CABLE NEWS.

Hamburg, Oct. 24.—The owner of the emigrant ship Leibnitz, who was prosecuted here for cruelty to the passengers during a voyage to New York, has been acquitted.

Madrid, Oct. 24.—The Government will immediately revise the pens on list.

London, Oct. 24.—Later advices from the seat of war in Paraguay state that President Lopez had arrived at Oileta.

London, Oct. 24.—The press comment favourably on the speeches of Mr. Johnson and Lord Stanley, and look for an early settlement of the Alabama claims matter. The Times says in a few days England and America will be united without a ghost of a quarrel.

Paris, Oct. 24, evening.—The Avenir National, the democratic national organ of this city, says that Ferdinand has declined the offer of the crown of Spain. The writer is certain that the Duke of Montpelier would accept it.

London, Oct. 24, evening.—Despatches received to-day state that the authorities of Sydney have positive proof that the shooting of Prince Alfred was the result of a deeply laid plot. The details will be given to the public in a few days.

London, Oct. 25.—There is good reason to believe that the following is the substance of the protocol which has been agreed to by Mr Johnson and Lord Stanley for the settlement of the Alabama claims. A mixed commission consisting of eight persons appointed by Great Britain and eight appointed by the United States is to sit in London and examine every claim, whether British or American; each case to be argued by the claimant either in person or by counsel, and the commission will make the final award. The question of international law is to be referred to the arbitration of the Emperor of Russia. The protocol now awaits the approval of Secretary Seward.

London, Oct. 25 (midnight).—Great Britain, France, and Italy, have recognized the revolutionary government of Spain. Dispatches received tonight from Madrid report that bands in Alava have proclaimed the Federal Republic. Disturbances have broken out in Malaga and Granada, and troops have been despatched from Madrid to the latter place.

New York, Oct. 25.—A special cable despatch to Herald states that loyal Americans and English friends of the United States are galled at the recent proceedings of Minister Johnson in Liverpool, and think him too anxious to go out of his way to make such speeches, and that he went too far in allowing himself to be introduced to Mr Laird and greeting him in a friendly manner, and that he fraternizes too much with rebels and English enemies, misrepresents the sentiments of the majority, and places the United States in a humiliating attitude.

Montreal, Oct. 26.—The steamer Austrian arrived at Liverpool on Saturday.

London, Oct. 26.—The steamer Bremen, from New York, has arrived at Southampton.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL.

London, October 26, 1:20 p.m.—Consols for both money and account; Bonds quiet at 73¼; Illinois Central 97½; Erie 28¼.

Liverpool, October 25, 1:20 p.m.—Cotton firm; Uplands 11d; Orleans 11½d. Corn 38s. Refined petroleum 1s 5½d. Tallow 52s.

New York Press Despatches.

San Francisco, Oct. 23.—From the interior we learn Almeda county suffered most by the earthquake. Fissures in the earth were made, from which issued clouds of dust and volumes of water. Creeks dry for several months suddenly became large streams. Hot water and steam also gushed from the earth. The villages of San Leandro and Hayward are almost in ruins. The brick buildings were all thrown down, and hundreds of tenements rendered uninhabitable. The towns of Almeda, Brooklyn and Oakland suffered severely, as did San Jose and Redwood city. The brick buildings in the old mission of San Jose are a mass of ruins. Sacramento, Stockton and Marysville suffered slightly. The damage in Petaluna, Healdsburg, Santa Rosa, Valejo, and Martinez, was considerable. The shock extended southward to Los Angelos, but was light there and in all the surrounding country. Our city hall has been condemned, and will be demolished. Other city buildings were only slightly injured. The marine hospital on Bacon Point is condemned. The custom house is very badly injured. Large numbers of labourers are at work to-day clearing up the rubbish. The total losses will reach the neighbourhood of $1,000,000.

San Francisco, Oct. 25.—Several slight shocks of earthquake have occurred since midnight. One at 7:55 in the morning was of considerable duration and created some alarm.

Washington, Oct. 25.—The President has written a letter to General Ewing in relation to expenditures and the general debt.

On Saturday evening a Fenian meeting was held in Military Hall in the Bowery. While a Mr Walsh was talking a cry was raised that two British spies were in the room, and two unfortunates who were pointed out as the suspected persons were set upon by the crowd and so badly beaten that they escaped and took refuge in a store where they were found and rescued by the police.

New York, Oct. 25.—The Tribune's special says returns from three fourths of the counties in West Virginia show a Republican majority of 4,237, and the counties to come in will not reduce this below 4,000.

The Times special says:—The visit of the All England eleven in this country has revived cricket. Even in Washington yesterday a spirited game was played between Sir Edward Thornton, the British Minister, and the members of his legation, on one side, and a picked eleven from the Washington Cricket Clubs on the other. The latter won.

An Indianapolis special says official returns from all counties in Indiana give Baker (Republican) for Governor 1059 majority.

New York, Oct. 26.—The steamers Hansa from Bremen, and City of Cork, from Liverpool, have arrived.

A Royal Commission is announced to inquire into the constitution and jurisdiction of the courts of justice in Scotland. Lord Westbury, Lord Colonsay, Lord President Inglis, Lord Justice Clerk Patton, Sir Roundell Palmer, and the Lord Advocate, are in the list of commissioners.

In the English registration of voters the name of a claimant was recently struck out because he described himself as "a gentleman," when he was proved to be a tailor.

Some of the letters from Madrid mention that a commission appointed by the Junta has begun an inventory of the Palace. They found there £170,000 Three per cent Bonds, and £18,000 in gold notes, which were sent to the Bank. It is added that the resignation of Senor Madoz as President of the Junta is due to his commercial principles. As a Catalonian he is a great protectionist, and a cry for free trade is now almost universal.

Bishop Coxe has addressed a circular letter to the clergy and laity of the diocese of Western New York, announcing that the General Convention has completed the action for the partition of the diocese. He has decided to remain in charge of the diocese of Western New York under the new arrangement. The line of partition is at the east lines of the Counties Wayne, Ontario, Yates, Schuyler, and Steuben. These counties will remain in the western diocese. The new diocese will begin its existence on the 1st of November. On the 10th a primary Convention will meet at Utica, for preliminary organization.

Dunan Mousseux, a French journalist, died recently in Paris, 41 years old. For several years past he did not do anything else but get up advertisements for Parisian dry goods dealers. He was a perfect genius in this line. The famous advertisement which began with the words "Well, we have failed, we are bankrupt," and which proved a perfect gold mine for the merchant tailors' company was written by him. He received as much as 500 francs for a single advertisement. He would often say to the merchants: "You throw your money to the dogs the way you advertise. People like to deal with witty merchants. Get up a sprightly advertisement and you will attract twice as many customers as by persuing the same dull and heavy way in which Adam and Noah advertised already."

The Times thus describes the new alarm-bell in use on some English Railways:—"The apparatus consists of a small windmill or vane, fixed upon the roof of one of the carriages, the vane being turned at an amazing speed when the train is running 30 or 40 miles an hour. This vane rings a bell as loud as one of our factory bells, in Manchester, and never ceases until the train is stopped. The alarm can be raised by any passenger pulling a chain hanging conveniently overhead. The first effect is that two semaphores rise into the position which means "Stop!" and the second effect is that the wind vane is exposed to the current of the air, which of course the bell is set ringing. Attached to the windmill is a white light, but upon the alarm being given the white light instantaneously gives place to a red one.

The following story comes to us from the London Examiner, which vouches for its authenticity, and subsequently cites some confirmatory matter from printed sources. It asserts that its authority for the facts in question is perfectly beyond doubt, and if true, they show that Europe has been on the very verge of another war. After the demand for an indemnification on the Rhine for Prussian gains elsewhere had been refused at Berlin, the Luxembourg question being brought forward, Marshal Niel, who had been all for war, at last gained the Emperor's ear. The question of immediate hostilities directed against Prussia was then brought before the Council of State, and the argument of the war party carried the day. Marshal Niel was jubilant at the idea of being let loose, and various measures of preparation for war were agreed upon. But the next day one of the Ministers seeing the Emperor on official business, and expecting to hear something about the war, was surprised to notice nothing but an accession of the Emperor's usual impassibility of demeanour. At last he ventured to introduce the subject, and was coolly told that war was impossible—that the preparations were not sufficient. He remonstrated against this decision; but there was no appeal from Cæsar, who had thus by reasonings carried on in his own bosom come to a decision to reverse that which he had arrived at in the Council.

A gold medal to be presented by the United States to George Peabody, Esq., is now on exhibition at New York, whence it is to be sent to London for exhibition at the Kensington gallery. The medal is about three inches in diameter, with the bust of Mr Peabody on one side and on the other the inscription, "The People of the United States to George Peabody in acknowledgement of his Beneficent Promotion of Universal Education." It is mounted on a golden pedestal six inches in length and two inches in height and width with the United States coat of arms in the centre, and on either side the words "Benevolence" and "Education." On the opposite face are a globe, books and geographical instruments exquisitely carved in relief. The medal is supported above on the right by a figure representing the genius of Benevolence, with one hand pointing to Peabody, and on the left are three palmetto trees entwined with northern ivy, at the foot of which are two children, one black and one white. The entire design is about eight inches high, wrought of solid gold at a cost of $5,000, and in its beauty, richness and conception is a fitting tribute of respect from this nation to its world-honoured citizen.
