UNTOLD MISERY FOR THREE YEARS

Baby Nearly Covered with Eczema—Worst Case Doctors Ever Saw—Scalp in Dreadful Condition—Tried Many Kinds of Patent Medicines but Could Get No Relief.

PERFECT, PERMANENT CURE BY CUTICURA

"My son, who is now twenty-two years of age, when he was four months old began to have eczema on his face, spreading quite rapidly until he was nearly covered. We had all the doctors around us and some from larger places but no one helped him a particle. The eczema was something terrible, and the doctors said it was the worst case they ever saw. At times his whole body and face were covered, all but his feet. I had to bandage his limbs and arms; his scalp was just dreadful. I used many kinds of patent medicines before trying the Cuticura Remedies, but all to no avail. A friend teased me to try Cuticura. At last I consented, when my boy was three years and four months old, having had eczema all that time and suffering untold misery. I began to use all three of the Cuticura Remedies, the Cuticura Soap helped as well as the Ointment. He was better in two months; in six months he was well, but I gave him the Cuticura Resolvent one year—using twelve bottles, I think—and always used the Cuticura Soap for bathing, and do now a good deal. He was four years old before he was well, and his skin became perfectly fair when cured. Mrs. R. L. Risley, Piermont, N. H., Oct. 24, 1905."

BARBER'S ITCH

Cured in One Month by Cuticura

"Last winter I suffered great pain and agony with barber's itch. I tried skin specialists and all kinds of remedies, but they did no good. One day I saw a Cuticura advertisement and bought a single set of Cuticura Remedies, and the results were great. In one month I was cured. M. H. Berg, 1501 Chestnut St., Phila., Pa., Jan. 30, 1906."

Complete External and Internal Treatment for Every Humor of Infants, Children, and Adults consists of Cuticura Soap to Cleanse the Skin, Cuticura Ointment to Heal the Skin, and Cuticura Resolvent (or in the form of Chocolate Coated Pills, in vials every) to Purify the Blood. Sold throughout the world. Potter Drug & Chem. Corp., Sole Props., Boston, Mass.

BUSINESS BETTER

THE OUTLOOK BRIGHTENING IN GANANOQUE.

Death of Mrs. David Dowsley After Prolonged Illness—A Young Man Succumbed to Injuries.

Gananoque, Nov. 19.—Ann Dowsley, beloved wife of David Dowsley, of Leeds township, passed peacefully away at her home, Dowsley's Corners, on Sunday last, in the fifty-eighth year of her age. She had been in poor health for some time and the end was expected. The funeral took place this afternoon from Dowsley's Corners to the vault at Gananoque cemetery. Deceased was the mother of our respected townsman, George Dowsley. The Herald Square Comic Opera company presented a "Trip To India" in the Colonial last evening, and drew a fair house.

The many Gananoque friends of R. W. Irving, M.D., for several years a practitioner in this town, will learn with pleasure that he has lately located in British Columbia, and has received the appointment of medical superintendent of the lately completed and equipped Tranquill Sanitarium in Kamloops, B.C. The business outlook around town, which has seemed rather blue for some time past, has taken a change for the better and for the past week or so orders, which were rather slow, are now coming along fairly well. The strong tension that seemed holding the business side of affairs seems to have relaxed to a considerable extent.

Word has arrived from Edmonton, Alta., that Frederick Forsey, of that city, who was seriously injured by being thrown from his horse, has succumbed to his injuries. He was badly injured about the head, and death gave him release. He was well-known about these parts, and much sympathy is felt here for his grandfather, Warren Fairman, who is still hale and hearty and over ninety years of age. J. A. Black, L.D.S., King street, who has been enjoying a deer hunt in the northern wilds since the open season started, has returned home.

John Salls and William Kenizen, who have spent the past season in the employ of D. J. Gordon, quarryman, left, yesterday, for Montreal, from which they will proceed to their homes in Vermont. The local branch of the W.C.T.U., met this evening at the home of Mrs. William Meggs, Garden street.

Blouse Of Broadcloth.

The drawing shows a blouse of light weight cloth, having a strap trimming of the material stitched and fastened as shown with buttons of the cloth. The shawl collar was of satin and the chemisette was of tulle lace, with a lace jabot of the same. A little bow of satin was placed at the top of this lace cravat and a narrow band of satin was applied around the top of the collar. The undersleeves were of lace ruffles.

A New Dodge.

Hilary K. Adair, the western detective, said in Duluth of a wiretapper:

"The man escaped us. He had invented a new dodge. That, you see, is the trouble about the science of detection. The minute we detectives master all the old tricks, something new springs up.

"It is rather like the story of the butler. When you keep a cask of beer under lock and key in the cellar, only giving the butler the keys when you want him to draw you a pitcher, then if you made him whistle all the time he is out of sight on this errand, you are bound not to be defrauded, eh? Or so, at least, it was in the past.

"Well, there was a man engaged a new butler, and as of yore the first day he wanted beer, he said:

"'James, here are the keys to the beer closet. Take this pitcher down and fill it, and mind you whistle all the time you are gone.'

"'Yes, sir,' said James, and he departed, whistling.

"The clear, sweet notes of 'Home, Sweet Home' floated upstairs for a minute or two; then they ceased. The master rushed to the cellar door.

"'James,' he shouted, angrily, 'what are you doing?'

"With a gulp James answered:

"'Nothing, sir; only changing the tune.'"

Deaf Mutes As Auditors.

New York Press.

At an outdoor political meeting a policeman had difficulty in making one man in the crowd stand back. After a while he discovered that the reason the man did not obey was because he was a deaf mute.

"Why in the world does a person who cannot possibly hear a word that is spoken want to go to a political meeting," asked a bystander.

"I don't tell you," said the policeman, "but I find that all these public meetings, whether political, religious or what nos, draw a number of mutes. If there was anything for them to look at—a panorama or moving pictures or anything like that—I could understand the attraction, but just to stand around and watch a man spout volumes of words that they can't hear strikes me as pretty poor entertainment."

Indigestion

Stomach trouble is but a symptom of, and not in itself a true disease. We think of Dyspepsia, Heartburn, and Indigestion as real diseases, yet they are symptoms only of a certain special Nerve sickness—nothing else.

It was this fact that first correctly led Dr. Shoop in the creation of that now very popular Stomach Remedy—Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Going direct to the stomach nerves, alone brought that success and favor to Dr. Shoop and his Restorative. Without that original and highly vital principle, no such lasting accomplishments were ever to be had.

For stomach distress, bloating, biliousness, bad breath and sallow complexion, try Dr. Shoop's Restorative—Tablets or Liquid—and see for yourself what it can and will do. We sell and cheerfully recommend

FARMER BADLY HURT

HE WAS THROWN AGAINST PROJECTING BEAM.

By a Sudden and Strong Gust of Wind—A Peculiar Accident—Fell From a Ladder While Picking Apples.

Picton, Nov. 19.—Robert Milford, a well-known and prominent farmer of the Ridge Road, is lying at his home in a critical condition, the result of an accident under peculiar circumstances. He was working around his stable, when a sudden and strong gust of wind caught the open door, closing it with a crash. Mr. Milford happened to be standing in the door way and was caught by the door and thrown with considerable force against a projecting beam, crushing and bruising his chest just over his heart.

Archie Hughes, a farmer residing on the East Lake Road, had a bad fall last week, a result of which is fracturing of several ribs, and other painful cuts about his face and head. He was picking apples and when at the top of the ladder missed his hold and fell to the ground, some twenty feet.

Hay is being imported from Montreal, due to the scarcity in the county, at $19 a ton. However, the price delivered here amounts to about $22, which is about on a par with the price on the local market.

Town milk dealers have failed to "hold together" in keeping up the price of milk to 8c. Yesterday two of the local dealers reverted to the price of the early summer, 6c. a quart, and it is likely all will follow suit by the week-end.

Mrs. George O'Brien has returned home after a three months' visit in Winnipeg with Mr. and Mrs. J. Redmond, formerly of Picton. Mr. and Mrs. J.C. Wilson, Glenora, have taken up house in town for the winter months. Mr. Jenkins and son, Gerald, of Belleville, have been spending a few days in town. Mrs. H. Moxon is ill. Herbert Hare, first year medicine, at Queen's University, has returned home, having decided not to continue his course until next year.

Partnership Not Lasting.

New York Press.

Two men formed a partnership for the prosecution of evangelistic work in Manhattan and Brooklyn. At the end of two months they separated, and each proceeded to reform the world in accordance with his own theory.

"I could have told you in the beginning," said an experienced church worker to one of the men, "that it was useless to form a partnership with anybody, but it seemed best to let you learn the futility of the plan for yourself. Of all partnerships that men can enter into the religious combination is usually most short-lived. Ernest laborers in that field are particularly deep set in their convictions and are likely to resent advice. I have tried several such partnerships myself and I have seen others try them, but none of the deals lasted long.

"Dr. Moody and Mr. Sankey travelled together for a good many years, but with that exception most persons who combine to conduct a religious campaign, whether preachers or singers, or both, soon become dissatisfied with each other's tactics and conclude that they can accomplish more by going it alone."

Breaking The News.

Philadelphia Record.

The matrimonial failure of Pat, a bartender in the centre of the city, has been common knowledge for some time, and it has also been no secret that Pat really does not blame his wife for her impatience with his habits. Pat is in dead earnest when he says that his wife really is too good for him, and deserves a divorce, which the self-abasing Pat would gladly grant her if it wasn't so expensive. The good faith of Pat in this respect was, however, never more forcibly illustrated than, during the severe attack of pneumonia from which he has just recovered. "Pat, the doctors say you are very sick," said his wife during her visit to the hospital one day. "What do they really say? You can't hurt me by telling the truth," answered Pat. "Well, Pat, they say that you cannot live," whispered the wife, finally yielding to Pat's insistent demand for the truth. "Don't you believe it; doctors make a habit of holding out hopes to the last," drawled Pat in his wearisome style. "They are only breaking the news to you gently. I am going to get well."

Mike's Tribute.

A rich and well-known citizen of an eastern city boasts of an extraordinary collection of books, wherein the authors have inscribed their autographs.

It is rumoured that the envy and frequently the scepticism of his friends have been aroused by the flattering inscriptions in question, and some cynics have even gone so far as to hint of a similarity in handwriting throughout the collection.

The citizen recently purchased a rare edition of Montaigne's Essays. One evening, at dinner, the costly volume was passed from hand to hand, and for a time the owner lost sight of it. When, however, it did finally come back, to him, he was astonished to find on the fly-leaf this inscription:

"To John Blank, from his old friend and classmate Mike Montaigne."

Chivalry Of King Edward.

A delightful story of the king's chivalry comes from Marienbad. His majesty was having tea at a little restaurant in the pine woods with a few friends, and at a table near a German prince was the host of a party. An English waitress served both parties, and his majesty could not fail to notice the rude, bullying manner of the royal German. Before leaving, the king turned to Sir Stanley Clarke and said: "You are to convey my thanks to the proprietor for the admirable manner in which my party has been served at this restaurant." In addition, Sir Stanley, by the king's order, presented the waitress with a gold piece.

"Peerless" Oven Damper Gives Absolute Control.

Most oven dampers have only two positions. They are either wide open or tight shut.

The "Peerless" dampers are adjustable. If the oven is too hot, you can open the damper and keep on adjusting until you get the proper temperature.

This means economy in fuel consumption. With the ordinary oven damper to keep the oven from getting too hot, the heat must be all thrown up the chimney. Then the drafts have to be turned on again, because the temperature drops too rapidly.

Ask your dealer to show you this special damper. Also the "Peerless" Drop Oven Door, Daylight Oven, and Duplex Grates. These points of advantage over other stoves, are exclusive. Write for catalogue. 54
