PREDICTIONS.

"Coming Events cast their Shadows before."

JULY.

The progress of events leads us to anticipate a favorable consummation of the negociations pending with Lord Ashburton, and our information from head quarters warrant our opinion that all the questions at issue will be satisfactorily adjusted.

The Banks at New Orleans have all resumed specie payments. Virginia, Kentucky and Indiana are arming themselves and will doubtless speedily follow suit—and such States as continue under suspension will be driven by loss of trade and credit to regulate their currency on a specie basis. We have all along predicted the result and now we further predict that notwithstanding the favorable features we represent, that in consequence of the large amount of the currency taken out of circulation and absorbed altogether by the late revulsion—and of the Banks every where being now obliged to limit their accommodations and keep themselves well guarded—together with all hope of aid from legislative action at Washington being abandoned this Session--that unless there be a legitimate infusion in the floating currency, that we have yet but little animation in business to anticipate—and that infusion must be on Sylvester's plan only, and if acted on as he proposes we shall have old fashioned times and old fashioned business.

To the point then: Two millions of Dollars will be drawn for in July, in capitals of Forty Thousand Dollars to Five Thousand Dollars, and the adventure can be any amount convenient, which has only to be enclosed and forwarded per mail to the oldest established office in the city of New York, where the strictest and most punctual attention to instructions can be confidently relied upon. The following brilliant and favorable Lotteries are respectfully submitted, and you are advised to lose no time in forwarding your orders to
