[illegible] and the friends who receive [illegible] from mutual friend has for each [illegible] and they may feel assured, that the Church Government will not duly its hands with any of them, it they will only be careful to keep out of its reach.

[illegible] more Plate. The Albion of the month [illegible] embellished by a noble engraving of Abbotsford Castle, the principal residence of Walter Scott, Esq. It is a picture which is of itself worth a week's subscription price of the excellent paper in which it appears; but as we have repeatedly taken occasion to say, the Albion is one of the best foreign papers ever established in a country in which its [illegible] is an [illegible]. It is conducted with unbiassing loyalty towards the Government and people of the country in which it is published, at the same time that it maintains a steady leaning to its native sentiments. The literary and miscellaneous character of the paper is as it always has been, of a superior [illegible].—[N. Y. Courier & Enquirer.

MONUMENT TO LORD SYDENHAM.

The remains of that illustrious statesman are deposited in Kingston. In that City we hope a Monument will be erected to perpetuate his memory. The Toronto Patriot has uniformly opposed the lamented Governor's policy, but the editor of that journal has buried party feelings in the grave that contains the dust of Lord Sydenham, he speaks favorably of such an undertaking. We would embrace this opportunity to jog the memory of the Committee appointed to superintend the rebuilding of Brock's Monument. In its present state, the wreck of the old Monument is a standing advertisement of the negligence of those who have the management of that business.—[Niagara Reporter.

FIRE.

Unfortunate Calamity.—About three o'clock on the morning of Friday last, our townspeople were alarmed by the cry of fire, which was found to proceed from the Mills of John Haggart, Esq. in the vicinity of the town. We learn the fire originated in the wooden building containing the Carding Machine with the apparatus for making oat meal and barley. In consequence of the quantity of oil about the Carding department, the flames spread very rapidly, and soon extended themselves to the large three story Grist Mill immediately along side, when the inflammable part of both buildings was consumed. By very great exertions a fine Saw Mill was saved, as well as a large quantity of boards, together with flour, wheat, barrels, tools, &c, from the Grist mill. The mill stones, and bolt cloth, very costly articles, were lost out. Mr. Haggart's loss is undoubtedly great, and has happened at a very bad season of the year.

We have had occasion heretofore to regret the want of fire engine, hooks and ladders, and formation of an efficient company. There is little doubt but that the grist mill could have been saved with their assistance. We feel consequently a pleasure in stating, that a subscription list is now in circulation, and that the prospects of the town being supplied with these articles, are favourable.—[Perth Courier September, 5th.

MELANCHOLY ACCIDENT.

On Saturday last, Mr. Donald Campbell, a farmer in Elmsley, met with a sudden end, by falling a tree. It appears he in company with his son had been in quest of timber, and on the way home found a tree which answered their purpose, and in falling it by some unaccountable circumstance, the father can exactly tell the spot upon which the tree fell, it taking [illegible] afterwards.—[Perth Courier.

Murder in St. Catharines.—A coroner's Inquest was held, on Sunday last, over the body of a young colored man, named William Brown; who was found dead, or nearly so, on the night previous, in one of the most public streets of our village. The circumstances of this shocking affair, are as follow: it appears a rumor got in circulation, that a colored man was married, or about to marry a white girl, which so aroused the indignation of a certain class of our population, (many of whom are transient persons,) that they determined to get up a charivarie, on the occasion, and some of them even threatened personal violence. On arriving at the house where a wedding was said to have been held, the party discovered that there was no foundation whatever for the report alluded to, when they retired; and in passing down the street, then disappointed in their expected game, they met the deceased, on horseback, who had just come into town, from the 10 mile creek, and on his way to the tavern, to put up his horse. Some one of the party threw a large stone, which struck him on the head, and caused almost immediate death. After a long and patient investigation, the Jury were unable to indentify the guilty individual, and accordingly returned a verdict to that effect.—[St. Catharines Journal.

Under Sailing Orders.—The British armed steamships Minos and Toronto, both passed up the lake early this morning in advance of the large fleet which left our port. Their course lay towards Point Gibson, and long after their hulls were hidden from observation, the black vapor from their smoke pipes was visible rising from the inlet above Point Abino.—[Buffalo Com.

GOD SEEN IN ALL HIS WORKS.

In that beautiful part of Germany which borders on the Rhine, there is a noble castle, which, as you travel on the western banks of the river, you may see lifting its ancient towers on the opposite side, above the grove of trees about as old as itself. About forty years ago there lived at that castle a noble gentleman, who we shall call Baron ———. The Baron had only one son, who was not only a comfort to his father, but was a blessing to all who lived on his father's farm.

It happened on a certain occasion, that this young man being from home there came a French gentleman to see the Baron. As soon as this gentleman came into the castle he began to talk of his Heavenly Father in terms that chilled the old man's blood: on which the old man reproved him, saying, "are you not afraid of offending God who reigns above, by speaking in such a manner?" The gentleman said he knew nothing about God, for he never saw him. The Baron did not notice at this time what the gentleman said, but the next morning took him about the castle and grounds, and took occasion first to show him a very beautiful picture that hung on the wall. The gentleman admired the picture very much; and said, "Whoever drew this picture, knows very well how to use his pencil."

"My son drew this picture," said the Baron.

"Then your son must be a very clever man," replied the gentleman.

The Baron then went with his visitor into the garden, and showed him many beautiful flowers and fruit trees.

"Who has the order of this garden?" asked the gentleman.

"My son," replied the Baron, "he knows every plant, I may say, from the cedar of Lebanon, to the hyssop on the wall."

"Indeed," said the gentleman. "I shall think very highly of him soon."

The Baron then took him into the village and showed him a small neat cottage, where his son had established a school, and where he caused all young children who had lost their parents to be received and nourished at his own expence. The children in the house looked so innocent and happy, that the gentleman was very much pleased, and he returned to the castle, he said to the Baron, "what a happy man you are to have so good a son!"

"How do you know I have so good a son?"

"Because I have seen his works, and I know he must be good and clever if he has done all you have shown me."

"But you have never seen him."

"No, but I know him very well, because I judge of him by his works."

"True," replied the Baron, "and in this way I judge of the character of our Heavenly Father. I know from his works that he is a being of infinite wisdom, and power and goodness."

The Frenchman felt the force of the reproof, and was careful not to offend the good Baron any more by his remarks.

Water rotted Hemp. A joint resolution was passed by the late Congress, directing the Secretary of the Navy to purchase American water-rotted Hemp for the use of the Navy. It is a measure (says the Louisville Journal) of great importance to the hemp-grower. The policy of using American hemp is adopted by the government, and for the term of seven years, and the article will be purchased in the hemp-growing region, probably by the agents of the Navy Department: thus enabling the farmers to find a market at home. Let the hemp-grower look to this matter. It is a magnificent boon, which, after all, few have the enterprise to avail themselves of.

Rumour.—This garrulous old lady will have it that Lord Falkland is to be recalled to fill his former situation in her Majesty's household; and that Sir Francis Bond Head may shortly be expected to assume the reigns of government in Nova Scotia. How would our responsibles like this? The appintment is not yet Gazetted, owing to the incomplete state of the Conservative Ministry at the latest advices, but it is said to be decided upon.—[Halifax Times, September 21.

TRUE SYMPATHY.—A lady's lap dog bit a piece of a visitor's leg, and swallowed it. "Poor dear little thing," exclaimed the tender-hearted mistress, "I hope it will not make him sick."

To Contractors.

TENDERS will be received for the WIDENING and DEEPENING of

THE FEEDER TO THE WELLAND CANAL.

The work will be marked off in Sections of half a mile in length each.

The Tenders, addressed to "the Secretary, Welland Canal Office, St. Catharines," are to state the rate per cubic yard (Halifax currency) for the excavation, which will be found chiefly moor clay and sand, and the number or numbers of the Sections proposed for. They are to be delivered in on or before the 1st day of November next, and must be accompanied by the written consent of two solvent persons, who are willing to become securities for the due performance of the contract. Immediately upon the close of the navigation the water will be run off, by which time it is required, as part of the Contract, that the necessary Shanties and other arrangements for the labourers shall be made, and the Contractors will be strictly bound to keep such a number of men as may be considered by the Engineer necessary to ensure the completion of the work before the re-opening of the navigation.

Any further information required may be obtained at the office of the Board of Works, Kingston, or at the Canal office, St. Catharines.

THE NEW WORLD.

THE Enlarged Quarto Edition of this elegant mammoth weekly has been greatly improved, both in regard to paper, matter, and embellishments—and its conductors are constantly on the alert to procure the assistance of the most talented writers in America and Europe as contributors to its columns. This is the proper season to subscribe for a good Family Newspaper, to amuse and instruct during the long evenings of Fall and Winter. The New World is just the paper to suit every class of readers. Its literary contents, both original and selected, cannot be excelled by any journal in America. The best writers in this country and Europe are engaged as contributors—the best artists in both hemispheres are employed in preparing beautiful embellishments, to ornament its pages, and render still more attractive, by pictorial representations, the various articles which are written or selected for the gratification of its readers. The New World will contain yearly over One Hundred Engravings on Wood, done in the best style of the art—and in all things the most liberal expenditure is promised by the publisher, to maintain its present character as the largest and best periodical in our country.

The well known reputation of its Editor, Park Benjamin, is a guarantee for the ability with which the New World is conducted, as is evinced by the unparalleled success which has been awarded to it by the public. The circulation is now nearly Twenty-Five Thousand copies weekly, and it is doubtless the most prosperous newspaper establishment in America, though not yet two years since the issue of the first number. The Quarto Edition is now on its third half yearly volume, and its circulation is 14,000.

The Editor announces the association with him, of Donald MacLeod, Esq., a gentleman well known in the United States. He was one of the original editors of the New York Daily Times, and for two years editor of the Washington Madisonian. Mr. MacLeod sailed in the Acadia, Aug. 16, for London, as bearer of dispatches to the American Minister, and has taken up his residence in that great metropolis of the World, and will conduct our Foreign Correspondence, make selections from new and popular works, engage contributors of eminent reputation, write comments on the state of affairs abroad—and, in short, do all that behoves an editor of the New World resident in the Grand Metropolis of Art, Science and Literature.

The splendid story of Military Life entitled "Charles O'Malley, the Irish Dragoon," giving a vivid description of the Peninsular War under Wellington, during the occupation of Spain and Portugal by the French, is in course of publication in the New World, (the proof sheets of which are obtained in advance by purchase of the author's publishers,) and is without question the most humorous, graphic and popular novel of the day, and which no one can read except with intense interest and delight.

The subscription price is $3 a year, for which an immense quantity of reading is furnished. The Quarto contains 16 pages of four columns each, and is in a form well adapted for binding and preservation. Letters, post paid, must be addressed to the publisher, J. Winchester, 30 Ann st., N. Y.

"OPENING OF THE WAR!!!"

POVERTY AND MISFORTUNE AVAUNT!!!

SYLVESTER opens the Winter Campaign with a flourish of Trumpets. The Capital Prize sold by him of $25,000, in the Union Lottery, Class 8, drawn Sept. 25th, leads the van. Look what is to follow in November:

THE GREAT UNION, drawn on 20th, CAPITAL —$50,000!

THE VIRGINIA, drawn on the 28th, CAPITAL —40,000!

And 3 Virginia and Maryland Lotteries, each with Capitals of $35,000, $30,000, &c. &c.

The fallacious financiering by Fiscal or any other Banks is rendered more notorious every month by comparison with SYLVESTER'S System of Distribution. The whole community have a common interest in his success, and those who have not yet received advantage from it, must, in due course, have their turn. "Run with the stream," is an old adage. The stream is in favor of SYLVESTER, who for the last 18 years, has, in good or evil times, remained steadily at his post, paying out Millions of Dollars to that public whose patronage will ever command his zeal and assiduity.

Again SYLVESTER begs to submit his brilliant programme for the ensuing month, and once again tender a general apology to such of his correspondents that were disappointed in the Union of last month. It is inevitable when applications are not made without delay.

Apply then immediately to
