Easy and Practical Suggestions FOR THE HOME DRESSMAKER

Polka-dotted crepe de chine is used with plain satin to make this dress. There are many other combinations, however, that are just as effective. When made as illustrated, size 16 requires 2 yards of figured crepe de chine at $2.50 a yard, and 4 yards of plain satin, 36 inches wide, at $1.50 a yard and ¾ yard of all-over lace, 18 inches wide.

VERY DAINTY FROCK.

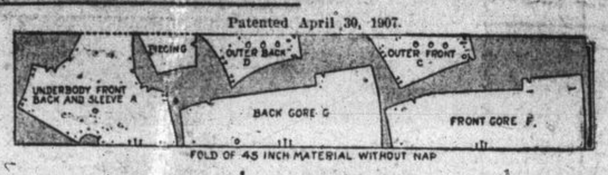
An opportunity is afforded to introduce a lace tunic in the event of light colored satin being used for the model. The tunic is a part of the skirt, being cut in two pieces. Sometimes instead of all over lace being employed for the vest, embroidered net is used, and the effect is unusually pretty. Nothing consorts better with crepe de chine than does heavy embroidery, the bolder the design, the better. Floral effects, however, are extremely fashionable just now.

Face the underbody from neck edge to double "oo" perforations for yoke, as the first step in maqking the waist. Close under-arm and sleeve seams as notched, gather lower edge of front and back between double "TT" perforations. Sew stay to gathered edge, centers even, small "o" perforation at under-arm seam. Sew collar to neck edge as notched. Close shoulder seam of outer front and back: plait, creasing on slot perforations, lap to small "o" perforations and tack. Gather lower edges between double "TT" perforations. Arrange on underbody front and back, centers even (double "oo" perforations indicate center-front, single small "o" perforations, center-back) stitch lower edges together bringing lower side edges together at under-arm seam. Bring single large "O" perforations at shoulder in underbody and in outside together and tack.

Now, slash the skirt down the fold at center-back to large "O" perforation for opening. Join gores as notched, plait extension, creasing on slot perforations, lap to small "o" perforations and press. Sew to lower edge of waist over stay, centers even. Close back seam of tunic from large "O" perforation to lower edge; finish edges for opening. To plait, crease on slot perforations, lap to corresponding small "o" perforations and press, or small "o" perforations and press, or, omit plaits and gather entire upper edge. Adjust to position on skirt, centers and upper edges even; if gathered, bring large "O" perforation to side seam.

Another new and pretty way to develop this frock is to have the blouse and tunic of cluny or Venic lace, combined with one of the heavier qualities of Valenciennes.

A model for young women depicting the latest ideas from Paris. It is carried out in self-figured crepe de chine and satin, but other materials may be combined in like manner with splendid results.



No. 5454. Sizes 14, 16, 18 and 20 years.

MOTHER ! IS CHILD'S STOMACH, SOUR, SICK?

If Tongue is Coated or If Cross, Feverish, Constipated, Give "California Syrup of Figs."

Don't scold your fretful, peevish child. See if tongue is coated; this is a sure sign its little stomach, liver and bowels are clogged with sour waste.

When listless, pale, feverish, full of cold, breath bad, throat sore, doesn't eat, sleep or act naturally, has stomach-ache, indigestion, diarrhoea, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the foul waste, the sour bile and fermenting food passes out of the bowels and you have a well and playful child again. Children love this harmless "fruit laxative," and mothers can rest easy after giving it, because it never fails to make their little "insides" clean and sweet.

Keep it handy, Mother! A little given to-day saves a sick child tomorrow, but get the genuine. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly on the bottle. Remember there are counterfeits sold here, so surely look and see that yours is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company." Hand back with contempt any other fig syrup.
