STR. KINGSTON

MET WITH SLIGHT ACCIDENT TO MACHINERY.

Brought Back To The City For Repairs—Will Lose One Trip As a Result Of The Occurrence.

A regrettable accident occurred to the steamer Kingston, Friday afternoon on her trip up the lake. She left Kingston at five o'clock, apparently in good condition. When about ten miles up the lake something went wrong with one of the cylinders, resulting in the twisting of a piston rod, which brought the machinery to a standstill. As soon as possible, the injured cylinder was cut out, and the steamer headed back to the city, working very slowly. When near Snake Island light, the captain of the Kingston saw the steamer Hamilton leave port and head for the east. He signalled the Hamilton, and that boat turned about and went to the assistance of the steamer in distress. The Kingston was towed into port and taken to the Kingston foundry wharf for repairs. It was expected that by Saturday night or early Sunday morning the injured parts would be restored and the steamer rendered serviceable once more.

The steamer has eighty-five passengers aboard, and these were transferred to the Grand Trunk railroad and sent west at midnight. It is probable that the Kingston will proceed down to Prescott Sunday morning and resume her regular run, missing one trip as a result of the accident. The Kingston was on her second trip of the season.

M. T. company elevator: Steamer Westmount and consorts Melrose and Minnedosa clear to-night for Fort William with railway iron; steamer Topeka cleared for Oswego to load coal; tug Mary up with three light barges to-night.

Augustus R. Hinckley, Cape Vincent, owner of the boat Hinckley, has filed a complaint against James Gaskin, Jr., Montreal, as agent, and master of the steambarge Armenia, now in port at Great Sodus, N.Y. It is alleged that on December 6th, 1902, the Hinckley towed the Armenia from Oswego to Cape Vincent for a consideration of $150. This has not been paid, it is alleged, and the complaint asks to have all persons interested in the boat Armenia cited to appear and answer the matters in the case, and further to have the boat condemned and sold to pay the above amount.

GOOD NEWS FOR VETERANS.

May Take Up Land In Frontenac And Addington.

Col. Hunter is in receipt of a letter from the Ottawa department of crown lands, in reply to a communication from him, relative to the possibility of veterans securing land grants in Addington and Frontenac counties. The department stated that in Addington county the townships of Abinger and Denbigh were open to settlement by veterans, as were also the townships of south and north Canonto, Clarendon, Miller and Palmerston in Frontenac county. The crown lands agent in these counties is A. Wood, Plevna.

The townships are divided into 100 sections, and veterans may take up two sections, paying for the additional forty acres, over and above the grant of 160 acres, at the rate of fifty cents an acre. Only one section in every 640 acres in these townships will be given to veterans.

A GOOD SCHEME.

Fair Association Will Arrange For Four Prizes.

The special committee of the fair association appointed to revise four classes of the prize list, has named a sub-committee, consisting of R. J. Spoor, G. W. Bell, V.S., and Alderman Knapp, to handle the matter. The proposition is to arrange for four prizes in classes covering horses, cattle, sheep and pigs, with a view to inducing local stock owners to exhibit. The first and second prizes will be cut down so as to provide a fourth prize. Thus four prizes will be given instead of three without additional cost to the association. This will also result in shutting out "pot hunters," who go about from one fair to another, picking up first prizes, to the detriment of legitimate exhibitors.

BUSINESS DONE

BY CIVIC FIRE AND LIGHT COMMITTEE.

Free House Rent Will be Accorded To a Fireman Who Had Been Overlooked In Recent Pay Advances.

The civic fire and light committee met yesterday afternoon with Chairman McFarlane and Alds. Knapp, McLeod and Mallen in attendance.

Tenders of $34 and $35 for painting the hose and hook and ladder waggons were considered too high and the committee took no action.

On motion of Ald. Knapp, it was decided to grant John Hall, of No. 1 fire station, free house rent after July 1st. Fireman Hall was overlooked recently in not being given an increase in pay, and a free house is now being given him in lieu thereof.

The K. & P. railway company wrote that after June 15th they could no longer furnish a team of horses to draw the Chatham engine from No. 1 station. On motion of Ald. McLeod, the matter of supplying an extra team was left to the chairman and Chief Elmer.

The Stratford matter again came before the committee, it having been hanging over for some months. The complaint, it will be remembered, was made that Fireman Stratford used a room in No. 1 station for taxidermist purposes and worked at this during his spare time and when off duty. James Stratford, his brother, appeared as complainant. Alds. McLeod stated that there was no report from the chief that fireman Stratford had not been doing his duty. Mere rumors were not sufficient for the committee to act upon. Ald. Mallen said that fireman Stratford had not done any work in the station since January 1st. Ald. McLeod said if the committee took action in this case, it would involve all the city officials. On Ald. McLeod's motion, it was decided to await a report from the sub-committee appointed some time ago.

A SHOCK

Must Be Avoided, If Possible.

Shock to the mind brings some most disastrous conditions to body and nerves. Then it is that food, powerful food, can best show its power. As an illustration a woman of Covington, O., says: "One day my husband while about the house dropped dead without moan or groan or warning of any kind and coming into the room I found him lifeless. The shock and the terrible anguish that followed were so great that in a week's time I had lost apparently all my flesh and the skin became shrivelled; I was so weak that I reeled and staggered about with no strength or will power to do anything.

"As time wore on I recovered just a little but not enough to make life worth the living. One day I read about a poor skinny little baby being restored to flesh and health on the food Grape-Nuts so I resolved to try it. I gained from the first box of Grape-Nuts and still more from the second and after using the third package I had strength and energy enough to go to house cleaning, something I had never expected to be able to do again.

"The improvement continued steadily and I am still gaining flesh and strength." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

A lady famous for her dainty deserts explains that she learned them from the little recipe book she found in the package of Grape-Nuts.

HAD DELIGHTFUL OUTING.

Detroit Masons Pleased With Their Fine Trip.

The touring Detroit Masons returned to the city about eight o'clock last evening on the steamer Rideau Queen, from Ottawa. They spent a happy evening in port on the steamer, an impromptu concert being given. At the invitation of F. Simmons, general manager of the street railway service, the visitors ejoyed a trolley ride around the city early this morning. At noon they boarded a private car attached to the G.T.R. International limited, and were whirled westward to their homes.

The visitors were charmed with the beauties of the St. Lawrence and Rideau routes. There is not any scenery near Detroit, they say, that can compare with that of the two routes above named. This pilgrimage, they say, is bound to become an annual event, and the number taking advantage of it will increase as the years roll on. They are full of gratitude and praise for the kindness everywhere extended them, and consider Canadians princely and hospitable entertainers.

The excellent company was in charge of William King and among those taking the trip were: Sheriff Henry A. Dickson, of Wayne county, and wife; Lieut. High, of the Detroit police; W. Hepson and son, William Van Sickle and wife, Capt. Edward Horne and wife and son, Will Horne and wife, Oscar Bowman and wife, Henry Schmidt and wife, ex-Alderman Hotton and wife, Dr. Sheldon and wife and daughter, Charles Schultz, Charles Calvert and wife, Will Herbst and wife, Mee Safford and wife, S. Meyersfeld and wife, Albert Goodman, and wife, Louis Schawenback and wife and daughters, Mrs. Dunn and the Misses Moody.

Kingston Old Boys.

Ottawa Citizen.

At a meeting of the Kingston Club arrangements were completed for the trip to Kingston on July 25th, for the Old Boys' celebration in that city. A committee reported that a special return rate of $1.75 had been secured which would probably be good for the three days of the festivities. The committee appointed to secure a hall reported in favor of the library of the Literary and Scientific society, 25 Sparks street, which had been offered. It was decided to use the library as a permanent home for the club.

MILITIA NEWS.

ST. ANDREW'S CADETS WERE ON PARADE.

Addressed By Rev. John Mackie And Capt. Macnee—The Reason Several Regiments Were Not Called Out.

St. Andrew's cadets, Kingston's fine Highland corps, paraded last evening in the armouries, afterwards performing field movements on Artillery Park square. Capt. Hughes was in command. The cadets drilled splendidly, every movement being performed in a manner that would have reflected credit on an imperial regiment. At the conclusion of the parade the cadets were addressed by Rev. John Mackie and Capt. Macnee, who both expressed admiration at the splendid manner in which they drilled. They were also congratulated upon their conduct and observance of discipline at church parade last Sunday.

The Reason Assigned.

It is said that the reason the 15th Regiment, of Prince Edward county; 42nd, of Renfrew county, and 47th, of Frontenac county, were not called out to undergo annual training this year was because of the large number of unqualified officers retained in each regiment, and the small percentage of qualified leaders. Some officers have been enrolled for upwards of twenty years as lieutenants and have never taken the trouble to qualify. No wonder the regiments are not up to standard.

A Fine Body Of Men.

About half the members of No. 3 company, Army Service Corps, went into camp at Barriefield this afternoon. The remainder will follow at half-past seven o'clock Sunday morning. The men had a busy time at the armouries last evening preparing for camp. The company will have under canvas about sixty-two men of all ranks. The men have all been fitted with the new service uniform, Stetson hats, etc., and present a "swell" appearance on parade. The company is composed of a fine body of men, of splendid physique.

Will Not Be In Camp.

It has been suggested that it would be possible for the 5th Kingston field battery to perform annual training at Deseronto if the guns of the 9th Toronto battery were borrowed. The guns of the 5th battery were shipped to Ottawa in January last for repairs, but so far they have not been returned. Hence it is altogether likely that the corps will not go into camp this year.

SOCIAL SATURDA

Do you know, I'm afraid we're forgetting how to bow—really bow. We make queer forward motions with our heads, we nod and smile, or we nod, without smiling. (There are some people, too, you know, who smile without nodding, but this procedure is quite legitimate, and doesn't come under the head of these few remarks.) But of the bow par excellence, alas! and alack! its almost gone, with many other good things—courtesy to one's elders for choice. Not quite gone though. The other day a woman,—a gracious woman, whom most of you know—was just caught in the act of bowing to an acquaintance, and the sight was a refreshment. A pretty movement of the neck, a gracious bending of the head, a pleased smile—all three the acme of courtesy. There's the root of the matter, we think we've no time for courtesy, and from our discourtesy spring our unlovely, ungraceful, unattractive head motions, mis-called bows. Isn't it a pity? Let's reform.

* * * *

The June gaiety is fairly under way, and the week has been an extremely bright one. Teas daily, large and small, and informal little amusements of various kinds in honor of the many girls in town, who appear to be as pleased with Kingston, as Kingston is with them.

Mrs. Albree began the round on Tuesday, with a tea, the pleasure of which was due in no small measure to the magnetic charm of the hostess herself. The affair was given in honor of her visitors—her sister, Mrs. Balliot and Mrs. Albree, her sister-in-law. The hostess received in a pretty gown of pink crepe. Pink was also the color chosen for the flowers in the drawing-room, masses of pink peonies being everywhere. In the tea-room, a most striking effect was produced by the unique adornment of the tea-table, which bore on its polished surface a large and handsome urn filled with white peonies. Anything more really artistic and beautiful can hardly be imagined. In charge of this attractive spot was Mrs. W. F. Nickle, who poured the coffee, with Mrs. Howard Folger, Mrs. Frank Strange, Miss Lettice Tandy, Miss Mabel Brownfield, and Miss Gertrude Lowe, dispensing ices and other refreshments.

* * * *

An informal little tea with Mrs. Buxton Smith as hostess, and her young Ottawa visitor, Miss Harvey, as raison d'etre, was the very happy event for Wednesday afternoon. Miss Annie Muckleston was in charge of the tea, with Miss Mildred Jones serving ices, and Miss Frances Macauley, Miss Mildred Cook, Miss Dorothy Brownfield, and a few other pretty not-outs, dispensing the same. Amongst those present were Mrs. Walkem, Mrs. John Webster, Hamilton; Mrs. Holah, Mrs. Prior, Mrs. Fred. McLachen, Mrs. Edward Moore, Miss Florence Merrick, Miss Mary Smith, Miss Lola Henderson, Miss Gladys Drury, Miss Rutherford, Miss Mabel Brownfield, Miss Etta Callaghan, Miss Grace and Miss
