000, and by the terms of the will Walter Jermyn will receive one-fifth of this—and he's got his bride already.

BACK TO LONDON.

Trying to Complete Negotiations With France.

New York, Sept. 30.—The Tribune's London cable says Sir Wilfrid Laurier and Hon. Mr. Fielding, the Canadian minister of finance, are expected to return to London, from Paris, by the end of the week. They are making a final effort to complete negotiations for the improvement of trade relations between Canada and France. The previous conference, while friendly and promising, did not lead to practical results, but explanations have been exchanged and Sir Wilfrid, with Mr. Fielding behind him, hopes to reach an understanding with the French government before sailing for Canada in the second week of October.

The education bill remains a source of political disturbance, with a searching of heart in every faction. The non-conformists alone are thoroughly opposing the measure, but they differ among themselves respecting the wisdom of their leaders in advocating a general refusal to pay rates if the government persists in enacting it. The Irish nationalists, who have been supporting the bill, are now threatening to oppose it because Mr. Wyndham is not regarding the coercion act as a dead letter.

The liberals are eager to discredit the government and facilitate their own return to power, but the astute politicians among them do not desire either the defeat or the abandonment of the education bill for they would be committed in that event to a settlement of a most troublesome question to nonconformists and be exposed to the risk of alienating the support of church members. The government supporters, while seriously embarrassed by the agitation against the measure, are hoping that a compromise can be effected, through the good offices of the opposing leaders and the clergy of the English church. Moderate churchmen are suggesting that the chief difficulty can be removed by restricting the religious instruction to the bible and the authorized catechism and by excluding ritualistic manuals and other extreme works. They contend that the question of authority could be easily secured if the scope of religious instructions were strictly limited for every religious body.

An Unfortunate Bridge.

Belleville, Ont., Sept. 29.—The bridge which connects this city with the county of Prince Edward has been unfortunate this summer. Not long ago the steamer Corsican knocked one of the spans off, causing about $6,000 damage, and Friday night the steambarge Owen, of Kingston, ran into the swing, and damaged it considerably, though not enough to stop traffic.

To The Senate.

Detroit, Sept. 30.—General R. A. Alger, former secretary of war, today formally accepted Governor Bliss' tender the ad interim appointment as United States senator, to succeed the late Senator McMillan.

CHAFFEE COMING BACK.

He Will Turn Over Command to Gen. Davis.

GENERAL CHAFFEE.

Manila, Sept. 30.—General Adna R. Chaffee, to-day formally turned over the command of the department of the Philippines to Gen. George W. Davis. The transfer was accompanied by the usual ceremonies and at their conclusion Gen. Chaffee boarded the transport McClelland on which he returns to the United States. Acting-Governor Wright, Secretary Ferguson and Gens. Bell and Bisbee accompany Gen. Chaffee on the voyage. Upon arriving home in the United States Gen. Chaffee will assume command of the department of the East, with headquarters at Governor's Island.

A WEDDING OF NOTE.

Miss Alice Hay Married Mr. Wadsworth.

Newbury, N.H., Sept. 30.—Though the wedding to-day of James W. Wadsworth, Jr., and Miss Alice Hay, united two of the most distinguished families of America, the function itself was characterized by extreme simplicity, in striking contrast to the lavish display seen at most of the latter-day weddings of any note. Less than one hundred guests, and nearly every one of them a relative of one or the other of the contracting parties, witnessed the ceremony, which was performed in the drawing-room of "The Fells," the country place of the bride's parents, Secretary of State and Mrs. Hay, on the shores of Lake Sunapee. After a short wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Wadsworth will go to Geneseo, N.Y., to spend the rest of the autumn at the country estate of the Wadsworth family.

Miss Alice Hay, is the second daughter of Secretary of State and Mrs. Hay. Her sister, Miss Helen Hay, was married last February to Harry Payne Whitney, son of William C. Whitney. Unlike her sister, Mrs. Wadsworth has not inherited her father's literary genius. She is fond of reading and is thoroughly appreciative of good writing, but she made no attempt to win laurels on her own account. She is tall and stately, with the rich dark coloring notable in her mother. Her hair is almost black. She is fond of athletic sport and is an expert equestrian, golfer, fencer and tennis player.

Mr. Wadsworth is the son of Representative and Mrs. James W. Wadsworth of New York, and was a classmate and intimate friend of the late Adelbert Hay. He frequently visited the Hay home during his college days and his knowledge of his bride of to-day, dates back to the time when she wore "pig tails" and short frocks. The young folks wanted to be married two years ago, but both families advised the delay.

Mr. Wadsworth is the grandson of that brave general, James Samuel Wadsworth, who was killed at Chancellorsville in 1864, and he goes back in direct line to the James Wadsworth who more than 150 years ago obtained a land grant in the Geneseo Valley. The family still holds their immense estates, and probably resemble the British and continental land owners more closely than any other American proprietors. Some of the tenants have rented the same farm for several generations. Mr. Wadsworth will inherit a large fortune also from his mother.

THANKSGIVING.

Official Proclamation Issued by the Government.

Ottawa, Sept. 30.—The Canada Gazette calls upon Canadians to render thanks to Almighty God for the bountiful harvest and other blessings with which Canada has been favored this year, and to observe Thursday, October 16th, as a day of general thanksgiving. The proclamation reads as follows:

"Whereas it hath pleased Almighty God, in His great goodness to vouchsafe this year unto our Dominion of Canada, a bountiful harvest and other blessings.

"We, therefore, considering that these blessings enjoyed by our people throughout the said Dominion do call for a solemn and public acknowledgment, have thought fit, by and with the advice of our privy council, for Canada, to appoint, and we do hereby appoint Thursday, the 16th day of October, next, as a day of general thanksgiving to Almighty God for the bountiful harvest and other blessings with which Canada has been favored this year; and we do invite all our loving subjects throughout Canada to observe the said day as a day of general thanksgiving."

FRANK ENEMY

Pope's Opinion Of The Late M. Zola.

PREVIOUS FITS

HIS HEART WAS QUITE SERIOUSLY AFFECTED.

He Nearly Died in England on One Occasion—He was Liable to Attack in a Vitiated Armosphere—The Pope Was Surprised.

London, Sept. 30.—M. Vizetelly, who has prepared or edited most of the English editions of Zola's works, told a reporter of the Westminster Gazette, yesterday, that M. Zola suffered angina and was liable to stifling fits when he was in England. At the time of the Dreyfus case he had several bad attacks and, at one time, nearly died in M. Vizetelly's arms. For this reason M. Zola was especially liable to suffer in a vitiated atmosphere.

The Pope's Concern.

Rome, Sept. 30.—The pope, although he condemned Zola's writings and refused to receive the novelist when he was staying here finishing his novel, "Rome," was much concerned when he heard of M. Zola's death. He exclaimed: "If he was an enemy of the church he was a frank one. God rest his soul."

Regret In London.

New York, Sept. 30.—The Tribune's London cable says Zola was lionized by a small coterie of admirers when he visited London nine years ago, but his offences against good taste were not fully condoned until his splendid act of courage and self-sacrifice in the Dreyfus case commanded public attention. I heard yesterday among men of letters the sincerest expressions of regret over the tragic end of the great French realist.

WORRIES HIGH CHURCHMEN.

King's Attendance at a Presbyterian Church in Scotland.

New York, Sept. 30.—A special to the Journal from London says that the high church party in England is greatly concerned for the salvation of its king. His majesty and other members of the royal family now at Balmoral persist in worshipping every Sunday at Crathie Kirk church. The party reeks not that the king is only following as he vowed he would, in the footsteps of his mother.

The high church party seems more concerned now that the king should repeat what in high church eyes is an offence, evidently forgetting that the king is head of the Church of Scotland as well as of that of England, and that every year the king appoints a lord high commissioner to represent his majesty at the general assembly of the Church of Scotland.

AID FOR BOERS.

Much Money Spent on Prisoners of War.

London, Sept. 30.—In view of the Boer appeals, says a Cape Town correspondent, it should be known that the Boer war relief committee has now received a total of $313,890. A great part of this money has been spent on the prisoners of war, but $139,875 for widows and orphans has been invested to bring four per cent. During the war a committee reported that it was unnecessary to spend on the concentration camps, as the wants of the women and children were being met. This was at the time the world was ringing with complaints of alleged neglect of camps by the British.

NECESSITY FOR REFORM.

Changes Must Be Made on the Military Side.

London, Sept. 30.—Sir Michael Hicks-Beach, former chancellor of the exchequer, in a speech at Bristol, last night criticized the war office as chiefly responsible for the increase in national expenditure. He said the South African war did not compare to the war in the Soudan in economy and efficiency, and that there was a necessity for drastic reforms in the war office, on the military, however, rather than on the civil side.

BOOTH'S MESSAGE.

Head of Salvationists Sends Wireless Greetings.

London, Sept. 30.—Gen. Booth, of the Salvation Army, who sailed for New York, Saturday, on the American line steamer Philadelphia, sent the following wireless message to Salvationists: "Borne on the wings of prayer, I go on my American campaign. From the ocean I again call on my people everywhere for renewed, desperate fighting for God."

CALL REDUCTION A MYTH.

Grain Rates Are Offset by the General Tie-Up.

Winnipeg, Sept. 30.—The Tribune has it from a reliable source that the reduction in grain rates so loudly heralded on the C.N.R. is not panning out much to the advantage of the farmers. "The reduction on the C.N.R." said one dealer, "is largely a myth, as things are tied up."

Sir Marcus Samuel, an alderman of the city of London since 1891, has been elected lord mayor of London for the ensuing year, succeeding Sir Joseph C. Dimsdale.
