Mr Pope argued that they did not legislate for the whole Dominion irrespective of sectional views. They never could make this great country accept the fact of the Colonial Secretary throwing the responsibility of conciliating Nova Scotia as evidence that this House had the power to increase the subsidy.

Mr Smith held that the resolutions were a violation of the Union Act, and no change in the constitution could be effected except by the imperial parliament upon an address from the local legislatures of all the provinces. He would, however, vote for the amendment.

Mr Lawson held that the resolutions were not a violation of the Union Act, and he believed his constituents would approve his vote in favour of them.

Mr Harrison took the ground that there was absolute necessity of some action in the direction of satisfying Nova Scotia, but in Ontario there was no necessity of granting an increased subsidy. He contended that no process of arithmetic could determine the financial basis of the union between provinces so differently situated. The province of Ontario needed no additional subsidy. It was actually saving money. They had to deal with the question not as traders but as unionists united in sentiment as well as by law. He would vote against the amendment of the hon. member for West Brant, because he believed these new finances would remove discontent in Nova Scotia.

Mr Oliver replied to the hon. member for Toronto, following up the same line of argument as the previous speakers in favour of the amendment.

Mr Mackenzie wished the debate adjourned. (Cries of "Go on.")

Mr Killam said that as Ontario and Quebec had each a large surplus, while Nova Scotia alone had a deficit, he claimed that something should be done to put Nova Scotia in a position to place her local services on a proper footing. The government was perfectly right in giving Nova Scotia an additional subsidy, and in trying to allay the discontent which prevailed there. He would oppose the amendment of the hon. member for West Brant, though he regarded the government proposition as only an instalment of justice.

A vote was then taken on Mr Wood's amendment, which was lost. Yeas, 51; nays 71.

The resolutions were then concurred in seriatim after several divisions.

Mr Rose introduced a bill founded thereon.

The House adjourned at 12:10.

The House of Lords has approached the Irish Church question in an able debate on the second reading of the bill for disestablishment. The advocates of a compromise between rejection and the passage of the bill as it came from the Commons appear to advantage, and now there would appear greater probability that the bill will be amended on certain points and returned back to the House of Commons for concurrence. Important reference to the historical fact of the damage done to the House of Lords in the affections of the people by the rejection of the Reform bill and its final passage under a determination to create more Peers, was made in the House; and the Peers who decide this question cannot plead ignorance of probable effect. Still, as a matter trenching on religious belief, and enlisting convictions of religious duty, the Conservative members have strong inducements to resist an encroachment which threatens, like an entering wedge, to destroy the Church to which they are attached. Lord Derby and his followers may yet be unshaken from their determination by this debate, and at the next sitting of the House of Lords the vote may be cast which may be expected to plunge English politics into an agitation like that which raged in 1831-32.

PARLIAMENT OF CANADA.

Monday, June 14.—In the House of Commons several private bills were advanced a stage, after which Hon. Mr Galt submitted a motion for printing the correspondence with the Imperial Government relative to the claim of Canada on the United States for indemnity for outlay and damage consequent on the Fenian raids. At the suggestion of Mr Mackenzie the motion was withdrawn, the matter being left to the care of the Printing Committee.

Mr Bodwell made a motion for altering the time of the sitting of the House to a period earlier in the year. The motion was agreed to with the addition of a qualifying clause.

After recess the House adjourned for want of a quorum, the number of members present being only seventeen.

COUNTY COURT.

Monday afternoon.

Yates vs. Bolivin.—This was an interpleader action to try the right to certain property seized by the Sheriff of the County of Frontenac, under an execution against Walter Woollard, who kept the American Hotel. The question turned upon the validity of a chattel mortgage given by Walter Woollard to Dr. Yates to secure him as endorsen of certain notes for Woollard. The defendant afterward recovered a judgment against Woollard, and caused the goods to be seized. The verdict was by consent entered for the plaintiff, with leave to the defendant to enter a verdict for him on the objections taken to the chattel mortgage. G. A. Kirkpatrick for plaintiff. B. M. Britton for defendant.

The court adjourned until half-past nine o'clock to-morrow morning.

Tuesday, June 15.

The jury in the case of Ledford vs. Davis did not agree until seven o'clock last evening, when they brought in a verdict for the plaintiff, and damages assessed at $50.

The prisoners Coy and Lynch were placed in the dock, on a charge of larceny, and tried separately. The charge was for stealing a coat from Neil Brown, whom they stopped in Barrichfield, near Cataraqui Bridge. The case was reported in the police court proceedings at the time of the prisoner's commital

The jury found both prisoners guilty, who were sentenced to five years each. Mr Macarow defended the prisoners. The prisoner Edward Duff was acquitted of the charge of larceny.

The young man Houston, charged with being implicated in the death of Collins, was remanded until the assizes.

The court resumed business at one o'clock, and the trial of John Friel and Benjamin Friel was proceeded with.

The prisoners were charged with assaulting John F. Bruce in the performance of his duty while executing a writ of ejectment in favour of Mr D. J. Walker, to obtain possession of lot No. 12, 11 concession of the township of Storrington, in December last. At that time the prisoner, John Friel, retired inside the log house on the lot, and saying he was well armed, threatened to put a hole through Bruce, subsequently partially opening the door of the house and pointing a pistol at Bruce and handing to Benjamin Friel a large stick. Benjamin flourished the stick furiously threatening to knock down any one who might attempt to enter the house.

The prosecution was conducted by the County Crown Attorney and Mr J. McIntyre.

The prisoners were defended by Mr B. M. Britton and Mr James O'Reilly.

The prisoners were acquitted.

This case terminated the business, and the court rose.

CONVICTION UNDER THE MEDICAL ACT.—A case interesting to the medical profession, and important to the non-registered section of medical practitioners, has occurred at Leamington, in the county of Essex, Ontario. On Saturday, the 5th of June, before five Justices of the Peace, viz., Messrs Kimball, Malotte, Fox, Cowan, and C. Coatesworth, Mr G. C. Maxon, an irregular practitioner, was charged with falsely assuming the title of physician and surgeon. Mr Maxon pleaded ignorance of the provisions of the Medical Act of Ontario, but the magistrates refused to accept his plea, and fined him in accordance with the statute $50 and costs. The defendant keeps a drug store in Leamington, and the prosecutor was Dr. Kemp, formerly of Kingston.

The Joint Committee on Printing, to whom the House of Commons referred back its first report, recommending the acceptance of the tender of Messrs. Hunter and Rose, the present Parliamentary printers, have agreed to a second report. They say that they advertised for tenders without binding themselves to accept the lowest, and that they rejected the lowest because they found that many of the prices were insufficient for the mere payment of the wages of journeymen, while none of the prices seemed sufficiently high to make up the loss. They remind the House that in 1859 they recommended the rejection of the lowest tender, which was nevertheless accepted by the House, and that great inconvenience and loss ensued. They now determine merely to report back again the calculations of the total cost of the Parliamentary printing, according to the various scales of the firms who tendered for them.

COUNTY COUNCIL.

Monday, June 14.

The council resumed business at two o'clock this afternoon. The Warden presided, and all the members were present excepting Mr Lott.

The minutes were read and adopted.

The clerk read the grand jurors' report, which was referred to the committee on county property.

The following bylaws were read a first time:

A by-law for raising money for the public use of the county, including that required for school purposes.

A bylaw to confirm the appointment of the county solicitor.

A bylaw to raise a sum of money for the improvement of roads and bridges.

A bylaw to repeal the bylaw separating the townships of Palmerston and Bedford.

Accounts for milk and for copies of statutes were presented by the clerk, and referred to the finance committee.

The council went into committee of the whole, Mr Donaldson in the chair, on the second reading of the bylaw for providing funds for the improvement of roads and bridges, after which the bylaw was read a third time, passed and signed by the Warden.

It was moved by Mr Nichols, seconded by Mr Barr, that the council go into committee of the whole on the second reading of the bylaw to repeal bylaw separating the townships of Bedford and Palmerston.

It was moved in amendment by Mr Playfair, seconded by Mr Mills, that the by-law be not read a second time in committee of the whole, but that Mr Burke, who has agreed to do so free of expense, be allowed to go through the township of Palmerston and obtain the true sentiment of the inhabitants, and report to the council at the next session.

Mr Playfair earnestly supported the plan embraced in his amendment, insisting that the present separation of the township was in accordance with the feelings of the people of Palmerston, and was replied to by Mr Barr, who was equally confident that separation was not the wish of Palmerston.

Mr Calvin supported Mr Playfair's amendment, which he considered a most fair arrangement, and one calculated to supply all necessary information to the council upon the subject.

Mr Burke supported the amendment, and expressed his willingness to take the proposed steps to ascertain the feeling of Palmerston. He did not at present know the real sentiments of the people.

The debate upon this subject occupied an hour of the council's time, when the Warden put the amendment, which was carried upon division.

Yeas—Messrs Burke, Bowerman, Calvin, Godfrey, Mills, Mudie, McDonald, Perry, Playfair, Spoor and Strachan, 11. Nays—Messrs Barr, Campbell, Day, Donaldson, Fair, McRorey, Nichols, Toland and the Warden, 9.

Mr Sydney Smith, inspector of registry offices, upon invitation of the council through Mr Calvin, appeared before the council, and informed the members there were certain articles of furniture needed in the registrar's office, and also an increase of accommodation. Mr Smith stated that it was the policy of the government to have registrars' offices isolated as being every way better adapted for security.

The council adjourned for ten minutes, to accompany Mr Smith to the registrar's office to see what was required.

Upon the resumption of business, Mr J. P. Gildersleeve, through the Warden, requested the loan of the court house flag, to use in decorating a ball room, which was granted.

Mr James O'Reilly entered the council chamber, and requested permission to correct an impression which appeared, from what he had seen in the report of the proceedings of the council in the Daily News, to exist in the minds of the members of the council respecting an admission said to have been made by him, on behalf of Mr Ferguson, to the committee appointed by the council to confer with him. It appeared by the report that Mr Fair said that his (Mr O'Reilly's) exact words on that occasion, were that Mr Ferguson admitted his indebtedness to the county in the amount of $2,700, which he offered in settlement. Now what he did say upon that occasion was that for the sake of effecting an amicable settlement he was willing to assume an indebtedness to that amount.

Mr Fair said he was not the person who had made the statement.

Mr Strachan said such a statement was made by some member of the council.

Mr Spoor said he believed the statement was made by Mr Playfair, the name of Mr Fair having, it appeared, been substituted by mistake.

Mr Playfair said he certainly understood Mr O'Reilly to have said so.

Mr O'Reilly remarked that he had supposed, on that occasion, he was sufficiently explicit to be fully understood, and that he certainly did not at that time wish to convey the impression that Mr Ferguson made any such admission.

Mr Calvin said such were the words used, and he made the remark at the time, "How long would it be before Mr O'Reilly would deny having used the expression?" and it appeared that his ideas on the subject were remarkably correct.

Mr O'Reilly said he only wished to set the matter in its right light, and would now retire, thanking the council for its courtesy in hearing him.

The second reading of the bylaw confirming the appointment of the county solicitor coming before the council,

Mr Mudie moved, seconded by Mr Toland, that the second reading of the bylaw take place this day six months.

Mr Playfair moved in amendment, seconded by Mr Bowerman, that the bylaw confirming the appointment of the county solicitor, Mr T. L. Snook, be now read a second time.

The amendment was carried, and the council went into committee of the whole, Mr Fair in the chair.

On motion of Mr Bowerman, seconded by Mr Perry, the bylaw was read a third time, passed and signed by the Warden.

Some little discussion took place previous to the passage of the bylaw confirming the appointment of the county solicitor, after which

It was moved by Mr Spoor, seconded by Mr Calvin, and carried, that whereas an unnecessary number of constables are employed in and about the court house at each sitting of the court of general quarter sessions, entailing an unnecessary expense on the county; and whereas the services of a number of said constables can be dispensed with at a saving to this county, be it therefore resolved that the Warden wait upon J. J. Burrowes, Esq, county judge, and consult with him as to the number actually required.

The council then adjourned until nine o'clock to-morrow morning.

Tuesday, June 15.

Shortly after nine o'clock the Warden took the chair, and the council resumed business. All the members were present.

After the regular routine business the clerk read a communication from the Education office containing the following apportionment for 1869:

	Common Schools.	Separate Schools.
Barrie	$ 44	$ 44
Bedford	139	41
Clarendon. ..	21	00
Hinchinbrooke ..	74	00
Kennebec . ..	45	00
Kingston. . ..	450	37
Loughboro. ..	291	00
Olden	74	00
Oso.	60	00
Palmerston. ..	47	00
Pittsburgh. ..	507	00
Portland	298	00
Storrington ..	348	00
Wolfe Island ..	277	101
	$2,675	$179

On motion of Mr Mudie, seconded by Mr Nichols, the council went into committee of the whole on the second reading of the bylaw for striking county rates, Mr Mills in the chair.

During the second reading of the bylaw, Mr Godfrey moved, seconded by Mr Perry, that the assessment of the township of Hinchinbrooke be $54,000 instead of $60,000, which was lost.

The bylaw was reported passed in committee without amendment, and read a third time.

Mr Godfrey moved in amendment, seconded by Mr Perry, that the bylaw be referred back to the committee for the purpose of amending it by reducing the assessment of the township of Hinchinbrooke from $60,000 to $54,000.

The amendment was lost and the motion for the passage of the bylaw was carried, which was signed by the Warden.

It was moved by Mr Strachan, seconded by Mr Spoor, that the auditors, Messrs Ryan and McArthur, be paid $100 each in full of all demands for their services in making out the special audits.

Mr Toland opposed the motion, and thought such extravagant payment of the officers was one of the chief causes of the present high taxes.

Mr Spoor insisted that the county had been benefitted by the labours of the special auditors. He wished to remove any impression to the contrary attempted to be conveyed by Mr Toland.

Mr Toland replied that the county had received no benefit, and he maintained it never would, but on the contrary, the council in the end would wish that the special auditors' labours had not been entertained.

After a lengthy discussion the motion was put and carried.

Yeas—Messrs Burke, Bowerman, Calvin, Day, Donaldson, Fair, Godfrey, Mills, Mudie, McDonald, Perry, Playfair, Spoor and Strachan, 14. Nays—Messrs Barr, Campbell, McRorey, Nichols, Toland and the Warden, 6.

The subject was fully discussed at a former meeting, and the matter thoroughly ventilated then, consequently the remarks made to-day were quite void of interest, containing no additional facts whatever.

It was moved by Mr Toland, seconded by Mr Campbell, that whereas a bylaw passed on the 31st January 1868, establishing the salary of the treasurer at $600 per annum, and that of the clerk at $250 per annum, which by the neglect or refusal of the late Warden, Mr Calvin, to sign such bylaw, had entailed a loss to the county of $250, be it resolved that the matter be referred to the committee on county lawsuits to report to the council to-morrow.

Mr Spoor objected to the resolution, and to the wording of it. It was passing a censure on the late Warden not deserved by him.

Mr Calvin said he had never seen the bylaw, it was never handed to him for signature.

Mr Barr said the late Warden's attention had been called to the subject by the clerk.

Mr Calvin distinctly denied the clerk's having done so

The clerk made a statement, in which he said that he thought he had at one time called the attention of Mr Calvin to the fact, in the clerk's office.

Mr Calvin again denied his attention having been called to the condition of the bylaw, and after some further debate the motion was put and lost. Nays 15. Yeas 6. Messrs Barr, Campbell, Donaldson, McRorey, Toland and Fair voted in the affirmative.

It was moved by Mr Spoor, seconded by Mr Mudie, that the resolution passed 30th December, 1867, adopting the report of the committee on finance and accounts, recommending the debt of Messrs Smyth and Foster be cancelled, be, and is hereby cancelled.

The resolution was carried upon a division.

Yeas—Messrs Bowerman, Calvin, Day, Godfrey, Lott, Mills, Mudie, McDonald, Perry, Playfair, Spoor, Strachan and the Warden, 13 Nays—Messrs Barr, Burke, Campbell, Donaldson, Fair, McRorey, Nichols and Toland, 8.

It was moved by Mr Fair, seconded by Mr Mills, that the petition of Mr Walker be referred to the committee on roads and bridges. The petition related to a road grant.

The council adjourned until one o'clock this afternoon.

FIRE AT MAITLAND.

Brockville, June 14.—A fire broke out at the Maitland Distillery at 10 p. m. on Saturday. The fire appeared to have originated in a large tub or rectifier containing 5,000 gallons of highwines. There being no fire engines at the village, a man on horseback was at once despatched here for assistance. Fire Engine No. 2, and a large number of firemen and others hurried off to the scene. It was well such assistance arrived at the time it did or the whole establishment, and perhaps the entire village, would have been laid in ashes. The firemen fortunately succeeded in confining the flames to the tub in which the fire was first discovered, the contents of which were entirely destroyed. The loss is estimated at about $8,000; damage to the building at about $1,000. All insured.

THE RIGHTS OF MARRIED WOMEN,

Lots of Weddings Coming off.

NOW that so many young ladies are going to be married, they should be aware of some privileges which they will enjoy. Immediately after taking up house, they will show the height of good breeding and reflect credit on the home they have left by visiting MORRISON'S, and ordering, say

2 Sugar-Cured Hams,
1 barrel XXX Pastry Flour,
1 barrel Family Flour,
Some Kiln-dried Oatmeal,
Some Extra Bolted Corn Meal,
Some nice Breakfast Bacon.

N B.—The ladies and all others concerned will please take notice that MORRISON henceforth intends keeping constantly on hand, and will make it one of his specialties, BUTTER from the best Dairies in the country.

M. MORRISON,
40 Princess Street.
