Military Despatches to Lord Elgin.

Military, No. 17. (COPY.)

DOWNING STREET, 11th August 1854.

MY LORD,—

The war in which, in conjunction with our allies, England is engaged with Russia, has led the people of this country, as your lordship is aware, to make extraordinary exertions, in order to supply Her Majesty with the means of prosecuting it with vigor and efficiency. A large British force has been landed in Turkey, and is engaged in important military operations in the East. It has been raised partly by the additions readily voted by Parliament to the ordinary strength of the army; and partly by the withdrawal of troops from their usual stations in different parts of the United Kingdom; their places, where necessary, having been supplied by regiments of militia embodied for that purpose. Reinforcements, however, continue to be required. Desirous of meeting these demands, Her Majesty's government have turned their attention to the practicability of bringing home some of the regiments which are on service in the North American and other colonial possessions of the Crown.

Fortunately the character of the war renders this resource available without risk to the security of the colonies against external aggression.

Her Majesty's government fully recognize the duty and responsibility of affording them protection against any such aggression, and the strength of the empire would be put forth for the defence of any part of it which might be placed in jeopardy from such a cause. But the blockade of the great maritime outlets at the opposite extremities of Russia has intercepted her fleets, and disabled her from injuring the foreign possessions of the Crown; while the friendly relations subsisting between Her Majesty and all other foreign powers forbid the apprehension of attack from any other quarter.

Her Majesty's Government, therefore, think it expedient that that portion of the army which is now in the colonies should contribute its quota to the forces actively employed in the present war. I am informed by the Duke of Newcastle that he personally consulted with your lordship, during your residence in England, on the proposed withdrawal of a portion of the troops from Canada; and that he had the benefit of your views respecting it.

It is his Grace's intention to send orders to General Rowan for the return to England of three regiments of infantry and three companies of artillery. Upon their withdrawal the regular forces in Canada will consist of the Rifle Regiment, one Regiment of Infantry, to be maintained at a strength of eight hundred and fifty men, and two Companies of Artillery, and will be distributed between the fortified positions of most importance, namely, Kingston and Quebec, the Rifles being stationed at the former place.

This arrangement, as you will remember, is in accordance with the general intention expressed by Lord Grey in his Despatch of the 14th March, 1853; and there appears to be nothing in the present condition of affairs to require the continuance of a more extended military occupation.

Her Majesty feels that the internal tranquility of the Province may safely be confided to Her Canadian subjects. Their addresses to the Throne on the occasion of this war have expressed the most gratifying assurances of loyalty and attachment, and I entertain no doubt that they will cheerfully acquiesce, so far as they are concerned, in those measures which are thought requisite by Her Majesty's Government for the common interests of the empire and for the attainment of a safe and honorable peace.

I have, &c.,

(Signed) G. GREY.

Military, No. 18.

DOWNING STREET, 18th August, 1854.

MY LORD,—

With reference to my Despatch No. 17, of the 11th instant, I have to acquaint your lordship that it is intended that the strength of the regiment which will remain in Canada after the withdrawal of the other three shall be increased to eight hundred and fifty rank and file.

I have, &c.,

(Signed) G. GREY.

The Weather.

The days still continue warm and exceedingly pleasant for the time of year. Were this good old world ten times as sinful as some hypochondriachal pietists would have us believe, such weather as we have been blessed with for the last two weeks should reconcile us to living in it. Light fogs at night and early morning, an unclouded sky and a sortly-brilliant sun during the day, and the blandest possible atmosphere—truly we are luxuriating—and in what somebody calls "bitter blunk October," too. The weather is too temperate to last long, and we must expect to suffer shortly for present bliss.

Disgraceful Assault.

Mr. Gardiner of Portsmouth was very seriously maltreated on Tuesday night last, while on his way to the City, and his horse taken from him. He bears evident marks of the inhuman treatment he received, being very badly bruised about the face. Mr. Gardiner was bringing his Poney to the City to dispose of him that night, according to previous arrangements. He has issued a reward for the detection of those who assaulted him; the police are upon their trail, and it is hoped will bring them to justice.

A Hotel among the Thousand Islands.

Captain Throop, the popular Captain of the Steamer Ontario, (American Line) is at present contemplating the erection of a large Hotel among the Thousand Islands, at the lower end of Wells' Island, nearly opposite Alexandria Bay. There is no a more delightful retreat on the Continent during the summer months than that formed by the Thousand Islands of the St. Lawrence; and the enterprise of Capt. Throop will no doubt be the means of making the beauties of this Northern Archipelago more far famed than ever.—Setting aside the scenic loveliness of the place, the hunter, angler and sportsman well know that it abounds in game, fish, &c., in as great abundance as can possibly be desired. As a summer resort, there cannot be the slightest doubt of the certainty of the enterprise being highly remunerative. The Watertown Journal gives the following as the dimensions, &c., of the proposed erection: The building is to be 320 feet long, four stories high, ninety feet from the basement to the top of the observatory, and 180 feet deep.—Piazzas, fronting each story, will be built on three sides. It will accommodate, conveniently, 400 guests. The Dining and Assembly rooms will be of liberal dimensions, standing back of, and connected with, the main building by halls. Office and bar rooms will be fixed in the same part, and thus all the noisy places will be so situated that those of a quiet nature can enjoy their rooms without being disturbed by noise and confusion. Captain Throop deserves well of the public if he carries his idea into effect. As to its being made to pay, there can be no question—as summer resorts are becoming rare, the old ones being pretty well used up.

The Sanford Troupe.

To say that there was a crowd at the City Hall last night, would be endorsing an unconscionable fib; to say that there was a decided crush, would be simply telling the truth. Long before the hour at which the performance was to commence, the Hall was filled; the seats reserved for the ladies (many of whom stood during the entire evening) were nearly all monopolised by a pack of unmannerly hounds who had no more respect for the sex of the mothers that bare them, than they might be supposed to have for an equal number of she wolves. It was a positive disgrace. There was a lack of arrangement on the one part, and a shameful absence of manliness and gallantry on the other, that made one blush for his sex.—Had the same want of courtesy been shewn in any city of the United States, one half of the monopolists would have found themselves pirouetting between the stars and the lime-stone before they could say "Jack Robinson!" Many a one has found himself performing a three story Franklin Somersault for a less offence. But enough of grumbling. The Troupe is in perfect musical order; and a marked improvement is discernable in many of their best vocalists. The Songs, &c., forming the programme could not be supposed to take so well as the Negro Melodies and Extravaganzas of their previous Concert; it was probably a great mistake, though well intended, to make this alteration; but the singing was not the less welcome—or excellent for all that. Mr. Rainer has made a wonderful improvement in his singing of the "Banner of Old England"—a Kingston Song to all intents and purposes; his "Bay of Biscay" was admirable. Sliter is as fantastic as ever, and Master Sanford gives good promise. This Troupe is decidedly the best on the boards—but what would it be without the rich Hibernian humor of Mr. Kavanagh. The gifts were duly distributed last night.

The dullness of the freighting business is illustrated by the fact mentioned by the Tribune that one of the New York merchants, extensively engaged in the shipping business, has had a first class ship offered to him for a twelve months' voyage, gratis—nothing beer required by the owner but a guarantee that the vessel should be returned to him at the expiration of that period in as good condition as when she was taken.

Messrs. Richardson & Brothers, agents of the Liverpool and Philadelphia line of steamships, notify the public that the wreck seen by the barque Mary Morris must have been that of the Shandon, burned at sea on the passage from Glasgow to Montreal, and not that of the City of Glasgow.

Not One Woman or Child Saved.

The N. Y. Express denounces in eloquent and feeling terms the conduct of a portion of those on board the Arctic. It says:—

"According to the statement of one of the saved, (Captain Grant,) no sooner was the ship found to be sinking, then two of the quarter boats were taken possession of by the second and fourth officers and crew, another boat (making the third,) was taken possession of by the engineers, supplied with provisions, water, &c. In this last boat it seems there was but eight or nine persons. It could have safely accomodated many more, but revolvers were drawn by those on board against those who were shrieking and struggling to get on board. In that fearful struggle were many helpless woman and children, but their pitiful appeals for life were unheeded by the robust cowards who had stolen the boats, and turned their backs upon those whom it was their duty to preserve—or at least to endeavour to preserve.

Oh! what a manly spectacle must this have been! Hardy rough handed, broad-shouldered, strong framed men—accustomed to a business, too, the constant hazards of which one wlood naturally think deadens in some degree everything like personal fear—men like these treacherously deserting feeble and delicate women, and shutting their ears to cries from little children, that should have touched hearts of adamant. It is enough to make us all ashamed of humanity, and envy the better nature of the beasts in the field. Not one woman saved! Not one child!—at least we have at the moment we write this no assurance of the fact.

The circumstances connected with the loss of the British steamer Birkenhead, on the coast of Africa, not many months since, still fresh in the memories of all. The steamer struck on the hidden rock, stove a plank at the bows and went to the bottom, we believe, in half an hour's time. There was a regiment of troops on board. As soon as the alarm was given and it became apparent that ship's fate was sealed, the roll of the drum called the soldiers to arms on the upper deck. The call was promptly obeyed, through every gallant heart there knew that it was his death summons. There they stood as if in battle array, a motionless mass of brave men—men who were men indeed. The ship every moment was going down—but there were no traitors, no deserters, no cravens there. The women and children were all, or nearly all, saved: there were no boats for the troops—but there was no panic, no blanched, pale quivering lips among them. Down went the ship, and down went the heroic band shoulder to shoulder firing a feu de joie as they sank beneath the waves. Men like these never perish; their bodies may be given to the fishes of the sea, but their memories are as they ought to be—immortal." A gentleman of Niagara was coming down on the Hudson River Railroad train, and upon the seat behind him sat two rough, brawny, swearing men—one of whom was rehearsing to the other in a confidential tone, the manner of his escape from the wreck of the Arctic. He said among other things, that they did not mean to let them upper fellows get the start of them with the boats; and added that he himself pitched two or three of them out to make room for his friends. It is greatly to be feared that we have but an imperfect idea of all the scenes enacted on board that sinking ship.

SYRACUSE, October 26th.

Five hundred "Know Nothings" assembled here last night, for the purpose of hearing a speech from Daniel Ullman. They also nominated a full ticket, composed partly of whigs and partly of democrats.

NEW YORK, Oct. 26.

The barque Estelle sailed from this port for Liberia yesterday, with 30 emigrants and 7 missionaries.

A fire broke out in the extensive store house of Minell on Water street, and goods damaged to some $15,000 worth.

Yesterday morning the Custom House officers seized on board the Washington about $5,000 worth of watches and jewellery found upon the persons of two second class passengers, who intended to smuggle them ashore.

The Washington Star says that the cost of the reclaiming of the fugitive slave Burns, amounted to $27,000; $15,000 of which was paid from the U. S. Treasury yesterday.

Springfield, Ohio, Oct. 25.

The great National Cattle Show is now in full away at this place, and the display of stock is very fine, being considered superior to any previous exhibition in this county. The attendance is good, and embraces leading men from all parts of the Union.

Philadelphia, Oct. 26.

The Port Desposit Bridge gave way this morning, while a drove of cattle were passing over.—It was broken between the three piers, and each end hangs on the abutments. A large number of cattle perished, and it is feared lives were lost as several hats were found.

Philadelphia, Oct. 26.

No lives were lost by the breaking of the bridge at Port Deposit, and only one of the cattle drowned.

New York, Oct. 26.

N. Behand, on trial for several days past, at Riverhead, L. I., for the murder of the Wyckhani family, has been convicted, and sentenced to be hung. He treated the matter with perfect recklessness, and made some jesting remark to the Judge after the sentence.

HOUSE OF ASSEMBLY.

Quebec, Oct. 26.

Last night Mr. Merritt withdrew his motion for a committee on banking, at the request of the government, after a long discussion.

Mr. Brown complained that there was an attempt to stifle enquiry.

Mr. Attorney General Macdonald and others members of the ministry denied that they had any desire to stifle enquiry, but only desire the member for Lambton to proceed in the regular and parliamentary manner which was not to support committees of enquiry on merely verbal subjects. Mr. Macdonald said he would aid Mr. Brown if he (Mr. B.) would conduct the investigation in a regular manner.

A personal debate followed.

Mr Brown, in reply said, none of his classes had been denied, and that other committees had been granted on verbal classes.

Mr. Morin's amendment was carried—Yeas 51, nays 41.

To-night, after a debate on a motion of Mr Mackenzie for a committee on the vote by Ballot, the following bills were introduced:—

Mr. Lemanger—To continue Laprarie common's Act.

Mr. Yielding—To amend the Masters' and servants' act.

Mr. Foley—In reference to Excise duties.

On motion of Mr. Hincks, it was ordered that there be an instruction to the committee on banking, to enquire into the circumstance under which the government account was removed from the Bank of Montreal and British North American Banks.

LAKE ST. PETER FILLING UP.—We are not so selfish as to wish, with one of our townsmen, "that lake St. Peter might choke up, and Three Rivers become the head of the navigation." Whether we wish it or not, the fact is becoming established. It is calculated that there are over 5,000 oak logs lying sunk in the Lake, and this summer the water has been so low that several of these logs have become visible, but almost covered with sand and mud, whilst others have been discovered imbedded beneath a layer of sand and mud six inches in depth.—[Three Rivers Inquirer.

Domestic Items.

BARN BURNT.—The Barns Sheds and Stables of Mr. Sager, Hotel Keeper, on the Carrying-place were burnt on Friday night last. The Barn was well stored with hay and grain. The origin of the fire is unknown, but circumstances indicate that it is one more to be added to the list of the incendiary fires which are becoming so prevalent throughout the country. On Saturday the wood house attached to the Dwelling of Robert Weller Esquire, but a few rods distant from the burnt premises of Mr. Sager, was discovered to be on fire. It had been set in a vacant chamber over the wood house and was discovered by fire dropping through a burnt hole in the floor. This is the third attempt within a few months to burn out Mr. Weller. We really hope the miscreant may be detected and have meted out to him a double portion of justice.

The people of Consecon are about taking measures to get one of the lake steamers to call at their village. Wellers Beach, which a year or two ago was a good way on the road has been washed away sufficiently to admit vessels drawing twelve feet water, making a lake port of the enterprising village of Consecon.

FIRE.—The Dwelling House of Mr. David Black of Baltimore Village near Coburg was consumed on the evening of Friday last. Mr. Black's loss is estimated at £300: no insurance. The cause of the fire is unknown. The house was entirely new.

Two men, one of them a printer in the employ of Mr. Lovell, were stabbed by some person or persons unknown, in an affray which took place in St. George's Street, St. John Suburb, at Quebec.

DROWNED.—A lad named Picard, aged 19, was accidentally drowned on the 23rd October, whilst fishing near the Market-Slip, Quebec.

JOHN TORONTO IN THE FIELD!—The Bishop of Toronto has addressd a long letter with a bitter postscript to Mr. Morin, "as the virtual head of the Ministry," against Secularization in any shape.

GRAND TRUNK RAILROAD.—The bridge over the River Trent is rapidly progressing. The abutments will be above high-water mark this fall. Nearly 100 men are employed.

CORONERS INQUEST, TORONTO.—An inquest was held yesterday forenoon, by Mr. Coroner Duggan, on the body of William Baird, late commander of the schooner Merchant. The evidence showed that the deceased went to bed on Sunday evening with his brother, and was in his usual state of health. On rising at about 7 or 8 o'clock on monday, the latter discovered that William was dead. The verdict was rendered in accordance with the statement. Deceased was 23 years of age, a single man, and of quiet, steady habits.

ROSE PARK ESTATE TORONTO.—The sale of lots forming part of this Estate took place yesterday at Wakefield and Coate's. The only lot considered to be positively sold was the land numbered in the plan 27, 28, and containing together 133,100 acres. The upset price was £500, which was considered high, and the bidding was far from spirited; it was at length sold at £550. Other lots and of these only a few, which were knocked down at what seemed sufficiently high prices, were deemed to be bought in. The attendance of buyers, or rather of intending buyers, was good.

HORRIBLE MURDER.—On the evening of Wednesday last, five ruffians, living in the neighborhood of Cayuga, County of Haldimand, perpetrated one of the most cold-blooded and inhuman murders it has been our lot to record. About 9 o'clock on the above named evening, these men called at the house of Mr. Husband, and asked for some tobacco, and offered in payment a two dollar bill. Mr. H. pulled out his till to give them change, when one of them seized him by the hair of the head, and demanded what money was in the drawer, amounting to some $20, or they would take his life. He gave them the money and they left the store.—They proceeded some short distance from the store, to the house of Mr. Nelles, a son of Major Nelles; he, it appears was about to retire to bed. They knocked loudly for admission and as he opened the door one of the ruffians discharged three balls into his body, and he fell weltering in his blood.—They then proceeded to rifle the premises but failed in getting any large amount of money however they took the gold watch from the person of Mr. Nelles—a very valuable one. They engaged with a person who carries the mail, to convey them to the Cayuga station a distance of five miles, for which they paid him five dollars. The remained there till the arrival of the eastern train on Thursday morning, and proceeded leisurely to Buffalo. Mr. Husband, it appears, was so much afraid of them that he failed to go out of the house during the night of the murder to give the alarm, and thus, so far, murderes have escaped justice. On Thursday morning he went before a magistrate and stated the circumstances of the robbery, and the fact of the murder having by this time become known, six special constables were sworn in and proceeded to Buffalo for the purpose of arresting them. We have not yet heard weither they have succeeded, but hope, by our next issue, to be able to record the fact.—Brantford Herald.

HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT AND PILLS the best Remedies for Bad Legs, and all kinds of Wounds.—The surprising sale of these invaluable medicines in every part of the civilized world is one of the most convincing proofs of their efficacy in curing bad legs, old wounds, scrofula, and diseases of the skin. Thousands of people who suffered from these dreadful maladies have been cured by their use after every other remedy failed; and it is a fact beyond dispute that there is no disease, however obstinate, but that may be shortly eradicated by these wonderful medicines Therefore the afflicted should try Holloway's Ointment and Pills.

☞ MRS. HARDEY, No. 119 Suffolk street, writes us that she has been troubled with worms for some three years, and that she used one vial of Dr. M'LANE'S Celebrated Vermifuge, which brought away over fifty large worms. Her usual good health immediately returned.

MRS. QUIGBY, No. 182 Essex street, New York, under date of November 23, 1852, writes us that she had a child which had been unwell for better than two months. She procured a bottle of M'Lane's Vermifuge, and administered it. The child passed a large quantity of worms, in a few days was as hearty as it ever had been. Parents, with such testimony before them, should not hesitate when there is any reason to suspect worms, and lose no time in procuring and administering Dr. M'Lane's Vermifuge. It never fails, and is perfectly safe.

P. S. This valuable preparation, also Dr. M'Lane's Celebrated Liver Pills, can now be had at all respectable Drug Stores in the city.

$100 REWARD.

PONEY STOLEN OR ASTRAY.

ON Tuesday Evening, the 24th inst., as Mr. Gardiner was returning from Kingston to his place at Portsmouth, he was attacked by two men, who, after felling him to the ground from his Poney, rifled his pockets and left him lying on the ground. The Poney has either been taken by the ruffians, or has escaped, and may be in the city or vicinity.—Any person that may give such information as may lead to the detection of the thieves, will receive the above reward; and any person bringing the Poney to the Penitentiary, Hatter's Bay, will be handsomely rewarded. It is a little mare, roan color, star in the forehead, and having a bridle and saddle at the time of being taken away.

SEAT OF WAR!

Brilliant Achievements in the East.

THE taking of Sebastopol was certainly a very fortunate affair; an achievement not less brilliant than desirable for the united interests and fair fame of the allied Powers. But notwithstanding this, the Bears have not all been slaughtered, for in spite of the Emperor Nicholas and the Eastern War, very large importations of Furs continue to be made into these Provinces. Amongst others, D. CHISACHI has just replenished his Stock in Trade, where every article needed in the Hat and Fur line can be had as cheap and as good as at any other House in the trade—all of the first quality, and of HIS OWN MANUFACTURE.—Opposite the Glasgow Warehouse, Wellington Street. Caps of all styles.
