CABLE NEWS.

Florence, Jan. 16.—The riots occasioned by the attempt to collect the mill tax have been renewed recently in various parts of the kingdom. The country to-day, however, is tranquil. The military force has been used freely for the suppression of the disorders. Twenty-six of the rioters have been killed and wounded.

Paris, Jan. 16.—Another session of the Corps Lecislatif was held to-day, for the purpose of affording an opportunity for the members to sign the declaration of its opinions. The Pays newspaper of this evening says the Hellenic asks of Greece in the interests of European peace to suppress the bands and vessels intended for incursions into the neighbouring States of the Ottoman Empire, and counsels Turkey to withdraw her ultimatum. It concludes by expressing hopes of a speedy renewal of diplomatic relations between Turkey and Greece.

London, evening, Jan. 17.—Despatches from the East report that a difficulty has arisen between Turkey and Persia. Disturbances broke out upon the East frontier of Asiatic Turkey between the Persians and the Turks, which have led to the withdrawal of the ambassador of the Porte from Teheran. Since these occurrences Persia has been massing troops on her northwestern frontier.

Paris, evening, Jan. 17.—The Conference on the Eastern question is on the point of closing its sessions. It recommends Greece to accept so much of the Turkish ultimatum as relates to Cretan affairs, and to refer the affair at Syra to the decision of Europe, and promises that Turkey will withdraw the last point of her ultimatum concerning the observance of international rights. The Conference maintains the policy of strict non-intervention.

The latest advices from Athens show that preparations for war are actively going on in all parts of Greece. The Banks of Athens have loaned the Government $20,000,000 for war purposes.

Madrid, Jan 17.—The additional reinforcements for the army in Cuba will soon be under General Plaza. Returns from the provinces increase the overwhelming majority of the Government candidates elected.

Madrid, Jan. 16.—The elections in this city and a great majority of provincial towns have been carried by Government candidates.

Cadiz, Sunday, Jan. 17.—The Turkish squadron has agreed to the main points of the ultimatum proposed by the Conference, but awaits instructions from Constantinople before assigning the resolves of that body.

M. Rangabe, the representative of Greece, has informed M. Lavalette, the French Minister of Foreign Affairs, that his instructions from his Government at Athens are suspended in consequence of an interruption of the telegraph.

Southampton, Jan. 17.—The steamship Saxonia, from New York, has arrived.

Liverpool, Jan. 17.—The cotton market yesterday closed unchanged.

London, Jan. 18.—The safety of the captain and crew of the ship Southern Empire, supposed lost is announced.

Washington, Jan. 17.—The President transmitted to the Senate on Friday three treaties and a protocol concluded between the United States and Great Britain, which were indicated in his annual message, namely, a protocol fully recognizing the naturalization laws of the United States and declaring the legal principle heretofore maintained in Great Britain of the inalienability of native Americans; second, a treaty referring the boundary dispute about the island of San Juan on the Pacific coast to the Republic of Switzerland; and third, a treaty for the adjustment of all claims, including the Alabama claims, by a commission to sit at Washington, with a stipulation to refer when necessary individual claims to the head of a friendly nation.

At an auction sale in Havre recently, an old English concert programme was purchased for thirty-one francs. The concert had been given for a charitable purpose in London in the year 1837, at a private house. Among the pieces announced on the programme was a violin solo performed by Prince L. N. Bonaparte.

Two gentlemen in Providence, R.I., have invented an apparatus to be used in extinguishing fires By a simple contrivance a platform large enough to accommodate two or three firemen with hose can be raised to the height of 50 feet in three minutes, thus bringing the firemen on a level with the upper portion of a burning building, and it necessarily acts as a means of egress for persons cut off from escape by other means. The apparatus is called "the fireman's platform," and with running gear weighs 2,300 pounds.

According to a recently-published Parliamentary paper, there are in England and Wales 904 telegraph stations used by railways and the public, and 717 stations used only by the railways; the total length of wire under the control being 11,635 miles. In Scotland, there are 270 telegraph stations with 2,896 miles of wire open to the public and the railways; and Ireland has 63 stations, of which 21 are for the railways exclusively. Besides these, there are 2,155 stations belonging to the several telegraph companies with nearly 80,000 miles wire and 4,688 of under-sea telegraph cable.

DETECTION OF POST OFFICE ROBBERIES.—At Rotherham, on Wednesday, Thomas Searle, a sorting clerk in the Post-office there, was brought up on remand, charged with a series of robberies from the office in which he was employed. Upwards of £100 worth of property, which had passed through the post, had been found at the prisoner's lodgings, but only three cases were proceeded with. In these the prisoner was charged with stealing three letters containing half a £5 note, sixty penny postage stamps, and a gold seal; the corresponding half of the £5 note and sixty other postage stamps, and a pair of ear-drops and a brooch. In the first two cases the letters had been posted at Birmingham to Crowle, in Lincolnshire, and were purposely put in the Rotherham bag in order to detect who had been guilty of the numerous robberies which had been complained of. Both letters were found in possession of the prisoner, one on his person and the other at his lodgings. The ear-drops and brooch were sent by a young man in Huddersfield to his sister at Epworth, and were stolen so long ago as March last, the prisoner having made a present of them to a young lady residing at Wentworth. Prisoner was committed for trial.—English paper.
