The Rate of Interest.

In writing of the rate of interest allowed by banks and the Post Office, "Taxpayer" was in error in putting it at three per cent. The Post Office Savings Bank rate is four per cent.

It was Insured.

The statement that there was no insurance on John Maloney's stables, which were burnt on Thursday night, is inaccurate. Enquiry shows that there was an insurance of $1,100 on the building and contents.

They Suit Him.

The Locomotive Works has not received the contract to make the four engines for the Red River railway. While the men were on strike Mr. Ryan looked about him and found on the market four locomotives which suit him, and which, it is thought, he will purchase.

The Police Court.

Two Indians, Louis Jacobs and Louis Curran, appeared in the police court this morning, and were charged with being drunk. Both pleaded guilty and were fined $1 and costs each. Curran had no money, but Jacobs paid his fine. A charge of assault prefered by Margaret O'Neil against John O'Neil was allowed to stand.

The Games Will not Count.

This game does not count in the new arrangements between the Park Nine, Belleville and Kingston clubs. Death of Mr. Wm. Stark.

Mr. William Stark, one of the old residents on the Kingston road, Pittsburgh, died at his residence, last Wednesday at the advanced age of 86 years. Mr. Stark was born in Scotland, but came to this country over fifty years ago, and lived a quiet and industrious life. He was married after coming to Pittsburgh, but his wife died many years ago, leaving one son, Mr. T. C. Stark, well known as an agriculturist and stock breeder.

A Tip for Mat and Others.

Mat Bateson's light bay gelding, which he drives in the express wagon, and many other horses in the city have sore backs, consequently a word about a cure will, no doubt, be thankfully received. An old stager with horses writes: "For forty years I have tried my plan and I never knew it to fail I wash the sores with clean water, mixed perhaps with a little salt; then I get some ordinary burdock leaves and make a poultice half an inch thick and apply it three times a day, putting on the collar or the back band right over it, and I drive my horse right along."

A Serious Accident.

Last evening, while out driving, Mrs. Walker met with a serious accident. It appears that Mrs. Walker was sitting on the back seat, and, when near Murney tower, the horse bolted, throwing her and a child she held in her arms, on the street. On being taken to the residence of her son-in-law, Mr. R. Wright, it was found that her collar bone was broken, her head fractured, and her sides bruised Dr. Auglin was summoned, and he promptly attended to her injuries. To-day she was doing well, and hopes are entertained of her recovery. Mrs. Walker is about 60 years of age. A spectator says that when Mrs. Walker was falling out she shielded the child, so as to save it from injury.

The Late John G. Johnson.

John G. Johnson, the notorious tramp printer, who died recently, worked on the Ontario about fifteen years ago, and when Mr. Jas Carman was proprietor. The late Frank Mason was foreman of the composing room, and knowing Johnson's ability, and the paper being without a local editor at the time, the tramp was told to clean up and get to work. He did so, and the first article he wrote advised the merchants to put plate glass fronts in their stores. The advice was followed by some, and other improvements followed. The writer of the article regarding Johnson in yesterday's Ontario, is evidently mistaken regarding the man. A member of the NEWS staff was an apprentice in the Ontario's composing room when Johnson applied for and received the situation alluded to.

Three Eton Boys.

The above is the name of an excellent story that will be commenced in Monday's NEWS. The author, W. E Norris, is one of the most popular English writers of fiction. "Three Eton Boys" is possibly his very best production. The "Three Eton Boys" are carried through many vicissitudes, and the first in Fortune's favor is last in the race. A woman of great powers of fascination, of exceptional strength and peculiar wickedness—a type of the modern adventuress in high life—is one of the central figures. An old lady, who believes there is nothing but good in the world, supplies the quiet humor of the story, and finally overthrows the adventuress—and all ends well. Read the opening chapters in Monday's NEWS, and you will follow the story to the end.

DOWN THE RIVER.

The Pretty Headgear Worn by the Ladies—The Sensible Shade Hat.

There are many different styles of sunshades worn by both sexes on the river. Some of them are very pretty and unique, and there is great strife among the ladies to see into how novel a shape they can be made. No two have been seen alike this year, and if the whole population of the State should come to the St. Lawrence, the Yankee qualities for invention would study up something for a sunshade unlike anything else. Therefore, it is impossible to undertake a description of all of them, and only the more prominent and unique will be mentioned. For the little girl of six up to sixteen, and sometimes older ones wear the common soft red hat when on the river for a row, and at all times when on the water. The red hats bear the most resemblance to each other of any that are worn, and are simply worn on the back of the head, to keep from tanning. The sole motive for wearing any sunshade would, naturally, seem to be to keep the sun out of one's face and to keep from tanning, but they are invariably worn as far back on the head as possible. Colored glasses are then resorted to to keep the reflection of the sun from the water from the eyes. The paramount idea should be, and seems to be, to get tanned as much as possible, so that when you go home everyone will know that you have been at some summer resort. Let all remember this. The predominant soft white hat is as pretty as anything could be made. Sometimes they are worn plain with brim rolled up, sometimes twisted into the shape of a triangle, then again turned up in front and down behind, and in a thousand other shapes. The neck is what is shaded by all of them, and in this respect they are all alike. Straw shades are occasionally worn tied down over the ears, but the soft hat is preferred by a majority. Some of them are very becoming and some hideous looking, but it is not always the fault of the hat. What commends them to most people is their remarkable cheapness and durability and besides, they don't go out of style. Man is not so æsthetic in his tastes, and a common straw hat generally answers the purpose. He doesn't care so much for being tanned. Sometimes he wears the soft white hat above spoken of without the ribbon and fixings. The most sensible shade seen this year is one in the shape of a mud turtle, and fits the head somewhat in the manner of an Oxford cap, except that nothing but a skeleton frame touches the head, and the head can be kept as cool as though bareheaded. They are bad on bald heads, giving the flies a chance to roost under the crown. Generally speaking the more odd you can make a sunshade the better.

THE TINSMITHS INDULGE IN A MATCH.

Some Very Good Play on Both Sides—Notes About Foreign Players and Clubs—The Little League.

For three long weary hours the employes of McKelvey & Birch, Edwin Chown and R. M. Horsey played baseball yesterday afternoon. The day was warm; so warm that several of the players report that they weigh a number of pounds less than they did before commencing the match. Jas. Little was chosen umpire, and the game was called sharp at two o'clock. One side was composed exclusively of McKelvey & Birch's employes, while their opponents were picked from the establishments of Edwin Chown and R. M. Horsey. The latter nine won by two runs, the score at the end of the ninth inning standing 30 to 28 in their favor. The batteries of both sides were very good, but the fielders were not active. George Hentig was captain of the winning team. He is a good batter and a fair fielder. Manager Pollie of the Park Nine held down the third bag for the victors. His strong point is in batting and catching flies, while for running bases he was envied by all the other players. J. Connolly, the centre fielder of the Park Nine, caught for the defeated club. McKelvey's men went to the bat first and faced Holman, the left handed twirler for the victors. Before commencing play, he said he would "solder" the opposing batters. He led off by hitting Evans with a pitched ball and giving him his base. J. Connolly brought him home by hitting for three bags. Connolly then scored on the catcher not holding a pitched ball. Mat Elliott gave the first baseman a foul fly, and Stevenson plumped the ball into the hands of the pitcher. Simmonds and R McKelvey both struck at the air. This retired the side, and for their opponents, Patterson went out on a foul tip, and Polly was hit by a pitched ball. S. Conley made a safe hit and Polly scored. George Hentig made four wicked clips at the ball and then the catcher dropped the ball. George ran for first, and the catcher threw wild to that baseman, when the runner reached second, Conley in the meantime scoring Gardiner went out on first, and Carson hit to right field, reached his second, and then scored. Carson and P Moncrief also scored in this inning. Every inning was something similar to the first. The spectators were kept amused all the game by the funny way in which some of the men played. The team over which George Hentig had control was in the field when a young man was seen entering the gate with a pail of water in his hand. Although the game was going on, every man left his position and ran to get a drink, leaving only the batter standing in the diamond. The captain said his men could not play ball unless they got a drink. M. Elliott made several beautiful catches, and J. Pollie made a three base hit. Patterson, the catcher for the winning team, took in a foul tip and threw it to first making the only double play made. The game was played in a friendly spirit, and caused much merriment. The names of the players are:—

McKelvey & Birch—W. Evans, p; J. Connolly, c; M Elliott, 1b; R Stevenson, ss; J. Simmonds, 3b; R McKelvey, cf; W. Calbert, rf; W. Cannem, lf; J. Rankin, 2b.

Chown & Horsey—W. Patterson, lf; J. Pollie, 3b; S. Connolly, lf; George Hentig, 2b; T. Godwin, 1b; C. Carson, cf; P. Moncrief, ss; A. Holman, p; F. Tracey, rf.

The policemen want to play either the cabmen or butchers for a box of digbies. Their challenge should not remain long unaccepted.

Baseball Notes.

The two teams which played yesterday, are anxious for another game.

Holman, the pitcher for Chown & Horsey yesterday, has two curves.

The Palace Nine will play any club in the city, outside of the Park Nine and Kingstons.

West has been suspended without pay by the Binghampton Association for indifferent playing.

Burns was fined $20 in two installments for kicking when the Clevelands beat Baltimore Monday.

O Brien, of the Washingtons, has made three doubles, seven triples and seven home runs this season.

Yesterday the sailors and 'longshoremen played baseball in the Regiopolis College grounds. The former won by a score of 8 to 6.

Archie McConachy, captain of the Palace Nine, formerly Dougherty's nine, says his team will play any team in the city.

Scranton has telegraphed asking Gilman, the centre fielder, for his terms. It is said that Belleville has secured this good man.

The latest association failure, Umpire Mitchell, was appointed upon Manager John Kelly's recommendation. Mitchell was a New York pugilist.

It is said that Barnum's agent has offered Dave Mills, ticket taker for the Park Nine, a situation in the show ticket wagon. Dave can handle the cards at a lively rate.

This is the way the California Spirit of the Times glorifies a ball player for making a bold steal of a base: "That steal in of McLaughlin's won the game. For Mayor of Sacramento, William McLaughlin, the people's choice."

Manager Carson wants the receipts of the little league to be divided between the playing teams at each match, but the Park Nine and Bellevilles think that the visiting team should play for $35, and that all over that sum should go to the nine on whose grounds the match is played.

OUR YOUNG MEN.

The Work Being Done by the Y. M. C. A. Association.

The important business at the members' monthly meeting of the Y. M. C. A. last evening consisted in the reading of the proposed new constitution, which will come up for adoption at the next monthly meeting. For some time there has been felt the need of a central body of management to control the business affairs of the association. This need is met in the proposed constitution by the election of a board of fifteen directers who will have charge of its business interests. This board will be chosen from amongst the business men of the city who are interested in this special work for young men.

A report of the work done by the association at the military camp was interesting, showing that a tent had been put up, containing a reading room, facilities for correspondence, etc. At the religious meetings held, twelve of the men professed a determination to lead Christian lives.

At the men's meeting to-morrow afternoon at 4:15, the topic will be opened by Mr. J. J. Burton.

Chalmers' New Pastor.

In speaking of the transfer of the Rev. Mr. McGillivray to Chalmers' church the Perth Courier says:—It is needless to say that the change was very greatly to the regret of St. Andrew's, of Perth, where Mr. McGillivray has labored so earnestly and successfully for the past six years.

ABOUT SUNSTROKE.

How to Treat It—Something that Everybody Should Know.

Often it is heard that people on the street have become affected by the heat and received a sunstroke. A physician gives some valuable and seasonable information about sunstroke. During the hot weather, when exposed so to the sun, headache, giddiness, nausea and disturbance of sight, accompanied with great prostration of the physical forces, are indications that sunstroke is probably imminent. The best plan is to immediately retire to a cool place and apply some simple restoratives as aromatic ammonia, and it no doubt can be prevented. Those exhausted with heat have a cool, moist skin, a rapid, weak pulse and respiration movement, and the pupil is dilated. Immediate unconsciousness frequently results from heat apoplexy, and is likely to prove fatal. Hot foot baths, bleeding, etc., is the best treatment in such cases. In thermic fever the patient is unconscious and convulsed, and the body temperature may be 10° above the normal state and the skin is very hot. An application of ice to the head and cold water to the body is the best treatment, as to cool the body immediately. It is always best to obtain medical advice in serious cases.

Garden Party.

On Wednesday evening a large and very agreeable garden party was held at the residence of Mr. Henry Barrett, Pittsburgh. Over one hundred were present to welcome Mr. W. J. Barrett, home from his holidays. A splendid platform for dancing, holding easily four sets was placed in the centre of the grounds. It was raised two feet high and as solid as marble. A large stand was erected at the head for the musicians. The music was furnished by Prof. Byrnes and enjoyed by all those who did not dance as well as those who did. The platform was lighted by torches, and the grounds tastefully decorated with Chinese lanterns. Seats and easy chairs were strewn through the grounds, and were constantly full as well as the platform A delightful repast was served at 11 and oceans of iced lemonade were at hand all the time for the thirsty dancers. Large numbers from Glenburnie, Loughboro', Pittsburgh and Kingston were present. Mr. Barrett's kind family, assisted by Mr. and the Misses Hickey did all in their power to make all enjoy themselves, in which they succeeded to perfection. As the sun was gilding east the party broke up, after one of the most pleasant evenings ever spent in Pittsburgh. The many friends of Mr. Barret, wish him a safe and pleasant journey back to the North-West, which he starts on Monday next.

Tea by the C. P. R.

The steamer Port Augusta, Captain Hogg, arrived at Vancouver, B.C., early yesterday morning. She left Yokohama on July 13th, at two o'clock p.m. She experienced fine weather throughout the voyage, but almost continual fog, so that the captain was only able to take two observations. She arrived off land on the morning of the 26th, and had to lay to at anchor for two days on account of the fog. She had sixteen passengers and twenty-three Chinese and five Japanese; fourteen bags of mail, a cargo of 42,916 packages of tea and general merchandise, 3,000 cubic tons, as follows: Montreal, 6,757 packages; Hamilton 3 585; Winnipeg, 1,124; Vancouver, 38; San Francisco, 1,972; Chicago, 10,072; Victoria, 316; New York, 10,520; London, Ont., 534; Kingston, Ont., 271; Ottawa, 739; Toronto, 3,159, Quebec, 634

Settling Up the Land.

During the past week, Mr. Gordon, of Belleville, has been engaged in settling with the farmers between Gananoque and Lansdowne stations, for land required for double track. Additional land is not required on the whole length of the track; but only where a building up is necessary. The number of owners from whom it will be taken is 17, and the strips vary in width, all being under half an acre each. The prices paid so far are from $60 to $100 an acre. Mr. Gordon says his instructions are to pay liberal prices for all land taken, as the quantities are too small to amount to any great sums. At the same time he does not allow any speculative value to be assessed.

The Scott Act in Gananoque.

Gananoque Journal.

I must be apparent to the most casual observer that the Scott act, so far as Gananoque is concerned, is a dead letter, and that drunkenness is on the increase instead of diminishing. Drunken men on the street are of daily occurrence, and the evidence is seen in every quarter that liquor in abundance can be procured by any one who wants it. Indeed, it is said, and we have no reason to doubt the truth of it, that liquor can be obtained in no less than thirty different places in Gananoque. This is a terrible state of affairs, and suggests some thought as to the advisability of returning to the license system, which at least was controllable.

Give Them A Chance!

That is to say, your lungs, also your breathing machinery. Very wonderful machinery it is. Not only the larger air-passages, but the thousands of little tubes and cavities leading from them.

When these are clogged and chocked with matter which ought not to be there, your lungs cannot half do their work. And what they do, they cannot do well.

Call it cold, cough, croup, pneumonia, catarrh; consumption or any of the family of throat and nose and head and lung obstructions, all are bad. All ought to be got rid of. There is just one sure way to get rid of them. That is to take Boschee's German Syrup, which any druggist will sell you at 75 cents a bottle. Even if everything else has failed, you may depend upon this for certain.

The Recent Cricket Match.

Speaking of the recent cricket match at Napanee, the Standard says: One of the best contested and most exciting cricket matches ever played here was that of Tuesday last between a team of Kingstonians and one from the home club. The match was to be the deciding one as to superiority in the eastern portion of Ontario. The fielding of both teams was simply perfect, and the bowling of Messrs Galloway, Field, and Ireland for the Kingston team and of Messrs. Allum and Burrows for the home team was equally good.

Lost His Team.

A man named Roach, of Camden, went to Napanee on Saturday on business, and making the rounds of the hotels, got too much Scott act cordial on board. Of course he felt rich and commenced bestowing his goods on the poor. His team he traded off for a mere song, and when he came to his senses at home on Sunday, he found the extent of his debits to include a team of horses, harness, wagon and a quantity of flour, while his assets were a broken nose and a sore head.
