WIRELESS MYSTERY OUT.

Plant At Maine Can Receive Direct From Germany.

Boston, Mass., Jan. 14.—The Evening Traveller has the following special dispatch from Portland, Maine;

That the big wireless station at Nasion's corner, in the Deering section, is owned by a German company, with headquarters at Hanover, Germany, and that it can receive messages direct from Germany, became known yesterday. E. E. Mayer, an official of the company here, said today that the same company is conducting the Tuckerton, N.J., station.

Mystery has surrounded the erection of this wireless station, which was completed about two weeks ago. Men connected with it, refusing to talk at first, finally admitted it was connected with the Tuckerton Station. United States officials simply said that "the station is under supervision." Lieutenant F. S. Hatch, of the United States Navy, is here to act as official supervisor.

The station will be in operation receiving messages from Germany in about two weeks. It receives only. It is one of the three biggest wireless stations in this country and the first, it is said, to demonstrate in practical use that lower towers are as efficient as high aerials in receiving wireless messages. Many experimental messages already have been received.

Andrew Bellamy, Carleton Place, suffered an accident last week which involved a narrow escape of his life. While splitting wood in his shed the axe slipped and cut a deep gash in his foot, severing an artery.

A wedding was solemnized at Deseronto on New Year's day when Mabel Florence, Irvine, was joined in wedlock to Maurice Rosenburgh, Peterboro.

William Donaldson, Deseronto, died on Monday from diabetes and grippe. He was aged 54 years. A wife, a son and a daughter survive.

Over 11,000 men have been recruited in Toronto since August.

Merrickville is pressing for a night telephone service.

SQUADRON COMMANDER PREDICTS BIG RAID.

Says Defences of London Are Not Adequate—He Has Resigned.

London, Jan. 14.—The London Daily Mail gives prominence this morning to an article signed by Squadron Commander Billing, who says he resigned his commission in the naval air service for the purpose of advocating more efficient defence of London against impending air raids.

The writer asserts that the Germans are actively preparing for a raid on a most extensive death-dealing scale, compared with which all the previous raids were child's play.

"Contrary to the general belief," he says, "it is not Zeppelins alone that this country will have to meet. Germany is completing large numbers of bomb-dropping aeroplanes capable of carrying big loads of missiles enormous distances. These obviously are intended to be used against England, and probably against London."

The writer asks: "Has the Government taken steps to meet this peril?" and answers his question by saying:

"The aerial defence of London has been neglected from the outset."

SEEK TO UPSET WILL.

Contend That Ingersoll Has No Right To Estate For Hospital.

Woodstock, Jan. 14.—About $18,000 in involved in a writ that was today issued by Montalieu Nesbit of this city on behalf of the heirs of the estate of the late Dr. Carroll, Ingersoll, against the town of Ingersoll and J. L. Patterson, executor of the estate.

A declaration is asked for that the deceased died intestate as to certain portions of the estate. This portion of the estate was bequeathed to Ingersoll for the purpose of a Protestant hospital, but the heirs are claiming the estate, declaring that the corporation has no right to the share. One contention set up is that under the municipal act the town of Ingersoll has no power to run a hospital, and therefore, the heirs seek to upset the will and to secure their share of the property.

The King's hurried return from the Italian frontier after an eight months' absence from Rome was caused by alarming reports of the progress of the Austrian invasion.

LATE DR. A. M. STEWART.

Who Edited Scottish-American For Over Fifty Years.

Toronto, Jan. 14.—William Campbell of this city is in receipt of a message from Mr. Robert C. Auld of New York, announcing the sudden death of Dr. A. M. Stewart, editor and proprietor of The Scottish American. The news of Dr. Stewart's death will cause general regret throughout Canada and the United States. The journal has a wide circulation in the Dominion, and the genial and kindly proprietor has many warm friends in this country, especially in Toronto and Montreal. Dr. Stewart was married to Miss Ogilvie of Montreal, who predeceased him. The Scottish-American has been published for about 60 years, and Dr. Stewart piloted the paper through the past fifty years of its history. He was a veteran in journalism, having passed his eightieth year. His birthplace in Scotland is given as Cambus and the date of birth as March 5th, 1837. The body will be taken to Montreal for burial beside that of his wife.
