Later by the Arabia.

PARIS, October 21st.

The Pharlomb has arrived at Marseilles with General Thomas on board, convalescent. She brings Constantinople advices of the 10th.

The siege works were covered with entrenchments against attacks from without.

Prince Menschikoff had not made any offensive movement.

Balaclava was perfectly fortified.

Russian deserters stated that Prince Menschikoff had received no reinforcements.

The Presse says the Turkish Ambassador at the Court of Vienna, Arif Effendi, has officially communicated to the Austrian Cabinet, that Omar Pasha will begin offensive operations against Bessarabia shortly, and will arrive at Bucharest in a few days in order to arrange his plan of attack.

It is said Lord Raglan has called upon Omar Pasha to hasten his movements.

The Moniteur confirms the intelligence of a sortie attempted by the garrison of Sebastopol; and that they had been repulsed.

Large Russian reinforcements were going to the Crimea by forced marches. The bombardment commenced on the 14th.

If Sebastopol is taken, Prince Menschikoff will retreat to Pekeof.

The Prince received orders from St. Petersburgh, to hold his place on the Alma two months.

According to advices from Varna to the 6th, a despatch had arrived there from Raglan, ordering that no more Turkish troops be taken to the Crimea, as the forces there were sufficient.

PARLIAMENTARY PROCEEDINGS.

QUEBEC, Oct. 31.

Last night, on motion of Mr. Morrison, the bills to incorporate the Upper Canada Bible Society and the Upper Canada Book and Tract Society were read a first time.

Mr. Rhodes moved for copies of a petition and correspondence complaining of the conduct of Mr. Justice Aylwin, addressed to the Executive Government.

Mr. Drummond said that the Executive Government could not by law interfere with the Judges, and therefore could not take notice of the petition.

Mr. Rhodes withdrew the motion.

On motion of Mr. McCann the bill to explain the Act 16 Vic., Cap. 183, was read a first time.

In answer to Mr. Laberge, Mr. Morin said the Government did not intend to introduce any new general measure for the settlement of the Townships.

The following bills were read a first time:—The bill to regulate forced licitations; the bill to amend the act relative to offences against the person; the bill to incorporate the Colonial Church and School Society.

Messrs Polette, Labarge, and Loranger were added to the Registry Laws Committee.

The bill to amend the 14 & 15 Vic. to facilitate the performance of the duties of magistrate was read a first time.

On motion of Mr. Chauveau, a Committee on fine arts was appointed.

On motion of Mr. Ferres an address was ordered for information as to the McKean & McClarty Steamship Company, viz:

Whether the contract of McKean, McClarty and Company, has been fulfilled as to the following particulars, viz:

Whether the line consists of five Screw steamers of the first class, being each not less than 1200 tons burthen, and 300 horse power—230 ft. keel, breadth 34 feet.

Whether their draft of water, after consumption of fuel and landing of freight at Quebec, as specified in contract, was 11 feet?

Whether the price of freight demanded for fine goods has exceeded 60s.?

Whether the time outwards of any or all of said Steamers has exceeded 14 days yearly average and time homeward 13 days?

Whether the said Steamers or any of them have proceeded to Montreal as stipulated in said contract?

The Bill to amend the Mutual Assurance Act of the Fabriques of the Dioceses of Quebec, Three Rivers, Montreal and St. Hyacinthe, was read a first time.

In answer to Mr. McKenzie, Mr. J. A. Macdonald said that Dr. Ryerson's report for 1853 was not laid before the House owing to some accidental circumstances, through it was printed in the usual way.

In answer to Mr. Jobin, Mr. Drummond said the Government had taken no general measures for granting licenses to work mines in the Province, but had granted mineral lands on certain conditions, among the rest that they should be worked.

The House then proceeded to the second reading of the Seigniorial Tenure Bill which was going on when the House rose at 6.

QUEBEC, November 1st.

On Monday night, after a debate that lasted till midnight, the Seignorial Tenure bill was read a second time and referred to a Committee of the whole.

On Tuesday night, in answer to Mr. Holton, Sir Allan McNab said the Government was not prepared to decide upon how long it would keep the House in session after having finished the three great measures of the session.

A debate then ensued on the House going into Committee on the Clergy Reserves Bill. Mr. Crown's amendments were put and all lost by large majorities. The discussion continued till the House rose at midnight when the debate was adjourned.

Yesterday being a legal Holiday — All Saints day,—Parliament did not sit.

NOVEMBER 3rd.

Debate on Clergy Reserves continued until 2 o'clock, A. M. Mr. Cameron's amendments all lost. Yeas 16, nays 80.

Mr. Bowes moved a series of amendments the effect of which was to sell out the Reserves and to divide the interest among all religious bodies that would accept of them. All the amendments lost on votes of yeas 5, nays 71.

Mr. Langton moved that no religious body have a right to participate in the Reserve fund otherwise than as the medium of distributing the annual payments or commutation to the individuals whose rights were acknowledged. The House adjourned before a vote on this amendment.

This evening the House went into committee on the bill, in Mr. Langton's absence. He complained that unfair advantages had been taken of him, while he was absent on an important committee. The committee rose to give way for the Seignorial Tenure bill.

Sir Allan McNab stated that the Government had appointed a commission at the head of which was Mr. Coffin of Montreal, to inquire into the late melancholy accident on the Great Western Railroad. He said the Government had heard of the loss of life with deep feelings of regret.

Mr. Robinson said the accidents on that road were so frequent as to demand an investigation.

The debate on the Seignorial Tenure bill was then taken up.

Jones' Panorama.

Several Panoramas of California, and of the journey thither by various routes, have been exhibited in this city, but none of them more interesting, or more artistically finished, than the Pantoscope of Mr. Jones, now exhibiting at the City Hall.—There is a freshness in the coloring, and a good taste prevalent in many of the views, that speaks well for the skill of the Artist; and as a great many of the sketches have been painted from Daguerreotypes, carefully taken, it is presumed that a fair transcript is given of the scenes and localities represented. The tone of the painting is, on the whole, good, and scenes of very great beauty are here and there presented to the eye, which give a pretty fair idea of the romantic loveliness of that delightful country. It is well known that there exists no where in the wide world a more beautiful country than California; many of its scenic features are unparalelled; artists of celebrity acknowledge this. Those therefore who have not seen the Pantoscope had better bestir themselves, as its stay in the city is limited.

By the abuse of the Globe, it would appear that the Protestant Church is not to be so fearfully robbed, as was apprehended, though we don't see very well in what way the Church gains:—

CLERGY RESERVE BILL.—THE AMENDMENTS THROWN OUT.—Our readers will find by the telegraph report given above, that the amendments necessary to make the Clergy Reserve Bill acceptable to the country have been thrown out by large majorities. The Ministry professed their willingness to make corrections, but when they were proposed by the opposition, they turned round and called them factious. These promises were evidently designed to prevent Reformers taking the alarm, and now, it is evident that they are about to be sold. There is evidently a plot between John A. Macdonald and the Episcopal Clergy to pass the measure in its present iniquitous form. We are convinced that all true Reformers will agree with us, that it will be far better to have no Bill at all than the one now before the House. We have had good means of ascertaining their opinion on the subject, and we are convinced it is as we have stated. The measure must be thrown out at all hazards. If it is passed the Churches of England Scotland will require an amount of money which will be ruinous to their best interests, and injurious to the country.

THE CHIEF ENGINEER OF SEBASTOPOL.—Every one has heard of Sebastopol, but every one has not heard of Colonel Upton, for many years the chief engineer of that redoubtable fortification. Mr. Upton was the surveyor of the Dunchunch and Stratford road and resided at Davantre many years. His name frequently appears in parliamentary reports of the Commissioners of the Hollyhead road, between the years 1818 and 1826. All the great improvements on the above line were made under his superintendence; and Mr. Telford, who was the engineer of the Holyhead road, had the highest opinion of his acquirements, and took every opportunity of stating his opinion of him to the commissioners.

Mr. Upton got into a course of expensive living unwarranted by his means, and was induced to commit many gross frauds on the trustees of the road. These frauds were discovered in the month of April, 1826, and, on enquiry by a competent person employed, it was discovered that he had trespassed upon the funds of the trustess to an amount exceeding £3000. Evidence was taken of the facts, and he was held to bail to appear at the July assizes following, to answer to the charge. He appeared at the assizes, and answered when called upon to plead. The trial did not come on the first day of the assize. He had been given to understand by his solicitor that he would be merely indicted for a fraud, but he obtained information he could not doubt, that he would be indicted for forgery, and if found guilty, would probably be hanged. He slept at Yorthampton, got up about seven o'clock, said he was going to take a walk, and said he should return to breakfast. He did not, however, appear again, and as it seemed, went that morning to London.

By some means he got a recommendation to the Russian authorities in London, received the appointment of engineer, and was in a few days on his way to the Crimea. We have heard by what means he obtained his recommendation, but if we were to publish them, they would implicate parties whose characters were unimpeached. As talents are more highly prized than honesty in Russia, it is possible that his real character might have been given. Talents are the first thing required in that country, and the surest guarantee for honesty is the certainty of being hanged if you are detected in being otherwise. When Mr. Upton went to Sebastopol, the harbour was in a very inefficient state, and in vain had several engineers endeavored to improve it. There was great difficulty in getting the water into it, so as to admit large ships. He procured immense iron works at Birmingham, and by dint of science, labor and expense he made it what it is.

The whole time of his residence in the Crimea he has been engaged in the fortifications in the Black Sea, and has been for some years the chief engineer at Sebastopol. The Emperor was so pleased with him that he gave him the rank of lieutenant-colonel in the army, and he was received at the palace at St. Petersburgh. In addition to his numerous forgeries and frauds he got upwards of three thousand pounds of the money of his wife's relations, not a farthing of which he did repay. He held the post office at Davantry for a year, and at the end of it was a defaulter of nearly three hundred pounds, which one of his sureties was obliged to pay. He died about a year ago, and has left a name (infamous though it be) more durable than the brass artillery he planted at Sebastopol.—[Northampton (England) Herald.

Among the items of news from the Crimea by the last steamer was a statement that a Mr. Upton had been captured by the allied forces in the vicinity of Sebastopol, and that important information was expected to be derived from him. Probably he is a son of the colonel whose history is given above.

The Great Western Railroad Accident—Coroner's Inquest

PARIS, C. W., November 2nd.

A Coroner's investigation of the Railroad accident continues. Watchman Pine is stated to have told the Engineer of the gravel train that the Express train had passed, has returned and given himself up. He denies the charge, and says he told the Engineer the train had not passed, and that the Engineer said in reply "go to Hell." The evidence is very contradictory.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 3.

The goods, and that the property on board the enemy's vessels is subject to confiscation, unless contraband of war.

Reciprocity Treaty.

ST. JOHN'S N. B., Nov. 3.

The Legislation passed, yesterday, an act admitting foreign breadstuffs, salted meats, molasses and coals, duty free; and another ratifying the Reciprocity treaty. Legislation adjourned to-day.

HIGHWAY ROBBERY.—On Friday se'night last, a coloured man of the name of S. G. Lightfoot, farmer, in the Township of West Flamboro,' while returning with his team from Hamilton, was stopped by five young men in Beasely's Hollow, and compelled, under fear of his life, to give up what money he had on his person, being about £5 Cy. The parties were all armed—not less than three pistols having been presented at Lightfoot's head, when his money was demanded. He was accompanied at the time by his mother in-law, but from the darkness of the night, it would be questionable whether either of them would be able to recognise the ruffians. On leaving, they proceeded towards Hamilton, and undoubtedly belong to some gang of scoundrels with which this part of the Province would seem to be at present infested.

SUICIDE.—On Monday night light last an intelligent and respectable young man named William Entricken committed suide by cutting his throat with a razor, at a tavern kept by Allan Wilson, in Lower Bytown. On the evening of the melancholy occurrence, the deceased was seen writing something on a slip of paper at the bar, after which he retired to his room, where he had not been long when heavy groans were heard. The people of the house immediately repaired to his room, where they found him lying on the bed, covered with blood, his throat cut, and the razor lying beside him.

MONTREAL FREEMAN.—This journal will cease to appear on Saturday, and its place will be supplied by a journal under the editorial management of Mr. W. Bristow, to be called the Argus. Its politics, as defined in the opening address, are distinctly and decidedly anti-ministerial.

Frightful Railroad Accident—A Number of Lives Lost.

Chicago, Nov. 3.

The passenger train for Rock Island, on Wednesday night, met with a most frightful accident from the breaking of an axeltree, when near the Miraka station. The result it is said of running over a horse upon the track. The engine and a portion, or all of cars were thrown from the track, breaking the ribs of the engineer, and scalding from 30 to 40 passengers.

Physicans present report that at least 10 or 12 of the scalded will die within 24 hours.

At the latest accounts all the sufferers had been removed to a large stone building, in Joliet, and the employers of the Railroad Company, as well as the citizens of the village were useing every effort to alleviate the sufferers.

It appears that when the engine was thrown off the track, two passenger cars were hurled on top of it, and the steam escaping was driven with tremendious force through the dense mass of human beings, packed again the wreck of the cars.

DEATH OF THE CATHOLIC PRIEST WHO WAS TARRED AND FEATHERED.—We have received information of the death of the Catholic priest Rev. John Babpst, an Italian, who was tarred and feathered and ridden on a rail in Ellsworth, Me., on Saturday night last, while on a vist to that place. The only excuse yet offered in palliation of the atrocious conduct of the mob, is that formerly when a pastor in Ellsworth, he engaged in a controversy on the School question. Admitting that the priest could have been guilty of any misconduct sufficiently vile to warrant popular violence, his participation in a discussion of an open question, was certainly not of such a character. The attack upon him for the cause given is a disgrace to the town, which can only be removed by earnest and energetic efforts on the part of the respectable citizens of Ellsworth to bring the prepetrators of the outrage to the severest punishment prescribed by law for the crime they have comenited.

A person named Garrett Paterson was arrested in this town, on Saturday last, on suspicion of being the Paterson mentioned in the report of the murder of Mr. Nelles on the Grand River. He was examined yesterday, but no evidence was produced that would indicate that he was the same person, the magistrates remanded him until witnesses could be procured.—We understand that several persons in town are willing to make oath that they saw Patterson in the Methodist Chapel about the hour it is said that the murder was committed; if this is the case, a perfect alibi is established.—[Hamilton Journal.

The Boston Traveller states that accounts from Prince Edward's Island state that the Legislature there have on their part accepted the Reciprocity Treaty.

MONTREAL AND BYTOWN RAILWAY.—We are happy to learn that on Wednesday last a train with passengers passed over the Grenville and Carrillon sections of this road, and it will be very shortly opened for trade.

The attention of our readers is called to Professor Holloway's Advertisement in another part of our columns. The World wide renown of his Pills and Ointment is too well known to require much comment from us; but they are, without doubt, the most efficacious remedies for all the ills that flesh is heir to. Many of our readers have derived immense benefit from using the Pills in cases of bile, and general derangements of the stomach and bowels, and no cutaneous disease can resist the curative powers of the Ointment, the effect it has on the human frame is certainly astonishing.

We see by the Court Records, that the two counterfeiters, White, of Buffalo, and Lawrence, of Epping, N. H., have been placed under ten thousand dollar bonds, each, for making and selling imitations of AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL. This is right. If the Law should protect men from imposition at all, it should certainly protect them from being imposed upon by a worthless counterfeit of such a medicine as Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. We can only complain that the punishment is not half enough. The villain, who would, for paltry gain, deliberately trifle with the health of his fellow man, by taking from their lips the cup of hope, when they are sinking, and substituting a falsehood—an utter delusion, should be punished at least as severely as he who counterfeits the coin of the country.—[Green Co. Banner, Carrollton Ill. 259
