Paris, August 10.—The Emperor Napoleon on his return from Plombieres, stopped a short time at Troyes, the capital of the department of Aube, where he was received with great enthusiasm by the people. The Mayor, at the head of the members of the Municipal Government, waited on his Majesty at the depot, and presented an address of welcome. The Emperor replied, thanking the Mayor, the municipality and the people for their warm demonstrations of adhesion. He expressed a hope that no unforeseen event would arise to disturb the peaceful progress of trade and agriculture, and concluded with the invocation, "God protect France." The Emperor's speech was received with prolonged cheers, and repeated cries of "Vive l'Empereur.

New York Press Despatches.

New York, Aug. 11.—Precautions have been taken by the Board of Health in regard to the cattle disease, which will probably prevent the introduction of diseased cattle on the New York markets. The Board interviewed the Communipau abattoir in company with Governor Ward, of New Jersey, and obtained thirty-one specimens of the diseased parts which are to be microscopically examined.

The steamships Russia, Ville de Paris and Canada, from Europe have arrived.

Some men have been committed for trial at Portagal assizes for the attack on a number of Tamworth Orangemen on the 12th

The Provincial Temperance Convention went into session at Cleveland on Wednesday, the same day that 100 barrels of whiskey were taken from a distillery in that city, and the Herald will have to show that the circumstances are no way connected.

The Montreal Chronicle says the Government steamer Napoleon III. left here this morning for Quebec, having on board Sir John A. Macdonald, Sir G. E. Cartier, and the Hon. Messrs. McDougall and Howland. These gentlemen will return by the steamer.

The wheat crop in the south of England will, it is expected, be one of the finest ever known, on account of the quantity of sunlight to which it has been exposed.

The Railway Passengers' Insurance company have closed their agencies in Canada, their business in this country not being such as to be worth depositing the necessary guarantee of $100,000 with the government.

La Canada, of Ottawa, says that a number of bears, probably driven away from their retreats by the large fires raging in the woods of the Gatineau district, have been seen on the shores of the river, and have greatly scared the people around, who, themselves much endangered by the devouring element, fear to become a prey of these wild animals.

The ladies in London are guilty of queer vagaries, if we may believe a correspondent, who says he saw a lady in Rotten Row the other day with a mound of hair on her head full two feet high, and not a hair of it natural. He says the ladies generally are dressing their heads in that way.

A practical evidence of the advancement of the woman's rights doctrine took place in England lately. At a political meeting in London to make arrangements for the approaching general elections, a Mac Law delivered a speech from the platform. She said she stood there as the representatives of one hundred thousand seamstresses of London, who earned one shilling per day, and of another fifty thousand who earned sixpence per day.

The Charlottetown Star of the 20th ult. says that thus far this season the catch of mackerel along the shores of Prince Edward's Island and in the Bay of St. Lawrence generally, has been unusually small, and that the intelligence received points to the fact that unless unusual good fares are brought in later in the season, the catch of mackerel for 1868 will be much below the average.

Havana is now enjoying the unusual spectacle of "a beggar on horseback." A poor tatterdemalion has just won the bewildering sum of $100,000 in the lottery of that city; so that now belonging to the equestrian order he will go very fast, and as far as the good old proverb indicates. But the journey need not carry him beyond the suburbs of Havana, a capital that presents several broad open roads for the exercise in question.

The most delicious and sustaining beverage that can be drunk this weather is good strong tea cooled down with lumps of ice. It should be only slightly sweetened, without milk, and flavoured with a few slices of lemon, which are infused at the time the tea is first made. A jug of this ready at hand would suit the complaint of many of our readers to a T whilst the thermometer remains where it is and has been of late.—Medical Times and Gazette.

The Ottawa Citizen says: We were yesterday shown the blade of a French cut and thrust sword, dating back to the time of Champlain, which was found near the old Indian burying ground, in Hull, some three or four feet beneath the surface of the sand. It is greatly corroded, but evidently bears all the characters of a Rapier, even to its cutting edge and point. It has been presented to Doctor Van Cortlandt, who has been indefatigable in his Archæological researches, and has one of the best collections in the Province.

Some little people get into office on the other side of the herring pond as well as on this. The present Lord Mayor of London, "High Allen," as the old ballads say, has been playing some pranks unworthy of the honourable office to which he has attained by rotation, not election. The London Daily News criticised his performances, and in revenge Lord Mayor Allen snubbed the Daily News by refusing to admit its reporter into the Guildhall during the city reception to General Napier. The Daily News excoriates the dignitary therefore, and irreverently says "the day will be for him a happy one when he lays aside the Lord Mayor's robes and his awful frown for the tradesman's apron and smirk, and exchanges the secret contempt and public compliments of his noble, gallant and right honourable friends for the forgetfulness that such a person as he ever existed." And this to a Lord Mayor of London, who can lock Temple Bar in the face of the Queen of Great Britain.
