

Fifth Wheel opened in New Brunswick

Fifth Wheel Truck Stop has officially opened its newest 24-hour truck stop, this one in Perth-Andover, New Brunswick.

At an opening ceremony Tuesday, Oct. 30 owner-manager Claude Spencer drove a new truck through a 25-foot banner proclaiming "Fifth Wheel has arrived in New Brunswick."

Others participating in the ceremony included Victoria-Tobique MLA Douglas Moore, Perth-Andover Mayor Burpee Wagner and officials from Fifth Wheel's head office in Milton and Imperial Oil's head office in Toronto.

The Perth-Andover unit is the sixth in the growing Fifth Wheel chain, and the first in Eastern Canada. A seventh unit opened to the public recently in Winnipeg but an official opening won't be held until renovations are completed. The company's first five units are all in Ontario—the first opened in 1972 in Milton followed by Cornwall in 1976, Dorchester 1978, Bowmanville and North Bay 1979.

All but the Perth-Andover unit are company-owned. It is the first one to be franchised, but more franchise proposals are being considered in eastern and western Canada. "We hope to have a string of first class truck stops right across Canada," said Fifth Wheel President Claude Warren.

Primarily intended to offer 24-hour fuel, restaurant, repairs, store and motel services to truckers, the Fifth Wheels also cater to highway travellers.
