THE MYSTERIES AND COURT
SCANDALS.

Spain are proverbially incomble. The banishment of the Duke Montpensier is a thing that any understand on the principle of "no rival near the throne." But taken place at Seville, where the prince was residing! All the employed in the post office there, highest to the lowest, have been by the Bravo Government be-ordered to open the Duke's let-for an atrocious offence! But doomed. We have read of and personal scandals which had influence in bringing about the of the older, and, at a later the younger branch of the Bour-Now, what has just taken place, where a Bourbon reigns!
Duke Sesa, husband of a sister of Queen, returns from the Spanish capital very recently to a number of jewel-he bought from them many valuable He was pretty well known to be poor, but he made a plausible story his son's marriage, and valuable jew-were given to the Duke on credit.
Afterwards the tradesmen heard that these articles were pawned. One them, a Frenchman, waited upon the Duke, and gave her plain notice that if did not get his goods (worth 20,000 francs) back within twenty-four hours, proceedings would be taken. They succeeded, and the lady has obtained a divorce decree, declaring her noble husincompetent to manage his property.
Duke, who had gone off to Valenreturned to Madrid, but he is under prosecution for fraud. So near the throne, considering the general state of mind Spain in respect to the present regime, is significant.
Subject of the conspiracy discovered on board the Spanish frigate Villa Madrid was to embark the exiled Progressists at the Azores, and the generals the Union Liberals at the Canary Islands, with the view of conveying them to some point on the Spanish coast, and there to raise a landing. The energy of the commandant of the frigate frustrated the movement. Admiral Mendez Nunez has tendered his resignation, which has been accepted. All the superior officers of the squadron commanded by him followed his example, and sent in their resignations when they learnt that Senor Belda had resumed the portfolio of Minister of Marine.
Long columns are scouring Catalonia to suppress a rising in the country districts.
It is whispered that Count Bismarck is now convinced of the impossibility of Queen's retaining her crown, that he has induced to look favourably on the idea, said to have been made to him by Baron Ranz, for the transfer of the authority to the Duchess of Mont-pensier. But it is difficult to see how Prussia could in any way influence this arrangement, save by a war with France; and the Novedades considers probable, from a fervent hope that the Prussians will crush the French as soundly as they crushed the Austrians at Sadowa.

The Paris journals state that the population of Paris is threatened with a serious strike, the journeymen bakers, who number about 3,000, have notified to their masters that they will cease working if night employment is not abolished and the number of hands increased.
A shocking tragedy has occurred at Ashton, near the village of Almondsbury, Gloucestershire, and William Harvey, aged [illegible] has lost his life. Three young men, named Henry William Matthews, William Matthews, and Charles Ray, all employed at a warehouse in Bristol, after their establishment was closed on Saturday afternoon went with a velocipede on an excursion to the New Passage. About half-past five o'clock the three men, with the "hobby horse," came along the road, and passed them, some reapers, and the deceased, some chaffing took place, and ultimately angry words passed. The reapers and the deceased followed them along the road. Fighting ensued, and Matthews ran away followed by the deceased, about one hundred yards, when Matthews stabbed deceased with a knife, and he died instantly.
Matthews was apprehended, when he said, "I did not think the knife went into him so far as it did, but he forced himself upon it, and it was his own fault." Prisoner, after committing the fearful act, threw the knife (a common pocket knife, the blade being three inches in length) into the River. Subsequently it was picked up, covered with blood.

EFFECT OF ADVERTISING.—It is amusing at times to observe the stores of the merchants who don't advertise; to see the anxious proprietors looking into the streets and see the people go by, wondering why they don't come in, while the stores of their neighbours who do advertise are thronged with customers. Some people will learn by observation, others will not.—Daily Palladium.
