BUILT UP HER HEALTH

SPEEDY CURE OF MISS ECCLISON

She Is Made Well by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and Writes Gratefully to Mrs. Pinkham.

For the wonderful help that she has found Zula Ecclison, 6 Erie St., East, St. Thomas, Ont., believes it her duty to write the following letter for publication, in order that other women afflicted in the same way may be benefited as she was. She writes:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—

"I heartily recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound as a uterine tonic and regulator. I suffered for four years with displacement of the uterus and no one but those who have experienced this dreadful agony can form any idea of the physical and mental suffering those endure who are thus affected. Your Vegetable Compound cured me. Within three months I was fully restored to health and strength and now my periods are regular and painless. What a blessing it is to obtain such relief when so many doctors fail to help you. Your medicine is better than any doctor or medicine I ever had."

No other medicine has such a record of cures of female troubles as has Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Women who are troubled with painful or irregular menstruation, backache, bloating (or flatulence), leucorrhœa, falling, inflammation or ulceration of the uterus, ovarian troubles, faintness, indigestion, nervous prostration or the blues, should take immediate action to ward off the serious consequences, and be restored to perfect health and strength by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Mrs. Pinkham invites all sick women to write her for advice. Her experience is very great, and she gives the benefit of it to all who stand in need of wise counsel. Address, Lynn, Mass.

UPSET THE RIG.

Nearly a Serious Accident Recorded at Verona.

Verona, June 9.—Miles and Lorenzo Goodberry are going to Cobourg next week to work on the new Tourist Hotel. Mrs. Frank Simmons has returned from a pleasant visit at Cataraqui and Kingston. Miss Annie Wattam, after a severe attack of measles, is recovering. The Free Methodist camp meeting will be held in Mr. Hughes' grove instead of Mr. Walroth's, as reported. Miss Pet Abrams, Victoria school, teaching staff, Kingston, spent a short vacation with her mother at Riverside cottage, last week. John Warner brought in a beef recently which dressed upwards of 600 pounds. Harvey J. Snider, is having a new wall put under his house. E. Tallow has gone to New Ontario to temporarily reside. Mrs. John Watson, is able to be around again after nearly five months' illness. James McKeever is digging the cellar for a new house. Little Hazel Asselstine has returned from Kingston, Miss Phoebe Curl has gone out to Maberly. The Methodist church choir has been reorganized. The Misses Rutenberg of Montreal, are to be guests of Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Wartelsky during the next three weeks. John Keats has moved his barn to the opposite side of his lot, a decided improvement.

Rev. Mr. Ferguson excels in the potato, line, having tubers over a foot. Roberta Hamilton, a farmer living near here was leaving town, Saturday night, halting at Snider's flour store, the horses, a young, spirited team, took fright, supposed at a waggon load of hogs, wheeled about, upsetting the waggon in which was seated his daughter, who was thrown out under the rig. After making a couple of revolutions in the road, the horses collided with E. M. Yorke's verandah, tearing it completely down and continuing down the street until caught near the Temperance House. Not much damage was done to rig or occupants. Ira Bauder, Sr., has finished rafting logs for W. H. Reynolds. Silas Knowlton formerly of the K. & P. railway here, but now of Gananoque, writes that business in the factory town is booming, and that he has no intention of returning to Verona. A. E. Holland, baker, has purchased a thoroughbred Danish dog. W. D. Perry and A. Wells, have a good prospect for a large yield of onions.

APPEARING OLD

Acts as a Bar to Profitable Employment.

You cannot afford to grow old.

In these days of strenuous competition it is necessary to maintain, as long as possible ones youthful appearance.

It is impossible to do this without retaining a luxurious growth of hair.

The presence of Dandruff indicates the presence of a burrowing germ which lives and thrives on the roots of the hair until it causes total baldness.

Newbro's Herpicide is the only known destroyer of this pest, and it is as effective as it is delightful to use.

Herpicide makes an elegant hair dressing as well as Dandruff cure.

Accept no substitute—there is none.

Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich. G. W. Mahood, special agent.

Special For Clergymen.

Prevost's, Brock street, has received a special line of long black lustre alpaca, and parmatta coats, sizes 34 to 46 chest, which will be sold at prices to defy competition during his great sale.

Wash greasy dishes, pots or pans with Lever's Dry Soap, a powder. It will remove the grease with the greatest ease.

LAKE ERIE TRAGEDY

CANADIAN CRUISER SANK AN AMERICAN TUG.

Two Sailors Drowned—The Tug Was Poaching in Canadian Waters — American Captain Admits He Was at Fault.

Port Stanley, Ont., June 9.—Wednesday morning about 9.15 the government cruiser Vigilant, Capt. Dunn, sighted a fishing tug about six miles east of Middle Island, in Lake Erie, and about five miles north of the boundary line. The captain changed his course and made toward the tug, which proved to be the Grace M., of Lorain, O., Captain W. Galbraith. The tug came towards the Vigilant, and when quite near her Capt. Dunn signalled with his whistle for her crew to check. No attention was paid to the signal. Then Capt. Dunn whistled to stop, but the tug shot past the Vigilant with full steam.

Capt. Dunn turned and soon overhauled her, but the tug continued to dodge the Vigilant, notwithstanding the fact that Capt. Dunn had fired across her bows several times. The Vigilant was again coming up on the tug when she again attempted to cross the Vigilant's bows. Captain Dunn seeing that there was likely to be a collision, stopped and backed full steam. He had his boat well stopped when they came together, but the momentum of the Vigilant was sufficient to roll the Grace M. over, and she sank. Capt. Dunn rescued Capt. Galbraith, Engineer William Rulleson and D. Popplewell, a fisherman. Two fishermen named Martin Oleson, of Cleveland, and William Anderson, of Lorain, were drowned.

Captain Galbraith admits that Captain Dunn was in no way to blame, and now to his sorrow realizes he should have obeyed Capt. Dunn's signals and stopped his boat when ordered to do so.

Not a Cruiser.

Ottawa, June 9.—Concerning the trouble on Lake Erie, by which the Canadian steamer Vigilant sank an American tug, reference to the treaty between Great Britain and the United States shows that no man-of-war on the great lakes shall exceed 100 tons burden or be armed with anything in excess of one eighteen-pounder. The Vigilant is of 500 or 600 tons burden, but she is not a man-of-war. She is a preventive vessel, used solely for fishery and customs protection. The Americans have preventive vessels of similar size. The eighteen-pounder is an obsolete smooth-bore gun, about the smallest of the heavy guns of that day. The small, automatic guns of the Vigilant are smaller comparatively than the standard indicated in the treaty.

By the act of parliament governing the fishery cruisers, a preventive vessel, after signalling a vessel to stop, and after firing across her bows, may fire at or into her if she persists in trying to escape. This is a power possessed by preventive vessels of all nations.

The report received by Commander Spain is practically identical with that published here. It brings out the fact that the American tug, being a short boat, was handier, while the Vigilant is a long and very swift boat. The American evidently was easily caught, but tried to dodge the swifter vessel. The Vigilant has a projecting bow, which apparently slid under the tug's bottom and upset her.

Saved The Town.

Special to the Whig.

St. Thomas, Ont., June 9.—Fire was discovered in the basement of a building at Rodney, occupied by McKitchie, grocer, this morning about eight o'clock. At one time it looked as if the village would be wiped out, as Rodney has no fire brigade. Volunteers went to work with buckets and succeeded in holding the flames back till the brigade from Ridgetown arrived. W. T. Kirkpatrick's residence, next door, was also burned down.

SPORT REVIEW.

Notes On Baseball, Lacrosse And Other Sports.

According to Hughey Jennings, Neal is the fastest shortstop in the Eastern League.

Philadelphia Jack O'Brien has gone to Alaska to meet all comers among the miners in the snowy region.

Hammond, one of Montreal's twirlers, has had an offer from the Lancaster team of the Tri-State League.

It took but two hours to play the nineteen-inning game at Springfield, last week. The nineteen-inning game at Lynn lasted three hours and three-quarters.

Pat Murphy, who played lacrosse last season on the Capital team, and with Brantford the previous year, has been signed to play with St. Catharines.

"Jimmy" Miller, the midget second baseman with the Montreal team, formerly with Toronto, is the talk of the league all around the circuit. He is playing great ball this year.

It is reported that "Red" Owens, the second baseman of the Brooklyns, has jumped the team and now is in York, Pa. He left, it is said, without a word of explanation to Hanlon.

Phelps, formerly of the Eastern League, the catcher of the Cincinnati Reds, has been left $40,000 by a recently deceased uncle. He will not quit baseball on account of his sudden wealth, it is said.

"Kid" Sullivan, of Washington, through his manager, Al. Herford, has been offered a twenty-round fight with Jimmy Britt. The Hayes Valley Athletic Club, of San Francisco, made the offer, specifying that the fight take place in San Francisco about July 15th. Britt's manager also wired his assent to the meeting. Herford has sent the club his terms and if these are acceptable the match will be closed at once.

Lou Dillon, queen of all trotters, which has been in the hands of Budd Doble for three months, in preparation for her great trial against time, to be made in the east, has left San Francisco for Cleveland, O. On Sunday the great mare was sent four miles, and, while no effort was made to push her, the average of miles covered was 2.11, the last quarter being done in 31 seconds, showing that the speed marvel has not slackened her gait.

A PRIEST'S ACT.

In Jealousy, Attempts to Assassinate a Brother Clergyman.

Special to the Whig.

Rome, June 9.—An attempt was made to assassinate Canon Bonifaco. The would-be-murderer was another priest, who was jealous of Bonifacio, because the latter had been promoted to be a bishop at the cathedral. He fired a revolver at Bonifaco, but missed the aim. The would-be-assassin was arrested.

Never Blame The Booze.

Ryan E. Earle.

He took a bottle up to bed,
Drank whisky hot each night;
Drank cocktails in the morning,
But never could get tight.
He shivered in the evening,
And always had the blues
Until he took a bowl or two—
But he never blamed the booze.

His joints were full of rheumatiz,
His appetite was slack,
He had pains between his shoulders,
Chills ran down his back;
He suffered from insomnia,
At night he couldn't snooze;
He said it was the climate—
But he never blamed the booze.

His constitution was run down,
It was overwork, he said;
His legs were swelled each morning,
And he often had swelled head.
He tackled beer, wine, whisky,
And if they didn't fuse
He blamed it on dyspepsia—
But he never blamed the booze.

He claimed he couldn't sleep at night,
And always had bad dreams;
He claimed he always laid awake
'Till early sunrise beams.
He thought it was malaria—
Alas! 'twas but a ruse.
He blamed it onto everything—
But he never blamed the booze.

His liver needed scraping,
And his kidneys had the gout;
He swallowed lots of bitters
'Till at last he cleaned them out.
His legs were swelled with dropsy
'Till he had to cut his shoes;
He found it on the doctor—
But he never blamed the booze.

Then he had the tremens,
And tackled rats and snakes.
First he had the fever,
Then he had the shakes,
At last he had a funeral,
And the mourners had the blues;
And the epitaph carved for him was—
But he never blamed the booze.

A RARE PICTURE

CUT OUT OF A FRAME BY A THIEF.

Valued at Thousand Dollars—Its Only Companion in Possession of a Parisian—Artist a Celebrated Italian—Area Gateway Affords Entrance.

New York, June 9.—Police of the upper West Side are puzzled by mysterious robberies in which dwellers in the fashionable residences in that section of the city are the victims.

One of the most puzzling of many thefts is that of a work of art valued at $1,000, found to have been stolen from the residence of Alberic De Lavt, a wealthy collector of art works and antiques, who lives at No. 728 West End avenue.

The thief, who is believed to have worked into the house through an area gateway left open by a butcher boy, made his way to the top floor, where a picture, a porcelain, hung in a costly gold frame in a big hallway.

The frame was too heavy to carry off, so the picture, which is by a well known Italian artist, and is companion piece to one owned in Paris, the two being the only two of their kind in the world, was taken out from the frame by the thief, who managed to elude the servants and other occupants of the house and got away.

A Strong Attraction.

The seat sale for Henrietta Crosman's engagement at the Grand Opera House on Thursday, June 15th, will open, at the box office, Saturday morning. As was to have been expected, the visit of this actress has stirred wide enthusiasm. Nothing ever announced for the local theatre has attracted the attention that has been given to Miss Crosman's engagement. Gratification has been expressed over the programme in which she will appear, which consists of the comedy, "Nance Oldfield," and a new play by Mrs. W. K. Clifford, entitled "Madeline." This is a serious play, filled with strong dramatic situations, and said to be one of the best Mrs. Clifford has ever written.

Bath Brevities.

Bath, June 9.—The many friends in this locality of Duncan McFarlane, Winnipeg, formerly of this place, will be sorry to hear of his death, on May 27th, following the operation which had been performed a few weeks before. The funeral service of Mrs. Thomas Armstrong, who died suddenly, on Friday morning, was held on Sunday last at her late residence, service being conducted by Rev. W. L. Spence. Confirmation services were held in St. John's church on Sunday morning by Bishop Mills. Mrs. C. Wemp and Mrs. Edward Wemp also Miss Mary Wemp, visited friends in Millhaven on Thursday. Cornelius Mills is beginning to appear on the streets once more after his severe illness of nearly two months. Miss J. Armstrong, Spokane, Washington Territory, arrived on Wednesday on a visit to friends. Dr. N. S. Northmore is making preparations to put cement sidewalks to his house and office.

Fell While Painting.

Ivy Lea, June 8.—Mrs. John McNeil, while standing on a box to do some painting, fell, fracturing two ribs, and receiving other, though lesser injuries. Several barbed-wire fence casualties are reported in this vicinity, both among men and animals. Two cases of blood poisoning. James Wallace and W. Truedell had their hands badly affected. In a few weeks a matrimonial alliance is anticipated in the neighborhood of the post office. Mr. Ivey has been able to walk with the aid of crutches, a short distance, after months of confinement from the effects of a fall.

Deserters Brought Back.

The two deserters from "B" battery, who were detained at Watertown, N.Y., have been brought back to the barracks and will be tried by district court-martial. Two other batterymen, from the same battery, deserted last night and it is said they have been accompanied on their trip by two city women.
