

MONROE C. SMITH, which struck WILLIAM E. REIS in 1907, is seen in a Buffalo Dry Dock Co. photo dated August 16, 1919.

WILLIAM E. REIS lies sunk in the St. Clair River after her November 1, 1907 collision near Algonac. The wrecker T. W. SNOOK is assisting.

This very rare view of JOHN J. BOLAND JR., laid up at Toronto Elevators, was taken c. 1931 by J. H. Bascom.
