THURSDAY EVENING, AUGUST 20.

☞ SEE FIRST PAGE.

The report that the negro labourers at the South are joining the Democratic party in large numbers seems to be well established. A Southern journal has just published extracts from the Southern press, which go to show that the process of enrolment in Democratic clubs is going on among the blacks in all the Southern States. Undoubtedly the negro vote will be an important element in the forthcoming Presidential election, and it appears likely that it will be largely cast for the Democratic candidate. Naturally, from its past successes, the Republican side must be looked upon as exceedingly strong; and as a successful military chieftain General Grant is a very eligible candidate; but his prospects of success, so strong at first, are likely to be affected by the Southern vote. This with negro assistance will be strongly Democratic, and the West is also expected to give a heavy vote for Seymour and Blair.

Though the cattle disease which has broken out in the Western States, and has committed great havoc in the localities to which it has been confined, has not spread to the East, or proved so contagious as was at first feared, yet the disease is still viewed as a matter of dire concern, and the strictest precautions are being maintained to prevent its spread. It has been reported that the disease had broken out in Paris, (Ontario), but happily this report proves to have been unfounded, it having originated in a misapprehension as to the nature of a cattle complaint existing there. The prohibition of the importation of American cattle into Canada has given rise to some complaint, because the stoppage affects the interests of the railways in the western peninsula, and it is claimed that the danger of infection among Canadian cattle is exaggerated. It is to be hoped that these representations will have no weight with the authorities until it is fully established that the danger is really passed. A part of the agricultural wealth of Canada might be endangered by an outbreak of rinderpest; and with the losses that have recently occurred in England and Scotland from the cattle plague kept in mind, our people may well be nervously anxious that strong measures should be persisted in to reduce to a minimum the chances for the introduction of the disorder. The Minister of Customs acted with commendable promptitude in issuing the order, and it is to be hoped he will not be deterred by clamour from having it fully carried out.

HE NECROMANCER L. HASELMAYER.—The public should bear in mind that the celebrated Magician L. Haselmayer will give the first of his entertainments in the City Hall to-morrow evening.

MEETING OF THE CITY COUNCIL.—There will be a special meeting of the City Council this evening in the Council Chamber at the usual hour, for the purpose of passing a by-law to impose a tax of one cent and three-eighths of a cent in the dollar for the present year.

TESTIMONIAL.—Policeman Millane has been presented by Dr. Mair with a very handsome clasp Bible "as a token of his heartfelt gratitude to him (Millane) for his prompt, and, with God's blessing, successful effort in saving him from a watery grave on the forenoon of August 9th."

THE NEW RACE COURSE.—On Wednesday parties were engaged surveying and staking out the requisite ground for the new race course. The grading and fencing will be at once proceeded with, and only a short time will be required to accomplish the work. The management has been placed in competent hands, and there will be no unnecessary delay.

CRICKET MATCH.—The return match between the married and single men of the C.C.C., since united to the K.C.C., will come off on the ground to-morrow: wickets to be pitched at one o'clock, sharp. It will be remembered that in the last match the single men were victorious. The benedictines feel able, in the coming match, to show a different result.

PROMPT ARREST.—The chief of police received a telegram on Wednesday evening from Adams, N.Y., requesting the arrest of a young man by the name of Montague, described in the communication, who had been guilty of stealing a sum of money from his brother, amounting to $350. Detective McAuley was at once directed to make a strict search, and this morning succeeded in finding the man in Geraldi's Hotel, Princess Street, and arresting him; so that when the American officer arrived by the first boat on Thursday morning, he found his bird already caged. The young man requested the magistrate to allow him to proceed to the American side with the constable, which request was granted.

The Illustrated London News of August 8th contains engravings of the opening of the Thames embankment, sketches from Brazil, New Zealand, and from the new American acquisition Alaska, with drawings of fine-art objects, etc. It is supplied at Henderson's.

CORRESPONDENCE.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE DAILY NEWS.

SIR: My attention has been directed to an article in your paper of yesterday, in which certain persons are represented as having been "unanimously chosen as delegates to represent the city of Kingston in the Canada Medical Association which meets at Montreal on the 2nd September." My well-known aversion to be connected in any manner with such persons, will, I trust, cause my name to be "unanimously" expunged from the list. Meantime, as no one in Canada, that I am aware of, has, within the last 34 years, exerted himself, in matters medical, more than I have done, I may state, that the PROFESSION of Medicine would in my opinion be far more honourable were every man allowed to style himself "Doctor," and to practise as one, without a licence, than continue to be associated, as it is, under existing Laws, with LICENSED QUACKERY. Men of talent, education and honour, might then combine to practise the Art of the venerated Physician of Cos, by viewing it as the most liberal and honourable of all Professions, and thus be relieved from the disgrace of being classed with trading "Homeopathists," trading "Eclectics," and trading "Allopathists," who reduce medicine to the level of the most degraded of all dishonest trades.

Yours, &c,

JOHN STEWART.

Kingston, 19th August, 1868.

POLICE COURT, Thursday.—The court was occupied the whole of the morning with the investigation of a charge against Garrett Brock, of having burglariously entered the residence of Mrs Annie Chosay, Portsmouth, at 3 o'clock a.m. on Tuesday last. Mr F. Draper appeared for the accused. The complainant deposed that she was a married woman, and resided at Portsmouth, in the house of Mrs Finn, who occupied part of the house. About 3 o'clock on Tuesday morning, while in bed she was awakened by the entrance of some person into her bed-room, and sat up in the bed, and inquired who was there. The prisoner appeared, who at first she could not clearly recognize, and answered "a friend." She then asked what he wanted there, and how he came into the house. The prisoner said, "keep quiet," that he came into the house through the door. Complainant knew the door had been locked, and asked who he was, and repeated the question as to his business there. Complainant awakened her brother who was lying near by, her husband not being at home, who called prisoner by name. The prisoner said, yes, it was him, and he had come there to see Mrs Finn to warn her that her two daughters were going to run away. The prisoner bent his elbows upon the bed while talking to complainant, and entered into an explanation relative to his business with Mrs Finn, who, he said, he expected to find there; he said he did not wish to insult her, nor did he offer to do so. Complainant knows Mrs Finn and her two daughters, who occupy a part of the same house as complainant. The prisoner offered to leave money with the complainant for the girls. Complainant said what would her husband, or father, or anyone else say, should they see a man leaving the house at so early an hour; and told her brother to look round outside and see if there was any one near when prisoner left The prisoner remained three-quarters of an hour in complainant's room, but did not offer to insult her. Prisoner, to have arrived at complainant's chamber, must have opened two doors with a false key or by picking the locks. Complainant was positive that the doors were locked the night previous, they having been fastened by Mrs Finn when she went away a day or two previous. Mrs Finn had no rooms on the same platform as complainant, and was not in the house on the night in question. Complainant's husband, who is employed as a guard in the penitentiary, returned home at six o'clock, when she told him what had happened, and he said he would have Brock arrested. Upon looking at the kitchen window there were marks as if a person had tried to force it open. William Arnold, brother of the complainant, corroborated his sister's statement. The prisoner, explained that he had known Mrs Finn for 17 years, and hearing that her daughters were going to run away, and that they were ill treated by that interesting old lady who "takes her bitters," determined to see her. Accordingly he left his house at fifteen minutes past four o'clock on the morning in question, and proceeded to her residence. Having rapped at the doors without effect he determined to enter the house by the window, an easy matter from the top of a shed, which was open, and which belonged to a room formerly used as a sitting room by Mrs Finn. Prisoner stated that the doers were found by him open which he passed through to Mrs Chosay's chamber. When he found out his mistake he only waited to give the necessary explanations to Mrs Chosay. After a patient hearing the magistrate appeared to be willing to give the prisoner credit for the truth of his statement, but at the same time said he should bind the prisoner in his own recognizance to appear if called upon, to answer the charge, and would deliver the evidence to the crown attorney for his opinion. The bench stated its approval of the conduct taken by the complainant in the matter. Mr Mudie watched the case on behalf of the complainant. The only other case before the court was that of John Williams, charged with drunkenness, who had, when he had made a beast of himself by drink yesterday afternoon, further made a fool of himself by talking "Fenian." He had spent $9 in drink since Monday last, and having but one dollar left the court allowed him to use it in paying his fare to Wolfe Island, where he had engaged to work on a farm. The court was crowded during the hearing of the above cases, the audience appearing to consider the affair as a real godsend in these even going, dull times.

FROM HALIFAX.

Halifax, August 19.—In the Assembly this afternoon, Attorney General Wilkins said he would submit to-morrow the delegates' report and other papers, including the legal opinion obtained in England.

The resolutions were then taken up.

Mr Blanchard spoke in opposition. The delegates had disobeyed the instructions of the House, which demanded nothing but repeal. Mr Bright asked only an inquiry into the House's resolutions, which never saw light in England. He quoted Mr Wilkins' speech in the House in 1854, when he declared Union indispensable to the welfare of the people and British connection. Annexation was a cure, the States a slave-holding, Sabbath-breaking, lynching democracy, and Responsible Government a wretched state of affairs, which Union would get rid of. Speaking of the finances, Mr Blanchard said the Province must, without Confederation, have had a deficit last year of $318,000. Had Mr Tims authority to say Nova Scotia received from the Dominion the first year of the Union $400,000 more than she paid? If they got repeal and went back to the old condition, duties must be raised to twenty per cent to carry on the public works. He spoke two hours, and will continue to-morrow.

Mr Troop and Mr Smith, delegates, took notes and will reply.

The Government are feeling their way to introduce the resolutions into the Legislative Council. It is supposed there are ten Antis to ten Unionists. If a tie, the President will vote against the resolutions. —Globe.

A fire broke out on Saturday last in the tannery of Messrs Campbell & Sons, Mono Mills, by which about $15,000 worth of property was destroyed.

Flour—market dull. Grain—prices nominal in absence of any transactions; in barley the market promises to open with high prices. Three small loads of oats were sold on the open market yesterday, and purchased by consumers for from 52 to 85 cents per bushel. Hay—a better supply, and prices somewhat lower. Cheese—market dull and prices unchanged. The factories in most instances have contracted their stock at 8½ cents. Butter—a good quality of fresh; scarce and much in demand.

MONEY MARKET.—Gold, 146¼. Silver buying at 5; selling at 4½c American currency buying at 67½; selling at 68.

The English wheat harvest promises firstrate quality and condition, and ample yield. The crop is very early. Potatoes and vegetables are scarce and dear.

The French High Court of Appeal has given damages in favour of shareholders against certain directors of the Credit Mobilier. Amount not yet fixed.

The Bishops of Huron and Rupert's Land, and Dean Hellmuth, with others, took part. The building is to be of the style named French Gothic. Dimensions 117 feet in length by 65 in breadth. The tower is to have an elevation of 97 feet. The cost will be $25,000, and the structure is to be erected this fall, and completed next spring.
