CABLE NEWS.

London, April 22.—The debate in the Spanish Cortes, yesterday, on the new constitution to be adopted, was very interesting. Senor Figueras, one of the leaders of the Republican party, strongly urges the belief that the only alternative left the members of the Cortes was either to restore Amadeus to the throne or inaugurate a provisional form of government. Senor Serrano, leader of the majority, replied at length, taking the ground that that was absolutely impossible, and that a Republic would be a national calamity. He assured them that Amadeus would certainly succeed in obtaining his crown.

London, April 22, evening.—The article in the Constitution guaranteeing universal suffrage has been carried in the Cortes at Madrid, only 4 of the Deputies voting against it.

Madrid, April 22.—The projected loan of the Spanish Government of £8,000,000 was introduced to-day in the London Cortes by Mr J. S. Morgan, and is a success.

The Oxford boat crew have accepted the Harvard challenge for a four oared race in August next.

New York, April 23.—The Herald's London advices, the London Post of April 22, the representative Whig organ, has an elaborate editorial article on the Cuban question, which it mentions that it is asserted that President Grant has a longing eye upon the island, and would not be unwilling to distract the attention of the people of the United States from watching the course of international affairs by a war with some foreign power. A conflict with Spain cannot leave any doubt concerning the issue unless England and France should interfere. A blow dealt at Cuba would be tantamount to a blow towards the whole of the West Indies, and the annexation of Cuba might be followed by that of Jamaica and Martinique. The same paper quotes the recent acquisition of Alaska by the United States as a sign that it wants to acquire by piecemeal the possessions held by European powers in the Pacific, and would naturally commence with Cuba because it belongs to the weakest of the powers having settlements in the Atlantic. France and England will have to determine whether these designs upon Cuba will be tolerated or whether the latter is retaining her colony.

The French Press has agitated the question in the same tenor, and special meetings of the French Cabinet were held on Tuesday and Wednesday which resulted in a special envoy being sent last night to Madrid with despatches referring to the probable termination of events.

The Spanish loan of eight million pounds was negotiated here to-day and is meeting with success.

The San Francisco Bulletin says a large crop of wheat is promised this year.

The present hunting season (says an English paper) will long be memorable for the many disastrous accidents which have occurred to gentlemen in the chase. On Tuesday an inquest was held at Derby upon the body of Mr Joseph West, chemical manufacturer, who had been killed in the hunting field. He on Monday joined Mr Metcell Ingram's hounds in the neighbourhood of Derby, and followed the chase for some time. Owing to the intense cold, Mr West left before the run was finished to return home alone, and when cantering through Foston Park, it is supposed that his head had been caught by a tree and his skull fractured. His body was found in the Park, death no doubt having been instantaneous. Verdict, "accidentally killed," was returned by the jury.

The British Board of Trade returns for February last showing a falling off of £855,000, or 6 per cent in exports, compared with those of February in last year. The amounts are £12,485,000, against £14,340,000 in 1868. The two months of the present year, however, we are gratified to find, show an increase of about 2½ per cent over the two months of 1868. The imports for January also show an increase of £2,000,000, or 22½ per cent. The revenue receipts for the quarter ending 31st March were £20,109,888, and for the year ending the same date £72,591,991. The net increase for the quarter was £731,314, and for the year £2,991,772, which is almost exclusively accounted for by the increased income and property tax.

A Prussian military commander recently addressed the troops at a review held at Munder as follows: "Very probably your services will soon be required by your King and country, and you may shortly be called upon to take the field against the old hereditary enemy, against whom your ancestors fought under Wellington—in fact, against France." The officer had barely terminated when the men, much to his dismay, burst into loud cheering, crying out, "Long live France!" "Long live Napoleon III!" "Long live the Emperor! Hurrah!"

A strange but not altogether improbable rumour comes from Rome that the much talked-of Oecumenical Council appointed for next December is likely to be indefinitely postponed. The reason assigned is not any change of views on the part of the Pope himself, but an alleged impossibility of rendering certain in advance anything like unanimity among the members of the Council on the two most important points, for the determination of which they have been summoned to meet. These points are the personal infallibility of the Pope and the wickedness of what is called liberalism in politics. The Committee—or as we should call it, the caucus—appointed to prepare for the discussion of these points, have fallen out among themselves, and their difference is hopelessly irreconcilable that the shrewder advisers of the Pope recommend him to go no further with his project. His Holiness, however, at the last advices, was still bent on holding the Council, and so the preparations for it still go on.

According to the new Pharmacy Act, which came into operation at the beginning of this year, no one can commence business as a chemist and druggist in Great Britain without being registered as such, after examination. To obtain the subordinate title of chemist and druggist, it will be necessary to pass a minor examination in prescriptions, practical dispensing, pharmacy, materia medica, botany and chemistry. The candidate must be able to read prescriptions without abbreviation, translate them into English, and give both a literal and idiomatic rendering of the Latin directions for use. He must also possess a knowledge of the elementary structure of plants, their names, the orders to which they belong, the countries from which they are obtained, and the preparations into which they enter. In the major examination, which confers the higher title of pharmaceutical chemist, with exemption from serving on juries, all the above subjects are carried further. The candidate must translate English prescriptions into Latin, detect errors in Latin prescriptions, know when a dose is unusually large, be acquainted with the means of detecting poisons and the antidotes to be given, be able to distinguish spurious from genuine drugs, and show a familiarity with the laws of chemical combination, and both the Linnean and the Natural system of botany.

The men belonging to the emigrant ship "James Foster, jr." namely, Thomas Murphy, third mate; James Glynn, carpenter, and Wm. Crothers, boatswain, have been found guilty by a coroner's jury of the murder of four men during the passage of that vessel from Liverpool to New York last winter. They are also to be indicted for manslaughter in the case of four other men, passengers on the "James Foster jr," who died from ill-treatment received at their hands.

The Legislature of New Brunswick has refused, by a majority of one, to pay the salary of the Lieutenant-Governor's Secretary. The ground for this refusal is, that the Dominion ought to pay the Secretary. We strongly suspect the Dominion authorities will do nothing of the kind, and that the New Brunswickers will, in the end, be compelled to foot the bill themselves. The Union Act requires the Dominion to pay the salaries of the Lieutenant-Governors, but is silent with regard to the payment of the salaries of the Secretaries. The burden, therefore, must fall upon the Provincial Treasuries.

Merchant Tailor and Clothier,

BROCK STREET, KINGSTON.

April 8.

"One fact is better than a bushel of Theories."

OF course, the fact that MORRISON sells more Flour than all Kingston besides, proves beyond denial that MORRISON keeps the best FLOUR.

Can you get the same quality of oatmeal in any other store in Kingston that is to be had in Morrison's? Answer, no, not near so good! Why all the rest sells common. Morrison sells best kiln dried.

Is your happiness exhausted, if so renew it by trying Morrison's Sugar-Cured Hams and Bacon.

M. MORRISON,
40 Princess St. Kingston.

DR HENRY B. EVANS, M.R.C.S., London Residence—PRINCESS STREET, house lately occupied by Dr. Maclean.

MARINE PROTESTS.—Printed forms, for the use of Notaries Public, much facilitating the drawing up of Protests in cases of disaster to vessels. For sale at the Daily News Office.

EFFECT OF ADVERTISING.—It is amusing at times to observe the stores of the merchants who don't advertise; to see the anxious proprietors looking into the streets and see the people go by, wondering why they don't come in, while the stores of their neighbours who do advertise are thronged with customers. Some people will learn by observation, others will not.—Daily Palladium.
