CABLE NEWS.

London, Sept 14.—It is stated that Mrs Dix has recently arrived in Paris, and that Mr. Dix, the American Minister, entered office on the evening of the 5th inst.

St. Petersburg, Sept. 14.—The treaty of Bukhara has not yet been ratified by the Emperor.

Paris, Sept. 14.—On account of the insurgentary movements in Bulgaria, the garrisons in Transylvania have been strengthened.

London, Sept. 14.—Advices have been received from Rio Janeiro to the 24th of August. The Ministry have resolved on a vigorous prosecution of the war, and made a decree of mediation. Urquiza, who had raised a rebellion against Buenos Ayres, had submitted to President Mitre. The allied forces were marching on the Paraguayan fortress at Timbo. President Lopez had 20,000 fighting men at the mouth of the Tebicuary. The Brazilian iron-clads had passed Asccession.

London, Sept. 14.—The press of this city seriously dominent this morning upon the recent speech of Napoleon at Chalons, the following words were made use of by the Emperor on that occasion:—"I will say here, as the public prints are sure to interpret prophecies of war, however moderate the words are."

The Times has a lengthy editorial article on American affairs this morning. The writer believes that Mr Johnson, the American Minister, has a carte blanche from his Government to settle the Alabama claims. The case of itself presents little trouble. The only difficulty is the reluctance of the American Government to settle a difficulty growing out of war resentments. No American statesman ever believed that the rams escaped with the connivance of Great Britain. There might be a question of indequate laws, making England answerable, but this could be easily mended. The real grievance of the United States was the indifference of England to the war, and her willingness to see the Union dissolved. Of this the Americans are conscious at the time, and remember it now. They think we should have had more sympathy with the North—that the democracy based upon human slavery should have been at once condemned—that the Republican party was the true friend of England—that it was wrong to even doubt the firmness of the Federal arms. After all, much of the Americans was due to their consciousness of England's want of sympathy in their hour of peril, but the anger, if there has been enough indulged. Mr Seward has refused the handsome offer of England. He now cuts the Post adrift, and the claim is as good as settled. Legal points will not stand in the way. The only thing uncertain is the responsibility of England to fix the proper indemnity.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL.

London, Sept. 15, 1.20 p.m.—Consols 94¼ for money; Bonds 72; Erie 30¼; Illinois Central 99¼.

Liverpool, Sept. 15, 1.20—Cotton easier; sales 10d. Manchester market heavy. Corn advanced to 36s. Flour quiet and steady. Barley, Oats and Peas dull. Pork buoyant at 84s. Lard quiet and steady.

New York Press Despatches.

New York, September 15.—The steamer Asia, from Europe, arrived this morning. The Herald's South America correspondent says a strange phenomenon occurred the night preceding the earthquake, in the appearance of a brilliant light in the southeast, which was supposed to be a conflagration or a volcanic eruption. An enormous development of electric fluid filled the air. In Brazil, during the latter part of July, a meteor was observed which disturbed magnetic instruments very greatly, the compass oscillating fifteen degrees from north to west.

The Herald's Australia letter says troubles have again arisen with the blacks in Queensland, and thirty of them had been deliberately slaughtered by the native police.

The system of obtaining South Sea Islanders for the culture of cotton in Queensland has become a species of legitimatized slave trade, wanting in few of the horrors of the actual African system.

The new Ministry had come into power in Victoria, the troubles with Sir Charles Darling having been adjusted.

A general confederation of the Australian colonies is talked about.

New York, September 15.—The All England eleven yesterday visited the St. George's Cricket Ground. The members of the club took a walk around the grounds and expressed their approbation of the state of the turf, which will be in first-class order for Wednesday's match, if the weather will hold fine.

Boston, September 15.—J. G. Blaine, Chairman of the Maine Republican State Convention, telegraphs from Augusta:—We have carried everything in this Congressional District, even where the vote is closest, by over 2,500 of a majority. We have carried every county, regaining the ones that were carried by the Democrats last year. We have elected every senator, three-fourths of the House of Representatives, and have polled up a popular majority for Governor Chamberlin of twenty thousand.

SPECIAL TELEGRAMS.

FROM MONTREAL.

Montreal, Sept. 15.—The Provincial Synod Report of the Committee on Ritualism recommended the Synod not to interfere in the matter at its present sitting, and that the Bishops issue pastorals urging a strict adherence to the doctrines of the church as set forth in the Prayer Book. Considerable discussion subsequently took place on the motion of the Rev. Mr Givins, declaring the 58th canon of 1603 to be authority for the practice of the Church in relation to vestments, &c., but the subject was finally postponed.

Lieutenant Governor Belleau arrived this morning at 8:30. He was met by a guard from the Chasseurs and Nos. 1 and 2 troops of cavalry, and presented with an address of welcome by the Mayor and Corporation. At two o'clock he will open the Exhibition, and to-morrow at noon hold a levee. On Thursday morning there is to be a dejeuner by the citizens, furnished by Hogan, in St. Patrick's Hall.

John Coleman, an artilleryman, committed suicide yesterday morning at Hochelaga by drinking cyanide of potassium.

Large numbers of strangers are in the city to attend the Rifle match, Exhibition, &c.

Patrick O'Mara was last night elected the new assistant city clerk.

The Exhibition which opens this afternoon is larger in every respect than any former one. There will be a splendid show of cattle, including a large amount of thoroughbred stock lately imported.

Johanna Hurley, a servant, aged 32, drowned herself at St. Helen's Island, because she had been crossed in love.

Rev. Mr McVicar preached his farewell sermon in Cote Street Church on Sunday night, previous to assuming the duties of Professor in the new Theological College.

It is said the Diocesan Synod will be called for 9th November for the election of a Metropolitan.

News of Whalen's conviction and sentence has caused considerable excitement, but there seems to be but one opinion as to his guilt.

FROM OTTAWA.

THE CLOSE OF THE WHALEN TRIAL.

VERDICT OF GUILTY.

EXECUTION ON 10TH DECEMBER!

Ottawa, Sept. 15.—There was a considerable throng around the Court House from an early hour this morning, and the Court-room as usual was crowded. Very few ladies, however, were present.

His Lordship took his seat at 9 o'clock, and the prisoner immediately after was placed in the dock. He looked very calm but anxious. He was dressed entirely in black.

The Jury which had been locked up all night, soon afterwards entered the Court, and in reply to the usual question respecting the verdict, the Foreman answered "Guilty." The Crown prosecutor then moved for the judgment of the Court on the prisoner. His Lordship desired Whalen to stand up, and asked if he had anything to say why judgment should not be passed on him. The prisoner advanced to the front of the dock, and said he had been tried and convicted, as he expected, but in his soul he was innocent of the murder of Mr McGee. He had been accused also of being a Fenian, but it was false; he had never belonged to any organized society, except St. Patrick's Society here, which was not secret, but national. He was chosen one of the marshals, simply because he could ride. He had been suspected and treated unfairly because he was a Roman Catholic, but he was none the worse for that. He had been arrested in Quebec for Fenianism, and to prevent disgrace had given his name as Sullivan, which was his mother's name. He was a Volunteer in Quebec, and went by his proper name. From there he went to Montreal and acted for part of one day as scrutineer for Devlin at the election. That was all he had to do with it. From Montreal he came to Pembroke, thence to Ottawa, where he had taken a house and intended to settle. He went to Montreal on the 24th of last December, and while there heard a threat in a house one night of burning McGee's residence, and went to warn him with another man. That man was named Smith, and he gave that name at McGee's door. He denied the truth of a good deal of John McGee's evidence. On the night of the murder he was at the Parliament House, but not while McGee was speaking. He admired McGee, and thought him an honour to his country. He did not blame the jury for the verdict; on such evidence he (Whalen) would give a similar verdict if a juryman; but blamed those who manufactured evidence. He spoke of Ireland, and made some violent remarks, when he was stopped by the Judge, who desired him to adhere to his own case. He had no more to say except to protest his innocence.

His Lordship then addressed him, saying that after a fair trial, he had been convicted by the jury of the crime with which he was charged, and nothing remained for the Court but to pass the sentence, from which he could hope for no reprieve. His Lordship trusted that while life remained, prisoner would employ it to make his peace with God. The sentence is, that you, Patrick James Whalen, be taken to the place from whence you came, there detained till the tenth day of December next, and that you be taken between the hours of nine in the morning and four in the afternoon to the place of public execution, and there be hanged by the neck till your body be dead. And may God have mercy upon your soul.

The prisoner here showed some nervousness, but recovered himself and was led back to the gaol.
