CABLE NEWS.

London, April 12, 5 a.m.—The Paris special of the London Times says the report widely spread last night that Monday had been taken.

A great offensive movement by the Versailles troops was expected to take place today.

The Assembly has adopted a resolution expressing regret that it was not enabled to attend the funerals of the Generals killed by the insurgents.

Paris, April 11, afternoon.—On Monday the fire gunboats at the Pont de la Concorde got up steam and went into action. There was heavy firing, the result of which is unknown.

Yesterday morning at six a.m. the firing on the forts was furiously renewed. The Versailles troops are accused of using explosive bullets, some being found in Fort Vanves.

At Fort Issy it was discovered that the bolts on the gates were drawn or broken evincing the existence of traitors amongst the National Guards.

A meeting of women was to have been held tonight for the purpose of organizing the defence of Paris.

Dombrowski has issued orders that no one shall leave Paris without leave.

The Prussians at St. Denis have been reinforced with five thousand men. They have, however, respect the treaty of Versailles.

President Thiers has issued a proclamation in which he says that Generals MacMahon, L'Admirault, and Cissy have all resumed their commands, and that General Vinoy heads the reserves. The army improves every day. The President and the Assembly have a good understanding, and are devoted to their work. Pay no attention to false reports to the contrary. It is true that a fresh conspiracy has broken out in our ranks. Only insurgents are perishing. Irresistible measures, however, are in preparation to end the effusion of blood. Citizens are assured that for themselves they have nothing to fear.

Last night a correspondent telegraphed from Versailles as follows:—Tonight the signal is to be struck which the authorities hope will restore Paris to lawful government. The chiefs of the government in Paris have adopted the following programme. Eighty thousand loyal National Guards in Paris are organised. At a fixed hour six thousand will attack the Hotel de Ville, six thousand Belleville, and six thousand Montmatre. At the same moment a grand attack on Porte Maillot will be made from Versailles and an attempt made to get possession. At St Lazare there large reserves will be ready. General Vinoy will take supreme command of coup de main. The authorities are sanguine of success. Soldiers and sailors are to form the leading stacking column. Twelve thousand men of the old Imperial Guard are to march at a moment's notice, and if needed twelve thousand more of the guard will be ready in ten days. There are 100,000 men now at Versailles.

The olive branches of conciliation were torn down yesterday morning.

The insurgents unsuccessfully attempted to draw the Versailles troops into a trap near Meudon.

London, April 12.—A Versailles despatch to the Daily News says that Sartory has been raised, and the troops will enter Paris.

The Prussians have established a battery on St. Denis, the guns of which point on Paris.

The image of the church of the Madeleine is said to have been assassinated by the Communists.

The report of the repulse of the Versailles troops at Amiens, have been exaggerated.

The reported death of Vermoral, the celebrated journalist, is contradicted.

Paris, April 12.—The cannonading was less frequent today, and nothing of importance has transpired.

London, April 12.—The steamship Baltimore, from Baltimore, touched at Southampton today.

A despatch of Cologne, says the French are leaving Germany for home at the rate of one thousand per day. The belief that only those who are known favorable to the Versailles government are allowed to depart.

NEW YORK PRESS DESPATCHES.

Washington, April 11.—It is expected a large emigration to the United States will take place during the ensuing summer from Alsace and that portion of Lorraine which has been annexed to Germany. Letters have been received by French residents of Washington from friends in those provinces which state that the desire to emigrate is strong, not only among the poor but among the middle classes who possess small properties in the towns and country districts. A number of French gentlemen in New York and Washington are endeavouring to form an organization and raise capital to buy large tracts of land and settle upon them agricultural and manufacturing colonies of their countrymen. Their attention is chiefly directed to East Tennessee Northern Georgia and Alabama.

A Southern paper finds it necessary to denounce "the practice of carrying dogs to church."

Freiligrath, the German poet, has for some years been at work upon a translation of Shakespeare's plays.
