London, April 29, evening.—The proceedings in the House of Commons this evening were totally uninteresting.

The Right Hon. Chichester Fortescue, Secretary for Ireland, in reply to a question of Lord Manners, deplored the recent riots in Cork and Londonderry. Every effort had been made by the government to suppress the riotous proceedings. The new preservation Act had been put into force. He also stated that further arrests at this time were impolitic.

Sir Arthur Otway, member for Chatham, questioned the authenticity of the telegram said to have been received from Sir Frederick Adock, British Minister to China, relative to the Chinese Government and Europe being opposed to progress.

The Church Bill then came up. After a long debate on Mr Disraeli's amendment to give the glebe houses to the clergy, the proposition was rejected as follows: For the amendment, 227; against it, 247; majority for the Government, 20. During the discussion, the O'Connor Don said that the trustees of Maynooth were willing to put that building at the disposal of the same could be done with the property of the Church.

Mr Gladstone allowing the retention by the clergy of any real or personal property, or the value of property or money given by persons out of their own resources, or the produce of money given by private subscription since that time, moved to substitute the year 1660.

Lord Stanley moved the omission of the words 1660.

Sir Roundell Palmer spoke in opposition to Mr Gladstone's. He thought the fixing upon the year 1660 to be more desirable to the Church and the country, than to go to the former all endowments prior to the Reformation.

Several amendments were then withdrawn. Mr Gathorne Hardy submitted an amendment to fix the date at 1660.

A division divided upon this motion, the following result:—For the amendment 266; against the amendment 306; majority, 86.

Mr Patrick Wm. Key Gates' (member for Kilmarnock) motion to retain the Royal grants made since the second reign of Queen Elizabeth, was lost by 283 to 180.

April 29.—The majority in the Cortes urges a prompt decision by the Duke of Montpensier or the Princess as King, or the declaration of a Republic. The Republicans are getting a national petition in favour of the Republic.

Madrid, April 29.—Serious riots occurred yesterday between Catholics and Protestants. During the collision between two factions, the police charged with their sabres. Firearms were freely used. Twenty rioters were killed and two wounded. The riot assumed at one time alarming proportions, but the efforts of the Carlists and the appearance of the military and police finally succeeded in restoring order, and the city is now tranquil. The troops will remain on duty for a day or two.

April 29.—It is rumoured to-day that the Spanish Government has requested the Papal Nuncio to leave the country. Mazzini is at Lugano, near the Italian border. In connection with the recent riots in Florence and Milan has provoked the Italian Government to make a protest of Switzerland.

Madrid, April 29.—The law declaring the state of siege has been annulled. Placards have been posted in various parts of the city requesting the inhabitants to avoid further disturbances.

Madrid, April 29.—Captain Carlton was shot yesterday

Rome, April 29.—Rome was the last one of the New-York meeting. The great feature was a national guard stakes for three years, given by the Duke of Beaufort's hounds.

The public debt exhibit will show a reduction in the debts of about three millions.

Washington special says: Minister doubts that Great Britain has even so much as under consideration the question of the Cuban war. He declares preposterous the idea that it was ever designed to recognize the insurgents as belligerents. He says the government is not aware of the existance of a provisional government in the Island. He regards the relations of Spain with Her Majesty's government as highly friendly, and expresses the report hereby contradicted to submitter the relations between the United States and Great Britain at a time when the question of Cuban affairs is in a critical state. It is ascertained that Mr Thornton, in his projected journey north, will visit Canada to acquaint himself with the sentiment of the Dominion men concerning the idea of annexation lately so much mooted.
