WEDNESDAY MORNING, JAN. 26, 1853.

Common Council Proceedings.

The Mayor and whole Council present.

COMMUNICATIONS.

Several Communications were received, the most important of which was one from Mr. M. L. Pense, Secretary of the Fire Brigade, communicating to the Council that Mr. Hector Macdonell had been nominated for Chief Engineer at the Council meeting, and requesting on the part of the department that the appointment be confirmed.

Inquiries were made by two members of the Mayor, if any complaints had been lodged with him of the conduct of the Clerk of the Council, which his Worship answered in the negative.

PETITIONS.

Alderman Flanagan presented a batch of Petitions for remission of taxes, which were ordered to lay over, upon the suggestion of several members of the Council, until the Committees were organized, no action to be taken against the parties in the meantime.

STANDING COMMITTEES.

A select Committee having been appointed to strike the Standing Committees for the current year, they reported in the following, which were adopted:—

Finance—The Mayor, Messrs. Flanagan, Strange, Armstrong, Thibodo.

Streets and Improvements—Messrs. Davidson, Allen, Armstrong, Thibodo, Strange, Brownley.

City Property—Messrs. Baker, Waddingham, McGregor, Linton, and Allen.

Fire and Water—Messrs. Thibodo, Waddingham, Butler, Wiley and McDonald.

Wharfs and Harbors—Messrs. Breden, Rudston, Ranton, Wiley, and the Alderman for Ontario Ward.

Schools—Messrs. Ranton, Murdoch, Brownley, McDonald, and the Councillor for Sydenham Ward.

Market—Messrs. Flanagan, Armstrong, Jackson, Breden, Murdoch.

Cats and Carters—Messrs. McGrogan, McMillan, Alexander, Fitzpatrick, Johnston.

Police—The Mayor, Messrs. Flanagan, Davidson, Thibodo, and Brownley.

Railroads—The Mayor, Messrs. Strange, McDonald, Flanagan, Thibodo, Armstrong, and O'Reilly.

AUDITORS.

The Mayor nominated Mr. Cruse as one of the Auditors, which was confirmed by the Council. Messrs. Michael Harrington and William Armstrong were nominated for the choice of the Council, when Mr. Harrington was elected by a majority of seven.

Proceedings of the County Council.

TUESDAY, January 25, 1853.

When the Reporter arrived the Council was striking the Standing Committees for the current year. The following were the Committees appointed.

On Finance.—Messrs. Ashley, Boyes, Chamberlain, Marks, Perry, Stevenson and Warner.

On Roads.—Messrs. Ash, Ham, Lake, Spike and Whalen.

On County Property.—Messrs. Ashley, Calvin, Marks, Waggoner and Wheeler.

Superintendent of Schools.—For the Township of Richmond, in room of Dr. T. Chamberlain resigned, Ephraim A. Dunham.

Auditors.—Messrs. Thomas Glassup and William Armstrong.

Mr. Perry then brought in a motion regarding the £100,000 added to the assessment of Ernestown, for the purpose of equalizing the taxation. This drew on a considerable discussion, in which Messrs. Perry, Warner, Marks, and several other members took part, on the one side, considering the injustice of the measure, which they considered anything but an equalization. Mr. Boyes, on the other hand, contended that it was only just; but at any rate it was too late now to complain, as gentlemen had had full opportunity to get this corrected before. Mr. Perry, in the course of the debate, made some statistical statements which bore upon the subject, showing that the other Counties were assessed some as low as 30s per acre, and none over £4; while Ernestown was assessed at £5 10s per acre, Kingston, with its valuable harbor and personal property, &c., only being assessed at £4 10s.

The matter was at length disposed of by a resolution introduced by Mr. Warner, referring the claims of the different Townships upon the additional assessment fund to the Finance Committee.

Council adjourned till 4 o'clock P. M.

The Mare of Toronto.

If the reader would please to change the name of Toronto to Kingston, and Brother Bowes to Brother Counter, the same article which served the "Streetsville Review" would serve the "British Whig."

The unctious brother Bowes is once more installed Mare of Toronto. A man of tender conscience is this same prescious and immaculate Bowes, and no mistake! When the Council came to select their Boss the struggle which took place in the saintly one's breast between duty and modesty, was truly gigantic. Modesty pleaded—"For my sake don't vote for yourself John G.! Leave to such disinterested musicians as Councilman Romain the task of blowing your horn!" But here Duty broke in with visage virtuously severe. "Hold hard! The interests of the public must not be sacrificed to satisfy a maudlin delicacy! Sure John you know better than any one else, that if such things as mercantile honour, and unspotted commercial fame are to be met with in Toronto, they are to be found concentrated in the corpus of your noble self. What would they think at Lloyd's if any one but yourself should be hoisted into the civic throne? Why the credit of Muddy Little York would receive a shock which might throw her back twenty years in the march of prosperity!"

Need I say, that duty prevailed, and blushing like a mendicant at the donation of a half-penny, the ex-Mayor voted for himself, and the good name of Toronto was preserved for one year certain!

The following very clever jeu d'esprit is from the pen of Solomon of Streetsville. It is rather fortunate for the 'British Whig,' that Solomon did not accept the offer of the Kingston Tories:—

Astounding Discovery.

There is profound wisdom, and indubitable truth in the immortal saying of Sir Isaac Newton—"As we lives, we learns!"

Up till the other day, we laboured under the impression that the Corporation of Muddy Little York did not differ very essentially from bodies of a similar description, so far as intellectuals were concerned. It is true, we gave the Civic Fathers of our aspiring and ambitious rival, credit for sufficient gumption to discriminate between the claims of an oyster and a snail, and even conceded to them the faculty of seeing as far into the intestines of a millstone as their neighbours, but beyond this we were not disposed to extend our favourable estimate very far. Never did we lose a night's rest from the apprehension that they would set Lake Ontario in flames; and we even cherished a sort of forlorn hope that if Mayor, Aldermen, and Councilmen were interred in one lot by Williams, that King of spades, a modicum of wisdom might still be discovered lurking in this revolutionary globe of ours!

The perusal, however, of the following extract from the 'Daily Patriot's' report of the Corporation proceedings, of the 11th current, has caused a mighty change to come "o'er the spirit of our dream:"

"Alderman Beards would say a few words in reply to the worthy Alderman for Saint George's Ward. The worthy Alderman soared in higher spheres than he (Ald. B.)—the worthy Alderman based his proceedings upon Parliamentary usage. He did not know exactly what the powers of Parliament were, but he believed that it could do almost anything. It could pass measures directly contrary to its own laws; but the Council was not a Parliament. (A voice, "we ought to be.") Yes, (Alderman Beard continued) we ought to be, for there was certainly as much talent and ability to be found among the members of this Council as in any Legislative Assembly. (Hear.) He (Ald. B.) would not be afraid to state that, number for number, there was more talent to be found around that Council table than within the walls of Parliament."

Oh, rare Alderman Beard! Blessings upon thy mug, thou Prince of Bonifaces, for thus removing an envious bushel from one of the mightiest lights of this thrice-enlightened nineteenth century!

What were the discoveries of Columbus to thine, thou wisest and most venerable of all Beards? He merely found out a continent abounding in pine, to be afterwards translated into nutmegs! Thou hast demonstrated that a collection of heads, hitherto deemed to be fabricated of timber, actually are replenished with brains! More hast thou done, thou man of many chin hairs! Plain as the features of Medusa (vide Pocket Lexicon) hast thou made it appear, that the civic synod, made luminous by your presence, is not surpassed, for talent and learning, and political knowledge, by "any Legislative Assembly" squinted upon by old Sol!—(Lexicon once more.)

What remorseful feelings are agitating huz at this blessed moment of time! Here have we for years been passing the greatest of human statesmen upon the streets, as if they had been so man common men—passing them without paying the homage of a leg or a hat! Oh, hardened sinner that we are! Our only plea in mitigation of punishment is that, like the Brahmin who destroyed millions of living creatures by drinking a cup of water, we sinned in ignorance! Little did we think when carelessly rubbing shoulders with Alderman Hope, that we were slighting a Canadian Pitt! And when we profanely called Councilman Julip a jolly old cock, we dreamt not that the familiar irreverence was directed against a British-American Fox! The only amend we can make is to cry peccavi! and to exclaim with Yorick, "We have behaved very ill; but we shall learn better manners as we get along!"

Brilliant as is the Beardie discovery, we much apprehend that it is destined to be pregnant of evil to our beloved Toronto! Sorely do we fear that she will not long enjoy the services of the illustrious sages, with whose multiform virtues she has just been made cognizant! It is preposterous in the most superlative degree, to expect or hope that Muddy wee York will be permitted to monopolize such a galaxy of talent as her Corporation at present exhibits! Constituencies in all quarters of the British Empire will unquestionably be sending out Commissioners to dig representatives out of the intellectual Californian mine opened up by the brilliant Beard! The Fathers will be snapped up at the most prodigal premium, and ere long unhappy Toronto will be shivering in the east wind of orphanhood!

By one of the recent arrivals from England, we learned that Her gracious Majesty was sending east, west, north and south, for a Cabinet maker to construct a ministry for her. Had Alderman Beard promulgated his discovery a month or so earlier the royal Victoria would have been saved a world of pother and anxiety. She would at once have written to Mayor Boyes requesting him to pack up and slip home Alderman Thompson, Councilman Romain, or any other member of the Corporation who could be most easily spared, in order to do the needful at Downing Street! However, she will ken what to do when a hitch occurs in the Aberdeen Administration!

There is almost nothing which we could refuse our beloved Sovereign, but it is as well to be plain and above board with her at once. We cannot, and will not part with Alderman Beard! On this point our mind is made up, and when Solomon says that, it is a decided case, and no mistake! As the wandering Jew observed to the Grand Turk who wanted to shave him. "You are welcome to my ducats—my diamonds are at your service—make free with my silks and satins—but touch not my precious Beard!!"

Brother Gough.

The admirers of that respectable gentleman, Brother Gough, are requested to peruse the following from the Streetsville Review:

"Reformed Blackguards."—In noticing "The Governor of Cacona" last week, we alluded to the fact that a converted black leg had been lecturing on gambling in the United Strtes. From our excellent contemporary the Transcript, we learn that this identical vagabond has found his way to Montreal. That journal says:—

"We were very much pleased, two or three Sundays ago, hearing a clergyman, who had been requested to announce from the pulpit a proposed lecture from a "Reformed Gambler," express his indignation at the request, saying, very properly, that he and his congregation had nothing to do with gambling; that it was unnecessary to inform them of vices in which they did not participate, and that it would not be wise to produce the confessions of a debauchee as an incentive to virtue!"

As yet only one or two reformed scoundrels have poluted the Upper Province with their mercenary presence, and devoutly do we pray that we have seen the last of such nuisances. It is revolting beyond description to witness great hulking, lazy, loafers turning their unassumed repentence to money-making account, and trading, so to speak, upon the recapitulation of their crimes and excesses! A year's promenading upon the treadmill would mightily improve the moral health of such gentry.

"The Reason Why."

Mr. Editor,—

In your pleasing little scrap, headed "A Reformation," in yesterday's British Whig, you should have stated, that Mr. Counter Green, the purchaser of the Heaslip property, is a Son of Temperance. This is one of the chief reasons why young men like Mr. G. invest their money properly.

Yours faithfully,

X.

The Loyalty of the True Witness.

The Irish Executive is composed as follows:

Lord Lieutenant of Ireland,	Lord St. Germans.
Chief Secy. to the Lord Lieutenant of Ireland,	Sir J. Young.
Lord Chancellor of Ireland,	Rt. Hon. M. Brady.
Atty-General for Ireland,	Mr. Brewster.
Solicitor General,	Mr. Keogh.

We are sorry to find in the above list the name of Mr. Keogh, one of the most able speakers of the Irish Brigade, and whose solemn pledges—nay oaths—never to accept office under any ministry—never to support any party "which will not make it the first ingredient of their political existence to repeal the Ecclesiastical Titles Bill"—are but a few months old. Alas! these fine, promises are all blown to the winds—Mr. Keogh could not resist the allurements of office, and the official blandishments of Palmerston and the author of the Durham Epistle. Messrs. Sadlier and O'Flaherty have also accepted office under a Ministry which numbers amongst its ranks the bitterest enemies of their country, and their country's religion. Alas! poor Ireland—Alas! that she cannot obtain a few honest men to represent her in Parliament: some one or two, by whom honor is more praised than salary or office, and of moral courage sufficient to enable them to turn a deaf ear to the honied accents of the First Lord of the Treasury. Mr. Lucas of the Tablet has addressed a stinging letter to the deserters, but we fear it comes too late. The signal of apostacy has been given, and it is to be feared that many others of the Irish Brigade will follow the example. For our parts, we should not be at all surprised to find the whole lot of them voting with the Aberdeen Russell-Ministry to-morrow, although the repeal of the Ecclesiastical Tites Bill makes no part, nod is not likely to make any part, of the Ministerial programme. Parliament has been prorogued until the 10th of February.

Raileoad and Telegraph Line to the Pacific.—Our enterprising neighbors really appear in earnest in regard to the long talked of Railroad and Telegraph line to connect the Pacific and Atlantic. Application has been made by a company of gentlemen to the New York Legislature, for a Bill authorizing them to build a continuous railroad, with one or more tracks, from the Valley of the Mississippi river, or the Gulf of Mexico, to San Francisco, in California, or such other place on the Pacific ocean as the company shall deem most advantageous to the public interests. A memorial was also presented to Congress, a few days ago, asking for a grant of 1,500,000 acres of land, to be located along the line of a telegraph, which the memorialists propose to build between St. Louis and San Francisco, by the way of Salt Lake City—a distance of about 2,400 miles. The projectors contemplate the construction of a subterranean line, with testing tubes every five, and working stations every one hundred miles, throughout the route.

Sudden Death.—On Sunday afternoon last, at the English Church in this village, while the Minister, the Rev. S. F. Ramsay, was proceeding with the service, the Rev. William Tatham, who for the last year taught the Common School in this Village, suddenly fell down in an apoplectic fit, and in about five minutes after expired.—Some medical gentleman were in the Church at the time, but, though promptly rendered, their services were unavailing. Mr. Tatham, who at the time of his death was about 57 years of age, formerly officiated as a Minister of the Church of England, but withdrew for some peculiar reason of his own. He was a classical scholar, and was highly respected by those who formed his acquaintance. He was a native of Nottingham, in England. Three daughters and a son are left parentless by his death, having previously lost their mother.

The weather being stormy, Western Canal Flour is quoted at 27 a 27s 6d; Baltimore and Philadelphia, 27s 9d a 28s 3d; Ohio, 27s a 29s; Red and Mixed, 6s 9d a 7s 2d. Liverpool Provision Market.

From Wm. Gardner & Co's Circular.

In Beef this week business has been only to a moderate extent, but a very firm feeling exists, and the inquiries lead us to expect increased sales. There has been considerable sales of French Pork at extreme prices. Bacon is scarce and held for an advance of 1s. Lard is scarce and has advanced 2s to 3s. 66s is now asked for fine. Small parcels of Chinese have arrived, but not yet landed. Tallow has rallied under speculation, and prices are 1s higher. Linseed Cake flat, and 5s. lower. Beef—U. S. prime mess 97s 6d a 110s, ordinary, 80 a 95s—no American Pork, Hams, or Bacon. Cheese, U. S. 46s a 50s., middling and ordinary 34s a 44s. Tallow 38s a 46s.

Apples.—George Badenach reports a plentiful supply, and no improvement in prices—ordinary qualities range from 12s a 20s.

Railway Matters.—The Boston Courier says, the final meeting of the great railroad convention was held on Saturday. All the Northern lines were represented. The committee appointed at the previous meeting, consisted of Mr. Swift, of the Western road, Mr. Hendee of the Rutland, and Mr. Sterns of the Vermont Central, reported the expediency of raising the freight tariffs 25 per cent, and of abolishing all free-passors. The report was unanimously accepted. There are now three important railroad lines from Boston to the West, namely:—The Worchester and Western line, and the Fitchburg, Cheshire and Rutland line, and the Lowell Northern, Central and Ogdensburg line.

A Suttee.—The unnatural and revolting practice in the East, of widows burning themselves on the funeral piles of their deceased husbands, is not discontinued in the East Indies. Among the latest intelligence from that quarter is the following:—

"Letters from Bhooj, mention that a suttee had lately taken place in the immediate neighborhood of that station. It is said that some English officers pulled the unfortunate woman off the pile, and she was quite willing to be saved, but the attendant Brahmins dragged her back, and on her attempting a second time to escape, dashed her brains out."

"A rollingstone gathers no moss." A very doubtful adage. We have just seen in an exchange, the marriage of Peleg Rowlinstone, to Miss Orphelia Morse.

We learn by telegraph that the Message of President Fillmore to Congress, announces that the Florida Indians refuse to comply with Treaty of May, 1852, requiring them to emigrate. He advises a reinforcement of United States troops to the Florida frontier, and if necessary to compel the Indians to submit.

Salt in Ireland.—A company is about being formed in Belfast, with a capital of £50,000, to work the salt mines which have been discovered on the Marquis of Downshire's estate at Duncane. In connection with the preparation of the salt for commerce, chemical works are to be established which will not only enable the company to supply manufactures with bleaching materials, but to export them in large quantities to other countries.
