The Daily News.

MONDAY EVENING, JAN. 18.

☞ SEE LAST PAGE.

The Dublin Gazette contains the official announcement that the Right Hon. the Earl of Mayo has been chosen by a majority of votes by the peer to sit in the House of Lords in the room of the late Lord Farnham.

The project for the creation of a new State out of the north part of Wisconsin and the Michigan peninsula, attracts much favour from the people of the two sections to be affected by it than was anticipated. The Green Bay Advocate, Appleton Crescent, and Oshkosh Times—three papers printed near the proposed division line in Northern Wisconsin—are in favour of the measure. It is said that there will be very little opposition in Wisconsin to the cession of territory that will be required to make up the new State.

DOES AND DOGMAS.—Landseer once painted a celebrated picture called "The Free Church." It represented a congregation of Scottish shepherds with their collie dogs, seated each by his master in his pew. A wag observed on this custom, "I suppose the Presbyterian minister will preach no dogmatical theology." A clergyman from a distant part of Scotland came to officiate at one of these shepherd conventions. It is usual in the Presbyterian Church for the people to rise when the minister pronounces the final blessing. The shepherds continued seated. The strange preacher was scandalized, and sharply exclaimed "What, is there not enough devotional spirit amongst you to make you rise to receive the blessing?" An old shepherd mounted the pulpit stairs, and whispered into the preacher's ear: "Meenister, it's just for the doggies." It appeared that when the congregation rose to receive the final blessing, the collies thought the service was over, and rushed through their master's legs with mighty yelpings into the churchyard.

The ingenuity of mean minds and those with feeble proclivities is almost as amazing as the capability of the masters. They have, from the small-pox in Cincinnati, and the mode in which it gave one Blake, an inmate of the workhouse of that city, a brilliant idea. Pricking his face, neck and arms with a needle and applying croton oil to the punctures, he "came out" beautifully with all the outward appearances of a bad case of the fell disorder. This so alarmed all the other inmates of the workhouse that they at once resolved to go home; but Mr Blake, magnanimous and self-sacrificing, proposed to give the establishment himself and go off somewhere to die quietly and alone. Unfortunately, however, a physician was called in and exposed the gentleman's ruse, and all the labour and pain he had undergone went for nothing—the usual fate of genius outside as well as inside of penitentiaries. The ability possessed by Mr Blake if used in a proper way, would have made his fortune and perhaps his respectability. Probably, for that matter, two-thirds of the inmates in our prisons are smart enough to be successful in a legitimate way if they would only take to themselves sobriety and make up their minds not to be dishonest.

Suicide is becoming so popular that a little reflection as to how best to do it is not out of place. The most important consideration is comprised in the words "Don't go to Philadelphia." A New York gentleman went there, put up at the State Capital Hotel, and accomplished his suicide in the most unexceptionable manner. After his afflicted family had buried him they received a bill of $250 from the landlord of that hotel, and, refusing to pay it, they have been sued for $500, the extra one being demanded, after a little mature thought, on the ground that the suicide, with a thoughtlessness quite provoking, had damaged the character of the house. In the store of economy, therefore, if for no other reason, don't go to Philadelphia. You may have less desire for life in Philadelphia than in any other place, and accordingly suicides there may be a comparatively trivial matter; but no respectable suicide will fail to consider in his last hours, on behalf of his stricken relatives, the great questions of retrenchment and financial reform. Five hundred dollars, even half that sum, is an extravagant amount to pay for such a privilege as taking one's own life, though it be done with all the accessories peculiar to a fine apartment in a first-class hotel. Some suicides, after having spent so much, would leave scarcely enough to their afflicted heirs to pay for a respectable funeral; and death should never be undertaken without mature consideration of the unavoidable portion of the performance. Have we said enough? Let those who are contemplating suicide think about it.—Bulletin Chronicle.

An extraordinary suit for the "restitution of conjugal rights" was heard before Judge Keogh, in the Dublin Provincial Court, on Saturday. Mr Joseph Manning—described as the "Proprietor and conductor of a millinery and dressmaking establishment in Upper Sackville-street, Dublin"—was the defendant in the case; Mrs Jane Manning, his wife, was the plaintiff; and she petitioned for £200 a year alimony. It was in every way an odd case. No complaint was made on either side of cruelty, infidelity, or fault of any sort existing. Not even "incompatibility of temper" was alleged. Mr Manning, it was stated by the defendant, entered his service in 1856, and he was so well pleased with her conduct of the business, that he took her to himself as partner for life. They seem to have got on well enough together until 1862, when Mrs Manning, without note, warning, or excuse of any kind, took her departure for Australia. There she remained for several years, receiving nothing from her husband, but barely maintaining herself. On her return to this country, her husband met her, and sought her to return to his home and his business; but to this she would only consent on the condition that she might leave whenever she felt inclined. This was, of course, too much for the unfortunate husband, who dignifiedly indignant, said she should never enter his house under such a condition. Then Mrs Manning went off to London, supporting herself by her art in millinery, and, as before, asking nothing from her husband. Now, however, she seemed to have got tired of this continued exertion, and returns to demand an allowance of £200 a-year. The husband demurred, and offered £80 instead. The Judge, declaring that the case was the oddest he had ever heard, said he would fix £200 as being the clear income of the defendant, and decided that the petitioner should get a third of it, or £80 a-year from the 23d October last.

Mrs Winslow's Soothing Syrup.

Rev. Sylvanus Cobb thus writes in the Boston Christian Freeman: We would by no means recommend any kind of medicine which we did not know to be good—particularly for infants. But of Mrs Winslow's Soothing Syrup we can speak from knowledge; in our own family it has proved a blessing indeed, by giving an infant troubled with colic pains quiet sleep, and its parents unbroken rest at night. Most parents can appreciate these blessings. Here is an article which works to perfection, and which is harmless; for the sleep which it affords the infant is perfectly natural, and the little cherub awakes as "bright as a button." And during the process of teething its value is incalculable. We have frequently heard mothers say they would not be without it from the birth of the child till it had finished with the teething siege, on any consideration whatever.

Sold by all druggists. 25 cents a bottle.

TO PHYSICIANS.

New York August 15th, 1867.

ALLOW me to call your attention to my PREPARATION OF COMPOUND EXTRACT BUCHU. The component parts are BUCHU, LONG LEAF, CUBEBS, JUNIPER BERRIES.

MODE OF PREPARATION.

Buchu in vacuo. Juniper Berries, by distillation, to form a fine gin. Cubebs extracted by displacement by liquor obtained from Juniper Berries, containing very little sugar, a small proportion of spirit, and more palatable than any now in use. The active properties are by this mode extracted.

Buchu, as prepared by Druggists generally, is of a dark colour. It is a plant that emits its fragrance; the action of a flame destroys this (its active principle), leaving a dark and glutinous decoction. Mine is the colour of ingredients. The Buchu in my preparation predominates; the smallest quantity of the other ingredients are added, to prevent fermentation; upon inspection it will be found not to be a Tincture, as made in Pharmacopœa, nor is it a Syrup—and therefore can be used in cases where fever or inflammation exists. In this, you have the knowledge of the ingredients and the mode of preparation.

Hoping that you will favour it with a trial, and that upon inspection it will meet with your approbation,

With a feeling of confidence,
I am, very respectfully,

H. T. HELMBOLD,

Chemist and Druggist of 16 years' experience in Philadelphia, and now located at his Drug and Chemical Warehouse, 594 Broadway, New York.

[From the largest Manufacturing Chemists in the World.]

"I am acquainted with Mr H. T. Helmbold; he occupied the Drug Store opposite my residence, and was successful in conducting the business where others had not been equally so before him. I have been favourably impressed with his character and enterprise.

WILLIAM WEIGHTMAN,

Firm of Powers & Weightman, Manufacturing Chemists, Ninth and Brown Streets, Philadelphia.

HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU,

For weakness arising from indiscretion. The exhausted powers of nature which are accompanied by so many alarming symptoms, among which will be found Indisposition to Exertion, Loss of Memory, Wakefulness, Horror of Disease, or Forebodings of Evil; in fact, Universal Lassitude, Prostration, and inability to enter into the enjoyments of society.

The Constitution, once affected with Organic Weakness, requires the aid of Medicine to strengthen and invigorate the system, which invariably does. If no treament is submitted to, Consumption or Insanity ensues.

HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU

In affections peculiar to Females, is unequalled by any other preparation, as in Chlorosis, or Retention, Painfulness, or Suppression of Customary Evacuations, Ulcerated or Schirrous State of the Uterus, and all complaints incident to the sex, whether arising from habits of dissipation, imprudence in, or the decline or change of life.

HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU AND IMPROVED ROSE WASH will radically exterminate from the system diseases arising from habits of dissipation, at little expense, little or no change in diet, no inconvenience or exposure; completely superseding those unpleasant and dangerous remedies, Copaiva and Mercury, in all these diseases.

Use HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU in all diseases of these organs, whether existing in male or female, from whatever cause originating, and no matter of how long standing. It is pleasant in taste and odour, "immediate" in action, and more strengthening than any of the preparations of Bark or Iron.

Those suffering from broken-down or delicate constitutions, procure the remedy at once.

The reader must be aware that, however slight may be the attack of the above diseases, it is certain to affect the bodily health and mental powers.

All the above diseases require the aid of a Diuretic. HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU is the great Diuretic.

Sold by all Druggists everywhere. Price $1,25 per bottle, or six bottles for $6,50. Delivered to any address. Describe the symptoms in all communications.

Address H. T. HELMBOLD, Drug and Chemical Warehouse, 594 Broadway, N.Y.

None are genuine unless done up in steel-engraved wrapper, with fac-simile of my Chemical Warehouse, and signed

ART OF ADVERTISING.—Horace Greeley, of New York, says:—The most successful business men in this city are those who have advertised liberally and constantly. A small advertisement constantly appearing is better than a display column occasionally.

TRANSIENT ADVERTISEMENTS.—The large circulation of the DAILY NEWS renders it the natural medium for the publication of all small and transient advertisements, as well as larger announcements. Advertisements of religious notices and Sabbath services; situations wanted; situations vacant; houses for sale; houses to rent; houses wanted; board and lodging; rooms wanted; board wanted; articles lost; articles found; cattle wanted; cattle for sale; cattle strayed, &c., when set close, inserted for 25 cents each insertion, payable only in advance. When displayed, a proportionate price will be charged.

THE CIRCULATION of the DAILY NEWS is fully one-half larger than that of any other daily journal published in Kingston. The circulation of the old established weekly CHRONICLE AND NEWS is also greater than any other weekly published in the county. Advertisers will perceive that these journals are the best media for attracting public attention in this locality.
