Halton Regional Police haul away this SUV after it was clocked at 112 km/h in a posted 60 km/h zone near Brookville School in Milton.

Halton Regional Police have charged a motorist with stunt driving and other offences after an SUV was caught speeding close to a Milton school the afternoon of Friday (April 12).

Police tweeted about the incident near Brookville Public School on Guelph Line in Campbellville just after 1 p.m. Officers say the SUV was clocked at 112 km/h in the posted 60 km/h zone.

"Just plain reckless," police said in a tweet. "Bad enough but this is a Community Safety Zone (fines double) approaching Brookville Public School." The driver will lose their licence and vehicle for seven days.

This incident comes during Project Rural Impact in Halton, an initiative that sees the Halton police district response team and platoon officers targeting drivers who choose to ignore the posted speed limits in the rural communities of Milton and Halton Hills.
