AN ELECTRIC SAFETY LOCK.

MM. Duve and Lemaire, two young mechanicians in Paris, have invented a new kind of safety lock. The key opens the lock without ringing the bells; but if a false key be introduced, a "Jimmy," or any piece of metal, the bells are set going as long as the piece is applied. This is effected by the disposal of the several tumblers with regard to a small lever which completes the battery circuit when elevated. When all the tumblers are lifted simultaneously, as by the master-key, the lever is not raised and no alarm is given; but if one, or two, or three be lifted, the alarm lever is raised and the ringing takes place. If the burglar, knowing the mechanism of the lock, try to force the lock plate by any of the usual burglar's instruments, as soon as the metal is attempted to be wedged in the ringing commences. The safety lock can be applied to all doors and fastenings without distinction. The acting agent of alarm is a feeble current of electricity, produced by a small battery of two elements. The pile used is that of Leblanche, small model, with peroxide of manganese and a single liquid, which does not require touching for several months, and then even a little water is all that is necessary to replace that lost by evaporation. The master-key is protected by an insulating substance, so that when introduced it establishes no contact, nor does it it raise the alarm lever when the tumblers are lifted. Now, supposing a burglar to have a dozen or so isolated keys, he could introduce any one of them silently, but on his attempting to turn it, the wards not being those of the master-key; the alarm would be continuously given and put an end to his experiments, so that he could not try one key after another.

The Minister of Militia claims the sum o $2,659:75 from the Town of Brantford as its proportion of rent of barracks for the military while stationed there.

The entries for the Provincial exhibition, at Hamilton, show an increase of 849 over those of last year, viz.: In 1867, there were 4,843; this year there are 5,661.

A telegram this morning from Oswego, informs us that the schooner Resolute, of Belleville, sunk off the piers in Oswego during the gale last night. All hands were saved. The cargo which consisted of 4,200 bushels of barley, consigned by Messrs Vandusen, Jones & Henry, of this port, will be a total loss. Cargo insured.—Intelligencer.

Whilst we must give a general approval of the economical way in which the government of Ontario is managed, we cannot say much of the miserly spirit in which the statutes of last session have been distributed. We have frequent complaints from magistrates, that they have not received copies of the laws they are expected to administer; and we know for a fact that the usual plan of sending copies free to the newspapers has been departed from by our economical government. The city papers do not, of course, feel this, for they can readily provide themselves with copies; but our country contemporaries are in a different position. The want is severely felt by them. We hope it is only necessary to bring the matter to the attention of the Attorney-General to see that it is duly attended to. —Leader.
