Paris, September 1.—The following details of the events preceding the fall of the fortress of Humaita by the Paraguayans are believed to be authentic. On the 16th of July the Marquis de Caxias, commander-in-chief of the Allied forces, received information that the Paraguayans had left the fortress. He immediately made an advance, and a column of 16,000 men, with the ditches, entered the enemy's works, took possession of a redoubt, and then making preparations to attack the rest of the works, when the Paraguay troops opened a fire of musketry and artillery, which had a terrible effect upon the column in their crowded and disorderly condition. The Paraguayans then advanced on the Brazilians, retook the redoubt and attacking with the bayonet, in the meantime keeping up a sharp artillery fire on the troops which had commenced to fall back. The advancing party of allies were driven from the redoubt, and the whole column fell back to its camp, having suffered greatly, killed, wounded and prisoners. The estimate of the loss by this attack is at 600 killed and wounded. The Paraguayans were almost cut to pieces, and numbers of men were missing. A week after the Allies assaulted a Paraguayan post in the Grand Chaco: the attack was received with a heavy battery, which caused a panic among them and they commenced a retreat in disorder. The Paraguayans left their wounded pursued the retreating troops in disorder. The latter again suffered great loss, especially on their retreat. Killed and wounded amounted to 50. On the 25th of July it was discovered that Humaita had at last been evacuated. All the heavy cannon in the place were dismounted and all the some munitions of war which could easily be moved through the forts left behind. The garrison retreated in good order, and without interruption from their position on the Tebicuary; the position there which Lopez has been for nearly a year are believed to be strong, and the communications with Asuncion are secure. The Paraguay river has been obstructed as to be inaccessible to the vessels of the allies. A despatch received at Rio Janeiro on the 8th, states that the United States steamer Wasp proceeded up the river to Asuncion, having on board Minister Washburne.

Paris, September 1.—The English team sailed from Liverpool to-morrow for the City of Baltimore, to play a series of international matches against the United States and Canadian cricketers. They will play one cricket match instead of two as reported previously, in each of the following cities: New York, Montreal, Ottawa and Philadelphia, and will not attempt to match at base ball. They are the strongest team of cricketers that could be formed from the leading professionals of England, and are captained by the celebrated Mr. Grisher, of Kent, of the All England Eleven, with whom are G. Freeman, Tarrant and Rowbottom, of Yorkshire, Caffyn of All England, and the following of the United South of England Eleven—G. Griffith, T. Humphrey, H. Maurice and Pooley, of Surrey; Jas Lilly, White and H. Charlwood, of Sussex.

Paris, Sept. 1.—John Bright publishes a long address to the voters of Birmingham, in which he repeats his desire for an extension of the elective franchise, and will call into exercise more of the enlarged intelligence of the country. He announces the principle of the three constituencies as applied to Birmingham. He believes that disestablishment and disendowment of the Irish Church will strengthen both the cause of Christianity and the constitution of the country. He concludes by announcing himself a supporter of the principles above set forth, and offers himself as a candidate for re-election to the House of Commons at the approaching general election.

Paris, September 1.—The inquest on the bodies of some of the victims of the late railway accident was resumed to-day. The railway officials reserved their evidence. The son of the station master at Versailles testified that the danger signals were properly displayed before the collision. He reported that the body of one of the victims has been recognized as that of Mr. Duke, an American.

Paris, September 1.—All the men arrested on suspicion of taking part in the Tipperary disturbance have been discharged, evidence having been elicited sufficient to justify their further detention. Mr Sculler, still suffering severely from his injuries, but physicians report that his condition is improving worse.

Paris, Sept. 1.—A banquet was given to-day in honour of M. Pierre Magne, the Minister of Finance, at Perigaux, his birthplace. He made an eloquent and pacific speech. He declared that peace would continue because Europe needed and the Emperor desired it. France was strong enough to secure it, and it was no one's interest to disturb it. This declaration of the Minister was received with most enthusiastic applause by the assembled company.

Manchester, Sept. 1.—Murphy, the anti-Fenian agitator, was arrested and held in bail to keep the peace. Being unable to find the necessary securities, he was sent to prison where he now remains.

London, Sept. 1.—The Ariel, the first of the tea fleet from China, has just arrived in the Thames. She sailed from Foo Chow May 28 in company with the tea clipper.

New York Press Despatches.

New York, September 1.—The Herald's special Washington despatch says that about a month ago it was discovered that extensive frauds had been committed by the blank agent of the Post Office Department at Buffalo in furnishing blanks and twine to the various post offices, supposed to amount to about $200,000. The manner of committing the frauds was as follows. A postmaster made a requisition to the blank agent for a quantity of blanks, twine, &c. The order was partially filled, and the full amount charged to the postmaster, the requisition being filled as a voucher, and the agent receiving payment in auditing his accounts for the full amount charged. This system has been in operation since 1860, and it is now discovered that the frauds amount to over $500,000. It is understood that the rascality was first discovered at Detroit.

New York, September 2.—The Tribune this morning sums up the Vermont election as follows:—The election in Vermont has resulted in a glorious Union victory. Returns received in this office up to 4 o'clock this morning show a net Republican gain over last year of from 7,000 to 10,000.

San Francisco, September 2.—The sailing of the steamer China for Hong Kong has been postponed until to-day on account of the non-arrival of the Golden Age from Panama.

New Haven, September 2.—The Fair opened yesterday with great promise of success. There were two races yesterday, the first for double teams, and the second for the fastest stallions, three entries. First race, mile heats, best three in five, for a purse of $500, $350 for first, $150 for second. "India Rubber" and mate won the race in three straight heats. Time 2:38, 2:38¾, 2:38. In the second race, for the fastest stallions, two entries were made. The first premium was $1000, and the second $500. "Rhode Island" won the first prize. Time 2:33¼, 2:35¼, 2:43.

New York, September 2, 3, p.m.—The steamers Columbia, from Havana, and Germania, from Bremen, have arrived.

The orange culture in Florida is even greater and more important than is expressed in the report of the Agricultural Bureau. From 75 000 to 100,000 orange trees were set out last year, of which 30,000 were planted out on Flint river alone; and, in 1865 and 1866, at least 50,000 were transplanted and budded in East and Middle Florida The price, instead of being $15 to $20 per thousand on the trees, as stated, should have been $25 to $30, and some choice lots sold as high as $35. The orange grows wild all over Florida, and good trees, when transplanted and budded, bear 500 to 2,500 sweet oranges each.

On Thursday the Mayor of London received a communication from the emigration agent, at Quebec, that a party of families were on their way to Canada, from Scotland, and proposed going on to London. The emigrants in question are farmers and farm servants; they all come highly recommended. There are eight married people, all having grown up families, and seven male adults, unmarried, whose average ages are about twenty-two. The party numbers fifty-nine souls. The persons above alluded to are a very industrious class, and will prove useful to our Canadian agriculturists.

The wickedest man in New York as will be seen by a report in another column, has actually closed his dance house, and is never going to open it again for immoral purposes. He ended his career as a dance-house keeper at 12 o'clock on Saturday night last. The closing of his notorious den is causing great excitement in the Fourth Ward. So remarkable a result eclipses the regeneration of the old Brewery, surpasses the conversion of Awful Gardener, and, in fact, is the most astonishing evidence of the value of Christian effort when rightly directed by earnest practical men for the reclamation of even the most hardened and depraved transgressors against God and man. Allen, moved by the pious efforts of Mr Oliver Dyer and his associates, had lately met his aged father and his three brothers, ministers of the Gospel, at their old home, and their united influence wrought a mighty work upon him. The change which he had designed to make a long time hence he has effected at once; and henceforth, as he holds the premises in Water street, the place will be a Magdalen Asylum, where the wretched women of that locality who wish to leave their wicked ways will be kindly received and assisted in their virtuous endeavours. In this great undertaking, this man, lately so depraved, deserves the support of the whole Christian community.
