CABLE NEWS.

London, Jan. 15.—The Treaty between the United States and Great Britain for the settlement of the Alabama claims has been signed by Mr Johnson and Earl Clarendon, on the basis of the original protocol.

The Pays of Paris publishes a translation of the letters of Mr Gladstone to C. Pelletle Lester, of New York, and proposes to condemn the acknowledgments therein as humiliating England in the presence of America, and as likely to produce no little irritation of feeling against the Premier among his own countrymen.

A vessel which left Madeira on the 8th inst has arrived here. She brings no news of the arrival there of the missing passengers of the steamer Hibernia.

The Boatmen of Oxford University are preparing a challenge from the Harvard men for a rowing match next summer.

Berlin, Jan. 15.—All the great powers except Russia have united in a demand to Greece, that, for the preservation of peace, she withdraw her formal objections to the Conference, as at present constituted. The powers have reason to hope that Russia will concur in this demand.

Paris, Jan. 15.—The Constitutionnel of this morning states that Greece will submit to the decisions of the Conference.

The Madrid journals are hostile to the candidature of Aosta as a candidate for the throne of Spain. The chances of the Duke of Genoa seem at present improving. The Duke of Paris, however, thinks the Prince is the most available candidate, and most likely to succeed, if Spain declares in favour of monarchy.

Paris, Jan. 15.—The Conference on the Eastern question will meet again to-day. It is generally believed that this session will be final. It is reported on credible authority that the Grecian Minister has been instructed by his Government to announce that Greece is resolved to reject the decision of the Conference, if certain demands in the Turkish ultimatum are supported by that body. All the indications are that Greece is bent on war. A despatch from Athens states that King George is preparing to return to Nauplia.

Berlin, Jan. 15.—The statement made by some journals that Bismarck had demanded that Baron Von Beust must be removed from the head of the Austrian Cabinet is pronounced to be without foundation in fact.

Lisbon, January 15.—Rio Janeiro dates to December 24th, state that the allied army had made a vigorous assault on the Paraguayan stronghold at Viletta, and, after a desperate battle, succeeded in carrying it. President Lopez's army was utterly routed and destroyed. The allied army captured over 3,000 prisoners of war. Lopez himself, with barley 2,000 followers, had had his escape. This important victory opened the way to Asuncion, the Paraguayan capital, to which place the allied forces had gone.

Madrid, Jan. 15, eve.—The elections for members of the Constituent Cortes have come off. The reactionists made some attempts to create disturbances at the polling places, but they proved abortive. With some exceptions good order has been maintained. The Provisional Government has obtained proof of the existence of a conspiracy in which Generals Pescula, Calonge and Gonzalez are implicated. The persons named are under arrest, and if the charges against them are proved they will be severely punished.

London, Jan. 15.—A despatch from Hong Kong, just received, states that a strong rebel force had captured the city of Hakodadi in Japan. The persons and property of foreigners were respected.

London, Jan. 16.—Charles Dickens publishes a card in the London papers this morning denying the story of the recent death of his brother's widow in Chicago. Mr Dickens says that lady is still alive and well, resides in England, and never was in America. He himself is the trustee of her property under settlement.

The final signing of the treaty for the Alabama claims from nearly all the morning papers to-day.

A meeting of those favouring the ballot in consequence of the Alabama claims has elicited from Parliamentary elections was held in this city last evening. Able speeches were made by Mr Gibson, Charles Buxton, Ed. Baines, Rodes and others. The assemblage was large and much enthusiasm was manifested.

Paris, Jan. 15.—The public newspapers report that the Conference on the Eastern question held a harmonious session to-day, and adopted unanimously a conciliatory response. Mr Rangabe was not in attendance. His continued absence is regarded as a refusal by Greece to recognize the Conference.

London, Jan. 15.—Despatches from India confirm the previous reports of the complete victory obtained by Sheere Ali, the Khan of Cabul, over his rebellious nephew, Abdul Kahoomer.

Washington, Jan. 15.—The Niagara Ship Canal Bill has been defeated by its reference to Committee of the Whole.—Yeas 81; nays 69.

Lebanon, N. Y., Jan. 14.—The track of the Lebanon Springs Railroad is complete to the Hudson Four Corners, connecting with the Boston Railroad. Trains will run through to Montreal by this line in a few days.

New York, Jan. 15.—About twelve o'clock last night, a freight train on the Erie Railway, consisting of 14 cars, was thrown from the track near Hancock, and precipitated into the Delaware River. The western mail due here at 8 o'clock this morning, was detained fully seven hours, in consequence of the accident.

Wilmington, N. C., Jan 14.—The steamship Gulf City, Capt. Stewart, from Galveston to New York, went aground off Point Lookout on Monday night, and in a few hours was dashed to pieces. Three of the crew, Patrick McCabe of Jersey City, Anthony Thomas and Henry McArdle of New York, were picked up by the steamer W. P. Clyde, on Wednesday, and brought to this city. There were twenty-five persons on board, and only three are known to have been saved.

Washington, Jan. 15.—The committee appointed to examine into the election frauds in New York returned this morning. The evidence taken is very voluminous, and shows that gross frauds have been perpetrated.

A bill will soon be prepared authorizing the admission of Virginia upon the adoption of the proposed Constitution with the obnoxious clause in regard to disfranchisement, the Test Oath, and probably some other objectionable features stricken out. When this bill shall be passed it is believed it will be followed by an amnesty bill, either universal or with some few exceptions, to take effect on the ratification of the Constitution. It is said that this adjustment meets the approbation of General Grant and a large number of most prominent members of both Houses.

Washington, Jan. 15.—There is no doubt whatever that the Senate will reject the treaty by which Mr Seward agreed to pay seven and a half millions for St. Thomas. There is a disposition however to soften this decision toward the Danish Government, as all parties conversant with the subject sympathize with that Government for the unpleasant position in which it has been placed.

A Madrid journal, the Impartial, says that in a certain city, the capital of a Spanish Province, a miraculous madonna was the other day taken down from her niche at one of the street corners, laid afterward in a kneeling posture in the centre of an adjoining square, and then condemned to be executed by a mock capital sentence. The perpetrators of that impious ceremony bandaged the eyes of the madonna, and then fired a volley of musketry in her wooden bosom, as if she had been a spy or a deserter sacrificed by a martial court to the exigencies of open warfare.

The Spanish clergy complain that impiety and infidelity is now pervading all classes of society, and that the unity of faith, for which Spain was so justly celebrated, is losing ground every day. They allude to the Republican programme of Cadiz, proclaiming freedom of creed and worship, equality for all religious denominations, divorce between Church and State, Spain a Godless community, the United States the model on which the Iberian Peninsula is to be reconstructed.

A fire occurred at London, on Friday evening at six o'clock, by which White's Hotel, North street, was almost totally destroyed. Most of the effects were saved. The loss will be about one thousand dollars; fully covered by insurance.

The Kingston (N.Y.) Argus says that a post office official, while on a tour of inspection among the post offices in that county, recently came to a settlement, and on inquiring for the postmaster at his house, was informed by his wife that he was at work in the field. He was shortly found, and upon inquiring for the post office, the farmer took from his hat several letters. This office is located at Turnwood, in that county, and was the only portable office the official saw in his travels. The same paper says that at one of the county offices the postmaster, not being able to sell the requisite number of postage stamps to increase his salary by the use of ordinary means, resorted to strategy to accomplish that result. He bought a number of new books and paid for them in postage stamps, thus selling enough of them to raise his salary to the extraordinary sum of $25.

The Kentish papers report that an extraordinary character has been captured in a lopely shed at Egerton, in the person of Frederick Naasch, a Belgian soldier, who for some months has been wandering about the Weald of Kent, clothed in rags, and living on roots, berries, and offal. His appearance when apprehended was grotesque in the extreme. The article which did duty for a coat consisted of patches of old rags quilted over and over again, in many places to the thickness of an inch. His nether clothing was of the same description. He was barefooted, and carried a quantity of fowls' legs, some putrid flesh, and pieces of fish in a pair of worn shoes, which he had under his arm. One good habit he retained, for a piece of soap was found upon him when apprehended. He was sentenced by the Ashford magistrates to ten days' imprisonment, but was too ill to be removed. The Belgian consul at Dover has been communicated with, and the poor fellow will be received by that gentleman and sent on to Ostend as soon as he can be moved.

LETTER FROM A WILTSHIRE SETTLER IN CANADA.

Mr William Dixon, Canadian government emigration agent at Wolverhampton, writes to the Canadian News:

"It may interest you to know that there are four committees now arranging in London to send emigrants to Quebec next spring. The exact returns had not been made in Canada when the last mail left, but over 34,500 emigrants had landed during the season at Quebec—the largest number for many years. There is every prospect of next season's business being unusually large."

Mr Dixon encloses to the News the following extract from the letter of a farm labourer who emigrated from Wiltshire to Canada:

"I will now tell you what brought me to Canada and how I got on. Two years ago I was ploughing in the two-acre field, and looking across country, I saw the furrow I was turning pointed—well, where do you think? Why, right into the workhouse door about a mile away, and that set me to think that it would be just the very place I would get to if I could not do something better than I ever did before. Well, shortly after I saw something about Canada and I spoke to the parson about it, and he said he had a friend out there, and that it was a good country for a poor man, and told me to write to the agent for that country; and he said that if I went there the government agent—a Mr Donaldson—would help me to get work. Well, I made up my mind that nothing venture, nothing get, so we scraped up the money, and in 15 days from the time I left home I was in Toronto; but I had to leave the missus and the children until I could send for them

"The first thing I did was to go to Mr Donaldson, and he was a real civil spoken gentleman and knew just what I wanted as well as I did myself, and he said that he knew a farmer that was in town that wanted a man just like me, and he brought me to the market place and a bargain for 16 dollars a month and board and lodging. I wasn't three hours from the time I got to the station until I was in the new master's waggon on the way to his farm in the county of Peel. He was as good a master as a man wants, and at the end of three months he paid me my wages and lent me the rest of the money to send for the old woman and children.

"Last harvest men were bad to get, and I got 40 dollars a month, with board and lodging, for seven weeks. The Government gives 100 acres of land to settlers without any charge, and as soon as harvest was over I went to the agent for the new settlement and looked out a lot. It was covered over with trees just as God made it. Then I got a man to help me to put up a log house, got a stock of provisions for the winter, and sent for the family. The soil is such as you never saw in Wilts; it is nothing but black leaf mould, and they tell me it won't want manure for a dozen years to come. I am hard at work chopping down the trees, and by seeding time I expect to have enough cleared to put in some potatoes, and wheat, and Indian corn, and other things; and I tell you, if God spares our health and strength, there is no danger of our furrow leading down to the workhouse. We have a yoke of oxen on shares with a neighbour, for they are better than horses for new land, and we got a cow and three pigs, and a few fowls. I see by the papers that you are all knee deep in your reform and your elections, and I suppose by this time you have bawled yourself hoarse for one of the candidates that doesn't care the value of a slice of turnip for any of you. That wouldn't do for me now. The reform that I like is the reform that takes a poor fellow and his family from wages of ten or eleven shillings a week and hungry bellies, in fifteen days, to a place that he can get 100 acres of land, and a bit of stock on it in two years and not owe a score to any man. The only thing we are sorry for is that we didn't come years ago, and that we haven't got miles of lots with the old Wiltshire neighbours on them."

"Family dismemberment" is the Chicago name for divorce.

The San Francisco Times intimates that a Vigilance Committee is needed to clean out the organized bands of burglars, garroters, and other rogues which abound in the city.

An unreasonable fellow named Bainbridge, who was "regulated" in Colorado a while ago by means of a rope noosed to his neck, threatened to haunt his executioners, and is doing it.—American paper.

An association, with ramifications throughout Spain, has recently been organized, under the presidency of the Marquis of Villuna, to protect, it is alleged, the unity of Catholicism, but in reality to pave the way for a pronunciamiento in favour of Don Carlos.

The following advertisement appears in a London local paper: "Females, young or old, will get paid for having their hair trimmed one inch shorter. Apply ——."

Maria Christina, Queen Isabella's mother, says her daughter's dethronement is her own fault. She advised Isabella many years ago to have Serrano and Prim court-martialled and shot, and she positively refused to act upon her mother's humane suggestion.

A couple in Troy the other day, gave a minister $200 in gold for marrying them, and the husband vested pin-money upon his wife to the extent of half a million dollars. No cards.

Under the game laws of New York state, the killing of partridges is an offence after January 1st of the present year, and up to September 20; quail up to October 15, and woodcock up to August 1.

A Mr Lawrence, of Lowville, N.Y., is said to be the rightful heir to a fortune of $140,000,000, which has been accumulating for years in England. Mr Lawrence is a poor man, and is endeavouring to raise funds to carry him to England by issuing bonds for the payment of $1,000 which he sells for $10, the holders to receive pay when he receives his fortune.

An interesting correspondence has recently taken place between M. Henri Rochefort, editor of the Lanterne, and a committee of the Club Republicane de Laugue Francaise of New York. The latter, in acknowledgment of the services of M. Rochefort to the cause of liberty in France, sent him an elegant pen, and urged him not to allow himself to be drawn into duels by paid bullies in the service of Napoleon, whereby his life might be endangered.

According to the Paris correspondent of the London Queen, the hair is now usually dressed high, and a rich spray of flowers placed across the crown of the head resting against the coil or plait of hair. Dark hair is now all the rage, therefore blondes are dyeing their golden tresses, and those brunettes who lately bleached their locks are restoring them to their early honours.

Grant is to be presented with a live eagle by certain enthusiastic Republicans in Washington. "What will he do with it?"

The coroner's annual record for 1868 shows that forty-eight homicides were committed in New York during the past year and thirty-nine infanticides during the same time. Thirty-one women and sixty-seven men committed suicide. The favourite mode of suicide was by hanging, twenty-two men and ten women having ended their earthly woes in that mannerin the last year. Of the suicides, forty-eight were natives of Germany, twenty-four of the United States and ten of Ireland.

The official situation regarding the Alabama claims is learned to be as follows: When the convention between Reverdy Johnson and Lord Stanley, signed on the 11th of November, was received by the president and Cabinet, it was amended by the Executive, and returned to England for approval. While these amendments were pending, the Tory Ministry resigned; but when the new one came into power, Minister Johnson had a consultation and sent here a new protocol containing amendments to the new amendments presented by Secretary Seward. After receiving the latter, Mr Seward accepted some of the amendments, and submitted others of an important character, and returned the new protocol to Minister Johnson. Although some time has passed, not a word has been heard in response.

TRANSIENT ADVERTISEMENTS.—The large circulation of the DAILY NEWS renders it the natural medium for the publication of all small and transient advertisements, as well as larger announcements. Advertisements of religious notices and Sabbath services; situations wanted; situations vacant; houses for sale; houses to rent; houses wanted; board and lodging; rooms wanted; board wanted; articles lost; articles found; cattle wanted; cattle for sale; cattle strayed, &c., when set close, inserted for 25 cents each insertion, payable only in advance. When displayed, a proportionate price will be charged.

ART OF ADVERTISING.—Horace Greeley, of New York, says:—The most successful business men in this city are those who have advertised liberally and constantly. A small advertisement constantly appearing is better than a display column occasionally.
