SEVERE EARTHQUAKE IN IRELAND.

Several shocks of earthquake, followed by a loud rumbling noise, were felt at two places near Mallow, in Cork county, on Saturday. It is stated that houses were much shaken, furniture was broken, and the occupants of the houses were greatly terrified. At the time the shocks were felt it was blowing a hurricane. The first shock was felt at a place called Newton, within a few miles of Mallow. Some gentlemen who were hunting near the place at the time stated that the shock was followed by a loud rumbling noise and an oscillation of the earth. In other places, between Mallow and Rathurk, a distinct shock of earthquake was also felt. Houses were shaken from their foundations, and in some instances the furniture was thrown down and broken. The shock passed from north to south. Reports from other quarters confirm the above particulars.

One can understand the terror with which the news of an earthquake in Cork is said to have been received all over the country. We are happily quite "unused to earthquakes" here, for in the long list of places which have at various times suffered from them, the name of any town in the United Kingdom is seldom found. The worst ever known in England took place in 1318. Two centuries later another earthquake shook down part of St. Paul's and the Temple churches. Coming down to our own times, we find that a slight shock was felt in the north-west of England in November, 1852. It is a little alarming, however, to learn that there have occurred about 255 earthquakes in the British Isles, though they have all been slight ones. One may form some notion of the terror which the prospect of such a visitation might excite here from the note in Haydn about the thousands of persons who on the 7th of April, 1750, passed the whole night in their carriages, and in tents, in Hyde Park, to avoid the effects of a shock due, according to the prediction of a madman, on the 8th. We are hardly likely to attain that elevation of stupidity in the present century. Still, we have heard so much of earthquakes of late as to make it difficult for us to feel even the slightest shock without some loss of self-possession.—English paper.

The American Ambassador spent Sunday at Knowsley Park, the seat of the Earl of Derby.

NEW MOHAWK CHIEF.—At a meeting of the Mohawk tribe of Indians of Tyendinaga Tract, held at Desoronto (Mill Point) on Thursday last, 5th inst., at which there was a good attendance, Mr Seth Powles was duly elected chief of the above tribe, and presented with a large silver medal bearing the British Coat of Arms, and on the opposite side a splendid likeness of Her Majesty Queen Victoria, with the following superscription, "Victoria Dei Gratia Britanniarum Regina, F. D. Ich Dien, 1860." This medal was formerly presented to the late Chief Powles Claus, by His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales, while on his visit to this country in 1860. An excellent dinner was prepared by Chief Powles at his new dwelling house, to which ample justice was done. After this several interesting speeches were made by those present. In the evening the party was entertained with an Oyster and Coon soup supper, in real native style. Afterwards those who were wont to "trip the light fantastic toe" enjoyed themselves to their hearts' content, while others sang "we'll not go home till morning." The whole affair passed off in a most happy and agreeable manner, and broke up at an early hour next morning.—Belleville Intelligencer.

From Port au Prince we have Haytien advices to the 27th ultimo. The success achieved by the war steamer "Peleton" immediately after her arrival from New York has not been followed up. The steamer "Marie Anna," built in Boston, has been added to Salnave's navy, but neither of these vessels has as yet accomplished much. The town of Jeremie is surrounded by Salnave's troops and must fall. Le Mirebalais, Jacmel, and St. Marc are said to be all well fortified, and fully prepared for the expected naval attack. Without a sufficient military force to cooperate with the war vessels, none of the towns in the south could be taken; but Salnave is increasing the number of his troops at all points, and these places will be attacked by land as well as by sea, so that their capture and the end of the war is only a question of time.

It was originally intended that the Duke of Edinburgh's proposed visit to India should be made in January or February next. We understand, however, that it has now been decided that the visit shall not be made on the outward voyage of Her Majesty's ship Galatea, but on the return voyage—namely, about Oct., 1869—after the ship has performed the greater part of its cruise. It is stated that the Galatea, now about to sail, will, on her outward voyage, call at the Cape, after which she will proceed to Australia, spending a few months at various places there. At the end of June the Galatea will be due at Yokohama, whence she proceeds, by way of China, towards Calcutta. The Prince will reach that city about the end of October, when the weather becomes tolerably cool, and the British residents are rousing themselves for a brief spell of exercise and amusement.

ELECTION OF A BISHOP.

Utica, N. Y., Nov. 11.—The Primary Convention of the Episcopal Church assembled at 10 o'clock A.M. in the rooms in Grace Church, the Rev. E. A. Dudley, secretary. After the usual preliminary exercises Rev. Dr. Coddington delivered an address. At the afternoon session the ballot under the 3d o'clock was the choice of a Bishop for the new diocese. The leading candidates for the position were the Rev. Dr. Littlejohn, of Brooklyn, the Rev. Dr. Van Benscoten, of Utica, and the Rev. Dr. Leeds, of Baltimore. After five ballots the first choice of the Convention was the Rev. Dr. Littlejohn, of Brooklyn. The evening the ministers of Convention are having a rousing time at the Butterfield House.

FROM NEW ZEALAND.

The attempt to recapture the native prisoners that escaped from Chatham Island some short time since seems to have ended in a disastrous failure. Two expeditions were sent out, and each was driven back with loss. The first repulse took place on the 5th of August, the second nearly a month later, on the 7th September. On this occasion the British troops were looking for the rebels in the neighborhood of a pah which had been captured and destroyed but a day or two before, when they were suddenly assailed by their enemies, who were advantageously posted, and they suffered a loss of five officers and seven men killed, and many wounded. About twenty-seven of the Maories fell. Preparations were being made for another attack.

From north to south of New Zealand a curious tidal phenomenon was observed on Saturday, the 15th August. The sea rushed out and in with extraordinary violence, and in some places in the south island great damage was done from the sea going far over the usual highwater mark. On Monday, the 17th, shocks of earthquake were felt over a larger portion of New Zealand than is usually subject to them. The northerly point reached was Napier, and from there as far south as Otago, Auckland, as usual, was entirely exempt. The schooner Rifleman, which arrived at Dunedin on the 18th August from the Chatham Islands, brings sad news. These islands have been visited by three tidal waves, causing great loss of life and property. The settlement of Tupuna, on the north side of the island, felt the greatest force. It was entirely destroyed—no trace being left to tell where it stood. The ground was completely covered with sand and seaweed. The inhabitants barely escaped with their lives. The sea went inland about four miles. Along the coast, a house and its contents, belonging to Mr Hay, sheep farmer, were carried bodily out to sea. Some Maories, in trying to save a boat which was being carried out to sea, were drowned. The settlement of Waitangi sustained great loss. Houses were shifted, and carried out to sea. A large quantity of Government stores was destroyed. The schooner Rifleman, lying at Waengaroa, fortunately escaped. The force of the water at Tupuhga smashed drays, and removed to a considerable distance stones half a ton in weight.

There is a population of about eight hundred souls at Mount Uniacke gold mines, Nova Scotia, living upon the proceeds of the diggings. Five companies work the mines.

The Rev. E. Clay, incumbent of St. Margaret's, and some other gentlemen of Brighton, have written to the Bishop of Chichester, stating that if he will prosecute Mr Purchas in the Court of Arches they will undertake to pay the costs of the suit.

Queen Isabella, according to the Figaro and the Epoque, has taken two hotels adjoining in the Champs-Elysees, not far from that of Queen Christina, and will soon arrive in Paris with her suite to occupy them. Another version is that she will occupy the Villa Beaurgard, which was once the residence of the late Miss Howard.

The Queen of Holland has forwarded £10 to the treasurer of the Dover Sailors' Home, as a recognition of the value of that charitable institution, and of the coincidence of a wrecked Dutch crew being landed at Dover and received at the home at the same time that her Majesty landed.

Mr R. B. Harvey, who, as the junior member for Bucks, has retired from the representation in order that the minority clause may be carried out in that country, has been created a baronet. A similar dignity has been conferred upon Mr Charles Mills, who lately retired from the Council of India.

The English Nonconformist papers state that the Wesleyan Conference has refused to allow a request made by the Canadian Wesleyans, that the Rev. W. M. Punshon should be president of its next assembly, the rev. gentleman being at present in Canada. His name is also to be dropped from "the legal hundred." This condemnation is to be carried out in consequence of Mr Punshon having, on leaving England, married his deceased wife's sister.

It is asserted that the Catholic clergy of Cronstadt (Transylvania), who had been invited by their bishop to make known their views as to whether it was advisable to introduce any reforms into the Catholic Church, replied that the suppression of celibacy seemed to be the most useful change and most urgent, as the prohibition of marriage had consequences most detrimental to the clergy in public opinion.

The New York Times, speaking of the salary of the President, says that "in the early days of the government it represented five times as much, if not ten times as much, as it represents now. It is altogether too small to support the President in proper style, and to enable him to meet his necessary expenditures as Chief Executive of the nation. It ought to be, at the very lowest, $100,000. We have no doubt that the next Congress will take some action in the matter."

The new cable that is to connect us with France will be very similar to the Atlantic cable of 1866, but stronger, having a breaking strain of 1000 pounds against one of 800 in the present cable. It is to be laid in two lengths, from Brest in France to St. Pierre in Newfoundland, 2325 miles, and from St. Pierre to New York, 722 miles. To avoid rocks and icebergs it will run south of the present cable; and it will be laid by the Great Eastern, probably in the month of July, 1869.

Two working men, Edward Donovan and James Braithwaite, were passing along London-road, Liverpool, on Tuesday, when Braithwaite became exasperated by a passer by rudely pushing against him, and by Donovan laughing at him. A few angry words ensued, but they became friendly again, and proceeded to the house of a man named Corbet, in Thurton-street, where Braithwate drew a knife, and plunged it into the breast of Donovan, who died shortly afterwards. Braithwaite was immediately apprehended.

The Bishop of Ely on Tuesday presided over a conference of Church dignitaries, clergy and laity, at Cambridge. The Earl of Hardwicke, the Vice-Chancellor of the University, Mr Beresford Hope, M.P., and several heads of colleges, were present, and the whole gathering numbered about 1,000 persons. The Dean of Ely read a paper in which he condemned the improper use which is so often made of church patronage, and characterised the sale of advowsons as a scandalous practice. The lax state of church discipline occupied a prominent place in the Dean's address, and the propriety of comprehending Dissenters within the pale of the Church was also discussed at some length.

CHOLERA, DIARRHŒA, &c.
EARL RUSSELL sent to the College of Physicians a communication received by him from Manilla (where cholera had been graging fearfully) to the effect that, of all remedies tried, Chlorodyne was the most effective.
"The day seems as yet, unhappily, far distant when public opinion or State interference will prevent the advertisement or sale of any secret medicine whatsoever. It is to be hoped that the profession will continue to brand as unworthy the conduct of those of its members who by testimonial or otherwise aid the disposal of such things."—Lancet.
TOWLE'S CHLORODYNE.
The Original Preparation of known Composition.
From Dr C. Kidd, Author of Standard Works on Chloroform.
Sackville-street, Piccadilly, London.
Sir,—I think if you would advertise your Chlorodyne more than you do, you would help to beat the others, which are secret compounds, out of the market. Many medical men think with me, and recommend your compound, but will never prescribe a secret remedy.
CHARLES KIDD, M.D.
A Surgeon from New York writes:—"It only requires to be known to be appreciated. I have no hesitation in characterising it (viz., Towle's Chlorodyne) as the most useful medicine that has appeared during the present century. In diarrhœa, colic, ague, spasms, I have found it to relieve more pain and cause more joy than any other article that can be named."

DR. DE JONGH'S LIGHT-BROWN COD LIVER OIL.
DR. DE JONGH'S Oil is convincingly proved by an overwhelming weight of medical testimony, and by the practical test of successful experience for twenty years in all parts of the world, to be, beyond all question, the purest, the most efficacious, the most palatable, and, from its rapid curative effects, the most economical of all kinds.
Hence the universal celebrity of Dr. de Jongh's Oil, and the unparalleled demand for this unrivalled preparation.
SELECT MEDICAL OPINIONS.
SIR HENRY MARSH, BART., M.D.,
Physician in Ordinary to the Queen in Ireland.
"I have frequently prescribed Dr. de Jongh's Light-Brown Cod Liver Oil. I consider it to be a very pure oil, not likely to create disgust, and a therapeutic agent of great value."
DR. EDWARD SMITH, F.R.S.,
Medical Officer to the Poor Law Board of Great Britain.
"We think it a great advantage that there is one kind of Cod Liver Oil which is universally admitted to be genuine—the Light-Brown Oil supplied by Dr. de Jongh. It has long been our practice, when prescribing the oil, to recommend this kind, since, amidst a much variety and uncertainty, we have confidence in its genuineness."—(Extract from "Consumption: its Early and Remediable Stages.")
DR. LANKESTER, F.R.S.,
Coroner for Central Middlesex.
"I consider that the purity of this oil is secured in its preparation, by the personal attention of so good a chemist and intelligent a physician as Dr. de Jongh, who has also written the best medical treatise on the oil with which I am acquainted. Hence, I deem the Cod Liver Oil sold under his guarantee to be preferable to any other kind as regards genuineness and medical efficacy."
DR. LETHEBY,
Medical Officer of Health, and Chief Analyst to the City of London.
"In all cases I have found Dr. de Jongh's Light-Brown Cod Liver Oil possessing the same set of properties, among which the presence of cholaic compounds, and of iodine in a state of organic combination, are the most remarkable. It is, I believe, universally acknowledged that this oil has great therapeutic power; and from my investigations, I have no doubt of its being a pure and unadulterated article."
DR. BARLOW, F.R.S.,
Senior Physician to Guy's Hospital.
"I have frequently recommended persons consulting me to make use of Dr. de Jongh's Cod Liver Oil. I have been well satisfied with its effects, and believe it to be a very pure oil, well fitted for those cases in which the use of that substance is indicated."
DR. GRANVILLE, F.R.S.,
Author of the "Spas of Germany."
"Dr. Granville has found that Dr. de Jongh's Light-Brown Cod Liver Oil produces the desired effect in a shorter time than other kinds, and that it does not cause the nausea and indigestion too often consequent on the administration of the pale oil."
EDWIN CANTON, ESQ., F.R.C.S.,
Surgeon to Charing-cross Hospital.
"For several years past I have been in the habit of prescribing Dr. de Jongh's Light-Brown Cod Liver Oil, and find it to be much more efficacious than other varieties of the same medicine which I have also employed with a view to test their relative superiority."
