A COMPARISON MADE

BETWEEN HOTELS, BRANTFORD AND KINGSTON.

This City Has a Great Many More in Proportion—The Arguments of Several Men on the Liquor License Question.

Kingston, Dec. 8.—(To the Editor): Mr. Laidlaw's letter in a late issue of your paper made a comparison between the number of licensed hotels and liquor stores in London and Kingston. The figures he presents are very suggestive, and must have made an impression, favorable to license reduction, on everyone who read them, except those who feel that any condition is good enough for Kingston.

I would like to submit a comparison between our city and Brantford, Ont. There are 20,000 people in the latter place, and only sixteen licensed hotels and four liquor stores. Kingston has a population of about 19,000, and has thirty-one hotels and seven liquor stores. Brantford has one licensed hotel for every 1,250 of her population. Kingston has one for every 612. The former city has one liquor store for every 5,000 people. Kingston has one for every 2,714. No city in the dominion affords a fairer comparison with Kingston than Brantford does. The population of each is almost the same, but Brantford being a manufacturing centre of greater commercial activity, needs more hotel accommodation than our city, yet we have in proportion to population more than twice as many hotels, and nearly double the number of liquor stores. No deserving interest of this city can suffer by closing eleven bars and three liquor stores, while such a step is certain to lessen drunkenness, and add to our commercial prosperity.—OLIVER CHOWN.

Very Strong Argument.

Kingston, Ont., Dec. 8.—(To the Editor): A very strong argument in favor of license reduction, in this city, is the character of many of the hotels doing business here. The only patronage they have that amounts to anything, is their bar trade. They certainly do not pretend to give anything like adequate accommodation to the travelling public.

There are eleven of them, with a total number of bedrooms of only one hundred, or an average of about nine. The largest number in any one of these is ten. They are no larger than good sized boarding houses; the only difference being that they are open to the public, and have a bar attached. They are in reality saloons; mere drinking places, a class of houses that the law does not allow. The total actual of these eleven hotels, as reported to the government at the beginning of the license year, was $31,600, or an average of $2,872. It is a very ordinary dwelling that can be purchased for this sum, but the hotel premises that can be had for such money must be very inferior property, and unfit to be used as a hotel in a city like Kingston. The highest actual value put upon any one of these eleven hotels is $6,000, while one of them is appraised as low as $1,000.

It cannot be argued that the closing of these would militate against the business interests of the city, by depriving a large number of employees of regular work. The fact is there are only twenty-nine persons, including bar-tenders, recorded as employees in these eleven hotels, or an average of 2.63 for each one. Two of them have no hired help. There is great demand for cooks and housemaids at the present time, and any one who are employed in these hotels could easily find work, elsewhere at good wages. Much of the money spent in the barrooms of these hotels, would, if they were closed, go to buy necessaries for many families, and thus increase the profits of our business men.

Hotels are supposed to have stable accommodation for horses, but there is stabling at these eleven hotels for only thirty horses, and six of them have no stable room whatever. There are a number of other hotels, in this city, almost on a par in every respect with the eleven referred to, but since it is not proposed to cancel more than eleven licenses I omit any description of them.

I am strongly of the opinion that a full knowledge of the facts would arouse the voters of the city, and result in the proposed reduction of licenses.—R. A. McLELLAND.

The Spirit In Kingston.

Kingston, Dec. 8.—(To the Editor): The letter published in a late issue of the Whig, and signed Ratepayer, reflects a spirit which prevails to a large degree in Kingston. The writer says, "The Citizens' League is far too radical, and fails to see that politics would influence the commissioners in making the reduction. Grits only would be cut off." He claims to be in favour of reducing the licenses by two or three, but not by thirteen, his reason for not approving of the larger number being, as he leaves us to infer, lest hotel-keepers of his political stripe thould lose their licenses. This is a very weak argument to advance in opposition to the movement initiated by the Citizens' League. It is introducing politics into an issue that, properly, has no political connection. The Citizens' League is declared to be a non-political organization, whose sole purpose is the promotion of the moral welfare of Kingston. What it aims at now is a modification of the evils of intemperance by closing eleven bars and three liquor stores. It is no part of its business to say whose license shall be cut off. This is a matter that the license commissioners shall have to decide. If Ratepayer can show that whiskey sold by a tory hotel-keeper is of poorer quality, and more destructive in its results that what a grit offers for sale, he should demand of the commissioners that no grit should lose his license until every tory has been put out of business. I am not, myself, in possession of any proof that a hotel-keeper's politics determines the quality of the liquor he sells, or modifies in any degree the evil consequences of the traffic as carried on by him.

However, legitimate the liquor business may be there is no legalized trade in Canada regarded with such disfavor. If Ratepayer was as interested as he should be in the members of his party, he would be pleased to see them forced out of such a discredited business, even by partizan commissioners. It is doubtful if under any circumstances he would encourage his own son to engage in it, and if he had one in this business, he would probably co-operate enthusiastically, with the Citizens' League in the hope that by the success of the movement it has initiated, his boy would be compelled to close his bar, and make his living in some better way than by selling whiskey. If engaging in the liquor traffic is bad for one's son it cannot be good for the members of a political party, and hence I do not see why Ratepayer should deplore the fact if more members of his party than the other should lose their licenses. There is no conclusive proof that this would be the case. If the commissioners are fair-minded men they will not allow politics to influence their judgment, as to what licenses should be cut off. Ratepayer's letter is practically an admission that politics is with him a determining factor in the stand he has decided to take in the matter of license reduction. He is one of many citizens whose eyes politics has blinded. It is admitted on every hand that morally, socially, and commercially politics is the curse of Kingston. It stands in the way of every movement for the betterment of this beautiful city, and it will continue to do so until all classes regard the city's welfare as more important than partizan politics.—ELMER DAVIS.

Attack All Classes.

Kingston, Dec. 8.—(To the Editor): Reading a paragraph in last night's Whig, headed "The Woman's Standpoint," I consider that the campaign which some are waging could be better directed against some other circles, in Kingston, than that of the working classes. Speaking about drunkards' homes I could point to some high-class environments where habitual drinking is indulged in, while in the the workingman's home it is a rare occurrence in this city. A few fanatics may consider that all drunkenness is due to hotels of the second class, which are certainly necessary for the accommodation and comfort of people who, in travelling, prefer them to high-class places, where their presence would not be welcome.

The writer found, recently, a very strong temperance lady advocate, whose living is derived from the rental of one of those second class hotels in Kingston, devoting her time to obtaining pledges of total abstinence from people who were using good judgment in their habits. Truly consistency is a jewel.—A WORKINGMAN.

Strength Comes

Not From What You Eat, But From What You Digest.

Most people eat most foods without discrimination—it matters little what. Few stop to think what that food does for them. This is the first turn on the road to dyspepsia. Reckless disregard of the proper choice of foods, rapid eating and improper mastication, are the unquestioned causes of all stomach disorders from the slight ache to the malignant cancer.

There is nothing more revolting than a dyspeptic stomach, a very vat for putrefaction, sending forth its poison throughout the entire system, depressing the brain, befouling the breath, souring the taste, deadening the muscles, incapacitating the liver and kidneys for their work, delibitating the heart, choking the lungs and clogging the bowels.

All of these disagreeable and dangerous conditions are due to the improper digestion of food and the consequent assimilation of poison. What else can be expected? If the food lies in the stomach, if the system is constipated, fermentation is the natural outcome. It shows itself in sour watery risings, belchings, heartburn and painful breathing.

There is only one way to relieve this condition. If the stomach refuses to digest your food put something into it that will. Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are nothing but digestives. They are not a medicine. They work when the stomach will not.

Each tablet contains enough pepsin, diastase, golden seal and other digestive elements to reduce 3,000 grains of ordinary food to the proper consistency for assimilation into the blood.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are absolutely pure. There is nothing harmful in them as shown in their endorsement by 40,000 physicians in the United States and Canada.

Ask your family physician his opinion of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets and if he is honest toward you he will state positively that they will cure your stomach trouble whatever it may be, unless you have waited too long and have allowed your disorder to develop into cancer.

Act to-day and begin to end your suffering. A free trial package will be sent to your address upon request. The 50c. size packages are for sale at your druggist's. F. A. Stuart Co., 67 Stuart Building, Marshall, Mich.

REV. C. W. CASSON, OTTAWA

The Ritual Of Real Religion.

The ritual of real religion is service. Its form of service is simply service. Its worship is work. It serves God by serving His children. It finds its most sacred act in the act most helpful. It believes in bending the knee, when it brings one's hand nearer one's prostrate fellow. It believes in prayer, but believes equally in trying to answer it by divine endeavor. It believes in sacred song, and so tries to make harmonious every spoken syllable of life. It makes the fact more than the form, the purpose more than the posture, the meaning more than the method.

HAPPY RESULTS OBTAINED.

By the Use of the New Scalp Antiseptic.

It wouldn't take long to number the hairs in the heads of some people, the reason being they haven't many to number. In most instances, however, the fault is their own. A germ at the root soon plays havoc with the most luxuriant growth, and causes it to fade and fall out. A remedy for this has recently been discovered, called Newbro's Herpicide, that acts by destroying the germ that does the damage, besides removing all impurities from the scalp. In addition it permits new life and vigor to enter the scalp, and happy results are sure to be obtained from its use. Try it. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich. G. W. Mahood, special agent.

THIRD CLASS FARES.

G.T.R. Seeks to Abolish Service Clause.

Ottawa, Dec. 10.—The following paragraph in the Canada Gazette foreshadows an effort by the G.T.R. to repeal that clause of its charter providing for a third-class service, at two cents a mile, in Canada:

Notice is hereby given that the Grand Trunk Railway company of Canada will apply to the parliament of Canada, at the present session thereof, for an act repealing act compelling the provisions of section 3 of 16 Victoria, chapter 37. (Signed) W. H. Biggar, solicitor for the applicants. Dated at Montreal, this sixth day of December, A.D. 1906.

A proclamation has been issued bringing into effect the Ontario statutes respecting the operation of railways on Sunday, and "so much of sub-section 4 of section 197 of said chapter 30 as provides that no park or pleasure grounds within the purview of the said sub-section 4 shall be used for games, picnics, concerts, excursions or other public entertainments on Sunday."

Has Not Confessed.

New York, Dec. 10.—A special from Herkimer, N.Y., says Gillette has wired his mother that he has written no confession, that he is innocent and not to believe what the newspapers say about him.

DISMISSED AMBASSADOR.

Defends Wife's Conduct and Accuses President.

Chicago, Dec. 10.—The Chicago Tribune, in its Washington despatches, says that an extraordinary letter has been addressed by Bellamy Storer to President Roosevelt and the members of his cabinet in regard to his dismissal from the post of ambassador of the United States to Austria-Hungary.

Mr. Storer was dismissed because of his wife's supposed interference in affairs of the Roman Catholic church and her alleged misuse of letters from the president. It was also charged that Mrs. Storer had meddled with French politics by taking part in an anti-republican intrigue to promote the marriage of Victor Bonaparte with a member of the Orleans family. Both of these charges Mr. Storer denies, and on the other hand declares that the president's interest in the selection of Archbishop Ireland as a cardinal was not due to Storer or Storer's wife, but to the president alone.
