

CAREFREE CRUISES ON AN INLAND OCEAN

By S.S. MANITOBA

5 CAREFREE DAYS...$40

advised to visit as early as possible to enjoy the magnificent scenery. All day long the ship is filled with a happy throng of people...
 Evening and part of the following morning are spent at Fort William and Port Arthur. We are spared the chief worry of the traveler—where to dine, where to sleep—the "Manitoba" will see to it that you will be followed on the return journey across Lake Superior and through the channels of St. Mary's River. Then a visit to that unspoiled summer resort of the "Manitoba"...
 Before leaving the "Manitoba" for the second largest of the Great Lakes, 207 miles long and 101 miles wide, we return back to Owen Sound and Port McNicoll. Describable on bank come:

NEW CRUISES! Sail over the blue green waters of Georgian Bay and Lakes Huron and Superior, far from the usual throng of tourists, in the most comfortable surroundings of water and sky. In the afternoon you will be entertained by the "Manitoba" orchestra and the shipboard sports and hours of bustling activity on the decks. A comfortable Canadian Pacific steamship, the "Manitoba", is your home for five days with easy berths, the shipboard sports and hours of bustling activity on the decks. As you pass the "Timber Port Islands" of the North Channel of Manitowishkegan Island with snow-capped, rugged shores will find the "Manitoba" sailing on the water until she leaves behind the city. Out of the locks into Lake Superior, the largest of the Great Lakes, 207 miles long and 101 miles wide, we return back to Owen Sound and Port McNicoll. Describable on bank come:

Courtesy of Gordon Turner come these excerpts from Canadian Pacific's "Carefree Cruises on the Great Lakes" folder of 1938. We apologize for the small print, but we had to shrink the MANITOBA centrefold a long way to make it fit our page. Note the picture of the shuffleboarders on the crown deck beside the ventilator cowl; we have seen very few photos taken there. The timetable shows the Mackinac Island stop on Fridays.
