THE SPORT REVIEW

LIMESTONES ARE CONFIDENT OF WINNING OUT.

Queen's Seniors Also Are Out For the Championship—Queen's II. Go to Sherbrooke, Que., to Meet Bishop's College Team.

Limestones were out at work on the Cricket field last evening, and went through an hour's good stiff work. The boys have learned a whole lot by the game with Westmount, and a great change can be seen in their work by it. The boys want one more week of good hard practice, and their chances look very bright for landing the senior O.R.F.U. laurels. None of the players were seriously injured in the game, a few minor bruises, black eyes, etc., being all that was received.

No Change; Only Interpretation.

Toronto Star: Dr. A. B. Wright, president of the Intercollegiate Rugby Union, says that there would likely be a meeting of the executive committee of the union held in Toronto on Friday night for the purpose of ascertaining exactly what interpretation of the playing rules will be observed in future college games this season.

To-day Dr. Wright received a communication from Mr. MacInnes, of Queen's, asking by what authority the executive committee of the union made changes in the playing rules. The answer will probably be given at the meeting to be held on Friday night. Mr. MacInnes did not give any reasons why Queen's was opposed to the interpretation decided upon by the executive, nor did he explain why the Queen's representative concurred in everything done at the meeting and then had his action repudiated by his own university.

As a matter of fact, the executive committee did not make any changes in the rules, but merely decided to insist upon a literal interpretation, so that the college game would be clean and open like that of the Interprovincial Union. There was absolutely no change in the reading but all the colleges felt that it would mean the salvation of the game by preventing interference in scrimmage and making the wings stand apart on the line.

This interpretation was in vogue in all college games, but the one played at Kingston on Saturday, when Queen's refused to play unless the old order of things prevailed. Here in Toronto, Ottawa College and 'Varsity played the open game and everybody was satisfied—except at the result of the game—while McGill played the Presbyterians under protest.

So far nobody has been able to learn what objections Queen's has to the literal interpretation of the rules. It lifted the college game out of the rut into which it had fallen, and put it in the same grade with the football played under the inter-provincial rules. It would be a retrograde step to go back to the old style of play.

Queen's Busy On Campus.

Queen's I and Queen's II were out again hard at work at the campus on Monday afternoon, after their two matches on Saturday. Coach Crothers put the boys through some good, hard work, and is getting them around where they should be. They seem pleased with the way the senior series is shaping itself, and feel confident, but not too much, that they can still come out on top.

Wiles, the large inside wing man, is a new one at the game only being out four times previous to Saturday's contest, when he was knocked out. He says he does not fully understand the game, but he does enjoy it greatly, especially the mix-ups, when he can put somebody down. He is the making of one of the best inside wing men Queen's has had in some time.

The second team have covered themselves with glory and are justly proud of themselves. They have to journey to Sherbrooke, Que., to meet Bishop's College, whom they hope to defeat. The boys are working hard every day and should win out this section.

The Police At Matches.

The police do not think they deserve the criticism given them by Queen's Alma Mater Society in regard to their action at Saturday's match. There are other ways of keeping good order besides arresting everyone who runs on the field or gets into a mix-up. If arrests were to be made there would probably be an outcry, as the students themselves would be found to be the chief offenders. Arresting and clubbing are not always the best methods to pursue in keeping order. The games in Kingston are decidedly well and orderly conducted, and particularly so when it is considered that Queen's athletic field is not properly fenced around the playing ground. Think of what occurred in Ottawa last Saturday, when the Montreal team was attacked, and a number of melees occurred throughout the match.

No Intention Of Protesting.

An item appeared in yesterday's Montreal Star, to the effect that Limestones intended to protest their game with Westmount, the main cause being that Snowden, the scrimmage man, was a professional, having played basketball with Ernie Hamilton, who, according to the C.A.A.U., is a "pro." Secretary Dalby and Capt. Moxley were both seen concerning the matter and they stated that no such proceeding was ever thought of by them, let alone considered. "The only thing we would think of protesting," said Mr. Dalby, "was the referee." The locals cannot say too much about the fine reception they were given by the Westmount players and officials, and nothing but the best of good feeling prevails among the two teams.

Queen's Has Players Galore.

There is rugby material galore at Queen's. It is said that no less than forty-five candidates are aspirants for positions on the junior team, which is to play R.M.C. II next Saturday. Dozens of promising players are being discovered, and it looks as though Queen's has rugby material for years. The game has to be taught to some of the huskiest of the students, who are wanted for inside wings and the scrimmage.

Will Be Changes.

It is likely that Laird, who has been playing full back for the Limestones, will be moved up to the half line. He is fast, and more valuable further up. Crawford may be played at full back. It is expected that George Richardson, the ex-Queen's half and quarter back, will be with the Limestones in their next game.

Sporting Notes.

Longboat reduced the three-mile record from 15.33 to 15.09 at the 'Varsity track meet.

Marsh, of Winnipeg, has challenged Shrubb to a fifteen-mile race, asking thirty handicap. Shrubb is willing to concede him two minutes, however, and the race will be pulled up, Saturday next.

For the Montreal Herald's "Round the Mountain" road race, on Thanksgiving day, 170 entries have been received, including those of Tom Longboat, and other famous Canadian and American runners.

It is intended to send Longboat after Shrubb's hour record at Rosedale. Later, but soon the Indian will be sent after the twenty-mile record at the Toronto exhibition grounds. He is in better shape now than ever before in his life.

The C.A.A.U. will most likely give Longboat and other eastern runners special permits to contest in the Montreal road race on Thanksgiving day, which will be under no special auspices and will be independent of the federation in its own home.

Toronto Globe: The enthusiasm in Hamilton hasn't been nearly so great since Montreal clipped the Tigers' claws, and the "Big Four" organization isn't going to look quite as important as it would if the Tigers were having a walk-over.

The New York athletes who have asked Longboat to enter the coming games at Long Island city are inviting trouble. Longboat was disqualified some time ago by the A.A.U., and if he competes there will be nothing left for President Sullivan to do but suspend all the athletes who take part in the meet.

David Hartley, Peterboro's noted long distance walker, will, on Friday next, October 25th, seek to outdo the pedestrian performances of Reynolds, Scattergood and Langford, who essayed to walk from Port Hope to Toronto and return, a distance of 138 miles, in thirty-eight hours. Hartley's journey will be from Bowmanville to Toronto, and return to Peterboro, a distance of 144 miles, which he is confident he can cover in thirty-eight hours.

Montreal Gazette: The Limestones presented a nicely balanced team. Their back division was steadier and more effective than Westmounts, and their wing men broke through and followed up in fast style. It was this fast following up that made the Westmount backs break under fire. Gleason at centre half is a splendid kick, and he had the football luck following his long drives. Madden cleverly dropped a goal toward the end of the game. The finish of the game was really exciting, there remaining only a minute or so of time when Baillie got over for the touchdown which tied the score. In the darkness Hudge did well to convert for the point that gave Westmount the game.

Ottawa continues to be a rough-house town when its team is getting beaten. Regarding the Montreal-Ottawa match at the capital on Saturday, the Montreal Gazette says: "The ill-feeling shown by the players spread to the crowd, and officials of the Montreal Club were hustled as they were leaving the grounds after the match. The mix-up started as a result of Kilt, the Ottawa quarter-back who had been sent off with Roberts earlier in the match for scrapping, hitting the Montreal player with his clenched fist. Roberts was about to retaliate, but the crowd closed around him and he was hustled towards the dressing rooms. In the meantime the Montreal officials, Dr. Irvine, Wally Hagar, Frederick Reid and "Chaucer" Elliott were following on Roberts' heels when a bottle was hurled from the crowd and hit the Montreal president on the neck. A bystander also tried to help the doctor's progress towards the door with a well aimed blow, but before it could land Coach Elliott intervened. The Montreal team heard about the rumpus when getting into their bus, preparatory to driving to the hotels, and they all came in a body and escorted their officials safely to the carriages, amid the jeers and taunts of the crowd."

Coming To Kingston.

Prof. Dorenwend, Toronto, will be at the Randolph hotel, on Wednesday, October 23rd, with many new and pretty designs in wigs, toupees, bangs, switches, etc. Trying on and demonstrating free of charge. His manufactures are worn on over 85,000 heads, by all classes.

Military Men At Belleville.

Yesterday afternoon, Col. Gordon, Lieut.-Col. Henning, Lieut.-Col. Young, Lieut.-Col. Strange, Capt. Conger and Lieut. Macnee were present at the ceremony of laying the cornerstone of the new armouries at Belleville. The stone was laid by the minister of militia.

Held A Fine Dance.

The "Social Five" held another of their popular dances at the Whig hall last night. There was quite a large crowd of dancers present, and the affair was a most enjoyable one. The music was provided by Crosby and O'Connor's orchestra.

The men who installed the new gas holder are busy giving it a final test. The tank is being filled with water from the city hydrants. The tank will receive its first load of gas in a few days.

Jesus The Master

Jesus became Master because he mastered. His commission to lead men was born of his power to lead himself into the paths of truth. He sought and found; therefore he is able to declare. His authority was not issued in heaven but earned on earth. He mastered the selfish in himself, attaining the love-life in his own experience, and for this reason he was able to give to the world the splendid principles of the Christian faith. It is as man that He is Master, for mastery pertains to manhood, and not to deity. And as man you may master too.

FAULT OF THE PEOPLE.

Postmen Delayed Where Houses Have No Letter Boxes.

The local post office authorities try their best to secure an early distribution of the mail throughout the city, but the letter men meet with handicaps. There are scores of houses that have no letter boxes, and the carriers lose a great deal of time ringing the door bells and sometimes having to go around to back entrances. If every house was provided with some kind of a letter receptacle the postmen would deliver the mails more rapidly. It is hoped that the people who have no letter boxes will arrange to get them.
