ALMA MATER RESULTS

G. A. PLATT, B.A. ELECTED PRESIDENT.

The Proceedings in Convocation Hall—Senior Year in Arts Held a Dinner Saturday Night.

The results of Queen's Alma Mater elections, held on Saturday afternoon, are as follows: Honorary president, Prof. J. C. Gwillim (acclamation); president, G. A. Platt, B.A. (arts); first vice-president, J. E. Galbraith (medicine); second vice-president, D. A. McArthur, B.A. (arts); secretary, D. A. Carmichael, B.A. (medicine); critic, R. J. McDonald, M.A. (theology); treasurer, W. M. Campbell (science); assistant secretary, G. E. Kidd, B.A. (medicine); committee, D. Jordan (medicine), R. E. McLaughlin (arts), E. L. Bruce (science), H. P. May, M.A. (education).

The election figures follow: President, G. A. Platt (arts), 435; G. J. McKay (science), 417. Vice-president, J. E. Galbraith (medicine), 457; D. A. McArthur (arts), 382. Secretary, D. A. Carmichael (medicine), 462; W. Dobson (arts), 386. Critic, R. J. McDonald (theology), 465; M. Y. Williams (science), 355. Treasurer, W. M. Campbell (science), 467; H. M. Young (arts), 337. Assistant secretary, G. E. Kidd (medicine), 470; P. L. Jull (arts), 277. Committee, Dennis Jordan (medicine), 525; R. E. McLaughlin (arts), 508; E. L. Bruce (science), 497; H. P. May (education), 455; A. D. Macdonnell (arts), 305; S. S. Cormack (arts), 283.

As the faculties of theology and education are usually included in the arts faculty, it will be noticed that, of the ten arts candidates, five were elected and five defeated. The science students' memorable victory of last year was not repeated, as but two of their four candidates were elected and two offices thus won are minor ones. The "meds." are hilarious as a result of the election of their four candidates. How came it about that all their candidates won the laurels of triumph while two of the science candidates drank the dregs of defeat?

"Oh, that I cannot tell," quoth he,
"But 'twas a famous victory."

About seven o'clock on Saturday evening, the students began to pour into Convocation hall, and, ere long, standing room was not available, and many had to be content with a square foot of the floor in the corridor without. The results were thrown upon a large screen by Thomas Little's lantern, as were also a number of cleverly designed pen and ink sketches concerning the students in general, and several individual students in particular. The results from the ladies' booth were not thrown separately upon the screen this year, as it was deemed inexpedient to renew the discussion among the students which has followed the publication of the ladies' stand in previous years. The final report of the presidential results called forth a round of tremendous applause from the supporters of the president-elect, Mr. Platt, and it was with true enthusiasm and delight that the arts yell was lustily rendered by the hundreds of arts men assembled in the old historic hall. As each return was made, the faculty whose representative was elected, made its presence known in no uncertain manner. When the last of the final results had been thrown upon the screen, the past president of the society, D. R. Cameron, M.A., took the chair and called upon each of the candidates in turn. The addresses were brief and consisted for the most part of expressions of thanks from the speakers to those who had supported them.

A tremendous rush out of the hall was the grand finale of the evening, as far as the old arts building was concerned. The students went in a body to Princess street, where the auspicious occasion was royally celebrated. They were admitted gratis to Wonderland and the Princess Theatre, but at the Bijou they were refused admission and ———. Finally, the students dispersed, and the din of battle was superseded by the silence of the early morning hours. The students are, with considerable interest, awaiting developments in connection with the issuing of a warrant for the arrest of a freshman who is alleged to have participated in the melee at the Bijou Theatre.

The final year arts students of Queen's held a most enjoyable banquet at the Hotel Congress on Saturday evening after the election results had been announced, and the turmoil and excitement of the day had abated. The guests of honor were Prof. J. L. Morrison, honorary president of the final year, and the candidates which '08 had nominated for Alma Mater offices, Messrs. G. A. Platt, B.A., D. A. McArthur, B.A., and A. D. Macdonnell. The thirty or thirty-five students present did their duty nobly with reference to the excellent menu and all were in the very best humor for the toast list, which was as follows: "The King," proposed by Toastmaster F. C. Kennedy; "The Faculty," proposed by J. W. Gibson, and responded to by Prof. J. L. Morrison; "The Final Year," proposed by G. E. Meldrum and responded to by D. I. McLeod; "The Candidates," proposed by R. S. Stevens and responded to by G. A. Platt, D. A. McArthur and A. D. Macdonnell; "The Ladies," proposed by R. Bow and responded to by D. C. Caverley; "The Arts Society," proposed by C. R. Graham and responded to by W. A. Dobson. The committee in charge of the jolly little affair was composed of: J. G. McCammon, C. R. Graham, R. S. Stevens, A. Lipman, J. M. Simpson.

Owing to the lack of interest on the part of the students generally, the finance committee of the conversazione have decided to place a limited number of tickets on sale to graduates and alumni. A representative of finance committee may be found at Uglow's Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday afternoons, from 2 to 5 o'clock to make the necessary arrangements.

Dr. F. E. Etherington has been elected a member of the athletic committee in succession to Dr. W. T. Connell, resigned.

On Saturday evening after the great majority of the students had set sail for Princess street, a brief meeting of the Alma Mater Society was held in Convocation Hall. Only a few veteran war horses remained. As the cheering of hundreds of students grew fainter in the distance the secretary read the minutes of the last meeting, a few business transactions were then put through and the meeting adjourned. The new officers will be installed at the next regular meeting.

COMING TO THE GRAND.

"The Fatal Flower" Will Be Produced To-Night.

"The Fatal Flower," by Howard Hall, will be seen at the Grand to-night. Without doubt this is one of the most fascinating plays ever written. A brief outline of the story is as follows: Gordon Hale, a rising young artist, is in love with Marion De Vonde, the French ambassador's daughter. His passion is returned. The Count de Beaurevart, a rake, is also desirous of bettering his financial condition by an alliance with her, which Marion finds distasteful and disgusting. She loves Gordon Hale, and detests the cunning De Beaurevart, a diplomat of the French embassy. He tries to force her to a marriage by slanderous stories, circulated by him and at last decides to kidnap her and compromise her good name, so that she will be compelled to wed him to save herself from scandal and disgrace. Gordon Hale frustrates this plot, by appearing at the count's villa just in time to prevent the plot against the woman he loves. He issues a challenge to Count De Beaurevart, which is accepted and a duel is fought, the treacherous count firing before the final command, slightly wounding Hale. Hale magnanimously gives him his life in one of the strongest dramatic scenes ever penned.

"Dorothy Vernon."

In "Dorothy Vernon of Haddon Hall," Miss Bianca West has a duel scene, wherein her lissom figure and swordsmanship are seen to full advantage. Costumes and scenery are of the Elizabethan period, Mary, Queen of Scots, and Elizabeth, Queen of England, figure in the romantic comedy drama which has been gorgeously mounted by Ernest Shipman, who presented "When Knighthood Was In Flower" here. "Dorothy Vernon of Haddon Hall" will be seen here on Wednesday, December 11th, at the Grand.

TWO COURT SITTINGS.

The Cases That Will Be Heard Next Week.

The non-jury assizes of the high court will open on Thursday before Justice Britton, when the following cases will come up:

Philip Haffner and John Hastings vs. D. J. Millan, for damages for an obstruction of right-of-way and for an injunction.

John Albertson vs. Joseph Harpell, both of the township of Kingston, damages for pulling down fence, for trespass, and for an injunction.

Louise Leheup, city, against R. V. Rogers, administrator for Julia Martin estate, to enforce an agreement made by Julia Martin, deceased, whereby she gave her property to plaintiff.

Alphus Turcotte, city, against John Evans and John Bell, city, for work done and material supplied in building schooner Robert Macdonald, for $1,297. Referred to arbitration.

Brantford Carriage Co., Brantford, against Joseph Lemmon, to recover six vehicles wrongfully detained and for $288, for vehicles wrongfully converted by defendant, to his own use.

The sitting of the county court will open on Tuesday at one o'clock before Judge Price and jury. There are three jury cases and one non-jury case:

Selby & Youlden, city, against George W. Davis, New York, who has a summer cottage at Collins Bay, for repairs to defendant's yacht.

Smith and Smith, Barriefield, against Henry Saunders, Barriefield, action for damages for illegal distress.

W. E. Green, city, against John Clyde, township of Kingston, action for damages for injuries sustained, through alleged carelessness, to defendant by running him down with a horse and rig when he was riding a bicycle on his way to the city from Cataraqui.

The one non-jury case is brought by John Birkett, city, against Capt. T. J. Craig, formerly of Portsmouth, for an account due for work done on a steamer when the defendant ran the ferry line from Kingston.

Neckwear, Livingston's.

CONSUMPTION.

Its Cause and Suggested Means of Recovery.

Consumption is not always an inherited disease, and a large percentage of cases may be attributed to the following causes:

First, defective digestion. Second, imperfect nutrition as a result of the first. Third, the accumulation of morbid product in the lungs as the result of imperfect nutrition, and this in turn breaks down the function of respiration and consumption is an established disease.

The first step toward a cure is to restore the function of nutrition, and to this end nothing in the world excels Vinol.

It is for this reason we want every person in Kingston to know about our delicious cod liver preparation, Vinol, which is far superior to old-fashioned cod liver oil and emulsions because it is made by a scientific, extractive and concentrating process from fresh cods' livers, combining with peptonate of iron all the medicinal, healing, body building elements of cod liver oil, but no oil.

In pulmonary diseases, it nourishes the body, increases vigor, checks the cough and often mitigates the disease. As a strength-creator for old people, delicate children, weak, run-down persons, and after sickness, Vinol is unexcelled.

We ask Kingston people to try Vinol on our offer to return their money if it does not give satisfaction. G. W. Mahood, druggist, Kingston, Ont.

THAT "INDIAN" LIST

INSPECTOR WRIGHT'S BAND OF HOPE INCREASES.

Some Probationers Receive Membership Certificates—The Prohibition at Least Prevents Loafing Around Bars.

It is known that some persons whose names are inscribed on that roll commonly known as "the Indian list" get liquor quite readily. Where they get it their friends do not know, even though they watch closely. However, they do not mind them getting the wherewithall to quench their thirst once in a while, so long as they don't get it at bars. This they cannot do as the bar attendants know the prohibited ones pretty well. The recent fines in the police court have made all concerned very careful, and the hotel employees are to be commended for their successful endeavors in keeping the "Indians" at bay. How they keep track of them all is a kind of mystery, for it is not easy to keep in mind a list of perhaps seventy-five or eighty persons, who, by law, are prohibited from receiving liquor. If the listed persons do get a drink on the sly once in a while their prohibition is still a good thing for it keeps them from loafing around hotels. The hotel proprietors are required to not allow them to hang around their premises. This is satisfactory to the relatives of the listed ones and to the hotel men, too. The former know that the persons in whom they are interested cannot loaf in bars, which was one of their worst faults.

Of late a few more names have been added to Inspector Wright's Band of Hope roll. Some have been given warning that unless they frequented the bars less and behaved better they would come under the ban. Some took heed, and others did not. Some improved, while others pursued the same thorny path they had been treading. The ones who became good were removed from the roll, while the persistent boozers, who had proven themselves worthy of a higher degree of prohibition than a mere warning, received a registered letter saying that they had been granted the full rights of prohibition and henceforth they could get no more alcoholic beverages in bars or stores. Those registered letters have caused many a bitter hour to the saddened recipients who failed to heed the kind warning of their relatives to behave themselves. The prohibition papers made out by the inspector and served on the hotels cover the space of one year and are not renewed unless the inspector is asked to do so.

MEN'S SUIT PATTERNS.

"The Fatal Flower" Will Be a Big Tailoring House.

The expense of making the new designs and patterns for the various physique types in suits and overcoats for a single season's work in the Semi-ready shops was $8,706.

These patterns could not be replaced for ten times that amount, for the present season's designs are helpful in producing newer ones. The economies claimed for Semi-ready tailoring are achieved by an intelligent application of a modern system founded on certain basic principles. But no expense is spared in producing and originating smart and pleasing garments from fabrics worthy of the Semi-ready guarantee.

La Salle A Foreigner.

Emily McManus.

The name La Salle reminds me of Miss Machar's regret that nowhere about Kingston is the name of its early hero preserved, though a few years ago the local Historical Society, with Miss Machar as chief mover, urged the city council to re-christen a certain street La Salle. A clergyman, whom I am glad to leave nameless, noisily objected. "There is too much truckling to foreigners in this country," he said. "We don't want to begin naming our streets after them." And he carried the day. La Salle is still a "foreigner" to Kingston.

Indigestion Then These.

Flatulence, sour stomach, heartburn, waterbrash, biliousness, constipation, loss of appetite, etc. These troubles have one cause and Day's Dyspepsia Cure is the one certain remedy for indigestion and its evils. Always gives prompt results. This preparation has digestive, tonic and laxative properties. Each bottle contains sixteen days' treatment. For sale at Wade's Drug Store.

Bane Of Politics.

The conservatives of Edwardsburg township have in convention nominated a full municipal ticket. The same plan is to be followed in Augusta township on the 18th. Because the party is strong in these places they subordinate public interests to party selfishness. The liberals of Spencerville are also selecting a ticket, copying a bad example.

Hard To Get Waiters.

The different faculties at Queen's University have had considerable trouble in securing waiters for their annual banquets, and the science and medical men have agreed on a scheme that will help them out of the difficulty. The science men will serve for the medical men when the latter hold their banquet, and vice versa. It is hoped that in this way a far better, all around service will be rendered.

Any Weakness In Your Back?

Sometimes you experience pain and weakness without much suffering. Later in the pain will surely come. The trouble can be stopped now by rubbing on Nerviline—rub it in deeply over the spine, and then put on a Nerviline Porous Plaster. In these remedies you will find wonderful and quick relief. They will spare you from an attack of Lumbago, which is the outcome of neglected pain in the back or side. For all muscular pains, strains and weakness, Polson's Nerviline and Nerviline Plasters have no equal. Refuse substitutes.

MARINE NEWS.

The Items Gathered About the Harbour.

The last of the M. T. Co's barges have arrived here and have been laid up for the winter.

The steamer Howe arrived at Richardsons' elevator, from Chicago, with 80,000 bushels of corn.

The steambarge Glengarry will clear for Sodus Point, after unloading coal at Swift's. This will be her last trip of the season.

The steamer Advance arrived at the M. T. Co's slip from Prescott, where she discharged her cargo of wheat. The vessel will be laid up here for the winter.

From the beginning of navigation until December 5th, there were 135 lives lost on the lakes, and the principal monetary losses aggregate $2,389,000. Eight small steamers have been burned since October 7th. The City of Cleveland and Naomi were destroyed earlier in the season. The loss of the Cyprus caused the greatest loss of life, only one of a crew of twenty-three escaping when she went down in a Lake Superior gale on October 12th. The Arcadia, with fourteen lives lost, is the second largest disaster.

THE MASTER CALLETH

STRONG SERMON BY REV. C. A. SYKES.

The Neglect of the Christ—Festival of the Immaculate Conception Observed in St. Mary's.

The pulpit in Sydenham street Methodist church was occupied by the pastor, Rev. Charles A. Sykes, who preached a strong sermon from St. John xi, 28: "The Master is come and calleth for thee." All the world expected the coming of a God, said the speaker, so it was comparatively easy for impostors to secure a following, and even Christ was called an impostor. The speaker went on to describe how a woman of Jerusalem, who had heard that Christ was an impostor, had said, "I will go and hear Him myself." There are very few people of the same mind at the present time.

Martha was one of those open-minded, whole-hearted people, who would not take another's word, but wanted to find out for herself. And one could imagine the consequences when one of this nature conversed with a person of Christ's nature. The preacher then spoke of Christ's manner of speach. He spoke as one having authority. What authority? The authority of truth. When one hears such a man, against whom others are prejudiced, we believe he is sincere, even if he is sincerely wrong.

Martha, said the minister, did a wrong thing in one way, in bringing Christ home to dinner, as it brought the religious ban on that house, and at that time this ban was worse than a social one. Mary and Lazarus called her aside and gave her a talking to, for bringing Him home. But He was not there long until His words and influences were felt. It was a blessed day for you and for me when He entered. "Not many homes yet feel the want of Christ," said Mr. Sykes, "but the day is coming when only Christ will do, sorrows, trials, tears will come, as they did that day at Bethany, when Lazarus became ill. The sisters thought of Jesus and sent a message to Him."

The speaker then dwelt on the message sent back by Christ to the two sisters, a message which they thought a rather odd one, and they thought they had been deceived. Their brother dies, they have the funeral, return home, and still no Christ. Can one imagine a harder home, a chillier scene, than this, returning home without a prayer, without comfort, without Christ. When Christ did arrive, and told Martha that her brother should rise again, the old truth came back to her. Every one believes in immortality until he becomes very bad, and every one hopes for immortal life until he becomes seared. The human race at its best, no matter where, has its well formulated belief in immortal life.

"How many years has the Lord been looking after you and me," asked Mr. Sykes, "without receiving one intelligent look or one word of thanks for all he has done. Let us arise and go unto him."

St. Mary's Cathedral.

In St. Mary's cathedral, Sunday, was observed the festival of the Immaculate Conception of the Virgin Mary (the dogma of which was promulgated by the late Pope Pius IX, on the 8th December, 1854.) At early mass the number who received holy communion was very large. Grand high mass was celebrated by Rev. Father McWilliams, assisted by deacon and sub-deacon. The archbishop presided. At the conclusion of the mass the exercises in connection with the closing of the Forty Hours' took place. The archbishop carried the host in procession around the aisles of the cathedral, and afterwards imparted the benediction of the holy sacrament. The choir sang with good effect Borese's mass, and at the offertory, gave the Advent hymn. The altar was handsomely decorated with flowers and illuminated. Above the altar was the motto: "Ecce Panis Angelorum." In the evening grand vespers were celebrated.

The Bishop At St. Luke's.

Twenty-six candidates were confirmed in St. Luke's church, yesterday morning. The bishop addressed them very impressively before administering the rite. His lordship's sermon was upon the subject of the second advent of Christ. He described in clear and forcible language the principal events connected therewith. It was not as some supposed, "The end of things created," but the precursor of the golden age of the world. Rev. Canon Grout was present and assisted in the service.

MISCALLED "HAIR TONICS."

Most Hair Preparations Are Merely Scalp Irritants, of No Value.

Most hair preparations are merely scalp irritants, miscalled hair tonics. When hair is brittle, lusterless and begins to fall out the dandruff germ is getting in its deadly work at the root, sapping the vitality. Since science discovered that dandruff is a germ disease there has been only one preparation put on the market that will actually destroy the dandruff germ and that is Newbro's Herpicide. It quickly reduces scalp fever, destroys the germ, and the falling hair stops and hair grows luxuriantly. Ask your druggist for Herpicide. It allays itching instantly and permits the hair to grow. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich. Two sizes, 50c. and $1. G. W. Mahood, special agent.
