CABLE NEWS.

London, Jan. 14.—The press of London and Paris almost unanimously condemn the conduct of Greece insisting on representation at the Conference.

It has been agreed that the Powers represented in the Conference on the Eastern question shall not by reason of their participation in the Conference be held bound to abide by its conclusions.

London, Jan. 14.—The Great Eastern has commenced to take on board the Submarine cable of the Franco-American Atlantic Telegraph Company. It is expected that she will sail in June next to lay the cable from Brest to the American coast.

Madrid, Jan. 14.—A tumult occurred in Malaga, yesterday, growing out of a quarrel between the Liberal and Carlist parties. It was suppressed by the authorities, and the city is now quiet. The journals here urge the Government to use all means to crush the hands of Gen. Dulce in Cuba, and demand that 10,000 additional troops be sent to Cuba.

Madrid, Jan. 14.—The Government authorities received a despatch yesterday from Captain-General Dulce, of Cuba, asking for reinforcements. The General says he can suppress the insurrection with 4,000 additional troops.

Paris, Jan. 14, evening.—The Conference on the Eastern question held another session this afternoon. M. Rangade, the Minister of France, was absent as before. The press of this city generally urge the continuance of the Conference. It is understood that the Turkish Government is preparing a diplomatic circular to the foreign Powers on the question at issue.

Southampton, Jan. 15.—The steamer Russia from New York, has arrived.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL.

London, January 15, p.m.—Consols 93¼ for money and account; Bonds steady, 75¼; Stocks quiet and steady; Erie 26¼; Illinois Central 92.

Liverpool, January 15, noon.—Cotton firmer and 1-16d higher. Flour 26s 6d to 27s; Red Western Wheat 10s 10d to 10s; White wheat 11s 8d to 11 [illegible]; Corn 36s 6d for old; 34s 6d for new; Pork 73s; Oats 3s 6d; Peas 44s 6d; Pork 92s 6d; Lard 72s 6d.

New York Press Despatches.

New York, N. Y., Jan. 14.—There was a large attendance yesterday of the Dairymen's Association from many States and Canada; also, 10 or 12 from the old world. Dairying, milk and cheese-making were the subjects discussed. Professor Gamgee, Veterinary Surgeon, lectured in the evening.

Washington, Jan. 14.—In the United States Senate, Mr Doolittle offered the following joint resolution:—Whereas the Canadian Provinces organized under the authority of the United States, propose to lay cables on the shores of foreign powers; and whereas Cable Companies organized under the laws of foreign powers propose to lay cables on the shores of the United States, and as the consent of those powers to the United States is necessary; therefore resolved, that the President be authorized to request the laying of one or more telegraph cables from the shores of any foreign power to the shores of the United States, by any company authorized under the authority of any foreign power, provided the said power will also consent to the laying of cables from the shores of the United States to the shores of such powers on reciprocal terms; and provided further, that until such powers give such consent, the consent of the United States is withheld, and the laying of such cables by authority of any foreign power is declared to be unlawful. Referred to Committee on Foreign Relations.

San Francisco, Jan. 14.—Trains on the Pacific Railroad are now running to Cape Jard' hundred and sixty miles from Sacramento.

Washington, Jan. 15.—A partial canvass of the Senate shows that the Senate is strongly favourable to the repeal of the Tenure law. It is thought, however, that it will not be acted upon until the close of the session.

New York, Jan. 15.—A Tribune special says advices have just been received here from trustworthy parties residing in Cuba, that the revolutionary party is hourly becoming stronger, and little doubt is entertained by those competent to judge of events, that the revolutionists will be successful. Efforts have been made known to prominent Senators and representatives, and it is probable that some action will be taken by Congress showing the sympathy of the United States with the struggle now going on in that country.

American Congressmen here severely criticise the action of the Paris Conference, inasmuch as it reveals, especially on the part of prominent abettors of the slave Confederacy, a foregone conclusion to uphold Spanish despotism against the progress of Christian liberty and civilization in the West.

The New York Times special says, the State Department is in receipt of further advices from Minister Johnson respecting the Alabama negotiations. Though not yet entirely complete, still further satisfactory progress has been made, and the present aspect of the matter is such as to warrant the belief that a favourable treaty will shortly be submitted to the Senate.

New York, Jan. 15.—The steamer Virginia, from Liverpool, has arrived.

FREE TRADE VIEWS ON THE SALT DUTY.

According to the Leader sixty three members of the Dominion Legislature have been induced to sign a petition—a petition to themselves—for a protective duty to shut out all other salt, in order that the newly started manufactories at Goderich may have a monopoly at their own prices. The story of course is the old one, that the United States shuts out our salt, and yet can send their salt into our markets. So as the Goderich men cannot bite the United States manufacturers, and are savage enough to bite some body, they want to have all the Canadian people who use salt brought within the reach of their teeth. It is certainly a very modest request. A few months ago nobody had heard of these gentlemen or their industry, and the three millions of people in the Dominion were getting one of the most indispensable articles of life at the lowest price for which the world could afford it. Suddenly they learned that some proprietors in the West had discovered that what they had thought was mere land on which wheat might be grown, was really a very valuable bed of salt. They rejoiced in the good fortune of their fellow-countrymen; but they now learn that the salt is considered of no value except it be made so by serving as a pretext to impose a tax on the people of Canada. Thus the supposed treasure turns out to be a loss—at least it will be so to the public, if the views of the salt men be carried out. Oh! but we shall be told what is wanted is to encourage native industry; but why is the industry of the salt proprietors to be encouraged—to say nothing of the loss which their gain will in that case become to other people—rather than the industries of our Lower Canada merchants, ship-owners and other persons interested in the importation of salt, and the sailors, wharfingers, and labourers of various kinds employed in handling it. Why are our butter packers, meat curers, &c., to be subjected to the disadvantage in foreign as well as in home markets, of being forced to use an expensive ingredient for the production of their merchandize instead of a cheap one? We can hardly think that these three score of Dominion legislators are at all likely to be successful in carrying such a design as the one spoken of. If they are, it will only show once more how much stronger organized selfishness is than the public interest, or than justice between the different classes of society.—Montreal Herald.

A young wife in St. Louis has asked the courts to annul her marriage, on the ground that her husband was crazy when he married her.

HEARTH AND HOME.—This excellent American weekly, published by Messrs. Pettengill, Bates & Co., of New York, is rapidly attaining a high place in the estimation of the people. The last number contains a vast amount of useful and instructive matter from the pens of the most talented American writers. Under the management of Mr Donald G. Mitchell, and Mrs Harriet Beecher Stowe, the proprietors will be sure to make it at a first-class journal, fully deserving of the support of an intelligent community.

Notwithstanding the recent decision of the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council in the Mackonochie case, declaring illegal the kneeling during the consecration of the elements in the Lord's Supper, and the lighting of candles for symbolical purposes, the services at St. Alban's London, of which Dr. Mackonochie is the incumbent, on the succeeding Sunday, were without modification. There were processions, lights, kneelings, and prostrations during the prayer of consecration; in fact, the service was in no way altered. Dr. Mackonochie was the celebrant.

A correspondent, speaking of Prof. Goldwin Smith at the Cornell University, says: "He sits in lecturing, is slow in his delivery, which is extemporaneous, has a very concise, epigrammatic style, using no amplification, but words that are exact and to the point; very didactic, but little rhetorical, little oratorical. He presents what may be termed the science of history. But he fails not a little in effect and attractiveness as a lecturer through indistinctness of speech. It is only through the closest attention he can be understood, and then not fully, he articulates so indistinctly."

The majoritiy of the cotton spinners in Lancashire have resolved to go upon half-time. It appears that there is some dissension between the great and little manufacturers, the former ascribing the difficulties of the trade to the price of cotton, which has risen again to 11d. per lb. The latter seem more inclined to talk of over-production, and probably both accounts are true, the demand for goods at present prices being much less than the demand at present prices being much less than the at old rates, while the production would fully supply the latter. Whatever the cause, Lancashire, with its mills at half-time, will have a wretched winter.

A woman living in Milwaukee has a sailor husband whom she has not seen for nineteen years, but receives letters from him regularly. He is a hand on a Liverpool packer, making regular trips from the former port; he writes to his wife that upon his arrival in New York next time he will certainly go home. The ship arrives, but no husband. Soon comes the inevitable letter with the same intelligence. He did intend to come, but was paid off, got intoxicated, spent his money, and came to his senses not only penniless, but shipped on board the packet again. He declares he will never be fooled again, and goes to work with the idea of gaining means to return home, and the next trip is a repetition of the old story. Meanwhile the wife toils on, and lives in hope that some day the truant husband will come back.

MR GLADSTONE AND THE LANCASHIRE WOMEN.—Among the numerous letters received by Mr Gladstone, in reference to his defeat in Lancashire, is one signed by no less than 4,810 women. In reply, the Premier asks forgiveness for not answering the letter before, and adds: "It has so often been my lot to feel that any efforts I had endeavoured to make for the public good met with a far more than just appreciation, that my words may appear unmeaning when I make, very unfeignedly, a similar acknowldgement in the present instance. This need not, however, prevent my returning my grateful thanks to yourself and to all who have signed the address, nor my adding the assurance that their kind and generous language will at once stimulate and sustain me in the arduous labours which must devolve upon the present Government, in connection alike with political and social objects."

DELICATE WAY OF DEALING WITH A DIFFICULTY.—At the Chapel Royal, Whitehall, on Sunday last, the Archbishop of Canterbury (elect) was in the vestry, and about to hold his last ordination for the diocese of London. The rule of the diocese is for all candidates to be habited in surplices, with their academical hoods, and plain black stoles or scarfs (as worn in the Church of England for the last 300 years). One young man presented himself wearing an embroidered scarf or stole, with gold cross and decoration on the back. The candidate in question was waited upon by one of the archbishop's chaplains with a kind message from his grace, and the present of a plain black silk scarf, which he was asked to substitute for the one he had on. To this the young man readily and courteously acceded.

The new Papal prelates of Scotland are to be as follows:—Archbishop of St. Andrews, Rev. George Errington; Archbishop of Glasgow, Rev. James Laird Patterson; Bishop of Edinburgh, Rev Geo. Strain; Bishop of Perth, Rev. John George Rigg; Bishop of Aberdeen, Rev. John Gray; Bishop of Moray, Rev. John Sutherland; Bishop of Orkney, Rev. B. Bernard; Bishop of Ross, Rev. William Dawson; Bishop of Dundee, Rev. John Macpherson; Bishop of Argyle, Rev. Joseph Constable Maxwell; Bishop of Dunkell, Rev. Archibald Macdonald; Bishop of Caithness, Rev. Peter Joseph Grant. Scotland has already a full bench of Bishops of the Scottish Episcopal Church, and she will consequently now have a double hierarchy for a people almost entirely Presbyterian!
