CABLE NEWS.

(Special Telegram to the Daily News.)

London, March 12.—The Globe says Mr Gladstone's audience with the Queen at Buckingham Palace lasted half an hour. The result is not yet known in London.

Information obtained to as late an hour as ten o'clock to-night from members of the Government, shows that no definite course has yet been decided upon. It is reported that Disraeli and Gathorne Hardy strongly object to take office at the present juncture, but the rank and file of the Conservative Party are ambitious of power, and the leaders will probably yield to their desire, and on taking office will disolve Parliament quickly and go to the country with the expectation of winning thirty seats and keeping in office through the dissensions of Liberals. There was a great gathering at the Reform Club last night, at which the Liberals who voted against the Government on the Irish University Bill, declared that they would support a vote of confidence of Gladstone is willing to accept it, but it is known that the latter is anxious for a release from office. Last night's whip was the severest ever known in the House of Common. One Conservative member was brought from Paris by a special steamer and a railroad train, and a liberal "Whig" is reported to have beseeched Sir Robert Peel almost upon his kness to go to the House, but fruitlessly.

London, March 13, 2 a.m.—Up to one o'clock this morning nothing was known in the highest quarters as to the result of the deliberations of the Ministry. Gladstone is to see the Queen again at Buckingham Palace to-day.

The students of Trinity College, Dublin, have burned Gladstone in effigy.

London, March 13.—The London journals of this morning comment at great length on the defeat of the Government on the Irish University Education Bill, and speculate upon the course Mr Gladstone will pursue.

The Times says: The Cabinet will probably resign to-day, and Mr Disraeli will be called by Her Majesty to form a new Ministry, in which event Parliament will be dissolved and a general election ordered before July.

The Post says:—The government has not determined whether it will resign or dissolv the Parliament and appeal to the country. The vote against Mr Gladstone was a great suprise to the Cabinet and Liberal members of the House of Commons. The latter are desirous of upholding the Ministry by a vote of confidence. The Conservatives are unwilling to accept the responsibility of a dissolution of Parliament. The session of the House of Commons today will be looked forward to with great anxiety, as Mr Gladstone will then announce the course decided upon by the Ministry.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL.

London, March 13, 1:30 p.m.—Consols 92¼ to 92½ for money; 92½ to 95⅝ for account. Bonds of '65, old, 93¾; '67, 93¼. Twenties 89. New Fives 90½. Erie 52½.

NEW YORK DESPATCHES.

St. Louis, March 12.—The Committee which has been investigating the affairs of the State Penitentiary for some time past, made the report to the House to-day. The Committee find that punishments have been frequent and unusual. Prisoners on some occasions, for inadequent reasons have been flogged unmercifully until their flesh was raw. The Committee enumerated many other outrages perpetrated on prisoners, and recommend the abolishment of these modes of punishment, and that convict labour be let to individuals. They also find that many irregularities have been committed by officers of the prison, and reflect pretty severely on Governor Gratz Brown for his connection with the use of convict labour in the building of some houses in Jefferson City in which he was personally interested.

Chicago, March 12.—At Charlotte, Iowa, yesterday, a man attempted to cross a creek with a team and waggon, containing five persons. They were swept away by the current, and all but one man drowned.

Columbia, Pa., March 13.—The river is still rising and is about five feet above the low water mark. The ice is moving rapidly at Bainbridge, ten miles above, but it is still jammed here.

San Francisco, March 12.—Mr Steele, from the front, says the Modocs would have come out had they not been frightened by stories told them by persons who desire to have them remain in the country. General Gillem is in favour of closing in on the Indians and expresses the belief that the whole band may be captured without great loss.

Dominion Parliament.

Ottawa, March 12.—In the House of Commons, among the petitions presented was one from certain electors of the South Riding of Renfrew, praying that the returning officer be summoned to the bar of the House to answer for certain irregularities alleged to have occurred during the election.

Mr Blake moved that the petition be printed. He intended to bring the matter before the House to-day.

Mr Mills introduced a couple of bills in reference to dual representation.

Sir John Macdonald stated, in reply to Mr Cunningham, that the Lieut.-Governor of Manitoba had issued a commission to enquire into the hay privilege. He also stated that in the distribution of half-breed lands, parents as well as children would participate in the grants.

Sir John, in reply to Mr Young, of Waterloo, said that the Government intended calling the attention of the House to the insolvency laws during the session.

Mr Mackenzie expressed his belief that there had been great irregularities in connection with the contract for the fifth section of the Intercolonial Railway, and he moved for information concerning the same.

After some routine business the House adjourned.

SIR JOHN MACDONALD.

The Ottawa correspondent of the Hamilton Standard thus writes of Sir John:

After Mr Jette came the Hon. John A. Macdonald. Everybody has heard of him. General Grant in his recent message claims to be the most abused man in the United States, and I think no one will question the right of Sir John to claim that he is the best abused man in Canada. But he can well afford to laugh at his detractors. Sir John is a thin, spare man with prominent eyes, nose and teeth—with long hair now getting gray but formerly black and curly. He keeps his face entirely free from beard. It is not enough to say of Sir John that he is a clever man; he is a genius. He is not a fluent speaker, but his speech is full of animation. His reply to Mr Blake in his allusion to Sir Francis Hincks, and his reference to the conduct of Mr Blake in defeating the late Sandfield McDonald's Government at a time when eight constituencies were unrepresented, were the most effective things that were said by any of the speakers in the debate. He is exceedingly witty, full of fire and repartee; he admittedly stands first in the House. He is genial, hearty and cordial, and there are many members who think him invincible. He moved an amendment to Mr Blake's motion the purport of which was to refer the matter to a committee.

The Oshawa Vindicator refers to the fact that among the apprentices in the general machinery department of the Hall Works are a son of a retired army officer, the son of an ex-Cabinet Minister, and the son of a Judge. They are indentured for the regular period, and take the regular apprentice work without fear of the dirt or favour from the foreman. The same paper further remarks that Canadian newspapers every now and then contain paragraphs depreciating the rush there is toward the professions of law and physic, resulting in overcrowding and genteel starvation. Manufacturers are just as honourable and are sure to furnish prizes more lucrative, and as satisfying to an honourable ambition as any profession. To obtain these prizes ability, education, skill, and experience are all necessary. We are glad of an indication of the recognition of these facts, and it will be a happy day for the country when it becomes generally accepted.

AWFULLY SUDDEN DEATH.—One of the most striking proofs of the Scriptural axiom "In the midst of life we are in death," was afforded us last nigh. A young man named Richard White, an Englishman, who acted as bar-tender for Mr F. Champness, of the St. Lawrence Hotel, last night about half-past eleven o'clock was engaged in playing a game of euchre with two lady guests in the hotel, when in the act of laying down a card he suddenly threw up his arms and nearly fell from his chair. Assistance was obtained, but it was useless, and in a few moments the poor fellow expired. Dr. Sweetland, who was called, attributed the death to heart disease, to which it seems the deceased was predisposed. The event cast quite a gloom over the inmates of the house, with whom "Dick," as he was familiarly called, was a great favourite, being generally liked for his obliging nature and civil demeanour. He leaves a wife and one child, who, five weeks ago, left for England, and to whom he was greatly attached. The separation from them appeared of late to have preyed upon his mind, and caused him to have occasional fits of melancholy; last night, however, he appeared to be in better spirits than usual, which makes his untimely demise all the more shocking. We believe the funeral will take place from the St. Lawrence Hotel at three o'clock this afternoon.—Ottawa Free Press of Wednesday.

The Ottawa Times says few papers by Canadians have attracted more attention in England than the one very recently read by Mr Bourinot before the Royal Colonial Institute, the Duke of Manchester presiding, on the Maritime Resources of Canada. The Standard, Daily News, and other leading papers have devoted leading articles to the subject, and we find in a copy of The Field, received by the last mail, the following paragraph: "A more interesting paper, as showing how fully the Canadians appreciate their splended position and the value of their fisheries, we have seldom heard, and the thanks of all loyal Canadians are certainly due to Mr Bourinot for bringing these facts so prominently before a British audience. In no better way can Canadians benefit the Dominion than by disseminating every information respecting its recources throughout England."
