SALARY NOT COLLECTABLE.

Missouri Minister Loses a Lawsuit Against His Church.

Kansas City, Mo., May 14.—The Western Missouri court of appeals has decided that a member of the church congregation is not liable in law for the payment of the pastor's salary and that a minister of the gospel must depend upon the good consciences of the members of his flock for his pay. This decision was made in the suit brought by Rev. J. H. Riffe, who sued the First Baptist church of Monroe City for his salary of $800 a year.

Thomas Arnold, formerly proprietor of the Columbia hotel, St. Thomas, was drowned at Sarnia.

Bachrack, Blakeley and Levi, Toronto merchants, were committed for trial at Montreal on a charge of conspiracy to defraud George Margolius' creditors.

FINE GAS WELL

DISCOVERED AT WINGER NEAR FENWICK.

Claimed to Have an Output of One Million Feet a Day—Views of Ohio Expert—Can Be Sold Cheaply.

St. Catharines, May 14.—R. D. Turnbull, Cleveland, O., is in the city in connection with the contemplated oil and gas wells in this district. Mr. Turnbull was at Winger, near Fenwick, on Monday, and inspected the gas well which was bored to a depth of 750 feet, and which has now, it is claimed, an output of one million feet of gas a day. He states that the products can be piped and sold in this city profitably at the low price of between thirty and forty cents per 1,000 feet. He is quite enthusiastic over the prospects of gas and oil in this neighborhood, owing to the fact that it is in the same belt as the Pennsylvania gas and oil fields, the neighboring mountain being a continuation of the Alleghany range. Mr. Turnbull has leased 1,100 acres of land in Pelham township, and states that if good producing wells abound there the product can be piped to this city for $25,000, and that the revenue would repay the amount in a few months.

HULL INSPECTOR DAVIS

Has Won Confidence of Marine Men And People.

Since his appointment as government inspector of hulls for this district two years ago, Matthew R. Davis, of this city, has filled that position more than creditably, and has won the complete confidence of marine men and the general public. His impartiality and thoroughness of inspection is attested by his refusal to grant certificates to the steamers Glengarry and Clinton until thorough repairs have been made to weak spots. While such action may be unfortunate for some owners, yet it is such strict marine inspectors that will receive the approbation of the people. Any vessel Mr. Davis inspects and grants a certificate, the people may rely upon. It was his practical experience as a boat designer and builder that secured him his present position, and which enables him to defect weaknesses in a hull where an ordinary individual could see none.

Left Family To Struggle On.

Toronto, Mgy 14.—William Lebar, a knife sharpener, who lived at 398 Front street east, hanged himself this morning in his stables. Despondency was the cause. Lebar leaves a wife and three children.

The Fontainbleu, France, papers today report an attempt to derail Presidents Loubet's train near Montereau, on Monday last. A faggot and a rock were placed on the track, but were observed and removed before any damage was done.

FRONTENAC CHEESE BOARD.

Met In Ontario Hall For The First Time.

Kingston, May 14.—The Frontenac cheese board met to-day for first time in the Ontario hall, the new place of meeting. There were about twenty salesmen and six buyers present. President Wilmot presided and conducted the business with despatch.

The Union Cold storage company, Montreal, notified the board that it was prepared to handle any quantity of cheese, as it was not affected by the strike of teamsters.

J. A. Ruddick informed the board that a meeting of cheese and butter makers would be held in Montreal next week. The board was invited to send representatives. The matter was laid over for consideration. These factories boarded cheese:

White—Farmers Friend, 100; Cataraqui, 70; Cornflower, 80; Glenvale, 50; Granite Hill, 70; Hinchinbrook, 30; Morning Star, 60; Model, 100; Parham, 35; Rose Hill, 13; Elginburg, 25; Glendower, 50; Collins Bay, 125; Reynolds, 90; Forest, 25; Porter's, 30.

Colored—Arigan, 40; Emerald, 50; Rose Hill, 47; Wolfe Island, 34.

There were registered, 171 colored and 915 white, a total of 1,086 boxes.

Only 300 boxes were sold at eleven cents, L. W. Murphy setting the price, and four other buyers falling into line. The factories selling were:

L. W. Murphy—Forest, Elginburg.
J. Alexander—Arigan, Parham.
O. C. Bissell—Morning Star, Glendower, Hichinbrook.
D. J. MacKinnon, Wolfe Island.

Instructor Publow was present and gave a short address upon the success attending the new syndicating system. He had encouraging letters from the west, he said testifying to the success of the system; good results were being received from inspectors. He had been around the factories and found the cheese being made of fine quality for a mixture of fodder and grass cheese. However, the finish of cheese in Kingston district was not as good as that of Brockville or Perth districts; sufficient care was not taken in putting on binding cloths. Boxes were poor and liable to injure the cheese.

R. G. Armstrong said he had never seen a good box made in Kingston district; those made in Napanee and Tamworth were much better.

Inspector Ferguson reported that he was now on his second round of the syndicate. He found fodder cheese of fair quality. He could not give as much time to milk testing as factories demanded, as there was more important work to do; the government intended inspectors to devote more time to instruction, with a view to raising standard of cheese. This work could not be done if time was to be devoted to testing of milk; he could do more important work instructing the makers and farmers in the care of milk.

Instructor Publow informed the board that the inspectors must report to him weekly; each patron was entitled to a copy of the inspector's report of the condition of each factory. The inspectors would not devote so much time to detection of crime as to instruction of makers. The system, so far was working very satisfactory.

IN A COLLISION.

The New Steamer Keefe Was Badly Damaged.

Detroit, May 14.—The new steamer Keefe, of the Great Lakes and St. Lawrence River Transportation company, came into the dock of the Detroit Shipbuilding company late last night, with her stem broken and bow smashed down almost to the water line, on account of a collision in Lake St. Clair with the whaleback barge 130, in tow of the Steel Trust steamer Clarence A. Black. The barge was badly damaged but proceeded to Port Huron. No one was hurt and fortunately both boats were struck above the water line. It will take about ten days to make repairs to the Keefe. She is a new boat, having left the shipyards at Buffalo only last Saturday and was on the way to Duluth on her maiden trip.

Smallpox Epidemic In Detroit.

Detroit, May 14.—Detroit has another outbreak of smallpox, and Health Officer Kiefer declares that the city will never be rid of the disease until a house-to-house vaccination takes place. "During the past few days many cases have been reported," said Dr. Kiefer. "I cannot account for the fresh outbreak, but I can tell you that not one of the new cases is reported from the district that was vaccinated last winter. Moreover, all the new patients are people who have never been vaccinated."

The Story Exaggerated.

London, May 14.—Viscount Cranborne, under secretary for foreign affairs, replying to a question by John Redmond, in the House of Commons to-day, stated that the British viceconsul, at Monastir, had reported that several Christians had been killed in the disturbance there. Energetic measures have been taken in the matter. The reports regarding loss of life, the consul reported, had been exaggerated.

Petworth Pointers.

Petworth, May 13.—Our cheese factory is now under the able management of Vanluven brothers. The new telephone works are complete. Sydney Clark, the mayor of our town, has taken stock and will now proceed to do business in the grocery line on Bunker's Hill, Main street. A runaway happened here last week in which F. Darling was slightly injured.

Additions to the Directorate of the Company Have Been Officially Announced—Gains in All Departments.

Montreal, May 14.—The additions to be made to the directorate of the Dominion Iron and Steel company this afternoon, are officially announced as follows: William McMaster, managing director of the Montreal Rolling company, F. Nichols and F. H. Plummer, of Toronto.

The annual statement of the iron and steel company are as follows: Earnings of coal department for ten months, $1,977,328.10 less ten months rental, $1,333,333.33, leaving net of $643,994.77. The earnings of the steel department for eight months, $309,886.90, making a total of $953,881.67. The bond and general interest charges for eight months, with sinking fund, made a total of $410,935.45 leaving the net earnings, $542,946.45. After paying preferred dividends for eight months there was a surplus of $330,612.88. The total assets of the company are placed at $38,505,567. Capital expenditure on steel works is put at $864,626.46 for eight months and on coal $641,260.97 for ten months, which with other expenditure credited to capital brings total for both companies up to $1,730,857.43. The coal statement shows as follows, ten months' rental, $1,333,333.33, interest $28,007.78, a total of $1,361,341.11, dividends interest on bonds and expenses were $1,296,481.11, leaving a balance of $64,859.99. The sinking fund for ten months was $130,824.50.

The G. T. R. has removed the embargo on eggs, butter, cheese, fruits and packing house products for Montreal, but special instructions must be obtained by agents on other lines.

The C. P. R. management deny the report of an issue of fifteen to twenty millions in the capital stock of the company, as only the shareholders could authorize such a move.

A settlement of the teamsters' strike if likely before night. Conferences have been going on all day and the basis of a settlement has nearly been reached, only a couple of points being in dispute.

He has been in England the last year laboring for the Macedonian cause. Miss Calhoun is the daughter of Judge Calhoun, of California.

Will Join A League.

An enthusiastic meeting of the Y. M. C. A. lacrosse club was held last evening at the Y.M.C.A. building. The team practiced until dark, and then held a business meeting. It was decided, if the team could secure the support of the citizens, to join a league, composed of teams representing Brockville, Morrisburg, Gananoque, Prescott and Kingston. Mr. Tait will represent the local team at a meeting for the purpose of organization at Brockville, to-morrow night. As baseball promises to be quiet this season, the citizens should help the lacrosse club to put a good team in the field. A match may be arranged for Victoria day.

Moss, for plaintiff, appealed from judgment of Street, J., at the trial at Port Arthur, dismissing the action, which was brought by plaintiff on behalf of himself and all other shareholders of defendant company, except defendant White, for a declaration that defendant White has wrongfully procured from defendant company 90,000 shares of the capital stock, to which he is not entitled, and for which he had given no value. N. W. Rowell, K.C., for defendant company, and D. L. McCarthy, for defendant White, opposed appeal. Not finished.

BERNIER PEGGING AWAY.

More Ground For Hope For His Scheme.

Capt. Bernier, who undertakes to discover the Pole for $120,000, has pervaded the Parliament Buildings ever since the session opened at Ottawa. Last session the captain left Ottawa with a sort of understanding that if he collected $60,000 the Government of Canada would see that he got $60,000 more from the public purse. The members of the Government were not displeased with the pluck and persistency of the cheering little captain and they figured it out that $60,000 was, after all, a small sum to give a man who might never come back to ask for more. It is not every promoter that will let a Government off for $60,000. Capt. Bernier was greatly heartened by the implied promise, and set out to do missionary work all over Canada. The astronomical societies and the scientific institutions took a splendid abstract interest in his theories of Arctic navigation, nodded their heads wisely, and agreed that Bernier's plans were quite feasible. But beyond a moral support they refused to go. The hard cash did not roll in, and all the captain's hard work and tremendous enthusiasm accomplished in a year's time was to raise about $20,000, and that mostly in small subscriptions.

B'ch Men Cool.

Although he pointed out to many wealthy, influential persons that Canada had the best right to the North Pole, as being nearest to it, and that a Canadian should have the honor of discovering what has stood for the Golden Fleece to many generations of intrepid navigators—although, in short, the captain used all his arts of earnestness and argument, he found the millionaires hermetically sealed to his adventurous proposition.

More Hopeful Than Ever.

This session he comes back to the House of Commons with $20,000 worth more hope than he had last year. He will not solicit subscriptions any longer. He will solicit influence. He buttonholes members of Parliament. He seeks interviews with members of the Cabinet. He has converted the Minister of Marine and Fisheries, who is a Frenchman, like himself, and who has ambitions, as everybody knows, to enlarge the scope of his department. The Minister of Marine listens very kindly to Capt. Bernier's deputation, and hints that the captain's dearest wish may be gratified. The captain is so jolly, so patient withal, that nobody finds him a bore. He has abandoned the silk hat as unsuited to Arctic work, and he now appears in a soft hat, brown and jaunty. He goes about on the coldest days without overcoat or gloves. He expands his chest. He glows with warmth. He who runs may read that here is a man who will find Arctic regions as tolerable as tropic suns. It is a matter of regret that March was not colder, so that all could see how he stands it. A waggish American who saw him rushing about in light marching order said to him:

"Bernier, if they saw you in my country going round without an overcoat in this weather, they'd think that you meant it, and send you to the Pole."

"Ah," said the captain, "if they would only believe here I'd do without a waistcoat!"

Making an Impression.

And gradually Parliament is coming to believe. This hardy little sailor, who doesn't make more of a zero day than you or I do of the first of July, begins to impress the House of Commons as being sincere and reasonable. No icy heart repels him. No frosty face sets him back. The members say, "If he freezes to us this way, how much harder he will freeze to the North Pole." The earnestness of this ruddy little sea captain to discover something that hasn't six per cent. on the face of it suggests to the most practical that fame is better than money, and that some men burn to carry out the brave dreams that most of us forget with our boyhood's toys. It is understood that Sir Wilfrid Laurier favors the plans of his jovial compatriot. Capt. Bernier's dash for the Pole will come up in the House of Commons, and the probabilities are that Canada will invite her soul for the nonce by handing the captain a hundred thousand dollars and a God-speed. Then the captain will have the ship built in British Columbia, taking care to have it double-trussed with green heart. And after that he will provision it with tins of pea soup and man it with good French-Canadians, chosen from the famous crew of the "Julie Plante,"—H. F. G., in Toronto Star.

Two Davin Stories.

"The honorable member for Algoma (Mr. Davin) seems to have rooms in his upper story to let," said an opponent in debate in the House.

"Yes," interrupted Davin, "rooms to let, but they're not like yours. They're furnished."

Another Davin story. The debate was on the emergency rations—dog biscuits the Opposition called 'em. Davin was insisting that the duty of the Minister of Militia was to have had the rations analyzed.

"Why," he asked in his rich Irish brogue, "didn't he analoize them?"

At this stage in the argument entered a gallant gentleman, since relegated to private life. He had been dining well.

"And what," asked this temerarious person, "would he analyze them for?"

Davin looked at him with infinite contempt.

"Well," he said, "if I had to make the post-mawrtem on you, I'd analoize you for alcohol."
