EARTHQUAKE IN ENGLAND.

The Leeds and Manchester papers are full with accounts of an earthquake which was felt in the north of England on the evening of March. The Manchester Examiner says: A very distinct shock of earthquake was felt, of which we received the several accounts printed below. The time of the shock was a few minutes after 6 o'clock, and we have no doubt the time we write the accounts will concur in representing the East Lancashire district as that in which the shock was the sharpest. In Manchester the shock was very slightly experienced, and the confirmation of different and perfectly independent witnesses in the city leaves no doubt that their sensation of a peculiar and unusual shaking of the house occurred in point of time with the violent trembling reported from Oldham. It would appear, as far as we know, that the shock was the most sharply felt and generalized in the more elevated points of the district affected. A Rawtenstall correspondent says that in that town people ran out of their houses, and instantly the sense of their houses, describing the nature of the shock they had experienced, of door-knockers and bells were rung, and crockeryware and window-sashes shaken. The shock only lasted a few seconds, but was very severe. The writer was walking in the street, and the shock was enough to cause him to reel. A Stockbridge letter says that the sensation experienced there was very much like a shock that was felt when the locomotive emerged in the tunnel at Sowerby Bridge. At Bacup there was "a sensation like the shaking of the earth, as of the passing of an underground wave." At Blackburn a gentleman observed the ground to heave and like the undulations of the waves.

The present trade of North Carolina amounts to about the cotton trade in value.

Ladies in Lancaster, Mass., lately started petitions, one for signatures asking the Legislature to grve women the privilege of voting, the other praying the Legislature to allow women to remain in their present sphere. The petitions stand, 26 to 1.

There has been a great scandal in London during the present week, the young Duke of Waterford (nephew of the celebrated of brass-knocker notoriety) having eloped with Mrs Vivian, the wife of one of the Lords of the Treasury—the able and honest member for Truro. Mrs Vivian is the daughter of a deceased Indian official, and is about thirty years of age, and of great reputation for beauty. Those who have been acquainted with her proceedings during the last few months do not seem to be surprised at the faux pas which she has committed. The Marquis is five-and-twenty, and is, from all accounts, one of those young men who, in Punch and other comic publications, are depicted—and not too much truth—as types of a class. The Marquis of Waterford has not long left his minority. His property has increased in value by one hundred thousand pounds a year. He has not much money for a man to have his own way in life is without any aim, save pleasure, when he arrives at manhood deeply imbued with the conviction that property of rights, but no duties.

The Buffalo Express tells the following: A few days since a western man arrived at Buffalo with a cattle-yard with a herd of fat cattle which he shortly sold to one of our butcher dealers. They were to be weighed the next morning, and paid for by weight. In the evening the western man fed the stock profusely with corn, and then gave them an enormous feed of salt to induce thirst. In the morning the cattle might be expected, drank inordinately, filling themselves with water. But the shrewd and experienced buyer was not deceived. He saw at a glance that something was wrong, as the cattle were waiting for weighing, and an inspection showed that they had occupied revealed the portions of corn and salt lying unconsumed in the feed troughs. He charged the fraud with the trick, and the latter was obliged to own up. The matter was finally settled by the payment of $200 to the disappointed dealer, and the western party returned home a sadder and a wiser man. "You can not very soon try to fool B. W. again."

The Duke of Argyle has introduced an Indian Bill, the object of which is threefold. It will enable the Viceroy to make laws for the Non-Regulation Provinces by dispensing with the assent to do before the Company was obliged, but cannot, it seems, do now, to punish the Queen's subjects who dare to live within native States for their crimes, a necessary power, according to Lord Lawrence, destroyed by a clause in an Act. It will also enable the Viceroy to select natives for employment in the Civil Service, by competition or by order for merit, in preference to mere patronage, not effected, we think, in the right way. The Viceroy should be empowered to appoint any native to any office he pleases. Natives who have proved themselves competent ought to be selected for merit, and competition ought not to be allowed. If it is, five in six among natives will be Bengalees. No race in India can possibly compete with them at the pen.

Queen's Drawing Room.—Her Majesty held a Drawing Room at Buckingham Palace on Wednesday. Her Majesty entered the Throne Room at three o'clock, followed by Princess Louis, Prince Arthur, the Duke of Cambridge, and Prince and Princess of Teck. The Queen wore a black moire antique dress, trimmed with crape and jet, and trimmed with crape and jet, and a white tulle cap with a long veil, the veil fastened with large diamonds. Her Majesty also wore a necklace and a brooch, of amethysts and diamonds, and the Star of the Order of the Garter, the Orders of Victoria and Albert, and Louise of Prussia, and the Coburg and Gotha Family Order. Princess Louise wore a train of green satin, trimmed with guipure lace, and a petticoat of white tulle over glace, trimmed with green satin. Headdress, veil, and tiara of diamonds, and tufts of roses. Diamond necklace, and the Orders of Victoria and Albert, St. Isabel, and the Coburg and Gotha Family Order. There were not many very cold and disagreeable, but not a small number of persons were present in the neighbourhood of St. James's to catch a glimpse of the fine things worn by the ladies and the great ladies.

Brown's Bronchial Troches are offered with the fullest confidence in their efficacy. They have been thoroughly tested, and maintain their reputation they have justly acquired.

These Lozenges are prepared from a highly esteemed recipe for alleviating Bronchial Affections, Asthma, Hoarseness, Coughs, Colds, and Irritation or Soreness of the Throat.

Sold at 25 cents per box by all dealers in Medicine.

A Down Town Merchant,

Having passed several sleepless nights, disturbed by the agonies and cries of a suffering child, and becoming convinced that Mrs Winslow's Soothing Syrup was just the article needed, procured a supply for the child. On reaching home, and acquainting his wife with what he had done, she refused to have it administered to the child, as she was strongly in favour of homœopathy. That night the child passed in suffering, and the parents without sleep. Returning home the day following, the father found the baby still worse; and while contemplating another sleepless night the mother stepped from the room to attend to some domestic duties, and left the father with the child. During her absence he administered a portion of the Soothing Syrup to the baby, and said nothing. That night all hands slept well, and the little fellow awoke in the morning bright and happy. The mother was delighted with the sudden and wonderful change, and although at first offended at the deception practised upon her, has continued to use the Syrup, and suffering, crying babies, and restless nights have disappeared. A single trial of the Syrup never yet failed to relieve the baby, and overcome the prejudices of the mother. 25 cents a bottle. Sold by all druggists.

Be sure and call for

"Mrs Winslow's Soothing Syrup,"

having the fac-simile of "Curtis & Perkins" on the outside wrapper. All others are base imitations.

Philosophy of Marriage.

A new Course of Lectures, as delivered at the New York Museum of Anatomy embracing the subjects:—How to live and what to live for; Youth, Maturity, and old Age; Manhood generally reviewed; The cause of indigestion; Flatulence and Nervous Diseases accounted for; Marriage philosophically considered, &c., &c. Pocket volumes containing these Lectures, will be forwarded post-paid, on receipt of 25 cents, by addressing "SECRETARY, New York Museum of Anatomy and Science, 618 Broadway, New York."

CONCENTRATION the great principle. The system of infinitesimal doses of medicine diffused in gallons of injurious stimulants exploded. All useless material discarded. The active principle only of the most powerful and efficient remedies known concentrated in a small convenient form. HABITUAL CONSTIPATION CURED. All diseases of the Stomach, Liver, and Bowels permanently relieved by using Dr Colby's ANTI-COSTIVE AND TONIC PILLS, Sugar-Coated. Recommended by the Medical Profession.

SUCCESS begets envy. Hence the efforts of certain vendors of Liniment to decry JACOBS' RHEUMATIC LIQUID. Wherever introduced, it drives all others from the market. Pain positively annihilated by its use. We have not room to enumerate the virtues accorded to it by the thousands who have used it. No medicine ever invented is capable of more extended application. It has hundreds of imitators, but not one RIVAL. Beware of Counterfeits.

GLAD TIDINGS FOR ALL.—Those who have no hair may have it. Those who have plenty, may preserve and beautify it. Those who are losing it may have its loss arrested. The hair strengthened, beautified, restored, by using HUNT'S EMPIRE HAIR GLOSS, cheapest, cleanest, best. Don't rest till you have tried a bottle. Sold by all Druggists.
March 25.

VERY NATURAL.—When a person has proved an article and found it good, and answering the purpose for which it is intended, he will not readily abandon it for one of doubtful reputation, or concerning which he knows nothing. We are led to make these remarks owing to the course always pursued by those who have used that celebrated and truly valuable horse medicine known as "Darley's Condition Powders and Arabian Heave Remedy." All are so well pleased with it that they will not use any other; many have waited several weeks until the agent could obtain a new supply. There is nothing equal to it as a condition medicine, or for any complaint affecting the wind of horses. Remember the name, and see that the signature of Hurd & Co. is on each package. Northrop & Lyman, Newcastle, Ont., proprietors for Canada. Sold by all Medicine Dealers.

TWO QUESTIONS EASILY ANSWERED.—Why should men wear beards? Because they are a great protection to the throat and lungs, and add much to their personal appearance. Why should we use "Bryan's Pulmonic Wafers?" Because when used for coughs, colds, tickling in the throat, hoarseness, &c., they act like a charm. Ministers and lawyers use them, physicians recommend them, and singers and public speakers say they are the very best medicine in existence for the cure of such complaints. Sold by all medicine dealers at 25 cts per box.

EFFECT OF ADVERTISING.—It is amusing at times to observe the stores of the merchants who don't advertise; to see the anxious proprietors looking into the streets and see the people go by, wondering why they don't come in, while the stores of their neighbours who do advertise are thronged with customers. Some people will learn by observation, others will not.—Daily Palladium.

A CASE OF TWENTY YEARS' STANDING.

Philadelphia, Penn., June 25, 1867.
H. T. Helmbold, Druggist:

Dear Sir—I have been a sufferer for upward of twenty years with gravel, bladder and kidney affections, during which time I have used various medicinal prep rations, and been under the treatment of the most eminent physicians, experiencing but little relief.

Having seen your preparations extensively advertised, I consulted my family physician in regard to using your Extract Buchu. I did this because I had used all kinds of advertised remedies, and had found them worthless, and some quite injurious; in fact, I despaired of ever getting well, and determined to use no remedies hereafter unless I knew of the ingredients. It was this that prompted me to use your remedy. As you advertised that it was composed of buchu, cubebs, and juniper berries, it occurred to me and my physician as an excellent combination; and, with his advice, after an examination of the article, and consulting again with the druggist, I concluded to try it. I commenced to use it about eight months ago, at which time I was confined to my room.

From the first bottle I was astonished and gratified at the beneficial effect, and after using it three weeks was able to walk out. I felt much like writing to you a full statement of my case at the time, but thought my improvement might only be temporary; and therefore concluded to defer, and see if it would effect a perfect cure, knowing that it would be of greater value to you and more satisfactory to me.

I am now able to report that a cure is effected after using the remedy for five months.

I have not used any now for three months, and feel as well in all respects as I ever did.

Your Buchu being devoid of any unpleasant taste or odour, a nice tonic and invigorator of the system, I do not mean to be without it whenever occasion may require its use in such affections.
