ROSS RALLY.

when in power in the dominion! From out of the same general election one liberal and seven conservatives were reported for corrupt practices. That was a mal-odorous state from which to manufacture a cry of purity. Why, no doting old lady in the land would fumigate her house on that plan!

Detectives were put upon the liberals, in 1902, save the mark, and not a ballot was found in danger. But were these detectives honest Canadians? No, they were toughs from Buffalo, who when sought for by liberals, fled back home fugitives from enquiry.

The Old, Old Story.

Mr. Whitney delights to tell about seventeen irregular ballots in North Waterloo, an enquiry was granted, with a tory county attorney for prosecutor, yet the returning officer was vindicated. Much stress was being laid upon the charge of one Pritchard, declared by the judge to be "a self-convicted liar." His tale of switching ballots was discredited by the evidence of the scrutineers of both parties. At Osgoode Hall, 117 witnesses had been examined and no fraud upon the electors disclosed. But then the ballots were burned! It is the law for the ballots to be destroyed at the end of one year, and this was done as usual in 1899. Seventeen witnesses of good standing had declared that in pure mistake the Elgin ballots of a bye-election two months before had gone with the general conflagration, that the new had not been separated from the old. None had so much reason to regret this as the liberals, since it gave conservatism a cry. But compare it for even one moment with the conservative election frauds at Winnipeg, and even conservatism must blush.

But why doesn't the government prosecute Pritchard? With a warrant safe in the hands of a conservative lawyer no second warrant could be issued. He could not be followed for perjury since his affidavits were made in Detroit, just as the affidavit makers in Buffalo in the cases of the Soo, Minnie M. and North York were safe, because they made the oath in a foreign land. There was a plan in this which tells of premeditation and dread of justice.

Ross Alone Acts.

It was also falsely declared that he had not prosecuted those guilty of corrupt practices. What was the fact? Up to his coming to power 150 men had been reported, but not one prosecuted. Within eighteen months he had arraigned forty-seven liberals as well as conservatives. Since the bye-elections four liberals had been summoned. In the Soo cases the conservatives, eager to forestall the government to secure evidence for a purpose, made a private prosecution, and took the case out of the hands of the attorney-general, and the county attorney for the Soo was publicly justified by the judge for not acting. The opposition had bungled the case for sake of a small charge of election powder. Find another Ottawa or Toronto premier who had prosecuted political offenders!

But if Ross, as head of a party, is to be indicted for guilt of all its acts, then Whitney must answer in turn, and begin with his own organizer, Mr. Miscampbell. He had committed three offences and narrowly escaped disqualification. He is now the highminded organizer to put down bribery and corruption!

Ananias is easily outstripped by the manager of the Mail, but it was under his roof, in his own view, that the great legislative bribery scheme was hatched.

Messrs. Graham (Montreal Star), Blair and Russell, framed a plot to buy twenty-five members of parliament, get possession of the G. T. P. railway, and fill their pockets as no New York Tammanyite ever succeeded in doing. From that noble vantage ground, conservatism cries for purity. Save the mark!

A Vile Charge.

He (Mr. Ross) was now accused of knowledge of Dominion ballot box frauds. As well might he be charged with the assassination of Lincoln. The most that could be said was that Phil Lott had heard from Byron Lott that he had seen a box in Vance's office. But the prosecution, which fished for evidence far and wide, declined to put Vance in the witness box. It was arrant hypocrisy to claim higher purity on basis of such charges; it was viler to brand men with imaginary or conceived offences.

Conservative Conference.

The rally of conservatives was not one also of liberals by preachers, though eagerly invited, it was dearly not the place for them. But the results were not signally brilliant. The first plank, "We want Whitney in office," will pass as a matter of course. The second plank approved of his speech but not of his record in the legislature. The third called for a mining office in each mining district, and the government already had several in operation. The fourth plank, public ownership, was stolen from liberals. That for agricultural books in public schools was a year behind, as the government introduced them last year and competitive prison labor was to be stopped. The pronouncement on the liquor traffic was colorless. It meant so little that prisoners in Central prison or penitentiary could pass it with a good grace, although drink was their weakness. The platform was worm-eaten and valueless, and an untimely birth. Nothing was said about purity; it was not the place to talk with impressive force. The delegates had a conscience. Election day, January 25th, was the birthday of Robbie Burns, the democratic poet. He urged the people to sing "God Save the King," but not to forget the people. This motto the democratic government of Ontario would cherish. They spoke of him as the most abused man in Ontario. While he would like a few more bouquets while he lived, he would be willing even to be misrepresented now if justified as he deserved by and bye.

Dinner For Mr. Parker.

Special to the Whig.

New York, Dec. 21.—Eminent members of the bench and bar of New York city and state are to gather about the festal board at the Waldorf-Astoria to-night to eat drink and extend good wishes to ex-Judge Alton B. Parker, in whose honor the dinner is to be given. It is intended as a sort of formal welcome to the judge upon his return to the ranks of the legal profession. That it will be without political significance is evidenced by the fact that the speakers are to include prominent men of both parties. Among the number will be ex-Governor Frank S. Black, Elihu Root and William B. Hornblower.

Enormous Loss.

It is fair to place the cost of those battleships in Port Arthur harbor at five millions each. The initial cost was three millions. Then came armour, guns, repairs all these months, cost of drills, etc. The investment was easily five million dollars per ship as they lay in the harbor two weeks ago. Since then the Japs have destroyed six of the seven great ships. That means thirty million dollars in property destroyed. Turn about and figure the cost to the Japs for the ammunition, projectiles, troops, etc., and one finds himself figuring at the "pace of kings."

Special to the Whig.

Richmond, Va., Dec. 21.—Arrangements have been completed for the execution here, to-morrow, of James Goode, a negro. Goode's crime was the killing last July of Police Inspector Shinburger. Goode was wanted at the time for the murder of another negro and he killed the police inspector in an effort to avoid capture.

WHAT DO YOU CARE? YOU'VE GOT YOUR HEALTH.

Great Natures do Not Despair at Disappointment — They Look For Something Else to do.

The broad-gauged man of to-day does not get blue just because things don't always come his way unless there is something the matter with him. If he "falls down" on one proposition he immediately starts to look up another. He always looks forward and keeps hustling. A man with his health and faculties has plenty of opportunities and the man who gives up or even feels like it has either a small nature or some physical weakness.

Dyspepsia certainly puts the best of men out of condition for work of any kind. You cannot blame the dyspeptic for getting blue. The very nature of his disease is most depressing and calculated to deprive him of ambition, energy and hope. There is hope for him, however, certain and sure.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are recognized throughout the length and breadth of the land as the one cure that's safe and sure. Their unbounded popularity—resulting from the thousands and thousands of cures they have effected, prove beyond the shadow of a doubt their greatness as a cure. Wherein lies their greatness? In the very fact that they are nature's own remedy. They do the exact work in exactly the same way that the digestive fluids of the stomach do because they are composed of exactly the same elements and possess the same properties. They relieve the weak and worn out stomach of its burden of digestion and permit it without let or hindrance to rest and grow sound and well. The stomach will get well quick enough in its own natural way if it is let alone. That is what Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets do. They not only let it alone themselves but make the food taken into the stomach do the same.

You can satisfy yourself of the truth of this statement by putting the food you would eat into a glass jar with sufficient water and one of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. The process of digestion will be taken up and carried out just as the gastric juice and other digestive fluids would do it. Their action is natural and they cause no disturbance in the digestive organs. In fact you forget you have a stomach when they begin to do their work, so mild and natural is the operation. Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are for sale by all druggists at 50c. a box.

DUTCH DIPLOMAT WEDS.

There Was Quite a Romance About It.

JONKHEER R. SWINDEREN

Special to the Whig.

Washington, D.C., Dec. 21.—An international romance, which began under the auspices of Mrs. Roosevelt, culminated in a wedding to-day, when Miss Elizabeth Glover became the bride of Jonkeer R. de Macces Van W. Swinderen, the minister from the Netherlands. Miss Glover was presented to the diplomat for the first time at a tea given last spring at the White House.

To-day's wedding ceremony took place at noon in the Church of the Epiphany, which was thronged with a fashionable assemblage that included members of the diplomatic corps and many persons prominent in official life in addition to the President and Mrs. Roosevelt. Bishop Satterlee officiated. The bride's only attendant was Miss Isabella Hagner, who is the social secretary of Mrs. Roosevelt. The Belgian minister, Baron Moncheur, was best man. The ushers were six in number, three being residents of Washington and the remainder being friends of Minister Van Swinderen, who came from Europe especially to attend the ceremony. These gentlemen were Count Adam de Moltke de Huitfield, of Denmark; Count Van Limburg Stirum, and Baron Van Trallvan Serovskerken, both of Holland.

Following the ceremony at the church there was a wedding breakfast and reception at the home of the bride's parents on K street. The guests here were limited to the members of the diplomatic corps and close personal friends of bride and bridegroom.

New Bishop Of Cuba.

Special to the Whig.

Atlanta, Ga., Dec. 21.—The consecration of Rev. Albion W. Knight, dean of St. Phillips' Episcopal cathedral in this city, as Bishop of Cuba, took place in the cathedral here to-day with imposing ecclesiastical ceremonial. The edifice was crowded to the doors. Bishop Tuttle, of Missouri, the presiding bishop of the church, acted as consecrator and was assisted by prominent members of the Episcopal clergy from various parts of the country.

The services were marked by a solemn dignity that was very impressive. It included the examination of the candidate, the promise of conformity to the church canons, the assumption of the Episcopal vestments, the laying on of the consecrators' hands, and the final announcement of the completed consecration. An elaborate musical service was a feature of the programme.

DISRAELI CENTENARY.

The Anniversary of Great Man's Birth.

Special to the Whig.

London, Dec. 21.—The one hundredth anniversary of the birth of Benjamin Disraeli, earl of Beaconsfield, the great author and statesman, was celebrated to-day, in London and in the chief cities of the provinces, where largely attended meetings of journalists, litterateurs and public men were held in commemoration of the event.

Benjamin Disraeli was born in London, December 21st, 1804. He was early articled to a solicitor, but the drudgery of a lawyer's office being distasteful to him, he turned to literature and in 1827 he published his novel "Vivian Gray," which was succeeded at intervals by other works of fiction. After visiting Italy, Turkey, Greece, and Syria, he returned to England, to find the country involved in the reform bill agitation. After three unsuccessful contests he finally succeeded in winning a seat in parliament. It was not until 1849 that he began to attract notice, and not long afterward he became prominent as the leader of the Young England party. For seven years the liberals remained in power, and Disraeli, in opposition, displayed talents as a debater, and a spirit and persistency under defeat, which won for him the admiration of his opponents. When Lord Derby returned to power in 1866 Disraeli became chancellor of the exchequer. Two years later he succeeded Lord Derby as premier, but in the face of a hostile majority he resigned shortly afterward. In 1873 the popularity of Mr. Gladstone rapidly subsided and Disraeli returned to power as prime minister. In 1877 he took his seat in the Upper House as Earl Beaconsfield. In 1880 his government was defeated in the general election and Mr. Gladstone again returned to power. Earl Beaconsfield died the following April.

To Long Living.

The men of eighty-five and ninety years of age are not the rotund well fed, but thin, spare men who live on a slender diet. Be as careful as he will, however, a man past middle age, will occasionally eat too much or of some article of food not suited to his constitution, and will need a dose of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets to cleanse and invigorate his stomach and regulate his liver and bowels. When this is done there is no reason why the average man should not live to old age. For sale by all druggists.
