VISITING THE HOTELMEN.

License Inspector Getting Information re Business.

Acting on the instructions of the license department Inspector Clark W. Wright is, to-day, visiting the hotelmen of the city, securing information relative to the amount of business they are doing. Just what the department has up its sleeve in asking for this information is not known but there is a rumor that there is to be a new regulation which will have to do with the licensing of the trade according to the amount of business that is done.

The instructions given to Mr. Wright are that he shall obtain from each hotelman his average days' receipts for the bar trade, the highest amount taken in in one day, and the lowest amount. This just covers the trade over the bar.

SHE WAS MISERLY

STARVED TO DEATH IN ADDING TO HOARD.

Aged Woman, Dressed in Rags, Dies at Infirmary, Victim of Her Own Cupidity.

Cleveland, Jan. 9.—The death from starvation of Mrs. Susannah Drum, seventy-six years old, at the city infirmary, last night, brought to light the story of an aged woman who for two years past, lived in a small squalid windowless room, clothed herself in rags, and finally starved to death in order to save every penny that was within her grasp.

On December 29th, on complaint of neighbors, she was taken before Probate Judge Hatden, to be examined as to her sanity. But the old woman was so ill and weak that she was sent to the infirmary. She was supposed to be penniless, but after death came there was found in a cloth bag around her neck, $150 in bills, two bank books calling for several thousand dollars and a mortgage on a farm at Barton Ohio.

FOR POLICE AND FIREMEN.

Course in Physical Culture Has Been Suggested.

Kingston will have policemen and firemen, as athletes, if the city council adopts the suggestion made by the Y.M.C.A., at the first meeting of the council, to-day.

The association has asked that the policemen and the firemen take up a special course in physical culture, at the Y.M.C.A., and that the city pay the bill for the same. The matter has been referred to the fire and light committee, and the police commissioners.

Constable "Sam" Arnid says that he might lose some of his weight if he takes the practice, while Constable "Harry" Filson is afraid that it will make him fat, so there you are.

Constable "Nick" Timmerman, the veteran of the force, says that he will be right "on the job" if the scheme is put through. It is stated that the police and firemen in some other places are given a course of instruction in the gymnasium, and that it has been a great help to them.

The Funeral on Monday.

All that was mortal of the late Mrs Thomas Thompson was laid to rest in the vault at Cataraqui cemetery on Monday morning. A solemn requiem mass was sung in St. Mary' cathedral by Rev. Father Halligan. The late Mrs. Thompson was the third daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Angus McDonald, Howe Island. Her demise, on Saturday morning, came as the result of five months' illness in the Hotel Dieu. Beside her sorrowing husband, Thomas Thompson, Cleveland Ohio, she leaves two small children the eldest five years of age, and the youngest six months, her father and mother on Howe Island, two sisters Mrs. R. Corby, of this city, and Mrs Stanistreet, of Ogdensburg, N.Y., and two brothers, John, farmer, of Howe Island, and David, of Cleveland, Ohio. Her funeral took place from the residence of her brother-in-law, R. Corby 463 Johnson street.

Horse Fell Through Ice.

Just as the stage was about to leave Folger's wharf, Monday forenoon, one of the horses went through the ice, and was under the water for about a minute before it could be rescued. The men at the wharf got the animal out as soon as possible with the use of a long pole, and the animal was able to continue on its way. The incident caused a little excitement, but no damage.

MARRIED AT OTTAWA.

A Former Kingstonian Led Bride to the Altar.

An exceedingly pretty house wedding took place in Ottawa, on Tuesday, January 3rd, at the residence of James W. Fitzpatrick, when his only daughter, Miss Anne Louise Fitzpatrick was married to Matthew F. Fairlie, C.E., of Cobalt, son of Rev. John and Mrs. Fairlie, of Kingston. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Mr. Fairlie, assisted by Dr. Herridge, of St. Andrew's church, Ottawa. The bride, who was given away by her father, looked very lovely in her rich bridal gown of ivory satin with tunic of ivory mirror, effectively draped and caught at the back by a large bow of itself. The bodice was in Japanese effect, with yoke of rose pointe lace and trimmings of pearls and crystals. Her lovely tulle veil was caught up with a wreath of orange blossoms and she carried a shower bouquet of white roses and lilies-of-the-valey. Her only jewellery was a pearl necklace, the gift of the bridegroom. She was attended by her cousin, Miss Marjorie Mackeen, who was charming in a modish gown of pale blue crepe de chine, with opalescent and silver embroidery. She carried pink roses and wore the bridegroom's gift, a pearl and gold brooch. The ribbon bearers were six girl friends of the bride, Miss Agnes Baldwin, Miss Margaret Fairlie, of Kingston; Miss Anna Palmer, of Portland; Miss Marion Mackeen, Miss Marion Masson, and Mrs. Harold Pinhey. The best man was Louis Fitzpatrick, brother of the bride.

The guests were received by Mr. Fitzpatrick, assisted by his sister-in-law, Mrs. David Macklem, who was handsomely gowned in black satin, with an overdress of jetted net, and Mrs. Fairlie, the mother of the groom, wore a rich gown of mauve shaded silk, hand embroidered, and trimmed with old lace. Miss Fairlie was in pale blue silk, with touches of gold.

After the ceremony refreshments were served in the dining-room, where the large table, centred by the bride's cake, and festooned with smilax from the chandelier, was surrounded by clusters of American Beauty roses and lilies of the valley.

Mr. and Mrs. Fairlie left later for New York, en route for Florida, where they will spend their honeymoon. Afterwards they will reside in Cobalt. The bride travelled in a very smart costume of blue cashmere over black and white plaid silk, blouse richly embroidered and finished with old lace, her large blue velvet hat was faced in black and trimmed with French roses in pastel shades. With this she wore a long seal coat and black lynx furs. Among the many handsome presents were a cabinet of silver from the company's office staff of the Northern Customs concentrators at Cobalt, a grandfathers clock from the president, and silver tea service a mahogany tray from the members of the Cobalt "Mess."

A HAPPY EVENT.

A Couple Married at Early Hour, Monday.

Two popular young Kingstonians were wedded on Monday morning, when Vincent J. McFadden and Miss Ruth, youngest daughter of the late Matthew and Mrs. M. A. Coyne, were joined in marriage. The ceremony took place, at six o'clock, in St. James' chapel of St. Mary's cathedral, and was performed by Rev. Father Hanley. Only the immediate relatives of both parties were present. The bride looked very handsome in her travelling suit of navy blue lady's broadcloth, with large blue picture hat to match. The groom was supported by Leo Lawless and Miss Katie Coyne was bridesmaid. The bride wore her furs and carried a beautifully bound prayer-book. After the ceremony the guests repaired to the home of the bride's mother, on Division street, where a bountiful breakfast was served. The happy couple left this morning for Toronto and other points where they will spend the next two weeks. On their return to the city they will take up their residence at their new home, on Patrick street, the gift of the groom's father, while it has been completely furnished from top to bottom by the groom's sisters. The young couple also received other handsome and valuable presents from friends in Maine, Michigan, Toronto and Montreal. The groom's present to the groomsman was a pearl tie pin and to the bridesmaid a pearl brooch pin.

The good wishes of a host of friends will follow the newly married couple to their new home. Mr. McFadden is a well-known cabmen and is very popular.

Englishmen in London, Ont., are planning the erection of a suitable memorial to his late majesty, King Edward the Peacemaker.

REVIVAL OF PALMISTRY.

Sciences Akin to it Are Also Sweeping Europe.

Palmistry and other sciences akin to it are sweeping Europe in a vast revival. Writing with immense appreciation and sympathy in the Nachrichten the other day an observer of the work of the flying man referrred to "La jeunesse qui sait mourir." In strange opposition to such brave recognition of the advance of science are table-turning, casting of horoscopes, talking tablets, study of handwriting, for character and for indications of future events, belief in the power of the evil eye, the constant use of mascots and other devices reminiscent of the days of black magic. Throughout Europe the Catholic church made an endeavor to cast aside these practices, yet German woman regularly consult soothsayers.

IMPROVING THE CAMERA.

German Invention Prevents Waste of Plates.

A new German camera comprises a number of new features. When the box is opened the lens spring instantly to universal focus and the camera is ready for an exposure. The plate drops down from the magazine before the shutter moves and is returned to the magazine again after exposure.

The plates are numbered automatically as they are exposed, so that they can be identified during development and afterward, and there is no danger of developing an unexpected plate, nor can plates be wasted by forgetting to expose or unintentionally drawing the slide when the lens is uncovered. Furthermore, if the operator has forgotten to wind the shutter or draw the slide, the camera becomes inoperative until these are attended to.—Popular Mechanics.

CUT OFF 11,000 QUEUES.

Wealthy Elders Start the Hair Flying to Music.

Hong Kong has just witnessed a remarkable queue-cutting demonstration. Six wealthy elders, the aggregate of whose ages is forty-nine years, set an example to their fellows on the platform of the Chinese Club, while an Indian military band played selections from Gilbert and Sullivan operas. Hundreds of other men followed their lead. The promoters of the movement had effectively cited the case of an elder who was killed when his queue became entangled in some machinery.

The movement has become so widespread that in Hong Kong alone within three days 11,000 men voluntarily discarded their queues. No change in the national costume is contemplated.

She was once a member of one of Toronto's best known families.

A Captured Treasure Ship.

Pall Mall Gazette.

Just 148 years ago the largest bulk of treasure ever taken from a ship at sea was brought into London. It was the whole cargo of the Spanish ship Hermione, captured on May 21st, by H.M.S. Active. The Hermione surrendered to the Active without an action, and the treasure was landed at Portsmouth and conveyed to London in twenty decorated waggons with British colors over Spanish and an escort of sailors. The strange procession reached London on August 12th, the day on which King George IV was born. On being sold the treasure realized £519,765 s7. 6d., and the share of the officers and men of the Active was as follows: The captain, £65,053 13s. 9d.; three commanders, each, £1,806 1s.; twenty petty officers, each, £1,806 1s.; commissioned officers, each, £13,004 14s.; 158 seamen, each, £185 5s. 4d.

Canadians Wakening Up.

Montreal Herald.

William E. Carson, an American writer and traveller, who recently arrived in New York, after investigating emigration conditions in Europe, has been saying things that make the Washington authorities very uncomfortable. He points to the fact that the United States have no commercial agencies in Great Britain, Germany, Holland, Sweden, Norway or Denmark, while all the British countries are flooding Europe with literature, pictures, and specimens of agricultural and mineral products. Mr. Carson was himself a guest of a band waggon which rode through certain parts of England stopping at all the villages and distributing pamphlets headed, "Canada is God's Country; Come and Live With Us." Then when he got over to St. John, N.B., and Montreal, he found the boards of trade busy with their publicity media, working for prospective settlers. Stretched across the railway at Winnipeg he found a banner with a device that caused him to rub his eyes to make sure they were not deceiving him. It asked, "Why live in the desert of Montana when you can live in the midst of civilization and plenty in Canada?"

The Pension Account Swells.

Manitoba Free Press.

The regular pension bill now before the United States congress carries $153,014,000, and the bill increasing the pensions of veterans over sixty-two years of age, which has been reported upon favorably by the pensions committee of the house, will bring the total appropriation to nearly $200,000,000. It is thought likely, however, that when congress passes the latter measure, President Taft may have the courage to veto it. Years ago authoritative statements used to be issued showing how the total expenditure for pensions in the United States could not go beyond this amount or that as a fixed maximum. But all those various fixed limits, based on the mortality tables, have been long since left far behind. Unless President Taft exercises his veto power, the pensions expenditure this year, fifty years after South Carolina seceded, will amount to previously unheard-of limits.
