

Town turns back clock for old tyme program

Every year Port Hope, one of Canada's prettiest historic towns turns back the clock 100 years for the month of December with a multitude of fun activities.

The whole town participates, with merchants and local citizens wearing period dress.

The stores are decorated with cedar garlands and anti-ques.

The program includes a three-day antique show and sale with dealers from all over Ontario; the General Store featuring handcrafted items; a Honky Tonk Palace and an oldtime saloon.

There is a Santa Claus parade, with old lanterns and horse-drawn wagons, an Olde Tyme Barbershop Chorus and a Quartet Show, featuring the Pine Ridge Chorus, a turkey shoot, a sports day with events such as a spike-driving contest, feed-bag lifting and a wagon wheel race.

To top things off, there is a Grand Square Dance, a Tom Long Slide Show featuring old slides of Port Hope and a Grand Winter Ball.

Port Hope is located on Lake Ontario, 96 km (60 miles) east of Toronto.

Modest yule displays

Ontario Hydro is asking customers to keep their Christmas displays modest to conserve electricity.

Winter months, with shorter daylight periods and colder weather, result in a pronounced increase in daily electricity demands—as much as 2,000,000 to 3,000,000 kilowatts over those experienced during the summer, according to H.K. Wright, Hydro's Director of Energy Conservation. While not wanting to discourage the Christmas spirit, Hydro points out the need to moderate the size and use of lighting displays as part of Ontario's conservation program.

Hydro is once again using the slogan "Off until 7 p.m., off again at bedtime" for the use of indoor and outdoor Christmas lighting displays for homes, stores and offices.

Hydro does not anticipate problems in meeting power needs this winter. However, electric power consumption grows each year, and in order to keep these increases moderate, Hydro asks consumers to cut back on their use of electrical energy wherever they can.

TRADITIONAL...Gift giving at Christmas is an indispensable part of our holiday celebration. As the Three Wise Men brought tokens of their respect to the Christ Child at Bethlehem, so do we offer our tokens of love and friendship to family and friends.
