MATCHLESS CARPETS

We do not believe there has ever been in Kingston such a comprehensive, beautiful assortment of Carpets as are now gathered on our floors. Even in the lowest priced Carpets there are designs and colorings shown, exquisitely graceful and harmonious.

Every roll of Carpet is bristling with new ideas, handsomer than any ever brought out before. The price of every yard in the store is as low, or lower than elsewhere.

CONVICTS IN MELEE.

ONE PRISONER STABBED IN HEAD.

Nolan, The Dynamiter, Charged With the Deed—How the Trouble Started—Gruesome Friday at Penitentiary.

There was a pitched battle among the prisoners in the blacksmith shop at the Kingston penitentiary on Friday, and one of them was seriously stabbed in the head. It seems that bad blood has existed for some time between two cliques and the cause is authoritatively stated as resulting from religious animus. Trouble has been brewing for some time, but on Friday the climax came. Nolan, the Welland canal dynamiter, sentenced to life imprisonment in 1900, was the immediate cause of the strife. Some other prisoners took exception to favoritism shown him, and so resulted the religious division.

When the melee began there was but one guard in the blacksmith shop. The battle was furious for a time, and the men attacked each other vigorously. Nolan is charged with stabbing a fellow-convict named McMurray, of Toronto, sentenced some time ago to ten years in prison for resisting arrest in company with two others and attempting to shoot Constable Tidsbury. McMurray was stabbed in the head, and the wound is said to be a serious one. Other guards were quickly on the spot, and the fight was quelled, the prisoners being removed to their cells, temporarily.

A prisoner named Stevens died in the penitentiary on Friday of consumption. He was sentenced some years ago at Brantford to a term of twenty years for shooting a tramp who was his pal.

Friday was rather a gruesome day in the penitentiary. One prisoner died a natural death, another was tragically dashed to death; five men arrived to serve various terms for misdeeds, and there was a riot and one prisoner was dangerously stabbed.

EIGHT MILES.

Of Paved Walks In Kingston By End Of Year.

Kingston has about seventy-two miles of sidewalks. At the present time, six miles of the walks are of asphalt and granolithic. Two miles of permanent walks are being laid this year, so that the total next October will be eight miles, or one-ninth of the whole length of sidewalks. Some people are apt to think that there is little pavement here, and give towns like Brockville credit for having more, but Kingston covers a much larger area, and a few walks in a smaller place appear perhaps more significant.

So far this season, thirty-seven asphalt crossings have been laid, principally on Wellington, King and Ontario streets. Altogether, the city engineer intends to lay fifty. The other thirteen will be chiefly in Cataraqui and Frontenac wards. No more board or cedar crossings will be put down, the asphalt being far superior when length of service is considered.

Hussars Race On Street.

Two Hussars from camp undertook to have a horse race on Wellington street, near the post office early Friday evening. One of them was under the influence of liquor, and had no bridle. His horse stumbled and fell, throwing the rider to the ground, and the other Hussar's horse galloped over the fallen soldier, stepping on his hand. The injured Hussar arose, however, with a bloody face, and challenged his comrade to another race for five dollars. Mayor Bell, however, appeared on the scene, and threatened the two men with arrest if they attempted to do any more racing on the streets.

ANOTHER BIG CROWD

Of Excursionists Came To Kingston This Morning.

About five o'clock this morning, 1,200 more of the Nebraska Education Association tourists arrived here by special G.T.R. and K. & P. railway trains. As the yards of both railways were so full of cars, the steamer Columbian went over to Folger's wharf and took on her portion of the tourists, 800. The remaining 400 went aboard the steamer Toronto at Swift's wharf. Those on the Columbian will go right through to Montreal, while the Toronto's party will have to change on to the steamer Bohemian at Prescott. On Sunday morning 600 more are to come by special trains. They will embark on the steamer Kingston, which leaves at 6 a.m.

This morning, there was a splendid chance for local restaurants and confectionery stores to have raked in a pile of coin, but scarcely any were open. The tourists swarmed about the lower part of the city looking for something to eat.

Sickly Babies.

Weak, sickly babies are a great trial to mothers. They need constant care both night and day and soon wear the mother out. Baby's little stomach is the cause of most of the trouble; it is very weak, and in consequence very easily upset. Baby's Own Tablets will cure all baby troubles. They are mildly laxative and give prompt relief. Concerning them Mrs. R. J. Balfour, Omemee, Ont., says: "I have used Baby's Own Tablets for stomach troubles and constipation from which my little girl suffered and they entirely cured her. They produced sound, refreshing sleep, and I regard them as indispensible in any home where there are little ones."

Mothers from all parts of Canada write in favor of Baby's Own Tablets, proving the claim that they are the very best medicine for all the minor ills of infants and young children. Guaranteed to contain no opiate. Price 25 cents a box at all druggists or direct from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

INTERESTING INCIDENT

In Connection With Friday's Sham Battle.

A very interesting incident in connection with the sham battle at Barriefield on Friday is thus related:

The right flank of blue force, under command of Col. Checkley, 56th Regiment, were strongly entrenched on heights west of Dead Man's bay in an almost impregnable position. A party from the 59th Regiment, under command of Capts. Brodin and McLennan, succeeded, however, in stealing along the east shore of Dead Man's bay, and having embarked in a sail boat (making two trips) took possession of the heights in rear of the trenches occupied by the 56th Regiment and within thirty yards of them. This movement was made under cover of a heavy fire from numbers two, three and four companies of the 59th Regiment under command of Capts. Smith, Cameron and McLean, who had succeeded in creeping to within 150 yards of the enemy before being noticed.

The umpires reported having declared these troops out of action, stating that it was impossible for them to have crossed the intervening clear space between the attacking force and the position occupied without being annihilated, but the officers mentioned are of opinion that the umpires did not all understand the conditions.

In yesterday's report of the sham battle, the 14th P.W.O. Rifles and the St. Andrew's Highland Cadets were said to have been a part of the "attacking" party. This was an error, and should have read "attacked party." The 14th Regiment held the central position on the firing line of the defence, while the Highland Cadets formed the reserve. Capt. Hughes was in command of these two Kingston corps.

AT THE POLICE COURT.

Two Ways Of Selling Potatoes Discussed.

Daniel Keenan, who looked upon the wine when it was red, appeared before the police magistrate this morning. He was taxed $3 and costs, and given time to pay.

James Gowdy has kept a slaughter house on Macdonald street for thirty eight years and has been given permits all that time. He told the court that he kept it pretty clean. The neighbors have been complaining of bad odors. Mr. Gowdy promised to keep things cleaner still, and the charge was accordingly allowed to stand.

A. B. Shewell, a Cataraqui farmer, was charged with selling light-weight potatoes. He pleaded not guilty. Wells Bamford, Wolfe Island, who bought the potatoes, said he purchased them by the bag, paying $1.25, but that the bag weighed 73½ lbs. instead of 90 lbs. The market clerk, who weighed them, corroborated the evidence as to the weight. Mr. Shewell swore that he sold, not by the bag, but by the peck, and at 25c. a peck. He explained this to Bamford. Defendant, one week ago, asked and received permission from the clerk to sell by the peck, as potatoes are withered and light now and a measure would not hold the required weight. Mr. McCammon acknowledged that he had given this permission. Mrs. Shewell corroborated her husband's evidence. The case was adjourned until Thursday, to permit of another witness being called.

TO HOLD AN INQUEST.

The Fall Of The Convict Was Broken.

Coroner Kilborn has summoned a jury and will hold an inquest this afternoon, into the cause of the death of Fitzstephen alias Collins, who fell sixty feet from the prison dome and had his life crushed out. The accident occurred while the man was kalsomining. Fitzstephen in his fall struck the balcony of the gallery with his feet, turned over and fell to the floor, striking on his shoulder. Several ribs were broken and forced into his body and striking vital parts his death soon followed.

Fitzstephen did not fall off a scaffold. He was being hauled up into the dome in a basket, when the block connected with the pulley broke, hurling the poor prisoner to his death.

The Skiff Upset.

A young lady who accompanied a young man for a sail about the harbor last evening had an unfortunate experience. A sudden puff of wind upset the skiff, and the two occupants were participated into water. They were rescued by parties in row boats in their immediate vicinity.

His Last Hope Realized.

From the Sentinel, Cebo, Mont.

In the first opening of Oklahoma to settlers in 1889, the editor of this paper was among the many seekers after fortune who made the big race one fine day in April. During his travelling about and afterwards his camping upon his claim, he encountered much bad water, which, together with the severe heat, gave him a very severe diarrhoea, which it seemed almost impossible to check, along in June the case became so bad he expected to die. One day one of his neighbors brought him one small bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy as a last hope. A big dose was given him while he was rolling about on the ground in great agony, and in a few minutes the dose was repeated. The good effect of the medicine was soon noticed and within an hour the patient was taking the first sound sleep for a fortnight. That one little bottle worked a complete cure and he cannot help but feel grateful. The season for bowel disorders being at hand suggests this item. For sale by all druggists.
