CITY FATHERS

YIELD SPECIAL SESSION TO PASS BY-LAWS.

A Telegram From The Solicitor—T. R. Carnovsky's Property Was Damaged—A Defective Walk On Simcoe Street.

A special meeting of the city council was held last night in the hope that the members could wind up business and adjourn for the summer months. This could not be done, as there were thirty-six by-laws to pass. These, and communications and petitions were dealt with. Another meeting will be held next week, when reports will be read and considered.

Those present were Mayor Bell, and Alds. Abbott, Bass, Bassam, Behan, Craig, King, Knapp, Mullen, McCammon, McFarlane, McLeod, Reeves, Sands, Sears, Tait, and Walkem.

Ald. King drew the attention of the council to a matter in reference to the city's objection to paying some $2,000 towards the proposed G.T.R. subway. The city solicitor had sent a telegram to him under date of June 29th, as follows:

"Motion enlarged till 1st September on my objection that city had no notice of sittings of railway committee at which amending order of 16th June was made."

This telegram was read and referred to the committee on finance.

Communications.

From J. P. McPherson, regarding a defective walk on Simcoe street. He claims he received injuries and asks the city to meet doctor's bill, etc.—Finance committee and city solicitor.

T. R. Carnovsky, re damages to property on account of defective drainage, and offering to accept $15 as a settlement.—Board of works.

Bell Telephone Co., submitting details asked for by the board of works and finance committee.—Finance committee.

A. Maxim re remission of taxes, as he is now paying statute labor tax.—Court of revision.

F. A. Folger, superintendent of the street railway company, regarding proposed asphalt sidewalk on Barrie street.—Board of works.

W. Mundell, on behalf of the estate of William Atkinson, regarding some back taxes.—Finance committee.

Petitions Considered.

Ald. Behan—W. S. Parker and others, against the construction of a granolithic or asphalt sidewalk on Queen street.—Board of works.

Ald. Behan—Roman Catholic Episcopal corporation and others, for a granolithic walk on the west side of Clergy street from Johnston to Brock streets.—Board of works.

Ald. Bassam—E. Crumley and others asking for the construction of an asphalt sidewalk on the north side of Union street.—Board of works.

Ald. Mullen—Firemen John Burns and Fred Reid, asking to be advanced a grade and pointing out that though put in the first grade when appointed as permanent men, they had previously had four or five years' experience as callmen. They raised the point as to whether this might not possibly have some bearing as regards their standing and consequently their salary.—Fire and light committee.

Considerable time was spent in passing a number of by-laws relating to the borrowing of money for various purposes, the construction of walks, the making of drains and sewers, etc.

Made A Record.

The city council last night passed thirty-five by-laws, several of which provided for the issuing of debentures for some $5,500 to meet expenses connected with laying walks, constructing sewers and drains, etc. The clerk showed himself an extremely rapid reader and it was on this account that the by-laws passed their various readings in about two hours instead of four.

BAD BOYS PUNISHED.

Cases In This Morning's Police Court.

There was plenty of work for the police magistrate this morning. One hotel keeper pleaded guilty to selling liquor after hours on May 25th, and was fined $20 and costs. Another hotel proprietor was charged with having men in his bar room after 11 p.m., on May 23rd. Inspector Glidden, in his evidence, said that he had followed the men into the bar. It was shown in defence that one of the men was a boarder and that the proprietor had endeavored to put them both out. The magistrate dismissed the case.

Patrick McGuirk, an old and well-known character, hobbled into the dock, and listened to the charge of vagrancy and begging preferred against him. He was sent up for six months. "That's too rough," he exclaimed as he left the room; "I never earned that much."

The two boys, Shaughnessy and Turcott, whose misdeeds have already been chronicled, appeared before his worship for sentence. The magistrate read them both a sound lecture, telling the former that he was about as bad as a boy could be. Shaughnessy was given one year in the reformatory. Turcott, whose record is not so bad, was ordered to be whipped by the police.

A FAREWELL.

Miss Rutherford Remembered By Her Friends.

The members of the Young Women's Christian Association last night tendered a "surprise" social to the retiring secretary, Miss H. R. Rutherford, who is shortly to leave Kingston.

The chair was taken by Mrs. McAuley. She called upon Miss Brownlee, on behalf of those present, to read an address. It was in part as follows:

"Dear Miss Rutherford, we the members of the Y.W.C.A. feel it our privilege, as you are about to leave us and as you have filled the position of secretary so faithfully for the last two years, to acknowledge our gratitude for the kindly words you have spoken to us, and the example you have set in your daily work and conversation. Your kindly bearing with us in all our troubles, your trying by word and action to lead us to higher standards of life, ever pressing us to live nearer to our Saviour, have been noted. And your endeavors to lift our thoughts from the things of this world unto Him who is the source of all our joy has been appreciated by us. We feel that we lose a friend and guide when parting with you. We ask for your prayers."

Miss Brownlee then presented Miss Rutherford with a handsome morocco purse with silver clasps, and containing a gold coin.

This young lady who is severing her connection with the association seemed much surprised. She expressed her appreciation and referred to many pleasant gatherings and meetings she had taken part in. She earnestly hoped for the fullest measure of prosperity, as regards the future of the association.

There was, after the presentation, an instrumental duet by Routley & McAuley; a song, Thomas Rutherford; piano solo, Miss Hicks, Gananoque; song, Miss Gracie Clarke; song, Miss Carnovsky; recitations and readings, Miss Rose McNamee, and Madame Eller. Refreshments were served and the singing of "God be With You Till We Meet Again," brought the gathering to a close.

In the afternoon, after a meeting of the directors of the association, they presented Miss Rutherford with a silver sugar bowl and tongs and also a milk pitcher. They were very handsome, being inlaid with gold.

WILLIAMSON—TANDY.

Marriage Ceremony At Havelock On Monday Night.

At Havelock, on Monday night, at 6:30 o'clock, took place the marriage of Dr. Archibald R. B. Williamson, Kingston, and Mary Harriet Norma, daughter of Mrs. William Tandy, formerly of this city. The ceremony was performed in the quaint and pretty little brown stone church of St. John the Evangelist, the interior of which had been prettily decorated with flowers by the parishioners. Rev. W. H. Tandy, M.A., the rector, brother of the Bride, conducted the service, assisted by the Rev. E. A. Langfeldt, M.A., rector of St. Luke's, Ashburnham. The bride was given away by her brother, Herbert Tandy. The church decorations consisted of ferns, daisies, palms and cut flowers. Over the entrance to the chancel hung a bell of ferns, daisies and buttercups.

The bride was attired in ivory duchess satin, embroidered with pearls; wore a bridal veil adorned with orange blossoms, and carried a shower bouquet of white roses. The bridesmaids were Miss Elsie Tandy, sister of the bride, and Miss Florence Williamson, sister of the groom. Both wore white silk organdie over taffeta, and large picture hats, and carried pink roses. Miss Gladys Bibby, in a frock of white organdie, and carrying a basket of pink roses, was the little flower girl. George H. Williamson, of Kingston, was groomsman. The groom's gift to the bride was a pendant set with pearls, and to the bridesmaids pendants with opal centres. The bride's going-away gown was of gold cloth, with hat of tuscan straw, trimmed with forget-me-nots.

After the ceremony, the bridal party and guests proceeded to the rectory, adjoining the church, where a sumptuous repast was served and toasts drunk. The table was covered with pink and white roses, and garlanded with pansies and smilax. Garlands of flowers hung overhead in parlor, hallway and dining-room. Following the repast there was a short musicale, in which Rechab Tandy, the eminent Toronto tenor, uncle of the bride, took part.

Dr. and Mrs. Williamson left on the one o'clock train for Montreal, thence proceeding to the Saguenay by steamer. A very large array of gifts were received by the bride and groom.

W.C.T.U. Disapproved.

A special meeting of the W.C.T.U. was held Saturday evening to discuss a letter from Mrs. May R. Thornley, regarding the cigarette bill. The following resolution was drawn out and a copy sent to Kingston's representative in the senate, Hon. Dr. Sullivan:

"Resolved, that we the officers and members of Kingston W.C.T.U. entirely disapprove of the Honorable Charles Fitzpatrick's intention to introduce a cigarette age-limit law forbidding the sale to those under sixteen years of age. Our provincial law already forbids the sale to those under eighteen years of age and is absolutely useless. Therefore, we earnestly beg that the honorable senate will do what it can to ensure the passage of a bill such as proposed by Mr. Bickerdike to prohibit the manufacture importation and sale of the cigarette."

Will Be Here.

Amongst the former Kingstonians who will likely be here at the "Old Boys" re-union in July is the Hon. Mr. Bickerdike, Montreal, and who represents Montreal Centre in the Dominion house. He has intimated that he will visit the Limestone city and has had a personal invitation from Ex-Mayor Shaw.

Very Pleasant.

Because it makes the digestion of good, nourishing food easy. Angier's Petroleum Emulsion is prescribed by physicians for wasting diseases. It cleanses the blood and system of impurities and creates firm flesh. Pleasant to take, and agreeable to weak stomachs.

AT BARRIEFIELD.

TACTICAL MANOEUVRES FOR FRIDAY NEXT.

Cavalry Almost Exclusively Exercised In Mounted Rifle Drill—Mock Court-Martials Held—Notes Of The Army Service Corps.

The big military camp on Barriefield heights is nearing a close, and general regret is expressed in consequence. The weather turned out delightful after the first few days of roughness, and the men enjoyed themselves very much, all sorts of games and amusements being arranged for their pleasure. Many of the men have expressed a desire to remain in camp for another month, if fine weather continued.

The cavalrymen are being exercised almost exclusively in mounted rifle drill, cavalry exercise being obsolete. In this new feature the men are making satisfactory and encouraging success. More attention is also being given to defence work, the infantry being drilled regularly in engineering work, such as constructing rifle pits, wire entanglements, etc. It is surprising how strongly and quickly a hill can be placed in a condition of defence by a few trained men, working together systematically, under the direction of a trained officer. It is very interesting to observe the men at work on this important branch of the service. Evidently the lesson taught by the South African war has not been entirely lost to the Canadian military authorities.

Tactical manoeuvres will be carried out on Friday, 3rd July, in accordance with the general idea; special ideas will be issued later. The general idea is that a force (blue) having landed at Kingston, has entrenched a line of outposts, two squadrons of cavalry and two regiments of infantry, on Barriefield heights, for the protection of Kingston. A force (red) concentrated at Brockville, is pushing forward a flying column, six squadrons of cavalry to destroy the blue force, and capture the dry dock and locomotive works at Kingston. The blue force will be thus composed: Commandant, Lieut.-Col. John Hughes; two squadrons 4th Hussars, 49th, 56th Regiments, commanded by Lieut.-Cols. Harrison and Checkley. Red forces: Commandant, Lieut.-Col. Hodgins; 3rd Dragoons, 4th Hussars (less two squadrons 4th, 45th, 48th, 59th Regiments, commanded by Lieuts.-Cols. Sutton, Clyde, Green, Sylvester, Ward, Morgan. The area to be manoeuvred over will be from Grass creek on the east side of Barriefield heights on the west. The "battle" will begin at 7:45 a.m. Twenty rounds of blank ammunition per man will be issued. The blue force will go into action in drill order, the red force in shirt sleeves. Neither side must, knowingly, approach within 200 yards of the other. Bayonets must not be used. After the battle the troops will march past on the ground to the west of the Army Service Corps lines. The umpire-in-chief will be Major-General, the Earl of Dundonald; assistant umpires, cavalry, Col. Lessard; Col. Beech, Major Nelles, Capt. Straubenzee. Red force, Col. Buchan, Major Logan, Major Carpenter, Lieut. Carlton. Blue force, Col. Gordon, Col. Hemming, Capt. Kage, Capt. Caldwell.

The officers of the Army Medical Service are carefully looked after by their non-commissioned officers. Monday evening they sent over an armed escort to protect the officers on their way back to their own lines from the Army Service Corps quarters, where the medical men are messing. While within the Army Service Corps lines, the embryo doctors examined the bakery and gave the "dough kneaders" pointers on how bread should be prepared and cooked.

A concert has been arranged to take place before the divisional headquarters, Wednesday evening. The camp contains some fine talent, and an enjoyable evening is looked for.

A "barrack room" court-martial took place within the lines of the Army Service Corps Monday night. A private had three serious charges preferred against him: Being lazy, reading novels while on duty and striking a superior officer, the cook. Warrant officer Lang was prosecuting attorney; Sergt. Little, sheriff; Warrant Officer Franklin, clerk of court; and Sergt. Clarke, 3rd Regiment, judge. The jury adjudged the prisoner guilty, and he was punished in a manner befitting the seriousness of his offences. Sergt. Clarke made a capital judge, his delivery of sentence was tinged with keen humor, while full of sage advice to the prisoner.

A drum head court-martial was held with the lines of the 59th Regiment Monday night. A youthful offender was punished for "freshness."

Camera "fiends" were conspicuously prominent within the lines Monday afternoon. The camp of the Army Service Corps was given great attention, being photographed from all prominent points. The ovens and butchery were more favored than any other points. The different sections of the corps were photographed separately, and the company also as a whole. The sergeants were also photographed in a group.

The Army Medical Service boys object to the published item, that they must either drink beer or be tossed in a blanket. Beer is an unknown quantity within their lines. They are a quiet, well-behaved lot of young men.

Sergt. Butcher, Alex. McAllister, of the Army Service Corps, has his duties down to a science. Lord Dundonald twice visited the butchery and observed the men killing. He said they were doing excellent work.

To-morrow being Dominion day, it will be observed as a semi-holiday by the troops. A day of rest and gladness will be in order.

Lieut.-Col. Buchan arrived in camp Tuesday morning, and will remain until the close.

Rifle practice is being performed every day at the butts.

The officers of the Army Service Corps form a remarkable group, together with their wives and three infants in arms.

Major H. J. Snelgrove, 40th Regiment, is grand regent of the Royal Arcanum, grand council of Ontario and a past high chief ranger of the Ancient Order of Foresters in Canada. He will be pleased to meet any visiting members of these fraternal orders at his regimental quarters in camp.

Bugler Harold Proctor Seelgrove, Cobourg, is probably the youngest "soldier of the king" in camp, being only twelve years of age. On Monday, at target practice, he made a marvellous score, making a total of twenty-eight points. He did not miss the target once and scored several successive bullseyes. He is a nephew of Sheriff Proctor.

Honorable Military Career.

Peterboro Review.

"This is the first year since 1866 that I have not attended a military camp," remarked Lieut.-Col. H. C. Rogers, when the regiment of which he was commanding officer for some years, the Third Prince of Wales Canadian Dragoons left for their annual camp in Kingston. Though Lieut.-Col. Rogers was retired some three years ago, he having reached the age limit, his appearance is that of one well fitted for many years' continuation of that long and highly honorable military career which is his. He is not as young as he used to be, it is true, but the firmness of step, the clear eye, the fine soldierly bearing suggest no diminution of those qualities which have made him so well known and popular in the military camps of years past. To such a one in whom the military proclivities are undoubtedly strong, the fact that attendance at the annual camp has become a thing of yesterday must cause some regret. He it was who in 1872, retired with the rank of major, from the Peterborough Rifle Corps, and undertook to raise a troop of cavalry, "C" squadron of the Dragoons. His efforts were successful and he had as officers Lieut. R. A. Morrow and Cornet W. H. Rackham. "C" Squadron had the honor of escorting royalty upon the visit of the Marquis of Lorne to the Cobourg brigade camp in 1881, when the party included Prince George, Duke of York. More recently, just a few weeks ago, in fact, a mounted escort was drawn from the squadron on the occasion of the visit of his excellency the Governor General and Lady Minto.

The origin of what is now the Third Prince of Wales Canadian Dragoons might be almost credited to Colonel James G. Rogers, of Grafton, father of Lieut.-Col. H. C. Rogers. He, in 1832, raised a troop of cavalry which in 1855 was taken over by Lieut.-Col. Boulton and became "A" Squadron of the dragoons upon their organization in that year. This troop is now stationed at Cobourg and is the representative on the regiment, of Northumberland county. Its commanding officer at present is Major C. H. Rogers, a grandson of the man who raised the squadron. In 1860, this squadron had the honor of escorting H.R.H. the Prince of Wales on his visit to Cobourg. In 1860, and also formed the escort for Lord Dufferin on his visit to Kingston in 1872.

"B" Squadron was raised about the year 1855 also, at Port Hope by Lieut.-Col. Smart, with the late Col. Williams as lieutenant. These two troops were united in 1870, to form the Northumberland and Durham squadron of cavalry under command of Lieut.-Col. Boulton. In 1884, "B" troop was moved from Port Hope to Millbrook, under the late Capt. Harry Weller. In 1889 it was commanded by Major Sutton now Lieut.-Col. and commanding officer of the regiment.

"D" Squadron, stationed at Wellington, Prince Edward county, was raised by Major White at Picton in 1872. This squadron has had the honor of escorting a governor-general on the occasion of Lord Aberdeen's visit to Belleville in 1895.
