Court of Quarter Sessions.

WEDNESDAY, July 5.

This morning at 10 o'clock, Judge McKenzie took his seat on the Bench. The first case called on was that of John B. Aitkin vs. George Stenson for assault committed at a school meeting in Sheffield, and appealed from the Magistrates' conviction. The Jury brought in a verdict sustaining the conviction.

Thomas Campbell, an Inn keeper in Storrington, appellant, and William Lake, Inspector of Licenses, respondent. This was for allowing a man of the name of Hewson to get drunk in his house contrary to the 20th section of the By law. The Inspector summoned Campbell before a Magistrate who fined him 10s. The Jury confirmed the conviction.

The Grand Jury here came into Court, when the Foreman handed in the ollowing

ADDRESS.

The Grand Jury of Our Lady the Queen for the County Court and Quarter Sessions of the United Counties of Frontenac Lennox and Addington.

Beg leave to report, that they have examined the gaol of the United Counties and find the cells clean and comfortable, the provisions good, the prisoners making no complaints, but speaking well of the treatment they received at the hands of the gaoler; but the Grand Jury cannot allow the opportunity to pass without bringing under the notice of the Court the dilapidated state of the gaol and the great want of ventilation, and it is the opinion of this Jury that it is totally unfit for use as to health or safety, and the gaol yard unsafe for prisoners. All of which is respectfully submitted.

THOMAS DOWNIE,
Foreman.

Grand Jury Rooms,
City of Kingston, 5th July, 1854.

James Steven vs. John Dult. This was an action brought for a Book account, amounting to £23 17s 6d. Evidence being heard on both sides, the Jury gave a verdict for the Plaintiff with costs.

Several petty appeals, of little importance to the public, came before the Court during its sitting.

The Court then adjourned.

Items of News.

From "The State of Maine," of June 29.

LUMBERING ON THE LINE OF THE GRAND TRUNK RAILWAY.—The railway to Montreal has turned the forests along its line into gold. One of the leading and one of the earliest objections urged against the plan of the railway from Portland to Montreal, was the character of the country through which it was to pass.—"The howling wilderness," so graphically depicted in the speeches of the friends of some of the rival lines, has been found, but instead of proving any discouragement to its friends, turns out a noble business for the railway. A timber township furnishes more business for the road than three ordinary farming towns of equal extent under good cultivation.

The forest at the head of the Androscoggin and Connecticut rivers, have been quadrupled in value in the last four years and a similar result is found along the streams of Canada, in the neighborhood of the line.

The returns of the Grand Trunk Railway for the week ending June 3, show that over a half million feet of lumber was moved on that road, and from the new operations going forward along the line we predict that in another year it will average one million feet a week.

In passing over the line this week, we were surprised to notice the lumber operations started within the last few years.

At Bethel a large building for a steam saw-mill is raised and will be in operation the present year, the proprietors having secured from the Legislature, at its recent sessions, a right to construct and maintain a boom for holding their logs at that place.

Further on, at Stark's is a new mill with two saws. At Stratford Hollow, or in its vicinity, are two more, and another at North Stratford at the mouth of the Nulhegan, and three new mills are nearly finished at the mouth of the St. Paul's a stream a few miles below the Nulhegan. A new mill is about to put up by Messrs Richardson & Gilchrist, of Wells river in the Hegdr woods, and the Island Pond Steam Mill Co., are cutting about 50 000 feet of lumber per day.

All these, and perhaps other saw mills, have sprung up within the last year or two, called into existence by the influence of the railway.

The value of the railway to the land owner and the lumberman have far surpassed any previous estimate or conception of it. The whole region at the North of us has been touched with new life, realizing for those owning lands or water power fortunes, of which they little dreamed. By another year Portland will be second only to Bangor in the value and extent of its lumber business.

or nearly 48 per cent.

It will be seen that the principal increase is in the freighting department, in which this road is doing a large business, limited only by the capacity of the rolling stock of the Company. One new Locomotive has just been added, and another is, we believe, expected in a few days, making some 29 in all. At the present rate of increase several more will be required during the year.

There has been a handsome increase, as well to be seen in the passenger business, over the corresponding period last year.

FROM JAPAN.—The British Government has taken steps to receive the same advantages in the trade with Japan as have just been granted to the United States.

FIRE AT TORONTO.—This morning, about one o'clock, Boyd's Tavern, on Front street, along with the stables belonging to it, and the adjoining stables belonging to Rolph's Tavern, were destroyed by fire. At the same hour, a fire broke out on Queen street west, destroying a frame dwelling house and a stable.

In the latter case, the fire was less than might have been expected, considering that the greater portion of the Firemen were occupied on Front Street, where the alarm was first given.

There can be no question, that our citizens are the victims of a band of incendiaries. These incessant burnings are not the result of accident. Either a spirit of revenge against individuals, or a desire for plunder which can always be had cheaply, during a fire, has seized on some desperadoes; and half the city may be burnt down, before many weeks pass. Not an effort is made by the Corporation to provide against these repeated calamities. Not even a quorum in the Council has been had during the last two weeks. It would be better at once to offer formally a premium for incendiarism.

REMOVAL OF MILITARY FROM TORONTO AND NIAGARA.—The Niagara Chronicle states that it is informed upon reliable authority that the military stationed in that town and Toronto will be removed during the present season.

CANADA CENTRAL RAILWAY.—It must interest the Montreal public to witness the efforts of the inhabitants of the route from Kingston, Smith's Falls, Kemptville, and so on to this city, through Central Canada, to awaken public attention to a Railway, its value to Montreal would be equally, if not more, advantageous to our business than any road built or in progress. A view of the map will explain all. Kingston seems to lead off in the matter. A meeting had been held, composed of most of the wealth of the city, and resolutions passed, to construct a road from there to Smith's Falls, and recommending the city to aid by taking liberally of the stock. At Smith's Falls it would connect with the character of the road to Kemptville, and all that now remains is for our citizens to act with others on the root to bring it from Kemptville to Montreal. —Montreal Herald.

The Kingston, Commercial Advertiser has made another wheel. It now opposes the ministry. That is the fourth great change within a year, besides many slight ones.

BRAMHARNOIS AND LACHINE CANAL.—A notice has been sent to Forwarders, that the water will be drawn off for two weeks during July or August, as may be most convenient to parties interested.

On the 9th June, say the Greenock Advertiser, an iron paddle steamer was launched from the building yard of Mr. Archibald Denny, Dumbarton. Her dimensions are as follows:—Length, 195 feet; breadth, 19½ feet, depth, 9½ ft. She was named Her Majesty by Miss Sword, daughter of Archibald Sword, Esq., Greenock. Her Majesty Her Majesty is intended to ply on Lake Ontario, and will be steamed across the Atlantic as soon as possible. Thomas Dick, Esq., of Toronto, is the owner of this fine vessel Her Majesty's engines are making by the celebrated firm of Root, Napier of Glasgow. This splendid craft is sister to the Peerless.

The Methodist Chapel at Four Corners, Township of Haldimand, was burned on Saturday morning. It is said to have been the work of incendiary.

The New Danish Printing Machine.

Copenhagen, May 18.

Owing to the politeness of the editors, I have now been able to see the new composing machine in actual operation in the office of the Fedrelandet. Instead of the usual cases and composing sticks, and the compositor standing at his work, we see a person sitting before a machine with keys like a piano, which he incessantly plays, every touch on the tangent is followed by a click; the letter is already in its place by the long mahogany channel prepared for it. The whole is excessively ingenious. In fact it seems like fairy work.

The most wonderful part is that it distributes the already used type at the same time that it sets the new page, and with an exactness perfectly sure. No mistake can ever occur. The compositor by this machine does four times as much work as another workman, but as he requires an assistant to line and page the set types, this brings it to twice the amount of type set. The whole is so clean and pleasant, that it will probably soon become a favorite amusement for women. The machine occupies a very small space, not more than a large chair, and is beautifully made of hard woods, brass and steel. Its success is now beyond all doubt; the proprietors of the Fedrelandet are so gratified by the one they have, that they have ordered another.

The price is 2,400 Danish dollars. It will last apparently for a century, without repair. Mr. Sorenson, the inventor, himself a compositor all his life, kindly shows the machine to any visitor. Of course a compositor cannot set with this machine at once, it will take him a short time, a few days for him to become familiar with the details; but he is then a gentleman compared to his old comrades.

The N. Y. Herald audaciously another and boldly says that British America must never expect reciprocity with the States till we are prepared to accept the Fugitive Slave Law; that so long as Canada is a refuge for the slave so long will they withhold the treaty; but "if our legislature would agree to catch and deliver up every fugitive slave who crosses our borders, the treaty might wear a different aspect."

SUPPOSED MURDER AT TORONTO.—The preparatory steps to the holding of an inquest were taken by Doctor King and a jury of fourteen persons, last Saturday in the Police Office. The inquest is on the body of an unknown female infant, which was found floating in the river Don near the second bridge. As soon as the jury were sworn in, they visited the child, and resolved that a post mortem examination should take place, and the discovery of the body made public, with the hope that some clue may be obtained which will lead to the apprehension of the perpetrators of the outrage. The infant is newly born, swathed with the best description of cambric finery, neatly trimmed with lace. The jury adjourned to this afternoon at three P. M. Hand-bills will be issued this morning announcing that the infant's clothing will be exposed for recognition at the Police Office until the inquiry shall be resumed.

"It is a fact of deep and gloomy portent, that on the Saturday prior to the meeting of Parliament, the Romish Archbishop and Bishops went in state to Lord Elgin, and presented a formal protest against Secularizing the Reserves."—Toronto Examiner.

The above is false. We know from reliable authority that the Roman Catholic Bishops who lately assembled at Quebec took no formal steps in reference to the Clergy Reserves, and that no formal declaration has ever been made by them as to what course Catholics should take on the subject. We have the best proof of this in the fact, that Catholic electors, and even Catholic Priests, view the question, as do other people, some in one light, some in another.—Patriot.

SUPPOSED ARSON AND MURDER.—On Monday night bout eleven o'clock the town was alarmed by the cries of fire. A small house in Andrew's Street, occupied by a man named Vitel St. Louis, was discovered to be in flames. As it was built of light materials it was soon found to be consumed, along with it a child of five years of age, Marian St. Louis, the daughter of the occupier of the house. A Coroner's Inquest was held next day by Isaac Smith, Esquire, and a verdict returned, "That the child died by burning, and that the father, Vitel St. Louis, is suspected of having set the house on fire." He has been committed to the gaol to stand his trial at the next court of competent jurisdiction. The unfortunate child was burned to a cinder—her head being completely separated from her body. There is often reason to suspect that here, as well as in other similar cases, the hand of the foul fiend alcohol can be traced.

Election Intelligence.

DURHAM.—Mr. F. H. Berton comes forward as a liberal conservative.

NORTHUMBERLAND EAST.—The Pilot says that Mr. James Ross, and Mr. Stephen Young are in the field in the Reform interest, and are making a satisfactory canvass; they will be opposed by Mr. A. H. Meyers, and Mr. R. M. Bouchet, Conservatives.

ONTARIO NORTH.—A Convention of Delegates from the various Townships, comprising the North Riding of the County of Ontario, is called to be held at Jones' Tavern in the Township of Brock, on Saturday the eighth day of July, for the purpose of selecting a fit and proper person, as a Reform Candidate to represent this Riding in Parliament.

Mr. John H. Thompson, Reeve of the Township of Brock, comes forward for this Riding, in consequence of a Requisition. He has resided many years in the Township of which he is Reeve.

ELGIN EAST.—Edward Ermatinger has issued his address to the Electors of this Riding, not the West Riding, as stated in this Journal of the 1st. inst.

Mr. Weller's Address.

It is with much pleasure we give William Weller's Address to the Electors of West Northumberland. It is a manly document and exhibits in plain language the manner with which Mr. Weller has been treated. It is not probable Mr. W. will be returned in the face of so much illnatured opposition, but his coming forward will have the good effect of keeping Mr. Sidney Smith out.

TO THE INDEPENDENT ELECTORS OF WEST NORTHUMBERLAND.

GENTLEMEN:—

Parliament is prorogued, the House is dissolved, and a new election will take place immediately. This being the case, I conceive it a duty, owing both to you and to myself, to appeal to you once more, in the hope of meeting the charges preferred against me by anonymous scribblers in the Sun, and others who have turned "Reformers," Farmers and everything else, for the purpose of misleading you and commanding your confidence at this momentous period.

From the observations of my opponents it would appear that I am a stubborn man, and one who injures the cause of Reform by coming forward, as a Candidate, without being nominated by a Convention. That I am a little fractious, when I feel an attempt to coerce both you and me, am free to admit; but, that I injure the interests of the Liberals in pursuing the course which you, yourselves, have advised me to adopt, I deny most distinctly and emphatically. If, indeed, the nominees of such Conventions as ours have been, were always fortunate, then I won'd pause before assuming the position which I now occupy; but, finding the case to be quite the reverse, the deduction is inevitable, that you do not feel yourselves bound by the dictation of any five or six individuals; but, on the contrary, consider that you are sufficiently intelligent to think and act and vote with the aid of such finger-posts; and here, let me observe, that as far as I am concerned individually, we agree cordially on this point.

Now, just to show you how "popular and successful" the Candidates of our Conventions have hitherto been, let us look at the Poll Books of the last three Elections. In 1844, Mr. Jeffrey who was brought out by a Convention, ran against Mr. Meyers, and, in that part o the County which is now the West Riding of Northumberland, had a majority of forty-five votes. In 1848, when the Convention declined bringing out any one, I opposed Mr. Meyers, and had a majority over any opponent in the same Division of the County, of 142 votes. In 1851, Mr. Clarke, on the plea that he was more popular than I was, was selected by a Convention to oppose Mr. Burnham, and the result was that Mr. Burnham had a majority over him of fifty-five votes, in the same West Northumberland. The confidence you reposed in me in 1848, by giving me so large a majority of the votes which comprise this new Electoral Division, would be rapidly repaid, indeed, if I did not remember this unmistakeable token of your respect and esteem, and permit it to cheer me when assailed by a few disappointed and jealous men. It would be badly repaid, too, if I did not come forward, at this moment, when you generously offer to renew it. I have come forward; and here I am, with a heart full of gratitude for your kindness, and a will to promote your interests whenever I can put my shoulder to the wheel. I can bring the experience of many a long year among you, to bear upon your wants and wishes, and this may, to some extent, go to supply the place of polished eloquence, which, after all, amounts, in the end, to nothing but a little bit of pleasant moonshine—at least I have always found it so on a division of the House.

To enumerate the trivial and foolish charges made against me by the Sun and his Satellites would be absurd. You all understand them as well as I do; nor will it make much difference whether my sons are Lawyers, as charged upon by a "Reformer" in the Sun, or not. I have fought my way through the world, and they are, I trust, competent to do the same, without being any very serious burden on their country; but, Gentlemen, should one of them ever advance to enjoy your confidence to the extent which, I trust, I do, no man living would be more proud or grateful than your humble servant, for I then should feel doubly honoured among you; and who would not?

Gentlemen, the space is brief, and from the very nature of things, and the manner in which this Election has been precipitated, it will be impossible for me to see you all individually. I, however, leave myself in your hands without a single fear. I need not recapitulate my politics. I am a liberal man, and you know it well. And if my humble abilities, sincerely devoted to your interests, and those of this splendid Country at large, are worth your acceptance, I lay them, thus openly, at your feet, without one single feeling to gratify, except that of the pride of representing you, and doing my duty as a fearless and honest man.

Gentlemen, adieu for the present—we shall meet at the Polls.

Your faithful servant,
WM. WELLER.

Coburg, July 1st, 1854.

Book Notices.

NORTH BRITISH REVIEW, L. Scott & Co., New York.—The May number of this very able Review has been laid on our table by Mr. Palmer. It is not easy to select where all is so good, but we cannot refrain from more particularly noticing the exceedingly interesting article that commences the number,—and that on the "Art of Education," is well worthy the careful perusal of all parents and teachers. We should like to make some extracts from "British and Continental Characteristics," but want of space forbids, and we must refer our readers to the Review itself, assuring them that they will find in it much food for sober reflection. A new volume of the North British commences with the May, and the other Reviews and Blackwood with the July numbers. The present, therefore, is a favorable opportunity to subscribe.

PUTNAM'S MONTHLY MAGAZINE, for July, presents one of the promised portraits of its contributors—a very flattering portrait of the author of the "Potiphar Papers." A likeness of Mr. Bayard Taylor is to be given in the August number. The greatest literary attraction is the first portion of an original American romance, entitled "Israel Potter —A Fourth of July Story," and understood to be written by Mr. Herman Melville. We think it much more interesting, and likely to be much more popular than even his admired narratives of South Sea adventure. Another good story, but of a lighter character, is that entitled "Hard up." The miseries of the poverty-stricken hero, Mr, Belisarius Mynus, are related in a semi-serious, semi-comic vein that is highly entertaining. The leading article is a review of Messrs. Nott and Glidden's work on "Types of Mankind."—The reviewer, who displays a thorough acquaintance with the opinions of all the eminent naturalists on the subject, arrives at the conclusion that "The nations are of one blood, not genealogically, but spiritually, in their capacities of thought and affection, which the blood only typifies, and which are the very essence and most real grounds of their manhood." We infer that the reviewer is a Swedenborgian.

THE PILGRIMS OF WALSINGHAM, A ROMANCE OF THE MIDDLE AGES. By Agnes Strickland. 12mo, cloth; 400 pp. New York, Garrett & Co.

Mr. Duff has kindly sent us the above.

The writings of this lady remind us of those boquets in which ripe ears of corn and other grains are blended with the most beautiful flowers; so hapily does she mingle instruction with amusements. This is the very best of her many charming works. As a story it is replete with captivating interest, while it instructs the reader with one of the most interesting episodes of the history of Europe: the visit of the great Emperor Charles V., to the court of the VIIIth Henry. The latter monarch, his noble, pious, patient Catherine, her beautiful, coquettish maid-of-honor, Anne Boleyn, the sagacious Wolsey, are all to the life; and it was an admirable thought of the authoress to contrast with these personages the famous monarch who soon after wore on his imperial brow the double diadem of Spain and Germany. Quaint humor and sly, grave satire sparkle almost every page, rendering us heartily sorry when the merry party conclude their Pilgrimage.

POLICE COURT.

Wednesday, July 5th.

Wm. Buchanan was brought before His Worship to answer to a summons issued on the complaint of Alderman Yates, for furious driving on Earl Street, on Tuesday evening, knocking against Mr. Yates carriage in which Mrs. Yates was sitting, and pushing it on the side walk. The case being clearly proved, fined 25s and costs.

Doctor Yates made a complaint about the filthy state of the cellars under the market. Action immediately taken thereon.

Phillip Richardson was charged by the High Bailiff with being drunk on Ontario street. Fined 5s.

Peter Tolan, pound keeper, applied to his Worship for instruction as to how he should act, having a quantity of geese in the pound, the owner not being willing to pay.

His Worship advised him to return them, and sue the owner for the costs.

HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT AND PILLS FOR THE CURE OF ERYSIPELAS AND BAD LEGS.—The wife of Mr. Edward Cole, of the Post-office, Salcombe, near Kingsbridge, suffered for a number of years with erysipelas. Some time since she had the misfortune to injure a vein in her foot, which caused her leg to swell, and ultimately broke out into four deep flesh wounds, attended with violent inflamation. She had the best of medical advice, and tried various remedies without being able to effect a cure. At last she commenced using Holloway's Ointment and Pills, which have effectually healed the wound, and in every other respect restored her to sound and robust health.

House of Industry.

There are at present in the House of Industry, 17 old men, 14 women, 19 children under 10, and two above ten years, making the total of its inmates 52.

Medicine always aggravates chronic diseases, such as dyspepsia, (indigestion), habitual constipation, nervous, bilious and liver complaints, &c., but Du Barry's delicious Revalenta Arabica Food invariably cures them in a very short time. We extract one out of many thousand expressions of gratitude from an aged invalid:—

Trevalger, Gulval, near Penzance, Feb. 29th, 1851.

Eighteen years nervous debility, violent palpitation of the heart, throbbing of the temples, violent pains in the left side and back, shortness of breath, cough, general weakness, that I was consequently fearful of falling when on my legs: all these symptoms have been removed by Du Barry's excellent Revalenta Arabica Food.

Mary Gelbert.

A great number of similar acknowledgments will be seen in Mesars. Du Barry's advertisement.

LYON'S KATHAIRON,

FOR PRESERVING, RESTORING, CLEANSING, AND BEAUTIFYING THE HAIR, ALLEVIATING NERVOUS HEADACHE, AND CURING ERUPTIVE DISEASES OF THE SKIN. Its reputation, co-extensive with the civilization of the globe, makes all praise superfluous, all exaggeration impossible; and since its discovery has found no substitute to compete its incontestable superiority. Physicians and Chemists,—honorable citizens from all professions of life,—the leading Journals of Europe and America,—Ladies who have used it upon their dressing tables, and Mothers in their Nurseries,—in fact, its million patrons everywhere, from plebeians to kings, pronounce it the most pleasing and effective article either as a Medicinal or Toilet preparation ever produced. Do not fail to give it a trial.—Price but 25 cents.

WORMS! WORMS! WORMS!

A great many learned treatises have been written, explaining the origin of, and classifying the worms generated in the human system. Scarcely any topic of medical science has elicited more acute observation and profound research; and yet physicians are very much divided in opinion on the subject. It must be admitted however, that, after all, a mode of expelling them and purifying the body from their presence is of more value than the wisest disquisitions as to their origin.

Such an expelling agent has at last been found. Dr. M'Lane's Vermifuge proves to be the much sought after specific—its efficacy being universally acknowledged by the entire medical faculty. As further proof, read the following from a young lady—one of our own citizens:

New York, October 15, 1852.

This is to certify that I was troubled with worms for more than a year. I was advised to use M'LANE'S CELEBRATED VERMIFUGE. I took one bottle, which brought away about fifty worms; I commenced improving at once, and am now perfectly well. The public can learn my name and further particulars, by applying to Mrs. Hardie, No. 3 Manhattan place, or to E. L. Theall, corner of Rutgers and Monroe streets.

P. S.—Dr. M'Lane's celebrated Vermifuge and Liver Pills can both be obtained at any of the respectable Drug Stores in this city.

Purchasers will please be careful to ask for and take none but Dr. M'Lane's Vermifuge. All others, in comparison, are worthless.

TO THE FREE AND INDEPENDENT ELECTORS OF LENNOX AND ADDINGTON.

GENTLEMEN,—The Provincial Parliament having been dissolved, you will, in a few days, be called upon to exercise the Elective Franchise, and pronounce your verdict upon the several questions now agitating the public mind.

It is incumbent upon those, who, by, their votes in Parliament, have been the cause of delaying, if not altogether preventing the Treaty of Reciprocity being ratified—the Reduction of the Tariff, and the new Franchise Law being brought into immediate operation, to account to the Electors of Canada for their conduct.

Having had the honor of a unanimous Nomination, at a Convention held in March last, for the purpose of selecting a Candidate on the Liberal interest for these Counties, and having been repeatedly solicited and urged by a large number of my fellow Electors to accept the nomination, I beg to announce myself a Candidate, and my determination to meet you at the Polls.

My political principles are well known to you all, and, should the confidence you repose in me, result in being returned to Parliament, I shall not fail to advance and support such measures as I deem best calculated to promote the interests and prosperity of Canada. I respond the more readily to the call made upon me, from the fact that you have left me free to act—untrammeled by pledges or platforms,—to support or oppose such measures as I may deem best, without regard to the source from which they emanate; Your motto being, like my own, "measures not men."

I deem it right to inform you that the principles of the Bill for secularizing and disposing of the Clergy Reserves, as prepared by the Ministry to lay before Parliament and the electors of Canada, meets with my entire approbation; and should you elect me, my earnest endeavors shall be to have the same carried into effect as speedily as possible.

There are questions of vital importance to the people, to be considered and discussed, among which I may mention the Prohibitory Liquor Law, and at meetings to be held in the different Townships in the Counties and on the day of Nomination, I shall be most happy to give you my views upon them.

I have the honor to be,
Gentlemen,
Your obedient servant,
D. ROBLIN.

Napanee, 8th July 1854.
