What the Press Agents Say About Coming Attractions

"THE LURE" ON MONDAY

The Arlie Marks Players will inaugurate the second week of their engagement at The Grand Opera House with one of the strongest plays in their repertoire, Bayard Veiller's classics of the seamy side of life entitled "The Lure," When this piece was first produced in New York is created a veritable force and other Broadway managers scrambled to playwrights with commissions to write a play of the same type.

Many were written but a few lasted, but "The Lure" is as popular today as when first produced and remains the best play of its type ever written. Mr. Lindsay E. Perrin manager of this popular company has secured the sole producing rights for Canada and has given it a pretentious mounting. The popular little star, Arlie Marks, has another part which widely at variance with any she has appeared in during the company's engagement is one to which she is perfectly fitted and as Molly Crane, the little lost sister she brings a world of sympathy and emotion undreamed of by those who have seen her only in comedy roles. "The Lure," is more than a play it is an education of that part of life with which few in the smaller cities are familiar. Every member of the cast has an exceptionally good role and the company will undoubtedly score heavily in this play. Entirely new vaudeville will be presented between the acts.

ODD TWISTS IN NEW PHOTOPLAY

Perfect Acting by Irene Rich and Monte Blue in "Flaming Passion."

We don't know who Kathleen Norris had in mind when she described the characters of Lucretia Lombard and Stephen Winship in her recent best seller, "Flaming Passion" who they were that inspired her to write that wonderful story, but it seems to us that the story was woven around and especially for Irene Rich as Lucretia and Monte Blue as Stephen.

The picture opens at the Capitol thea tre Monday for three days and takes the remarkable word pictures of the author and infuses them with life and animation, with its vivid scenes of the outdoors, the story with its unusual twist, and the inimitable characterization of the players. It is a picture that everyone will enjoy immensely and we recommend it without reserve.

In a series of scenes showing a forest fire in the Catskills, a great conflagration, so realistic and vivid that one can almost smell the pungent smoke as it rises from the green leaves and hear the hissing and crackling as the fire spreads and spreads, the spectator watches the heroic and self-sacrificing efforts of a woman, Lucretia, to save another, her rival in love, Mimi The story is one of self-sacrifice and filial devotion. A beautiful young girl marries a man much older than she, whom she could never love, but it pleases the mother and satisfies her ambitions for her daughter to marry a title.

A young man, the serious, ambitious, and conscientious district attorney marries a girl he does not love, but he satisfies the dying wish of his father.

After seven years of bondage the first woman, Lucretia Lombard, is freed by the death of her husband from an overdose of an opiate. Then she meets the young district attorney, Stephen Winship, and they immediately know that they love each other. But Stephen is married to Mimi.

Supporting Monte Blue and Irene Rich are Marc McDermott, Alec B. Francis.

"THE HUNCHBACK OF NOTRE DAME"

Coming to Kingston Four Days of Next Week.

If Victor Hugo could but return to the world for one single night there is little doubt that he would gasp in amazement at the magnificence of the Universal production, "The Hunchback of Notre Dame", adapted from his greatest masterpiece. Each tiny detail of the book and of the period was studied for months and faithfully reproduced on the screen. The hardened critics of New York united as one man in declaring that here at last "was the quintescence of perfection in screen art."

Kingston is eagerly waiting the advent of the production at the Capitol Theatre for three days starting Thursday, March 27th, The fame of this wonder picture reached here a few days after its opening at the Astor Theatre in New York City and there was general pleasure expressed when it was learned that Manager Smithies had 'scooped' all opposition and landed the production for this city.

Lon Chaney is the star of the production. He is supported by a brilliant cast including Ernest Torrence, Patsy Ruth Miller, Tully Marshall, Norman Kerry and 3,275 extra players. The entire cathedral of Notre Dame was reconstructed especially for this production as were eight blocks of Parisian streets and houses of the time of Louis XI, Although this production has been playing in other theatres at $1.50 prices it will be shown at the Capitol at 50c with a few reserved seats at 75c.

NEW PHOTOPLAY IS VIOLA DANA'S BEST

"Her Fatal Millions," Viola Dana's newest starring vehicle, and one of the most charming and amusing photoplays of the year, is coming to the Strand Theatre on Monday. Miss Dana calls it the best picture she has ever made and that statement has aroused the highest delights of anticipation among the followers of this tiny, vivacious comedienne.

And this photoplay can well be awaited with keen interest because, according to advance reports, it is the highest type of wholesome, rollicking comedy, spiced with dramatic thrills and surprises.

The story is concerned with a girl who "borrowed" jewels, furs and a limousine (without the knowledge of the "lenders") in order to meet an old sweetheart on his own level. Mary even told Fred that she was the wife of the richest man in town. So when her "borrowed" limousine is wrecked, Fred naturally takes her to her "husband's" home. That's only the beginning of a series of amusing and surprising complications. And the methods Mary uses to untangle herself are screamingly funny.

Case Company Offer Stimulation to Baseball in Smaller Villages.

An incentive to baseball teams of the smaller and less experienced centres of Lennox and Addington, Frontenac and Leeds Counties is offered by the J. I. Case Threshing Machine Company, Toronto, through their district representative, E. C. Smith, 199 Colborne street, Kingston.

Mr. Smith points out that most of the villages cannot compete successfully against Sydenham, Verona and such teams and suggests a secondary or intermediate classification of other villages, to be formed at once and started under way. He guarantees a suitable trophy for competition. The matter is not limited to any county—the more the merrier. It is now up to the various centres wishing to enter to get organized or to write to Mr. Smith signifying their willingness to get in such a league.

ARLIE MARKS COMPANY

Is Receiving Good Patronage at the Grand

The large audience which was present at the Grand Opera House on Friday evening was kept in roars of laughter when the Arlie Marks Stock company presented for the first time in Kingston "The Marriage of Betsy." It is a Hick Town rural comedy and is crammed full of laughs. The play is presented in four acts.

The vaudeville acts between the acts were of a high order. Clarence Kane put on a fine singing act. The other vaudeville numbers were given by Carruth and Logan, DeLuna and AdDel and W. L. Philips.

Lindsay E. Perrin, manager of the show, announced that commencing on Monday next the company would present for two days "The Lure." On Wednesday and Thursday the company will play the "Brat." Miss Arlie Marks was leading lady in this production when it travelled in the United States a short time ago.

"The Marriage of Betsy" will be presented at the Grand this evening for the last time.

TO AGAIN GO OVER FALLS IN A BARREL

Bobby Leach Preparing to Navigate the Horseshoe Falls at Niagara.

Niagara Falls, March 22.—Bobby Leach, who successfully navigated Horseshoe Falls in a barrel twelve years ago, is planning to repeat this summer, but this time will use a specially constructed rubber ball. The ball, Mr. Leach says, will be of a thickness of an automobile tire. Inside will be a hammock in which Leach will recline. Straps will be attached to the inside of the ball, by which he will hold on when it is going down the rapids and over the falls. Leach expects that the ball will clear the falls and land safely in the river below.

TOWNSHIP TO PAY FOR THEIR OWN POOR

County Council Orders a Change—Object to Paying $6 a Week.

The county council on Saturday morning decided that in future the cost of the poor of the county, who at the present time are confined to the Home for the Aged and the House of Providence, will be paid by the townships of which the people were former residents. For some years the cost has been paid by the county at large. This will mean a great saving to the county. The new regulation will go into effect on May 1st. The council also decided to notify the doctors, who attend the county people in these homes that their services will not be required after May 1st. The new regulation will go into effect on the first of May.

The councillors took strong objection to paying at the new rate of $6 a week which the secretary of the Home for the Aged had notified the council that the charge would hereafter be.

There was great excitement in the council on Saturday morning when C. J. Graham, reeve of the township of Kingston, tried to claim that a cheque which had been sent to the county treasurer from the shareholders of the toll gate company, was the property of the township of Kingston. After some explanation, it was shown that the cheque should go to the county council.

The council adjourned to meet on Tuesday, June 3rd, at four o'clock.

ARDEN TAX COLLECTOR CHARGES ASSAULT

County Magistrate Bradshaw to Hear the Case on Wednesday Next.

Arden, March 22.—On Wednesday, March 26th, County Magistrate Bradshaw will come to Arden for the purpose of holding court. Charles Barker, Cecil Barker and Edward Barker, three brothers, will appear to answer to the charge of doing grievous bodily harm to Ross Barr. According to the information given out, Barr claims that he was assaulted by the Barker brothers on the evening of March 14th. Barr, who is the tax collector, is supposed to have been struck in the face with a stone and then knocked down and kicked. It is alleged that on a couple of occasions he had spoken to one of the Barkers about paying a tax bill. The township council instructed the tax collector to get the money in on a certain day. On the day in question, Barker, it is claimed, handed over the money to a party who was acting for the tax collector who was absent in the country making other collections. When Mr. Barr returned to the village he was standing in one of the stores and was asked to go out on the street by one of the Barker brothers. It is alleged that the assault was committed when Barr went out on the street. Dr. O'Connor, Tamworth, was called to attend to Mr. Barr's injuries and advised him to stay in the house for some time. Mr. Barr is the mail carrier between Tamworth and Arden.

Montreal, March 22.—Arrangements having now been completed for the establishment of stations in five cities in western Canada, there remains only Vancouver to complete the transcontinental chain of radio stations that will make the Canadian National Railways operator of the greatest chain of non-commercial radio broadcasting stations in the world. Advices have been received at general headquarters in Montreal from W. R. Swift, radio engineer of the National system, that he has completed all arrangements for the establishment of stations in Winnipeg, Saskatoon, Regina, Edmonton and Calgary.

BOBBED BANDIT CAUGHT.

Is Wife of Guimares of Dot Keenan Murder Notoriety.

New York, March 22.—Identification of a bobbed-haired young woman who was captured after an alleged attempt to hold up a Manhattan tailor shot as the wife of Albert Guimares, friend of Dorothy Keenan, who was murdered a year ago, was announced by the police. The woman was arrested after a man companion had escaped. Guimares is serving a three-year sentence in federal prison at Atlanta for using the mails to defraud. The girl bandit wore an expensive sable coat, similar to one worn by the woman who has terrorized Brooklyn shopkeepers in the past few months with her banditry activities, and detectives compared the coat with the description of one stolen from the apartment of Dot Keenan the day she was murdered.
