Spanish Government has prohibited granting of concessions to foreign Railroad Companies without its sanction.

Feb. 25.—In the Constituent Cortes, proceedings on the occasion of presenting the vote of thanks to the Provisional Govern. were very interesting. Deputies explained their action towards the Jesuits and the Church. It was stated the Jesuit College of St. Vincent was a hotbed of conspiracy against the Government, because its members were engaged in a conspiracy against the Govern. Some of them are accomplices in the attempt on the life of the Governor of Burgos. Others affecting the civil authorities to withdraw certain articles of Church property were explained, and justified on the ground that the proceedings of the clergy had demanded the interference of the Government to preserve objects of art in the country. When the result of the division was announced, Gen. Serrano rose to speak, and was received with prolonged cheers. He spoke in a moderate and tranquillizing tone, exhorting the minority to pursue a course of conciliation, in view of the firmly established principles held by the majority of the Cortes. As for himself, he could count on them loyalty, patriotism and devotion.

There are now some two hundred carts employed in clearing the snow from the streets of Montreal. In the meantime snow is falling rapidly, packing close and hard, so that it is labour in vain.

The New York Board of Health is putting a stop to the nuisance of gas lime, and has directed the gas companies to use oxide of iron for the purpose of purifying coal gas.

Cardinal Cullen, in his regulations for Lent, published in England, warns his people that, if Freemasons, Ribboumen, or Fenians, they cannot be admitted to the sacraments.

An evening dress of white lace was worn at a recent reception in New York, purchased in Brussels at a cost of $6,000. The lace is yellow with age, and is supposed to be more valuable on that account.

The distinguished geologist, M. d'Archia, whose disappearance has caused a considerable sensation in Paris, and whose body was rumoured to have been found in the St. Martin's Canal, is now said to have entered the Monastery of La Trappe.

It is alleged that the Emperor of the French is at the head of a society of capitalists organized for the publication of a penny paper to be called Le Peuple. The capital of the society is to be two hundred thousand dollars, and Clement Duvernois, formerly editor of the Epoque, is to be responsible editor of Le Peuple. Mhe real editor and capitalist is, however, according to the Figaro, His Majesty Napoleon III.

The Epoque, a Paris newspaper, started in 1865 by M. Feydeau, and purchased in 1867 by M. Dusautoy, has ceased its daily issue and sunk into a weekly. It has cost its owners, first and last, $200,000, nearly the whole of which may be considered lost. Other papers in Paris are said to be on the brink of ruin, owing to the great number of competitors brought into the field by the new psess laws.

The Ottawa correspondent of a Quebec French paper says that the authorities there are actively preparing for the trial of Buckley and Doyle, which, it is expected, will take place next month. It is supposed that they have gathered much information of a new and important nature in consequence of Whelan's late communications.

Great preparations are making in Paris for the performance of Rossini's unpublished Mass, which will be executed at the Italian Opera. Alboni, who has retired from the stage for many years, has accepted a proposal to appear once more, but for this special solemnity alone, and as an act of homage to the great maestro, whose death she so sincerely deplored. Strange to say, the celebrated cantatrice is excessively nervous at the prospect of once more coming before the public.

The following is the reply to the memorial of the Irish bishops for to meet in Convocation:—"Whitehall, Jan. 29.—My Lord,—I beg to inform your Grace that I have had the honour to lay before the Queen the memorial of the Archbishops and bishops of the Irish branch of the United Church, transmitted by your Grace to the Secretary of State on the 23rd Dec. last, and praying that her Majesty would be graciously pleased to grant to that branch of the United church the same liberty of meeting in Convocation which is enjoyed by the English provinces, and I regret to inform your Grace that her Majesty's Government, after mature consideration of the memorial, do not feel justified in advising her Majesty to accede to its prayer.—I have, &c., H. A. Bruce. His Grace the Archbishop of Armagh."

Bishop Ellicott discoursed in Gloucester Cathedral last week, on "dull sermons." The Bishop is inclined to admit that there is a good deal of truth in the frequent allegations as to the feeble and unsatisfactory character of modern sermons, and he tries to show wherein the faults of the preachers lie. Sermons, he says, are commonly deficient in three things—namely, in form and arrangement, in thought, and in adaptation to the present time and present difficulties. If preachers would strive to mend these defects, Bishop Ellicott believes that, by-and-bye, we should hear fewer complaints about the declining power of the pulpit.

THE SPARROW.—The Quebec Chronicle says:—The sparrows, in spite of the tremendous storms of snow we have had lately, still manage to keep up undiminished numbers. There are now about twenty birds, which may be seen daily in or about the Artillery Barracks: their utility is more particular observable at this season of the year; the hot sun vivifies insect life for several hours of the day, when from their semi-torpid state they become an easy prey to birds; the eggs, too, of the caterpillar tribes are approaching maturity. A little bird, therefore, such as the sparrow or the black-capped titmouse, can commit great havoc amongst what will become insects at a later period. The sparrows appear to acknowledge St. Valentine's Day even in this cold climate, as many of the birds are already paired and may be seen peering into holes in the walls with a view of finding secure nesting places. We observe some of our citizens are erecting little sparrow houses, such as may be seen in the squares and parks of New York. These nesting contrivances, if not occupied by the sparrows, will be very welcome to the swallows, who will arrive in due season to give that life and activity so welcome to us in the summer season. We can safely report favourably of Mr Sparrow as a Colonist, as he is doing well and thriving.
